Alumni In Industry
By Ralph Frey

One of the largest groups of Indiana Central Alumni and former students working in any single industrial plant can be found in the Indianapolis plant of the United States Rubber Company.

The Indianapolis plant of the United States Rubber Company is the largest inner tube plant in the world. More tubes for automobiles, trucks, airplanes, tractors, bicycles, and all other types of vehicles roll off the production lines than at any other plant in the entire world!

As well as producing tubes in enormous quantities, the Indianapolis plant is also the world’s largest bicycle tire manufacturing plant, and also makes large quantities of tire repair materials. During the war they were also a large producer of airplane fuel cells, which has been discontinued in post-war production.

The “Dean” of the Alumni at the Rubber Company is William E. Schaefer ('33), 1722 Lawrence Ave., Indianapolis, with 11 years service. “Bill,” as he is known to his fellow workers, is Manager of the Bicycle Tire Development. In this position, Bill supervises the work on the research and development of new rubber compounds for bicycle treads and fabric, at the same time conducting a constant search for new and better methods of construction. He is married to Frances Hite-Jones ('37). They have three children: Ray 4, Mike 2, and Rebeeca, 3 months.

Herbert Hiatt ('34) and Mark Braford ('40) both have six years service with the company. In this capacity, Herb has spent much time in research work on butyl type synthetics in developing compounds suitable for better auto tubes. Herb is married to Elnora Freshly (N36). They have two children, Elena Sue 3½, and Herbert Daniel 2.

Mark resides at 4201 Otterbein Ave., Indianapolis. He is Foreman over the Development Laboratory. This laboratory handles the basic laboratory compounding and testing for all experimental development work as well as the analysis of incoming materials and physical testing of finished goods. Mark is married to Mabel Mitchell ('41). They have two children, Mark 4, and Barbara 1½.

Alva Stoneburner ('41) and Ralph “Doc” Frey ('41) both started their employment on the same day, and after 5½ years have identical jobs on different shifts. They are Foreman over the Control Laboratory and Technical Control Department on their respective shift. Their duties embrace supervision of the physical testing of compounded batches and responsibility for general quality level maintenance on all products. Alva resides at 4115 Otterbein Ave., Indianapolis. He is married to Mary Oliver. They have two children, Michelle Ann 3, and Terri Jean 1. “Doc” resides at 4203 Otterbein Ave., Indianapolis. He is married to a Central May Queen, Lois Fruth ('40).

Norman Meier ('43) has 4½ years service with the company. He has just returned to the Control Laboratory as a physical tester. His duties here consist of testing of the factory mixed batches prior to use in finished goods. He resides at 1542 West New York Street, Indianapolis. Norman spent 3½ years in the Army Air Forces, one year of which he served in the Pacific theater as pilot of an A-26. He is married to Joe Ann Hamke ('44). They have one son, Dennis Howard.

Robert C. Windhorst ('32) has 3 years service with the company. He resides at 1223 Thompson Road, Indianapolis. He is working in the Technical Control Department after teaching 9 years at Ben Davis High School. At present, Bob’s work has to do with the control of the physical aspects of Camelback, the retreading material used for retreading of tires. He is married to Ann Miller ('32). They have one child, Robert Charles 1.

In addition to the above mentioned Alumni, Joe Knowling, Mill Room Foreman; Ben Miller, Repair Material Development; Jim Wilson and Chester Klingerman, Special Product Development, received several years of training at Indiana Central.

The President’s Message
As this third edition of The Alumni News comes to you, we trust that your reaction is the same as those to whom we have personally put the question, “What do you think of it?” “Great!” is the reply, without exception, “Let’s keep it going and growing!” But, like every worthy enterprise, it is going to take the backing of each and all of us to put it over. How? By the payment of alumni annual dues. A good response has been received, but there are yet many from whom our treasurer would be happy for receipt of same. There are now nineteen hundred copies being circulated. Our hearty thanks to all.

We owe a great debt of gratitude to Ed Gault, ’33, who brought The Alumni News into existence and nurtured it through its “bottle” days. Ed’s move to Chicago made it necessary for him to give up the editor’s quill, but wisely he passed it on to the capable hand of Alva E. Stoneburner, ’41, whom we warmly welcome, and to whom we pledge our loyal support.

