Second Generation Students

As the new classes come in each fall there is an ever increasing number of second generation students. This, of course, is natural and as it should be; yet it gives the oldsters a thrill to recognize the father or mother in the son or daughter. The following are among this year's new students: Phyllis Ann, daughter of Otto, '26, and Marguerite Brockschmidt, '28, Albright, comes from Cayuga High School, where her father has been principal since 1931 and coach before that. Norman, son of Ira, '25, and Dena Young, N. '27, Bright, comes from Hudson, Ind. Joanne Ruth Dennis is the sixth and last of the children of Bishop and Mrs. Fred L. Dennis to study at Central. The Dennis family live in Woodruff Place, Indianapolis, but Joanne, as the others have, lives in the dormitory. Herman Emmert’s home is in Brazil, where his father, the Reverend Alfred L., '28, and Myrtle Armstrong, ex '24, are serving the E.U.B. Church. Margaret May Ewert, daughter of Walter, '28 and Mina Faris, ex '28, Ewert, comes from Springfield, Illinois.

Betty Lou Fleshman is the daughter of Herman Fleshman, ex '19, of New Amsterdam, Indiana. Richard Heistand is the son of Kenneth Heistand, ex '23, who lives in Brook, Indiana. John Karstadt of University Heights is the son of Kephart and Lyndoll Hile Karstadt, '27.

Margaret Joyce Liechty is the third of the second generation Liechtys to enroll in Central. She is the daughter of Clarence, '26, and Mabel Karstadt Liechty who live on Bluff Road south of Indianapolis.

Crystal Belle Livengood, who has enrolled as a third year student, coming from Palm Beach, Fla., Junior College and L.U. Extension, is the third second-generation Livengood and the daughter of the Reverend Malvin S. Livengood of Frankfort, Indiana.

Leroy Ray Rapp is the son of the Reverend Lorin, '27, and Virginia May Rapp, '30, who are serving a E.U.B. Church in Muncie. John Benjamin Reed is the fifth child of the Reverend Forest and Marguerite Parsons Reed, both of the class of 1922, to enroll in Indiana Central. His parents are also serving a E.U.B. Church in Muncie. Marjorie Marie Schrader is the daughter of Myrtle Hahn Schrader of the Normal Class of 1926. She comes from Bremen, Indiana.

John Edward Sharp of University Heights is the son of Gladys Petty Sharp, '41. Lois Williams comes from Tallman, Michigan, and is the daughter of Amos, '28, and Veva Dunbar, '26, Williams.

President’s Message

Greetings to all Fellow Alumni:

On behalf of all your officers, I bring you greetings and this report on our activities to date and plans for the future.

Since taking office at the June 4th annual spring meeting, your officers met on the Campus July 11th with the Board of Directors. This meeting was in conformance with the new constitution, which states that such a meeting be held within 30 days after taking office. Further, the by-laws state that the Directors shall adopt a program, establish policies and procedures which the officers shall then carry out to the best of their ability.

This July 11th meeting set up the following program for us to carry out:

1. Establish the office of Executive Secretary, to be filled by Sept. 1st. Salary to be $300 for period from Sept. 1st to June 30th.
2. Continue publication of Alumni News, with 3 issues during the 1949-1950 school year.
3. Hold traditional Fall Luncheon meeting on Friday noon during State Teachers Institute.
4. Hold Annual Spring Meeting on Saturday of Commencement Week, June 1950 (Election of officers).
5. Continue effort to increase Life Memberships.
6. Urge 5 year reunion classes to attend annual spring meeting (Classes of 1945, 1940, 1935, etc.).

Miss Virginia Cravens was the choice for the newly created post of Executive Secretary for the Alumni Ass'n. and assumed her duties Sept. 1st, with headquarters in the Public Relations office in the Ad Building.

Most of us hate to constantly be reminded of money matters. But they are so vital a part of our lives. Last year we expended a total of $336 for secretarial work of various kinds—working on address files took the most of it, special letters, etc. While the salary for this year was limited by our expected income, the Board of Directors in establishing this new office felt that the benefits therefrom would many times exceed those of last year and at a slightly less expenditure.

