ALUMNA & BUSINESS WOMAN VISITS EUROPE

Mrs. Flossie Marchand Beghtel, life member, class of '11, who says she is the oldest person to have done four full years of work at Central but who is still very young in looks and actions, has just returned from a thirty-day educational and sight-seeing trip to the British Isles and Europe. She went with seventeen other women of the Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce and visited Ireland, England, France, Switzerland, Italy, Germany, and Holland. This is the first time such a group of women has gone on such a mission. They went by TWA airlines and by so doing had more time for studying industrial and business conditions abroad than if they had gone by water. All of these women are very busy here in industry, business, or a profession. While abroad they exchanged experiences with other women of their kind, Mrs. Beghtel, who as most alumni know, owns and operates a dairy east of the campus on Hanna Avenue, says people were much surprised when told that she runs a dairy.

Since returning she has been giving talks about her trip to various interested groups. On November 12 she talked before the Indianapolis branch of the State Assembly Women's Club using as her subject, "Europe, Our Rich Heritage". She says that we may be very proud of what has come to us from our European ancestors. She thinks the English and Europeans have a stable and resolute outlook on life and that they are determined to make a success of their society in spite of the hardships which they have undergone during the last two generations.

Mrs. Beghtel talked before the student body at the convocation period November 17.

MUNCIE AREA ALUMNI CLUB MEETS

The Muncie Area Alumni Club held its regular September meeting at the Fountain Square EUB Church cabin just south of Muncie and off Road 67, on Sunday, September 28. The day was beautiful, the food delicious, and the attendance excellent. Dr. Strickler of the physics department carried greetings from the college and gave a brief talk on campus conditions and affairs. The club finished payment on the pledge made last year toward the purchase of a printing press for the art department. It was asked that another project be presented to them at the December meeting, which will be preceded by a Christmas dinner in the assembly room of the Riggins’ Dairy near Muncie. The date is December 7.
FROM PRESIDENT ESCH . . . .

At the time the last issue of the NEWS was being prepared we were quite pre-occupied with the work of getting the fall semester under way. Now mid-term examinations are over and we are talking schedules and pre-registrations for the second semester, and of course the seniors are talking of and planning for commencement.

In addition to the regular routines of the school year we have also been giving time and attention to the campaign for funds to construct the new building. After a summer recess the campaign organization came together again in September and have been hard at work ever since. We have about eighty active workers on our Action Committee who are making calls day by day on our prospects. They are being favorably received and our report meeting next week should be encouraging. To date we have written and verbal commitments equal to one-fourth of the goal. It is our sincere hope that by spring that amount will be increased by enough to insure the construction of the new building. We appreciate very much the faithfulness and loyalty of the members of the Indianapolis alumni who are working with us on this project. Their interest and work are encouraging to the entire campaign organization. The increased enrollment this fall emphasizes the need for this building and we must continue our campaign until the program is completed. All who are interested in Indiana Central owe a great debt of gratitude to Mr. Plum and all of the members of his campaign organization for the work which they are doing.

A GENEROUS AND APPRECIATED SERVICE

Coached by Jack Rice, the cross country team of I. C. C, has made an enviable record during the last four years, Mr. Rice, who lives on the south side of Indianapolis, is a teacher of physical education at Broad Ripple High School. He came originally from St. Louis and graduated from Butler University, where he was a track man and a member of a relay team which set a yet unbroken record. While he has been coaching at Central, the cross country team has won 24 dual meets, lost five and won three Hoosier Conference championships. Mr. Rice is very unusual in that he does this coaching for the love of it, for he received only nominal re-muneration the first year and during the last three years has coached gratis. Not only do his "boys" love and respect him but the college is greatly appreciative of his generous service. Alumni who have run for him as well as for Central are: Grant Marshall, '50; Ray Alexander and Henry Martinez, '51; and Roy Turley and Russell Albert, '52. Art Bright, Dave Jones, and J. C. White will be graduated next June.