The good news comes our way that several of the I. C. C. Alumni Clubs, which were forced into inactivity during the war period, have renewed their organizations and have big plans for the future. Good! Let’s get all these clubs clicking again. If there are virgin areas not yet organized, then two or three of you get your noggin together and start the ball to rolling. Your executive committee will be glad to help in any way possible. We shall be looking for the various club activities in subsequent issues of The Alumni News.

Yours for a grand old I. C. C.
A. Glen O’Dell, ’34.

1947 Oracle
A note from Editor Carl R. Leiter announces the 1947 Oracle. Orders are now being accepted. The book will attempt to keep in step with the larger student body and enlarged activities program in bringing a graphic description of campus life during the current school year. Subscriptions are $3.50 each, payable $1.00 upon order, remainder due with delivery of the book.
Editor's Note

Rather reluctantly I assumed the responsibility of editing the Alumni News. Like everyone I thought I was too busy, and secondly felt that there were those who are much better qualified to do the job than I. In spite of these things, however, there came to me the realization of needs which I feel are keenly present among the alumni of I. C. C.

1. The need for a closer knit, working organization.

2. An outlet for the news and views of the alumni group.

It is my hope that the Alumni News can be a part in accomplishing these things, and every endeavor will be made to make it fill these needs.

I wish to express my sincere thanks for the help given me by Ed Gault, who preceded me in the capacity of editor. I will seriously strive to carry on the work to the best of my ability. In the established tradition of I. C. C., but with an ever watchful eye toward her progressive future, the Alumni News will ever try to fill the growing needs of the Alumni of Indiana Central College.

"Around and About the Columns"

Alpha Psi Omega played to a capacity crowd December 6 when they presented Moliere's "The Imaginary Invalid."

The combined I. C. C. choir and church choir sang the "Messiah" in the church auditorium December 13. Eugene Mogle conducted and Miss Glick was accompanist.

The annual Thanksgiving banquet held November 26 scored its usual success. Carroll Vertrees served as Master of Ceremonies.

Twenty-four gridmen received varsity letters in football as the final curtain fell on the football season.

The Christmas banquet was held December 19 in the dining hall. The affair was formal. Bill Rider and Eileen Holzhausen were in charge. The featured speaker of the evening was Moses Mohol, who talked on "Christmas in Africa."

The new scoreboard, a gift of the class of '46, is a fine addition to the gym.

For the first time in history, husband and wife have made the literary societies pretty much a family affair. Carroll Vertrees and Martha, formerly Martha Dennis, Vertrees have been elected presidents of Zetageetha and Theocallosis, respectively.

As You Like It

The sole purpose of the Alumni News is to publish the news that is of the most interest to the Alumni of Indiana Central. There is no other excuse for its existence. With this in mind, the editor would appreciate hearing from the Alumni an expression of what the paper should contain. Which parts interest you most? What type of paper do you want?

Definite plans are being made to organize and establish the Alumni News as a permanent publication of, by and for the Alumni group. It is your paper, your place to express your likes and dislikes, or your acceptance of it as such. Some have written already and the general feeling is heartwarming, but we would still like to hear from more people. Friendly criticism will be happily accepted. Don't forget to include a little personal note about yourself, or friends when writing. We would like to make this paper as you like it.

I. C. C. Clubs

Before the war interfered with the normal activities of things, several Indiana Central Clubs were in existence in various parts of the state. These clubs were meeting at regular intervals to discuss problems of current interest and to enjoy the fellowship of old acquaintances. The gasoline shortage and other transportation problems made it impossible for many to continue to be active and most of these clubs ceased to exist.

With normal times being rapidly restored, it would seem that there is little to prevent the resumption of active clubs. There are several areas in the state where there are many Central Alumni and much might be gained by the fellowship of club activities. This paper would be interested in hearing from any individuals or groups of individuals who are interested in such a program.
Greyhounds Win Three

Playing some of the stiffest competition in the mid-west, the Greyhound quintet dropped five, while winning three court encounters.

Launching the season against the strong Valparaiso five, the Red and Grey suffered a 42 to 73 setback. The Valpo Crusaders had no trouble in finding the hoop at will. Their superior height and experience played dividends throughout the game.