Working in cooperation with Mr. Sherman Cravens, Miss Cravens will endeavor to carry out the best interests of all Central Alumni by assisting the officers in carrying out the above program for the year. All alumni correspondence should be addressed to her and we invite your letters giving suggestions on how better we can serve the entire Alumni Group. Send in changes of addresses, name changes, birth and death announcements, news items, reports of any regional Alumni Group meetings, requests for information, dues payments, etc. One of the main problems has been and still is the lack of correct addresses for many Alumni. This means that all the letters, bulletins, Alumni News, ballots, etc., go astray and this is quite wasteful of effort and money. Let’s all help Miss Cravens in this new position that will in turn greatly help build a better, more active, informed Alumni Association.

Finance is always a factor in the Associations’ activities and determines the extent of our service to our members.

Last year’s Life Memberships increased to the present total of 309. We should have many, many more with nearly 2000 graduates eligible for membership. The $10 Life Membership fee was set a few years ago when the annual dues were $1.00. Annual dues are now $2.00, whereas the Life Membership is still only 10. This fee is not to be raised for the time being, so we feel our goal should be 200 new Life Memberships paid (Continued on Page 3, Col. 3)

A Welcome Addition

It has always been hoped that the Alumni News could be developed into the kind of a paper which all Alumni would look forward to with anticipation. The Editorial staff has always felt that more personal information and notes would help make the paper more readily received. Continued appeal for this kind of material has met with limited response. Other than letters from a few who have volunteered to be of service in reporting for our notes, the Alumni Notes have been far too few.

You will note that this edition is well sprinkled with the kind of personal notes and personal interest stories that make the Alumni News not only for but of the Alumni. We are happy to report that this addition has been largely due to Miss Cravens, our new Executive Secretary. Miss Cravens has spent much time in preparing notes of interest from her wide contacts and correspondence with Central Alumni.

It is sincerely hoped that the many friends of Miss Cravens will continue to correspond with her and help supply her with the necessary contacts that will make her work as Executive Secretary a pleasure.

“We Point With Pride”

We are justly proud of the achievements of our alumni wherever they are working, in our own college area, in other parts of the United States, and in foreign countries. Articles in this issue of the Alumni News tell of outstanding work being done by only a few of our alumni. There are many others who are serving just as effectively, though in other ways. Some alumni who are wives and mothers and homemakers are doing the greatest possible service to society as they keep the home Christian and also train their children in the Indiana Central tradition of service.

Note of Thank You

Since it is physically impossible for me to write notes of thanks to all the alumnae who contributed so generously to the “purse” given me last commencement time and to answer all the heart-warming letters sent me, I am taking this plan of saying “Thank You.” The “purse” was in the form of a beautiful black leather handbag containing a generous check. The check I have spent on my “table,” that is, a drop-leaf mahogany table which will seat eight, and eight place settings of silver. Come sit around it sometime with me, please. I read the letters one a day until they were all read. I wish I could believe all the kind things you wrote. Anyhow, they made me very happy, and I appreciate them. All of these things together with the gifts and good wishes of the faculty, students, and administration did much to relieve the natural feeling of sadness at my retirement. I am now living in a delightful little cottage at 4209 Otterbein. Come see me.

Notice 1949 Grads

The graduates of the class of 1949 are in the enviable position to receive their Life Membership in the I. C. C. Alumni Association at reduced rates. Since $2.50 of their total $10 for membership has already been paid in last year’s incidental fee, they are entitled to a membership upon payment of the remaining $7.50. We are expecting a good percentage of this class to take advantage of this opportunity. Send cash, check or money order to Ralph M. Frey, Secretary, 4203 Otterbein Ave., Indianapolis 3, Indiana.

Notice

It is very important that the alumni files be kept up-to-date as to addresses, occupations, and families. Please notify the Alumni Office at the College of any change in your own address or that of another alumna who you think may have neglected it. This is the only way that the office can effectively serve you.

Poly Upsets Central 28-26

Rose Poly's Engineers measured the Greyhounds 28-26 in the season opener. The Grey and Cardinal had trouble holding onto the pigskin and repeatedly lost the ball to Poly during the first half. The Engineers enjoyed the first half. The Engineers enjoyed onto the pigskin and repeatedly lost the ball to Poly during the first half. The Engineers enjoyed points after Wheeler intercepted a Poly pass. Poly retaliated with a 14-0 lead at the half and extended it to 21-0 before the Greyhounds sparked into life.

