A SUCCESSFUL LAWYER AND JUDGE

Judge Harold E. Achor of Anderson was graduated from Indiana Central with high honors in 1929 and from the Indiana University School of Law in 1931, from which date he was a member of the law firm of Achor and Peck until he was elected Judge of the Superior Court of Madison County in 1942. He has served in that office until the present time. As a judge he is widely known as a marriage counsellor and for his judicial ability and integrity. His Christian idealism and character is evidenced by his appointment to the Committee of One Hundred of the International Council of Religious Education. He has held office in many civic and religious organizations of Anderson, and is now a member of the Board of Trustees of Anderson College.

In June of 1949 Indiana Central College conferred an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws upon Judge Achor in recognition of his outstanding service and character. The honor was repeated at Anderson College in 1950. Judge Achor is now a nominee for Judge of the Appellate Court of Indiana on the Republican ticket. Alumni and friends are actively supporting Judge Achor in their respective communities. If called upon he will furnish materials to be used in furthering his campaign. I.C.C. friends and alumni wish him success.

IN MEMORIAM

Allen Steckley, '48, died of polio at the Robert Long Hospital on August 26. Mr. Steckley came to Central from Butler, Ind., and was a minister in the St. Joe Conference. He lived in Walkerton with his wife the former Williamby Allison, Ex-'48, and one child.

Charles Beck, Ex-'50, of Patchogue, N.Y., was killed in a plane crash near a training field in Texas just a short time before he would have received his wings.

FALL HOMECOMING

October 14 is due to be a clear frosty fall day (we hope). At any rate it is the day of our Fall Homecoming and High School Day and again presents the opportunity to be a Central Booster. As teachers, ministers, and interested lay alumni we cannot start too soon to emphasize to young people the advantages offered by the Christian centered college, like Central. The intimate contact of the smaller school is an important fact in real learning. With a well grounded, fully accredited curriculum, a full sports program, and ample social activities, plus the advantages of large city facilities, I.C.C. is certainly a leader in its field. Talk I.C.C. Boost I.C.C. Will see you October 14.

BOARDS OF DIRECTORS MEETS

In accordance with the provision of the constitution, the Board of Directors of the Indiana Central College Alumni Association met on June 26, 1950, to plan the work of the association for the current year. The members of the Board who will serve for one year are Merrill Cummins and Dr. W. Raymond Breneman; those for two years, Mrs. Lillian Ragains Marshall and Bishop Fred L. Dennis; for three years, Justin Marshall and Dr. Roy Turley; for four years, Lowell Barnett and Ralph Eaton. The Association president, Gordon France, is member ex-officio. The actions of this meeting will be reported in a later edition of the News.
GREETING FROM YOUR ALUMNI PRESIDENT

I am appreciative of the honor of being made your president for this college year and will do my best to help make it a good year for both the college and the alumni. As good alumni we should do three things before the next issue of the News. First, remember that Homecoming and High School Day will be held on the college campus, October 14. Go and take with you a load of high school seniors and juniors who are good material for Indiana Central. Second, get in your reservations early for the Alumni Luncheon at the Hotel Washington, October 27. Third, pay either your life membership or annual dues.

Gordon France

FROM THE DESK OF PRESIDENT ESCH

The old hall clock in the Ad. Building rang again at eight o'clock on Wednesday morning, September 13, and I.C.C. was off to another year of school. The freshman orientation was the most extensive and the most successful we have yet had. A number of the alumni including the president, Gordon France, came in to help get the new students off to a good start. These young people were much impressed by the fact that former graduates were interested in them. There are just the same number of new students this year as one year ago but the total enrollment is less because of the large graduating class last spring. At this writing the student body totals 403. We are looking forward to a very good year and hope to see you on campus for Homecoming, October 14.

I. Lynd Esch, President
I.C.C.

ANNUAL I.C.C. LUNCHEON

The annual fall luncheon of the I.C.C. Alumni Association will be served again this year in connection with Teachers Association in the Gold Room of the Washington Hotel at 12 o'clock noon Friday, October 27. All alumni and friends are welcome. There will be music, greetings from officials of the association and college, a short "after dinner" speech, and best of all an exchange of greetings from your friends, some of whom you may not have seen for years. And there will be good food without the crowding you will find in the restaurants on that day. The cost is $1.65. It is important that reservations be made. Just take a penny postal card and send your reservation early to Virginia Cravens, Alumni Office, Indiana Central College.

A BARGAIN

Everyone likes a bargain and everyone likes to "pay his way." The best bargain one can find anywhere is a life membership in the I.C.C. Alumni Association at ten dollars. Do you like to read the Alumni News? If so, you want to pay your share of the cost of publication, which you realise is no small matter these days. If you have not paid your life or your annual membership dues, you are letting some others "pay your way." At least a hundred life memberships and many times that number of annual dues of two dollars are needed this year to get and keep the association out of the red. Later this year a report of life memberships by classes will be made in the News. Would you like to take it upon yourself to see that your class is paid up 100%. Send your check either directly to Delmer Huppert, Treasurer, 1545 Windermere Street, Indianapolis 27, or to the alumni office at the college.