Last year's national intercollegiate champs, the University of Kentucky, ran rampant to set the Greyhounds back 36 to 78. Playing the same precision ball which made them a championship club last year, the Southerners won with ease.

Encountering the Uplanders from Taylor University, the Centralites crashed into the winning column in their first Indiana Conference game of the season. Sparked by Owen, who collected 13 points, the local quintet won 53 to 43.

Evansville, on the other hand, proved too tough for the Greyhounds' kennel and won the next game 51 to 33.

Huntington and Manchester felt the Greyhounds' bite as they both fell the victims of the Red and Grey. Huntington played valiantly but came out on the short end of a 51 to 64 score. The Gold and Black of Manchester fought a losing battle as the fiery Central squad employed a fast-breaking, quick-passing attack to set them back 62 to 42.

In two tilts held at the coliseum as part of a college double-header, the Bright Boys found difficulty in hitting the draperies and dropped two games. The hard-hitting Canterbury five were good for 48 points to Central's 38. The Harvard boys, from out East, outplayed the Greyhounds 58 to 47.

With the season half gone, the Central quintet has shown some remarkable improvement. Developing a fast-passing, quick-firing, aggressive type of ball, they have been a constant threat to most opponents. Being defeated by some of the country's top-notch teams has not dampened the Central spirit, but only made them the wiser and tougher for oncoming opponents.

Cross Country

Under the capable leadership of Joaquin Montoya, the Greyhound Harriers hung up two victories against four defeats in the fall season. All eight of the distance men were fledglings, running for their first year in collegiate circles. Showing their heels to some stiff competition, these boys will serve as the nucleus of the distance events for spring track. Plans are now under way for the spring track and field schedule.

1946-47 Squad Studded With Service Team Stars

Returning lettermen and stars of service teams will form the nucleus of the '46-'47 Greyhound net squad. Ralph Owens, Don Bunge, Alonzo Nicodemus and Merrill Hoban were all members of the undefeated '41-'42 team. Owens and Bunge both played on service teams, Owens performing for the strong Sampson Naval team which was rated fourth in the nation among service teams.

Other returning lettermen are Bob McBride, Dave Catlin, Deb Kistler, Manford Kistler, Paul Brenneman and Don Fleenor. Teaming with some forty other hopefuls, these men are likely to form the strength of the fighting Greyhound team that will take the floor this season for I. C. C.
Three Wins—Four Losses for Fighting Greyhounds

After downing the Canterbury eleven in the first encounter of the season, 6 to 0, the Greyhound team traveled to Franklin to drop a game to the Grizzlies 20 to 0. A surprisingly strong Franklin team stopped the Cardinal and Grey cold and pushed over three touchdowns of their own to win.

A trip to the east to meet the Earlham Quakers on their own field proved to be an upset with the Centralites conquering the foe 6 to 0. Playing heads up ball all the way, the team looked a winner from start to finish. The injury of Earlham’s flashy Brown helped reduce their threat as the game went on, but Central looked good all the way.

In the Homecoming encounter the Manchester Black and Gold won 19 to 12. Suffering several bad breaks the Greyhounds displayed some fine football. A clipping penalty took away one touchdown run and an erasing ball on a pass play spoiled another for Central. Featuring some fine deceptive plays the Bright Boys made it a good game.

An afternoon encounter at Rose Poly gave Poly their first victory of the season as the Red and Grey squad got off to a slow start. Capitalizing on several poor plays the Rose team came out on the long end of the 12 to 7 score.

The Evansville Aces romped over the Greyhound team 35 to 0 in a night encounter. Showing superior strength, they scored almost at will. The inability to stop the galloping Evansville backs cost heavily.

The finale of the season against Hanover again found the Greyhound running in full stride, as they won 6 to 0. Showing the best running and blocking of the season the Central team was able to hold the Hilltoppers scoreless to upset the dope bucket, as their single touchdown made the difference.

It is with pride that we review the season’s record. Though not particularly impressive, there are not many schools who could have done better. Starting from scratch after 15 years of idleness on the gridiron, with no experienced players, the team showed its ability to fight against odds and to emerge the victor. Coach Bright and the 1946 football squad deserve credit for their season’s work. May it be the stepping-stone to greater ones.

