AN INVITATION

Ground to be Broken
FOR NEW ACADEMIC HALL

All alumni, former students, friends of the College are invited to attend this history-making ceremony

Saturday Afternoon  2:00 o'clock  March 17, 1956

ICC to Receive $104,700
from Ford Foundation

The Ford Foundation will distribute $6,772,000 to eighteen privately supported Indiana colleges and universities as a part of a $500,000,000 salute to United States education and medicine.
This gigantic gift is the largest single appropriation in the history of philanthropy.

The amounts were determined by approximately matching the payrolls for instruction for 1954-55 for each institution.
The income from the grants is to increase faculty salaries.

The college and university grants will become available in two equal installments, the first before July, 1956, and the second before July, 1957.

The educational grants are given with the stipulation that they be used to raise faculty salaries for at least

Last is First

It is a familiar proverb that the last shall be first. So it was with Dayton in the alumni campaign for funds to help in the building of the Academic Hall. Meetings were held in 15 cities last year for the purpose of forming an alumni club and soliciting pledges for the alumni fund. A goal was set for each according to the number of alumni in each city.
Fourteen meetings were held in the fall before winter set in. The meeting at Dayton was held the latter part of March.
Dr. Arthur Core, '37, professor of church history at United Seminary, was chosen as president of the group. He with his helpers went immediately to work and raised 121% of Dayton's quota by Alumni Day, 1955. That city now has 142% of its quota. GOOD WORK!

ten years. After ten years, there will be no restriction on either the principal or income.
Are You Making Plans?

We are now well into the year of 1956, the year for the reunion of nine classes who have been graduated from ICC. Are you a member of one of these classes: 1911, ’16, ’21, ’26, ’31, ’36, ’41, ’46, ’51? This is only a reminder. It is time for you to be making plans. Some classes are already at work. All of you will want to be here on Alumni Day, Saturday, June 9. It promises to be the most interesting day yet. How much of a new building you will see depends on the weather, of course. If nothing more, you will see a big hole, over which our new Academic Hall will rise.

This does not mean that other classes will not be welcome. Every alumnus is urged to come back to the campus as often as possible. A mingling with other alumni on a college campus warms the cockles of the heart as nothing else can do.

Corls Serve Church

Daniel Corl, ’24, has been serving churches in Ohio since receiving a B. D. degree from Bornebrake Seminary in 1929. Since 1946 he has been with the First EUB Church of Fortasia, Ohio. His four children are also active in the church.

Javan, the oldest, with his wife and two children, are being sent to Japan as evangelistic missionaries by the Board of Missions of the EUB Church. His daughter, Naarah, is the wife of an EUB minister, Rev. E. A. Griswold, of Sycamore, Ohio, who has studied at the University of Strasburg, France. The second daughter, Shelomith, is also the wife of a minister, Rev. H. Stanley Eichenauer, pastor at Portage, Ohio. The youngest son, Heth, though studying to be an architect, is active in church work.

Muncie Area Club

The Muncie Area Alumni Club held its annual winter meeting and dinner on January 8 at the Riggins Dairy. Muncie, with the usual good attendance of alumni from Muncie, Anderson, New Castle, Hartford City, Mooresland, and Portland. A girls' quartet from the college furnished music and Coach Brown was the speaker of the day. New officers for the year are: Raymond Swank, Anderson, pres.; Mrs. May Trumbull Barnett, Muncie, v-pres.; and Betty Klugh, Muncie, sec.

ICC Alumni in Anderson Schools

Indiana Central College is well represented in the Anderson city schools. Gordon A. France, ’33, is president of the school board. Everett Ebbertt, ’36, formerly principal of the high school is now superintendent of schools. Clyde L. Williams, ’30, is principal of the Central Avenue Grade School and Harold B. Gallagher, ’37, is principal of the Longfellow School. Among the classroom teachers are Odessa Campbell, N30, kindergaten teacher at the Columbia School; and Meredyth Delph, ’38, teacher of mathematics in the North Anderson School.
Calling All Alumni

I am sure that every alumnus will want to have a part in the building program that is going to mean so much to the future of Indiana Central. Regardless of how large or small your contribution is, don't you think that we should have one hundred per cent participation by Alumni Day this spring?

Some have been slow in sending in their pledge. NOW IS THE TIME. Let's all show our appreciation and express our good faith in our Alma Mater at once.

Blanche Penrod, President

Smith Heads AIEC

Dr. Dwight L. Smith, Assistant Professor of History at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, is the new president of the American Indian Ethnohistoric Conference which held its annual meeting November 4-5 at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Michigan.

Dr. Smith was one of the founders of the organization which is devoted to the promotion of research and the application of techniques and methods to the study of the American Indian from the approach of all concerned disciplines. Until this year's meeting the conference was known as the Ohio Valley Historic Indian Conference but it has now been reorganized into a national body necessitated by its rapid growth and widespread interest.