Woods then sparked a gallant passing attack to score twice before the final whistle. The miss- ing two field goals by the Greyhounds afforded the margin of victory 28-26.

Central Conquers Huntington 26-6

Again finding their stride in the second half the Centralites scored 3 touchdowns to defeat Huntington 26-6. Veteran end, McGrath, received 2 passes to scamper for tallies. Stalnut and Crowe scored one each. Woods converted on 2 out of four chances to make 26. The Hunters evened the score 6-6 near the end of the first quarter, but could not stave off the Greyhounds last half drive.

Franklin Nips Greyhounds 14-13

Overcoming a two touch-down deficit, Franklin College pushed across two fourth-quarter scores to spoil Indiana Central's homecoming 14-13.

Not even the crisp dashes of Bill Crowe and a hard charging line could halt the last minute Grizzly uprising.

Markers by halfbacks, Bill Mills and Joe Platt turned the tide in Franklin's favor after Central tallied twice in the third period.

After a listless first half, the Greyhounds came to life in the third quarter. Crowe ran 35 yards for the first touchdown and followed up with a 20 yard dash for the second.

The Greyhounds threatened again late in the third quarter when guard, Dale Robinson sneaked through the Franklin line to recover a fumble on the Grizzlies 22.

Fullback, Charles Dill, picked up 5 yards and halfback, Dave Shaw, sped into the end zone. However, the score was nullified by a 15-yard holding penalty.

This was the second loss in three games this season for Central.

Central Runners Secure Jack Rice as Coach
Jack Rice, former Butler track and cross-country star, has been signed as Indiana Central's first full time coach in these sports. Angus Nicolson, Central Athletic Director, announced Rice's appointment. The 29-year-old Indianapolis Native already has begun grooming the Central harriers.

This is Rice's first coaching job since he graduated from Butler in 1947, after three years out for Navy service.

As a Bulldog runner he was Captain of the Cross-country team in 1941 and served in the same capacity for the track team in 1947.

Rice was Little State Mile champion for three years, 1942—1946—1947 and in 1946 also added the state A. A. U. mile title to his collection. He lives at 1428 Delaware Street, Indianapolis.

Previously Central's track and cross-country teams had been coached on a part time basis by various professors.

The cross-country schedule is as follows:

From the President's Desk

The air is crisp today, and there is the odor of burning leaves in the breeze. School schedules have settled into regular weekly routine, and a glance at the calendar tells me that October is here. Football is, of course, the chief topic of conversation wherever the students congregate in groups to talk, but that will not be for long because the basketball schedule was placed on my desk this morning. It all adds up to the fact that another school year is well under way.

Statistics from the Registrar's office provide interesting information. The total enrollment is 452, 312 are men and 140 are women. There are 159 with a freshman classification and 77 seniors who are looking forward to graduation in the spring. The number of students from Indianapolis is increasing each year. In 1941, about 19 percent came from the city; this year, the figure is 34 percent. Then, too, a number of students now commute from nearby towns, so that we have 208 of our present student body who do not live on the campus. When we make comparisons with pre-war years, we realize that we are living in a changing world.

We are much pleased with the fine spirit and morale that is apparent everywhere this fall. Students and faculty alike are taking up their work with enthusiasm. Some improvements were made in the physical plant during the summer which add much to the comfort and convenience of the entire Central family. We are anticipating the best year ever.

It is not too soon to think about 1950-51. Successful plans must be made well in advance. We are already beginning our program of student enlistment for next year. We solicit the aid of Centralites everywhere in an effort to bring next year's freshman class up to 200. If you know of a young person who should be here next year, please let us have the name and address. We will expect to see many of you at the Teacher's Institute luncheon.

I. LYND ESCH,
Pres. I. C. C.

Alumni Luncheon

The annual Indiana Central College Alumni Luncheon, held at the time of the State Teachers Association, will be served this year in the Gold Room of the Washington Hotel at 12 o'clock Friday, October 28.

Gordon France, president of the Alumni Association will act as toastmaster. Dr. Lynn Turner, class of 1927, director of the Indiana War Commission of Indiana University, will give the address. Music will be furnished by the Music Department of the college.