Athletic Dinner

All “letter men” of 1946 were guests of the Booster Club at the Lake Shore Country Club on Friday, January 10. In addition to those receiving the award in basketball, baseball, and football, five girls who had recently won the special “C” were honored. Finding it was futile in their efforts to exhaust the supply of fried chicken, even when stimulated by the music by Garth Weber and his trombone or Janet Dennis Bogle at the piano, the guests relaxed to a program arranged by Booster Club President Harry Stoneburner. Pete Bailey ’29 had been announced as toastmaster but was unable to attend, and Doctor W. P. Morgan ’10 substituted.

Short talks by President L. Lynd Esch, Coach Edgar Bright ’26, Delbert Kistler, Don Bunge, and Betty Smith Tutrel preceded that of the guest speaker, Doctor W. R. Bremeyer ’30, Associate Professor of Zoology and Chairman of the Athletic Committee at Indiana University. Revival of the annual “C” men’s banquet will bring back fond memories to many Greyhound athletes of yesteryears.

Gridders Receive Awards

Honoring the first football squad in fifteen years, the School presented awards to twenty-four men. Men receiving awards were: Steve Bennecase, Louis Briggs, Don Bunge, Richard Crowe, Jim Cummings, Jim Delvin, Paul Eicher, Bill Fredenberger (capt. elect), Vernon Gilman, James Hildegbrand, Robert Janney, Stan Klos, Calvin Kistler, Deb Kistler, Manford Kistler, William McGrath, Ivan Moreman, Alonzo Nicolemous, Ed Rabb, William Skinner, Harold Shutz, Ernest Wruck, Otis Sparks and Bill Rider.

Ninth Place Won By Gridmen

By virtue of the three-win, four-loss season, the Central gridironers were rated ninth in the Indiana Conference standings. Dogged by inconsistency throughout the season, they tripped more highly rated teams, but fell before several weaker elevens.

The final conference stands were as follows:

Campus Co Op

Fighting high prices and present-day shortages, a group of Central faculty and married students have formed a consumers’ co op. The organization sprang into existence last summer and now is doing a flourishing business. Some 50 students and faculty members belong.

The venture is strictly a non-profit organization. All members pay a one dollar fee and put up ten dollars as operating capital. One of the chief advantages has been the purchasing of commonly hard-to-get items such as soap powder and salad dressing. Members cooperate in securing good buys in bulk lots by buying in large lots from the orchard or farm.

Professor Roy Davis is in charge of the buying, as he serves as the head of the board of directors and chairman of the buying committee. The members take turns in “keeping store” while others buy. Stocks of fresh vegetables and meats are offered on Wednesdays only with members stocking for the entire week.

This progressive venture has helped many a returned G. I. to stretch his allotment check sufficiently to comfortably yet economically provide the necessities for his family.
From the President's Desk

Just returned from the holiday vacation to find the desk stacked high with many things. It shouldn't take long to use up the somewhat limited amount of energy we received from the California sunshine. The weather was unusual while we were there, but the new grandson made up for any deficiencies in other things. So we are back and digging into the stack.

There are the plans for "College Day" in all the churches on February 16. The plans are already well under way but there are schedules to prepare for speakers, literature to prepare and send, letters of inquiry to answer. We expect it to be a great day for enlisting students, presenting the college program, and promoting the Living Endowment Foundation. Loyal alumni everywhere can lend a helping hand in the local churches.

The veterans' housing program is still with us. The units are now promised for occupancy by February 1. That sounds good even though we remember that they had been promised for September 1. But today the diggers are on strike. Maybe it will be March 1. At any rate it will be fine when they are completed and the students can move from the third floor of Wilmore.

We plan for the beginning of the second semester. We will have to limit the incoming freshmen to one section, 40 or 43 students. We have a few applications from students with advanced standing and can care for them. Class schedules keep the Dean and Registrar busy while faculty members talk finals. The Business Office wonders if it will be possible to feed the students next term for the same price. There are lots of things to think about and plan for but, of course, the new term will start on schedule and move along smoothly as usual.