RELIGIOUS EMPHASIS WEEK ON I. C. C. CAMPUS

An inestimable and lasting good has been done both to the students and faculty by the sermons of Dr. J. Bruce Behney, Dean of Bonebrake Seminary, given at the local church each night and during the regular convocation periods of the college in the auditorium. Rarely is it the privilege of students or faculty to have brought before them the claims of the Christian life as Dr. Behney has done.

LIFE MEMBERSHIPS

Gradually, but slowly, the life membership dues are coming in. A letter accompanying one ten dollar check said, "For years I have been planning to do this, but just neglected it." At another time a bill was handed me with the words, "I have been wanting to see you for months." Why do you wait longer? Act now and send that check in. According to promise there follows a list of membership holders, supplementing the list published in the June issue of the NEWS:

'18, Rev. M. P. Kindred; '29, Lucy Carmony Irons; '32, Dorothy Key Gray, Edna M. Dickson; '33, Beatrice Burrell Abell; '34, Dorothy Cooper Goetz; '35, Victor Stech, Dorothy Young Stech, Kathryn Kurtz Lausch; '36, Winona Heath Barnett, Ralph R. ALUMNUS RECEIVES MASTER'S DEGREE

Loren Walls Noblitt, B.S, in Education, '49, received his master of science degree from Butler University in August. He was an honor student at Central and maintained an "A" average through his graduate work. He is a veteran of World War II. After graduation he taught two years in New Mexico and is now in his second year in the school system of Lawrenceville, Ill. He is the son of Rev. and Mrs. Loren S. Noblitt, former members of the faculty of I. C. C.
A CHRISTIAN COLLEGE AT CHRISTMAS

As we approach the Christmas Season,
In a world torn with war and strife,
We ponder the importance of the Prince of Peace,
And the place that He fills in our life.

We are proud of our Alma Mater,
For the pattern of peace that she taught,
For the body of knowledge she gave us,
With which to solve problems using more civilized thought.

For the high ideals of Indiana Central
At this season let us give thanks.
And with the many other alumni,
Become a part of her life membership ranks.

Best Wishes for a Blessed Holiday Season,
Blanche Penrod

ALUMNI LUNCHEON A SUCCESS

The alumni luncheon held on Friday of Teachers Association Convention was well-attended and seemed to be a delightful affair. Several alumni who haven't been seen on previous occasions attended. The alumni president, Blanche Penrod, was engaged with Association business and could not be present. Vice-President Everett Swank presided. The music was furnished by the college string trio, Dr. Horton McCormick, the new college pastor, gave the invocation. Both Coach Nicolson and Coach Dave Shaw gave short talks in their witty and unique way. The chief speaker was President Esch, who after a very short account of the current interests of the college, gave an inspiring and thoughtful discussion of the place of the liberal arts college-related college in American education.

sponsored a massed choir for the meeting in Cadle Tabernacle celebrating the publication of the Revised Version of the Bible. He accompanied the choir at the piano. With him at the organ was Mrs. Bernice Fee Mozingo, a former piano teacher at I.C.C.

'34 Paul Ankeny, who lives near Waterloo and has three boys, is this year on the faculty of Butler High School and teaches arithmetic, health, and Safety.

N37 Harold Gallagher taught six years in the Anderson Township schools. He served in the U.S. Army from 1943 to 1946. Since 1946 he has been teaching in the Anderson Schools. In early October he was appointed as principal of the Longfellow School of that city.

'38 Harlan Tracy Kerlin has recovered from a serious illness of last year and is teaching again in the Hartford City Schools.

Ruth Andis Hahn writes: 'Walter is still in the implement business and I'm working part-time in a real estate office. Our girls are 2 and 6 now. Expect to be sending them to I.C.C. some day.

'39 The Reverend Stephen Gubi, pastor of Trinity Church, Rochester, Indiana, used the subject "Dad and the Lad," for an address before the father and son banquet at the Broadway Church of Logansport, Indiana, on September 17.