It is hoped that many who live in the Indianapolis area, though not teachers will attend the luncheon. You may send reservations to the Alumni Office at the college.

Class of 1928 Leads Life Membership Parade

With a very fine record of 18 Life Members, the class of 1928 is leading the Life Membership parade. At present there are a total of 209 Life members in the Alumni Association.

Below are listed the leading classes and the number of Life Members in each class.

Class of 1928......18 life members
Class of 1937.......15 life members
Class of 1930......13 life members
Class of 1938......11 life members
Class of 1934......10 life members
Class of 1925......8 life members
Class of 1926......8 life members
Class of 1929......8 life members
Class of 1936......8 life members

Send in your life membership today and help your class get on the honor roll.

Get on the bandwagon. Funds are needed to keep the Alumni News alive. Use application blank found on the bottom of page 3, and mail to Ralph M. Frey, 4208 Otterbein Ave., Indianapolis 3, Ind., or Miss V. Cravens, Alumni Secretary, Indiana Central College, Indianapolis 3, Ind.

Class of '42 Picnics on Campus

Sherman Cravens of the Public Relations Office must have especially friendly relations with the weatherman. At any rate he had perfect weather for the game with Huntington and for the picnic of his class on the following afternoon.

Little boys here, little boys there, little boys everywhere, and only one little girl among them at the 1942 class reunion! I don't refer to the graduates themselves but to their offspring. What the picture would have been had all of the '42ers been able to attend "wonders me."

Members of the Class of '42 and their families met on campus east of Wilmore Hall, Sunday, September 25, at 1:30. A picnic dinner punctuated by "Here, Larry!" "Come back, Stanley," "Throw me the ball, Dale," et cetera and by much visiting and reminiscing was enjoyed by the group. Several of the old (?) faculty members joined in the fun. Letters from three absent members were read. The group stood in silence in recognition of Ray Boldingdale's death.

Sherman Cravens was elected president; Oris Pinkstaff, vice-president; and Carol Eichhorst Rose, secretary-treasurer of the class. Carol will be getting in touch with those of you who could not attend this year to see when you would like to have the annual reunion, which everyone agreed should be held.

Roll call was taken and most of you who were not there were accounted for. Plan to attend the next reunion so you and your family can be seen and so you can tell personally about your business, your home, and the accomplishments of your family. Mary Huey

Muncie Area Alumni Group

The regular fall meeting of the Muncie Area Alumni Group was held at Hartford City E. U. B. Church, Sunday afternoon, September 11. The meeting had been planned as a Chinese Tea with the Reverend John Knecht, former missionary to China, as speaker. Since the invitations went out, however, the Reverend Knecht has been assigned as pastor to the E. U. B. Church at Clay City, which is too far away for an afternoon trip to Hartford City, his home town. Much regret was expressed at his not being able to attend, though his absence was understandable. Miss Catherine Bur- chard very ably and entertainingly substituted for him by giving a talk on Japan, of which she had made a special study under a native of Japan this past summer at Lake Geneva.

The social room of the church was most attractively decorated with pagodas, dragons, Chinese lanterns, and lotus pods, all in pastel shades. Preliminary piano music was furnished by Betty Lou Ratliff, Indiana Central College junior, and Ruth Cobb, young daughter of the pastor, Dr. Heedlie Cobb. A further program of music was given by young people of the church, several of whom are prospective students of Indiana Central. At the business session it was announced that 25 dollars had been sent from the group to Miss Mary Huey of the College Home Economics Department for the purchase of equipment for the improvement of the social facilities of the college. The group has also provided a one hundred dollar scholarship for a young man of the area who is entering Indiana Central this fall.

Present were: Virginia Techearne Stanley, president; Catherine Burchard, secretary-treasurer; Gordon France, Mrs. Alva Roberts, widow of the late J. T. Roberts, her son and daughter-in-law, John T. and Linda Jones Roberts, who are serving the Riverside Church at Muncie; The Reverend Lawrence and Ruth Noel Wertz and Lena Bowen Morrill of Portland; the Reverend Russell Hiatt, Ruth McCoy Stewart, Treva Miser Riggin, Marguerite Parsons Reed, Albert Findlay, May Trumbull Barnett, all of Muncie; Robert and Jesse Johnson Carter of Mooresville; The Reverend Hedlie and Elizabeth Breedlove Cobb, Kenneth and Margaret Herd Dorton, Ruth Howard Henderson, Roberta Good Chaney and Colon E. Parks all of Hartford City, Lillian Ragains and Hazel Shrigley of Indianapolis.