There is no word yet from our North Central application. Of course it is too soon to expect it so we mentally weigh the prospects again and hope. Probably will not know before March. Those inspectors certainly knew how to examine a college.

There isn't time now to think too much about it, must get a few things collected to take along to the American College Association meeting. We leave for Boston tomorrow. Hope it isn't too cold and, surely glad we will live in the hotel where the meetings are being held.

President I. Lynd Esch.

Faculty and Staff

During the Christmas holidays, Dean Allen B. Kellogg attended the sixty-first annual meeting of the Modern Language Association of America, held this year in Washington, D. C. Doctor Kellogg reports that approximately 2,000 college teachers of English, German, French, Spanish, and Italian were present at the sessions covering a three-day period and devoted to the presentation and discussion of papers of professional interest.

Miss Virginia Cravens, Dean of Women, spoke at a dinner meeting of the Muncie Alumni Club of Indiana Central College which was held in the social rooms of the Riggins Dairy, Muncie, Ind., on December 15, 1946. Dean Cravens spoke on the subject, "A Scale of Human Values," and later led an informal discussion on "The State of the College." Among those attending the meeting were Mr. Lowell Barnett '30, president of the club, Mrs. May Barnett, Mr. Albert Findley '31, club secretary, the Reverend Forest Reed '22, Mrs. Marguerite Parsons Reed '22, the Reverend John C. Roberts '22, Mrs. Laura Jones Roberts '21, the Reverend Lorin Rapp '27, Mrs. Virga Rapp '30, the Reverend Mr. Russell Hiatt '27, Mrs. Winifred Stahl Childs '28, Mrs. Treva Miser Riggins '36, Mrs. Virginia Trehearne Stanley '33, Miss Ruth McCoy Stewart '24, and Miss Lillian Ragains '28.

On December 17, 1946 Doctor Russell S. Merkel (Education) represented Indiana Central College on "College Day" at Martinsville High School, Martinsville, Indiana. Students who were interested in attending college were given an opportunity to meet with representatives from various Indiana colleges.

Arthur Dahl addressed the meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association at Public School No. 47 in Indianapolis on Wednesday, January 8. His subject was "Community Responsibility in Character Education."

Miss Effie Winterrowd (Business Office) attended the session of the National Business Teachers Association which met at Chicago December 26-28. Miss Winterrowd served as secretary of the bookkeeping and accounting round table of the association.

Mr. Lester Schilling (Speech) was one of the judges of an oratorical contest held in November by the Indiana Farm Bureau at Murat Temple. Young people representing the counties of the state spoke on the theme, "The Democratic Way of Life." Mr. Schilling also attended the meeting of the Speech Association of America, which met at Chicago during the Christmas holidays.

Publications

"Fiscal Objection to Statehood in Indiana" by Donald F. Carmony '29, Indiana Magazine of History, Volume XVII, No. IV, December, 1946. The above-mentioned article is the most recent of a series of articles dealing with Indiana History written by Doctor Carmony which have appeared in the Indiana Magazine of History. With Doctor Howard H. Peckham, Doctor Carmony shares the authorship of A Brief History of Indiana, published by the Indiana Historical Bureau in the fall of 1946. Doctor Carmony is now serving as Executive-Secretary of the South Bend-Mishawaka Extension Center of Indiana U.

"Library Projects" by Kenneth Sever '37, Library Occurrent, Volume XV, Number VIII, December, 1946. Mr. Sever is an instructor and Librarian at Waldron High School, Waldron, Indiana.
Alumni Notes

'16—Lucille Cummins Eaton is at home in DeKalb, Ill. Professor Eaton, formerly of the I. C. C. faculty, is teaching in the Northern Illinois State Teachers College in DeKalb.

'22—Rev. Guy R. Champlin and wife are enjoying a pastorate at the Zanesville, Ind., Evangelical United Brethren Church. John, their son, is attending I. C. C. at present.

'23—A lengthy letter reaches us from Harry R. Mathias, of Bowling Green, Ohio, calling attention to an error in our first edition. This we gladly acknowledge and correct. A former instructor at I. C. C., Mr. Mathias left the Hoosier state in '31 to take a position in the Mathematics department of the State University at Bowling Green. Accompanying the letter was an attractive pamphlet describing the school which numbers some 3,900 students and 170 faculty members.

