IN WHICH GROUP ARE YOU?

In order to secure the conditional gift from the Lilly Foundation, it is necessary that $95,000 yet be raised among the friends of Indiana Central. This must be done before December 27. We alumni can help very materially toward this by completing our goal of $150,000, which four years ago we assured the president of the college we would contribute. We still lack $11,667 of reaching that goal.

We who have made pledges toward the Academic Hall include 930 who have earned bachelor's degrees, 35 who graduated from the two-year Normal course, and 60 who did not graduate. However, there are many of our alumni who have not yet responded to the appeal of our alma mater. Now is the time for us to make that response. If each of us will contribute, according to our ability, we will reach our goal. This will help in claiming the Lilly gift.

Let's look over our accounts. Perhaps a gift of a few dollars to Indiana Central will reduce our federal tax by that much. Why not give some dollars to our alma mater rather than to the government.

At the end of this year, will our names be listed among those who have helped our college or among those who have not?

WHO IS AN ALUMNUS?

Perhaps it is again time to answer the above question. YOU ARE AN ALUMNUS if you have attended Indiana Central and receive either the REFLECTOR or ALUMNI NEWS. Here is a copy of Article III of the constitution of the ICC Alumni Association:

Section I. The membership of the Association shall consist of the following:
   a. Those who have received a degree from Indiana Central College and those who have completed the two-year Normal course.
   b. Those who have completed one or more semesters at Indiana Central College, their membership to be effective on the day of graduation of the four-year class with which they started.
We Appreciate

The Alumni Association and ALUMNI NEWS appreciate those who have responded to our "Will You Help?" by sending in life membership fees or one dollar for a year's subscription to the NEWS. Such a response from others will be likewise appreciated.

Begin To Plan Now

TIME PASSES. How many times we have heard that statement! But do we heed it? Before long Alumni Day, June 7, 1958, will be upon us. That will be a day of reunions for the classes of 1913, '18, '23, '28, '33, '38, '43, '48, and '53. The members of these classes will do well to make plans now for coming back to the campus on that day to visit with friends, many of whom have not been seen for five years.

Building Continues

The outside work on the Academic Hall is almost finished, and within two or three weeks the building will be completely enclosed, roof and all. This building, when finished, will be beautiful both as to exterior and interior and will be a thing of pleasure and pride to all the alumni who have been so generous in helping finance it. It is hoped that it can be dedicated free of debt.

Bids are now being received on the proposed physical education building. Last spring, ground was broken for it, south and east of Wilmore Hall.

These two buildings will add greatly to the attractiveness of the campus as well as to the efficiency of the academic program.

Shipley Goes To Mexico

Wayne Shipley has been appointed to the Episcopal Church's Missionary District of Mexico. He has been assigned as chaplain to the many American and British residents there. The Rev. Shipley received his theological training at General Theological Seminary, New York City. After his graduation there he was curate of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Evansville, Indiana, until his appointment to Mexico.

ICC Luncheon At Sheraton-Lincoln

The usual ICC alumni luncheon in connection with Indiana State Teachers Association Convention was held again at the Sheraton-Lincoln Hotel on Friday, October 25. The program was especially delightful. It was given by Prof. Victor Danek, violin; Helen Kellogg, violin; Lillie Danek, piano; and Helen Wooden, contralto.

The string ensemble played four numbers. Helen (Whaley) Wooden, '47, always charming, gracious, and generous, sang three very appropriate numbers, accompanied by Mrs. Danek.

Professor Danek is head of the music department at Central and directs the Indianapolis Civic Orchestra. Mrs. Danek teaches music in the Indianapolis schools. Both are members of the Cultural Committee of the recently organized Greater South Side, Inc. Mrs. Kellogg, who has played in the Chicago University Orchestra and taught violin at Christian College, Columbia, Mo., is concertmaster of the Indianapolis Civic Orchestra and plays in the Indianapolis Philharmonic Orchestra. This past summer she attended, among approximately 100, the American Symphony Orchestra League, 1957 Workshop for Conductors, Musicians, and Composers, held at Asilomar, Pacific Grove, California. She is the wife of Professor Allen Kellogg of the English Department.
Alumni Come Home

An overflow crowd of nearly 2,000 visitors watched the highlight football game and crowning of the queen as Indiana Central celebrated its annual Homecoming Day October 19, a day now called Greyhound Day.

Registration of returning alumni kicked off the day with a coffee call preceding a meeting in Kephart Auditorium. Judge Harold Achor of Anderson was the principal speaker. "Liberty Under the Law" was the subject of his address to the group. Athletic Director Angus Nicoson also delivered a short speech to the meeting, and Professor Allan Schirmer entertained with a vocal solo.