Because of his work in this field, Dr. Smith also has been elected to the position of Liaison Fellow by the American Anthropological Association. This honor is accorded to scholars in other fields who make significant contributions to the field of anthropology and the study of the American Indian.

Last summer with a grant from the American Philosophical Society he did research on the history of the Old Northwest in American and Canadian libraries. This last school year he was Carnegie Visiting Assistant, Professor of History at Columbia University, New York. Dr. Smith has now resumed his position in the history department at Miami University.

Letters to the Editor

From Auburn, Indiana: We here at the Boger residence are so happy to contribute something toward the future of ICC.

From Hartford City: I feel that it is an honor as well as an obligation to do whatever I can to help at ICC... I well know that whatever I’ll ever be able to put into the program of ICC will never begin to pay for the wonderful benefits and friendships that have enriched my life during and since my student days at the college.

From Rockford, Illinois: Enclosed is our pledge for ICC building fund. We wish it were ten times as much. We have noted with much interest the increasing enrollment and growth of the school.

The Unfinished Task

The new Academic Hall will cost $975,000. Subscriptions reported up to January 18 were $641,582.47. The balance still to be raised is $333,417.53. This should be raised by the time the new Academic Hall is dedicated, September, 1957.

The alumni goal for the three-year period 1953-56 was $150,000. The alumni have subscribed $107,255.32. The College is counting on the alumni to make its goal.

A member of the class of 1928, Paul M. Bilby of Warsaw was elected president of the Gideons of Indiana at their state convention held at Turkey Run State Park in October of 1955. Mr. Bilby is at present a mortician in Warsaw. When a senior at Central he was president of the college YMCA. At the same time his future wife, Margaret Haworth, '28, was president of the YWCA. Two of their daughters, Eloise and Betty, have graduated from Central. Eloise, a member of the class of '52, is now a nurse in the EUB Hospital at Espanola, New Mexico. Betty, '54, is the wife of Raymond Lee, '54, a student in I.U. Medical School, and teaches in the Indianapolis Schools. A third daughter, Janet, is now a student at Central. A fourth child, John, is at home with his parents. Mr. Bilby is a member of the Board of Trustees of Indiana Central and a member of the Board of Directors of the Alumni Association.

For the third year Professor Allan F. Schirmer was invited by Hanover College to sing during the Christmas season in that school's presentation of Handel's "Messiah."

On December 28 Martha Stone, '52, in her fourth year of teaching in the Perry Township Schools, became the bride of William B. Tupper, now employed in Detroit, Michigan. The ceremony was performed in the Portland, Indiana, EUB Church with the bride's brother, the Reverend Philip Stone of First Church, Terre Haute, officiating and his wife, the former Claire Jacobs playing the wedding march. The Reverend Sam and Daisy Welsh Stone were attendants. Besides the bride's parents the guests were a few close friends. As soon as the groom can be relieved of his work in Detroit, the young couple will make their home in Indianapolis. Mr. Tupper expects to enter a theological seminary in the fall.

Eugene "Bud" DeBaun, '49, after having taught one year at the Morristown school and three years at Milroy, is now in his third year with the teaching staff of the Rushville schools as social science and physical education instructor. Two years ago he was placed in charge of Junior High School sports as an after school activity. His friends at Central will remember him as manager of the basketball team. His wife, the former Betty Jean Padgett, '48, teaches at the Raleigh school, Rush County. The DeBauns have three children.

Richard William Anderson was the speaker for the recent services of spiritual emphasis week at Linn Grove Congregational Christian church filling the vacancy caused by the resignation of the regular pastor. Mr. Anderson and his family live in Fort Wayne. He is employed as state parole officer for Adams, Allen and Wells counties. He has been employed in the Indiana State Prison, the Women's Prison, and the Indiana State Reformatory. The Andersons have two children.

Mrs. Ida Tienken Magnuson, '28, is teaching in Arvada, Colorado. She has three children, the oldest of whom, a daughter, was recently married.

Max Cavnes, x-44, completed his work for a doctorate in history at Indiana University last year and is now teaching in Colorado Western State at Gunnison, Colorado.

Ed Waldron, '54, who last year taught music in the Boys' School of Plainfield, and his wife, the former Faith Luhnow, '52, who taught in the elementary schools of Indianapolis, are now in Sewanee, Tennessee, where Ed is studying at the University of the South to become an Episcopal priest. Faith is teaching seventh grade in Sewanee. They have one child, Theresa Faith, born October 11, 1954.
Dr. Mildred Walker, '36, since 1947 head of the art department of El Camino College, Los Angeles, California, has been traveling during the past months through several countries of Europe and the Near East, studying art history on the spot. On her return to California she expects to drive through Indiana and stop at the campus.