X47 William E. Griffin of Anderson, a Delco Remy employee, recently won $1289.58 as an award for suggestion of "ideas that work" and make for more efficiency in the company.

'50 Charles Bassett, on his way to Korea via Seattle stopped for a six-day visit at Indiana Central.

'51 Rollin Tindall is still stationed at Camp Le Jeune, N.C. He and Mary live in Morehead City where they are both busy Sundays as well as weekdays. He writes, "We have been taking a very active interest in the Young Married Couples' Class at the Baptist Church here in Morehead. We both have offices and try to fill them to the best of our ability. Mary and I have had pleasures unthought of, but we want to move because the climate doesn't suit our taste."

'52 Everett Beasley is serving as attendance officer of Davis County.

(Please note) Rollin and Mary stopped at the campus en route from their homes to a new location at Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Virginia.

PERSONALS

'21 The Reverend L. A. Huddleston is serving his twenty-third year with the congregation of the Calvary Church of Indianapolis.

'24 Dr. Ralph O. Hile, director of Fish and Wildlife Service, Department of the Interior, and now stationed at Ann Arbor, Michigan, recently stopped in Indianapolis and called on college and community friends. He now has the north central states as his territory.

'25 Carl Ripperdan is this year teaching in the Greenbrier Military School of Lewisburg, West Virginia.

'33 Victor E. Stech is teaching Health Education in Fort Wayne Central High School. His wife, the former Dorothy Yourn, '35, is employed in a school office of that city. Daughter Pamela is nine years old.

Fred W. Koehrn is teaching in the Arthur Jordan Music School of Butler University and is president of the Indianapolis Choir Association. He

A CHALLENGE?

No, an invitation. Word has come from Mrs. Roy Turley that I.C.C. alumni and former students in New Mexico were to have met in Espanola on Nov. 23 to organize an alumni club in that region. That meeting was too late to get the details for this issue of the NEWS, but more information will be printed in the next issue. That club will soon know the pleasure of such an organization, for it is generally observed by college alumni that occasional meeting with other alumni of the same institution affords an unusual and peculiar pleasure. Don't you want to organize such a group in your locality? The following are only a few of the places where an organization could be easily effected: Indianapolis, with 900 alumni and former students getting mail there; Ft. Wayne with 33; New Albany with 31; Terre Haute with 22; the Calumet Region and Chicago, with 50.

Many communities with a smaller number of alumni and former students getting mail there; Ft. Wayne with 33; New Albany with 31; Terre Haute with 22; the Calumet Region and Chicago, with 50.

(October note) Rollin and Mary stopped at the campus en route from their homes to a new location at Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Virginia.
SECOND & THIRD GENERATION STUDENTS

Business, industrial, and professional firms are proud when the management stays within one family from generation to generation. Indiana Central is in no danger of becoming a "few families" institution, but it is proud that children and even grandchildren come here to study. This year such students make up 25% of the total enrollment.

Myron L. Scotten and Richard E. Curtis are grandsons of former students, Chauncey Scotten, X10, and the late Rev. Burt Chambers, X14, both honors students. There are 39 students whose father or mother, or both, attended Central. They are Betty Bilby, d. of Paul & Margaret Haworth Bilby, Art and Bill Bright, sons of Morton Bright Jane Coake, d. of Orville and Gladys Rice Coake Joanne Dennis, d. of Bishop Fred L. SPORTS

The "C" Association Athletic Banquet was held on November 19, honoring the cross country and football teams. The cross country team finished as champions of the Hoosier College Conference for the third straight year. They also placed third in the Little State Meet and fifth in the Big State. The 1952 football Greyhounds completed their season with a 5 won, 3 lost record which was very commendable. The final game defeat blasted hopes of a tie for second place in the conference, thus placing the team in fourth position. Coach Dave Shaw is to be congratulated on his fine work in this his first year of coaching.

A SCORE OF ALUMNI REMAIN WITH THE COLLEGE