'23—Robert Leyman lives in Sheldon, Ill. He is employed at Donovan, Ill., as a teacher.

'24—Dr. W. E. Stoneburner, former head of the Education Department at I. C. C., now connected with the Veterans' Administration, addressed the student body and faculty in chapel January 13.

'24—The Rev. Daniel D. Corl and his oldest son, Javan, spent several interesting weeks on a mercy ship to Europe this past summer. Rev. Corl is the pastor of the First E. B. Church in Toledo, Ohio. Mrs. Corl assumed many duties of the pastor in her husband's absence.

'25—Ruth Brane is teaching in the North Manchester schools. She is in the elementary schools there.

'25—Fannie Dunbar Gibson and husband operate a large fruit farm near Sparta, Mich.

'26—Marcella Cornett is employed in the Plymouth Public Schools, Plymouth, Ind.

'26—J. William Newberg is at present teaching math at the Carrollton High School in Dayton, Ohio. He formerly taught at the Morrow, Ohio, High School for 10 years, serving as principal for 11 years. Two children, Delores 10, and Earl 8, make up the Newberg family.

'26—Mary Marshall is teaching in the Rochester Public Schools. She spends her weekends at her home near Chili, Ind.

'27—Olive Howe Fosha is at home at Alton, Ill. She has a son, Albert Jr. Her husband is employed by a local oil company as an engineer.

'28—Donald C. Marshall is principal of the Artesia, New Mexico, High School. While at Raton, N. M, he married and his family now includes an 8-year-old son and a 4-year-old daughter. Don is no stranger to Indiana, since their summer vacations are often spent on the farm of his sister, Mary, near Chili, Ind.

'28—Edna Miller, formerly Librarian at Butler and in the State Library, assumed like duties at I. C. C. on July 1.

'28—Frances McClanathan Martin and her husband, Lowell Martin, a Lafayette attorney, have moved into a new home at 1010 Ravina Road, West Lafayette, Ind.

'28—Harry R. Davidson is now serving as Superintendent of Schools at New Albany, Ind.

'28—Rev. K. K. Merryman is serving the pastorate of the First E. B. Church in Terre Haute, Ind. His address is: 376 So. 22nd Street.

'29—Kenneth Humbert is teaching instrumental music, band and orchestra at Central High School in Detroit, Mich., and is also doing considerable professional playing around town on the cornet and trumpet. In addition, Kenneth is taking a graduate course at Wayne University.

'29—James Weber is continuing his work on his doctorate degree at the University of Chicago. He is on leave of absence from Central and plans to finish his work this year. His present address is: 817 58th St., Chicago 37, Ill.

'32—Lowell Good and Elsie Beck Good, '39, recently visited relatives and friends in Indianapolis over the Thanksgiving holidays. The Goods are now residing in Riverton, N. J., since the Electrical Development Department of R. C. A. has been shifted from Indianapolis to Camden. They reluctantly left Indianapolis, but are finding many new friends in the East. Their address is: 330 Linden Ave., Riverton, N. J.

'32—As reported in our first issue, Paul Huckeridge spent nine weeks last summer as a "Seafaring Cowboy" on a trip to Italy. Paul's boat carried a cargo of horses and other supplies to Trieste. He visited Venice and Milan during his visit and has many interesting stories to tell.

'33—Absalom Wilson has served at Peru, Ind., for two years as assistant coach. He previously taught and coached at Lenawee and Chappewa. He is married to Elizabeth Felton and they have five children.

'33—Gordon France is employed as Production Control Supervisor of one of the Delco Bemco plants in Anderson, Ind. "Frenchy" married Madelyn Wright, a Ball State graduate, and they have three children: Carolyn 8, Robert 7, and Richard 1. Gordon is quite active in Young People's Work and the Boy Scout movement in Anderson.

'33—Edward Gault, who has served as Editor Pro-temp for the Alumni News, has been compelled to drop these duties. Because of a shift in employment, Ed will no longer reside in Indianapolis. Ed, a former employee of the Presto-Lite Company of Indianapolis, has accepted a job with the National Corn Products Company and will be employed in the Chicago area. In this new position, Ed will be connected with a special analytical group, working on special test problems for the makers of Karo Syrup and Argo Starch. Ed's wife, Ruth Wagener '32, and daughter are to go to Chicago as soon as they find a residence.