Rev. William Young, '29, of Colorado Springs, was elected conference superintendent of the Rocky Mountain Conference this past summer and is in charge of the south district from Colorado to the Mexican border. A former army chaplain with the rank of major and pastor in Wisconsin and New Mexico, he had served an EUB Church at Boulder, Colorado, before his election.

Bruce Hilton, '53, was elected Nov. 11 as Editor of Youth Publications of the Otterbein Press. This action was by the denominational Board of Publications. The appointment is for the remainder of the quadrennium and keeps him in the position which he had temporarily taken after Dr. Paul Koontz's death. Bruce will graduate from the United Seminary in June and with his family will make his home in Dayton.

Chester L. Davis, '47, began work at Miami University on December 1 in audio-visual education. For the past three years he has been studying at Indiana University, where he has been supervisor of the photo laboratory there. All his class work has been done and preliminary examinations passed for the doctor of education degree in audio-visual education.

Abie Carter, '54, is athletic director at Indiana Boys' School at Flannfield, Indiana. He coaches football and track and assists in basketball and baseball. He also teaches science and history. He lives on the campus with his wife, the former Nancy Beaman, and two little sons, Mike 3 and Brad 5 months.

Mrs. Helen Thomas Hecht, '36, who lives at 2309 Winton, Indianapolis, has been for eight years manager of the organ division of the Riddick Piano Co. of Indianapolis. She spends much time in selling and dedicating organs. The former she finds profitable and the latter very interesting. She has now given up playing for churches, which she had been doing for a quarter of a century.

Mrs. Patricia Faubion Mason, x-52, is teaching for the second year in the elementary schools of Houston, Texas.

Willoughby Allison Steckley, '52, widow of Allen Steckley, '48, and mother of Linda Lee, 7, and Dennis Allen, 4, has been teaching English in the Odon Madison High School since her graduation from Central.

Malcolm Black, '48; MFA, '49, Universitaria de Belles Artes, Mexico, is teaching art and directing the band of Jackson, Twp. Schools.

Margaret Ann Borden, x-44, has been for the past 11 years a nurse in the Army and Air Force. At the present time she is a captain at the Elgin AFB in Florida.

Zoe Frances Wilson Bushmeyer, '30, is now assistant librarian at the Post Library, Fort Crowder, Missouri.

John Byers, '37, a star basketball player while in college, is serving his third year as principal of Muesel Junior High School of South Bend, Indiana.

Keith and Mary Elizabeth (Huddleston) Akard, parents of Lambert Earl, adopted March 27, 1953, are living on a farm north of Richmond, from which Keith commutes to Dennis Junior High School, Richmond. Two other ICC alumni teach in the same school—Lowell Rivir and Leone Gatwood.

SPORTS

The century barrier breaking Greyhounds’ offense has recently been declared third in the nation by the NAIA. In reaching this honor the cagers have scored 100 points or better in four games. Their victims were Tri-State 101-78, Manchester 107 - 82, Aurora (Ill.) 101-78, and Alma (Mich.) 105-80. By defeating Alma, the Greyhounds gained the right to advance to the finals of the Naperville Tourney against Coe College. The Hounds squeezed out an 88-84 victory to win the tourney for the second straight year.

Central has a 14-2 overall record, both defeats coming in Conference play at the hands of Taylor and Anderson. They have now evened the count with Taylor.

Central’s balanced scoring has proved to be very effective so far this year. Bailey Robertson, the team’s leading scorer, is cutting the nets at a 22.6 point per game average, getting able support from Dick Nyers with 15.5 point per game average, Bob Jewell 13.0, Bob Theil 12.8, Don Thomas 9.0, and Bill Hampton 8.5.

The bench strength of any team is a very important asset, and the Greyhounds have proved that this year. Without the ability of Dave Bertram to replace Bob Jewell and take up the rebounding slack when Bob gets in trouble via the foul route or in cases when more rebounding work is needed, Central might have lost a couple of those 14.

The conference race is the closest it has been in a number of years. There are four teams still contending for the title.

ARE YOU MAKING YOUR PLANS TO COME TO THE CAMPUS ON ALUMNI DAY, SATURDAY, JUNE 9?

In Memoriam

Enid Helen Carson, ’22, of Terra Haute, was killed when her own automobile skidded and overturned on U.S. 41 20 miles south of Hammond.

Mrs. Mildred Lowe Newcomb, N29, of Royal Center, Indiana, died August 11, 1955. She was the wife of William Newcomb, and had a son, William, Jr., 15, in Culver Military Academy.

Mrs. Grace Shaker Dickerson, ’27, died in the Reedsburg Hospital, Wisconsin, November 16, 1955. After graduating from Indiana Central she taught at Richland Center Public Schools and Viroqua Normal School for many years. Her husband died in July, 1955. She leaves no children.