How the Muncie Group Started

Note:
The Muncie Area Alumni Group is a very-much-alive organization and always has a happy time at its meetings. We have asked for an account of its organization and meetings. The following has been furnished by Albert Findley, '31, who himself was the first secretary-treasurer and aided materially in the original organization:

In the fall of 1944 Virgil Hauge, at that time field representative of Indiana Central College, came to Muncie with the hope of organizing the large number of Central alumni of the Muncie district into a group for social meetings in which old memories and associations could be renewed. At the same time a means of contact with the happenings of the present day in relation to our college could be furnished. At a preliminary meeting a desire was manifested on the part of the twelve or more alumni present for a permanent organization to meet quarterly.

The group elected as its first president Winifred Stahl Childs, and she has been followed in order by Lowell Barnett, John Roberts, Gordon France, and Virginia Trecheanne Stanley.

The meetings have been varied to a great extent, but the group has come to look forward especially to two of the meetings each year, namely, the picnic held regularly in June and the banquet at the Christmas season.

At least fifty alumni have been in our meetings since the beginning with possibly an average attendance of fifteen. Average attendance including wives or husbands of alumni and children is from 40 to 45. With the bringing of our families together new bonds of friendship have been formed, both for ourselves and for Indiana Central College. Now the children look forward to the meetings about as much as their parents.

Every district in the college territory should have an alumni club which will furnish the same pleasure that the Muncie organization furnishes to the alumni in that area. Would you like to call together a group and start such an organization in your area?

In Memoriam

Rev. Charles P. Martin  George Donald Klopp  Ray Bloomingdale
Louis E. Beaver

During the present calendar year Indiana Central College Alumni have suffered the loss of six of its members and the wife of another.

Rev. Chas. P. Martin

Funeral services for the Rev. Charles P. Martin, class of 1908, were held in the Park Avenue E. U. B. Church, Indianapolis, June 19. He had been a patient in the Methodist Hospital.

The Rev. Mr. Martin was one of the two members of the first class to graduate from Indiana Central, former president and the late I. J. Good being the other member. Since his graduation he had been pastor of various churches in White River Conference until his retirement, since which he has lived in Greenfield. Survivors are the widow, Mrs. Effie M. Martin, Greenfield, Ind., and two sons, Clarence P., ex '23, and Charles W., ex '36, Pharr, Texas.

Paul A. Frame

Paul A. France, class of 1927, died suddenly of heart attack on May 4, 1949, at Anderson, Indiana, where he made his home with his parents, The Reverend and Mrs. N. P. France. Besides his parents, his brother Gordon, class of 1933, survives him.

George Donald Klopp

George Donald Klopp, class of 1932, died suddenly at his home at 8601 S. Meridian St., May 30, 1949. He was born in Pennsylvania and came in boyhood with his parents to Indianapolis, where he graduated from Shortridge High School and Indiana Central College. He earned a master's degree from Butler in 1933. He taught botany in Indiana Central from 1933 to 1937, taught biology at Shortridge from 1939 to 1949, and was assistant to Dr. W. P. Morgan at I. U. Extension in Indianapolis from 1931 to 1948.

During Mr. Klopp's college days and after, he was active in work with Boy Scouts. In 1929 he attended the World Jamboree at Arrowe Park, near Birkenhead, England. On this trip he visited historical spots in England, Wales, France, Belgium, and Germany.

He was always interested in all forms of nature, and in connection with his teaching made a number of kodachrome slides on nature subjects to be used in the classroom. With some of these slides Mr. Klopp gave a most interesting lecture a few years ago before a meeting of Sigma Zeta, the science fraternity of I. C. C.

Memorial services for Mr. Klopp were held at the Meyer and Abdon Funeral Home with Dr. Roy H. Turley officiating. He is survived by a son, John Richard, and the widow, the former Olive Kammerling, class of 1935.