'35—Wayne E. Babler, who served a stretch in the Navy, has now returned to civilian life. He has joined the law firm formerly Bishop and Bishop, now known as Bishop and Babler, in Detroit.

'35—The George Spragues recently entertained the stork, as Mary, Ellyn Shambaugh Sprague, '33, gave birth to a daughter, Jane Ellyn. George David, 3, is very pleased with his little sister. George is teaching in the Physical Education department at Arsenal Technical High School in Indianapolis.

'35—Dorothy E. Miller completed her work on her doctor's degree at Cornell. She is now teaching Nature Study in Iowa State.

'35—The William Sheaffers recently announced the arrival of a baby daughter, Rebecca Ann. Ray and Michael are quite proud of their bouncing sister.

'36—Frank Shrin is quite at home behind the counter of his store in Shelbyville, Ind. His experience as a manager with A. & P. serves him well in his own business. Frank and his wife, the former Helen Reinhardt, '33, have two charming daughters, Nancy Lynn and Susan Jane.

'36—Thelma Reinhardt Wheeler is residing in Shelbyville. Thelma taught for seven years and is now busy with her family of two, John and Jane.

'37—Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hahn send a birth announcement from San Bernadino, Calif., telling us that Janice Elaine has arrived.

'38—Lt. John Lamb is in prison. Don't get us wrong, as a letter from John states that he is working at the Green Haven, N. Y., army prison, rehabilitating some 210 inmates. John is looking forward to a speedy release from the army and is anxious to return home to Richmond, Ind.

'38—Lt. (jg) Richard Emery, recently of the U. S. Naval Reserve, has returned to civilian life and resumed teaching in the Indianapolis Public Schools. Dick spent some time on active sea duty in command of an armed guard unit. Later being stationed at the naval discharge center at Great Lakes. The Emerys recently purchased a home at 4112 Otterbein Ave., Indianapolis.

'39—Raymond Ruff is now employed by the Shelby Paint and Varnish Company of Indianapolis. Ray is learning the business from the ground up, but concentrating on the Special Account Sales angle. Ray is married to Jean Stickney, former J. C. C. student, and they have a bouncing son, Denny Ray.

'42—Norman Meier has been discharged from the Army Air Forces and is now employed as a laboratory technician at the U. S. Rubber Company, Indianapolis plant. "Gabby," married Joan Hamke, a former Central student, and they have a fine son, Dennis Edward.

'44—Merrel and Lois Geible ('40) had a Merry Xmas as Elizabeth Ann arrived a day early. Both mother and baby are reported doing nicely.

'45—Emily Keck is spending her second year at the McCurdy School at Santa Cruz, New Mexico. She is teaching Home Economics and English.

'46—Marjorie Jo Langford and Lois Mannix, '46, are both teaching at Cambridge City, Indiana. Marjorie is teaching Physical Education in the high school, and Lois is teaching in the grade school. Roommates through college, the girls are continuing to room together, having been fortunate in securing an apartment near their schools.

Alumni Directory

In the last issue a note was issued concerning an Alumni Directory. Many have written endorsing such a book, but it should be understood that considerable expense would be entailed in compiling, editing and publishing such a directory, hence it must be well subscribed. It has been suggested that such a book would sell for approximately three dollars and that at least 150 copies would be necessary to underwrite the expense.

In Memoriam

Ruth Beck Diettert '28, died suddenly on January 2 at her home in North Judson, Indiana. She was a former teacher in the public school at North Judson. Funeral services were held Sunday, January 5. She is survived by her husband, Chester Diettert, who is a teacher at North Judson.

A telegram was received on Founder's Day, October 12, announcing the death of Fred Hampel, Ex-'31. Mr. Hampel, the husband of the former Esther Parker '28, had recently moved to Warsaw, Indiana. Funeral services were held at Warsaw with burial at Butler, Indiana. Mr. Hampel is survived by his wife and son, Charles Parker Hampel.