Rev. Harry W. Hagaman

The Reverend Harry W. Hagaman, A. B., 1935, was killed by an electric shock at his home in Spencer in July of this year. He is survived by his wife, the former Mildred Matkins, his mother and brother. He was born in Indianapolis, where he attended grade and high school.

While playing football on the varsity team of Tech. High School in his junior year, Harry received a severe injury, which confined him to a wheelchair. Despite this injury, he continued his studies at high school, graduating with honors. He prepared for the teaching profession by studying at Indiana Central College. After his graduation here, he attended Indiana University, at Bloomington, and received his Master of Arts degree on June 5, 1939.

Mr. Hagaman felt the call to preach rather than teach and was ordained Elder in the Church of The Nazarene in August of 1940. As an evangelist he was highly successful. Memorial services were held for him in the First Church of The Nazarene, Indianapolis, and in the First Church of The Nazarene, Spencer, on July 14.

Faculty and students who knew Harry Hagaman while he was at Central remember him as a good student and a wholesome, happy person in spite of his physical handicap. His smile and gracious thanks amply repaid the YMCA fellows who helped him from his car into the Ad Building each morning and out again at the end of his day here. To know him was an enriching experience.
Ray Bloomingdale

One of Central's greatest basketball players and, as the sports editor of the Elkhart Truth states "a straight shooter in life as he was on the basketball floor," Ray Bloomingdale, died at his home near Bristol, Indiana, following a two years illness. He had been under treatment several times at Billings Hospital in Chicago during this period.

After being an outstanding player on the Bristol High School team, he came to Indiana Central in 1938. Here he played for four years under Coach Good and was a member of the undefeated Greyhounds of 1941-42. He was graduated in 1942.

During the war, Ray served as lieutenant, junior grade, in the coast guard from July, 1942, to October, 1945. While in service he married Doris Mae Stafford of Elkhart, who was then an ensign in the navy nurse corps. He left, besides the widow, two little girls, Judy Rae and Janice Kay, his parents, three sisters, and one brother.

In 1946, Ray accepted the position of mathematics instructor and athletic coach in his home high school of Bristol, where he won the love of the boys and the admiration of the community with his devotion to his job in spite of physical suffering.

Ray is remembered by his friends in Indiana Central for his excellent work on the basketball floor and his admirable sportsmanship. But better than that, he is remembered as a good "campus citizen" and an industrious student.

All members of the Alumni association who knew Ray extend their sympathy to his family.

Ruth Marshall

Mrs. Ruth Marshall, the former Ruth King, student 1922-23, and wife of Justin E. Marshall, '23, died September 8 at her home, 4222 Bowman Avenue, Indianapolis, after an extended illness. Residents of Indianapolis for 20 years, she and her husband, now the vice-principal of Washington High School, celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary on August 28 at their home. In spite of ill health, she was a regular attendant and worker in all the women's organizations of the University Heights E. U. B. Church, where memorial services were held for her. Burial was at her former home at Chili. Survivors are, besides her husband, her mother, Mrs. Clara King, and sister, Mrs. Zoe Myer, I. C. C. Normal, 1927, both of Chili.

Louis E. Beaver

Louis E. Beaver, B. S., 1943, died at his home in Danville on March 14, 1949, from a heart ailment, at the age of 27 years. Six years ago he married Marlowe Hoagland at Decatur, Indiana, a former student of Indiana Central. Survivors are the widow and three daughters, Leah Joyce and twins, Cathy Arlene and Melanie Jo, his parents and eight brothers and sisters. Louis came to Indiana Central from Noblesville, Indiana.

Previous to his death, Louis had lived with his family for five years in Danville, where he was head of the science department in the Danville High School and had charge of the visual education program there, as well as being active as a counselor. He also taught evening classes in chemistry and physics at Canterbury College. Louis was a real scientist and teacher, and loved to teach. During the summer months he was a chemist at the Indianapolis Plant of the U. S. Rubber Company. He was soon to complete his master's degree at Butler University. While in Indiana Central, Louis was a member of Philomusea Literary Society, a member of the Science Club and the Drach and Reflect staffs. He was an alumni member of the Rho chapter of Sigma Zeta of Indiana Central, a national science fraternity, of which he was a faithful attendant and active in its programs.

Mr. Beaver's funeral was held in the Danville Methodist Church where he was a member.