The Greyhound Luncheon featured Arthur Williams, assistant to the president, as the toastmaster, and President Esch delivered the keynote address.

At the Homecoming football game with Anderson, the size of the crowd increased greatly with many standing and even more, unable to get seats in the bleachers, remaining in their cars surrounding the field.

The game went to the Ravens 13-7. Miss Marilyn Merritt, Gibson City, Ill., junior, was crowned the homecoming queen at halftime by Don Hollis, representing the "C" Association. Miss Merritt was selected by the student body from a list of five candidates submitted by the lettermen's club.

The game was played on the campus, on the new athletic field, and many alumni enjoyed their first "home" game in 25 years. All present were impressed by the progress being made on the campus, and many inspected the new buildings and looked over the plans being made for future improvements.

Alumni Club Meetings

The latest meeting of an ICC alumni club was that of Dayton, Ohio, which met on Sunday afternoon, October 6, at the beautiful suburban home of Dr. L. L. Huffman, President of the Board of Trustees of Indiana Central. About 30 alumni met in the living room for a business meeting and short program before going to the lawn for an early supper. The coolness of the evening made very welcome hot barbecue sandwiches and hot roasting ears, served by Dr. Huffman, and plenty of hot coffee and tea, served by Mrs. Huffman and Mary, the daughter who is a sophomore in Indiana Central. Those attending from the college and alumni association were Dean Rasenburg, new Director of Public Relations; Virginia Cravens, executive secretary; Justin Marshall, president of the board of directors of the alumni association, and Mrs. Marshall.

The Muncie Area Alumni Club held its usual summer meeting at Shady Rest Park in Anderson and will again hold its winter meeting near Christmas time in the social room of the Riggins Dairy near Muncie.

Two Pastors Honored

The Rev. Wilma Allen, pastor of the Honey Creek Evangelical United Brethren Church, was honored Sunday evening, September 7, at a reception held in the church to celebrate her returning as church pastor for the 10th year. Mrs. Allen was graduated from Indiana Central with the class of 1945.

Mistress of ceremonies for a program patterned after "This Is Your Life" idea was the Rev. Sylvia Henby, '34, who is a former member of the Honey Creek Church.

Mrs. Allen is the wife of Birtle Allen, head of the maintenance department of Indiana Central. They have two children, Carl and Cathy.

On October 13 the Pleasant View Baptist Church observed the 25th anniversary of the pastorate of the Reverend Archer C. Shirley at its annual homecoming. The church is located 12 miles southeast of Indianapolis on Ind. 421. The Rev. Mr. Shirley was graduated from Indiana Central with the class of 1932.

Local Hospital Gets Rare Equipment

A rare piece of expensive equipment employing the principal of nuclear energy in the treatment of cancer was unveiled on November 7 at St. Francis Hospital in Beech Grove.

The equipment will make St. Francis Hospital foremost in the state in cancer treatment. Similar equipment is in use in Philadelphia and at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn.

Though the hospital trustees authorized the project some months ago, the details of the equipment were closely guarded until the unveiling after a dinner addressed by Maj. Gen. James P. Cooney, deputy surgeon general of the army.

Before the equipment could be installed, the construction of a special room with walls two feet thick and heavily insulated was necessary. The room itself cost about $75,000 and the equipment a similar amount.

St. Francis Hospital serves many of the faculty and students of Indiana Central as well as citizens of the surrounding community. President Eash of the College is one of the trustees of the hospital.

A Letter From The Canal Zone

Dr. Dave Hilton, '53, with his family, is living in the Canal Zone, where he is interning in preparation for becoming a medical missionary in equatorial Africa. His wife, the former Laveta Smith, '52, writes:

We are finding our stay in Panama a very interesting and enjoyable one.

Our apartment is nice and roomy with two bedrooms, bath, living and dining room, and kitchen. We have our own furniture here so have been able to make it very homelike.

We live about three blocks from the hospital. Dave has completed his first three months in Medicine and is now on Surgery.

We have been attending the Curundu Protestant Church which is interdenominational. We find much spiritual strength there and many opportunities to serve.

Since the missions in the interior of Panama have no doctors, Dave and some of the other Christian doctors go frequently on Saturday to see the sick. Here one sees some of the most primitive conditions and much poverty. Many live in mud huts with thatched roofs although there are some frame houses too. These experiences are very enlightening as well as practical for our future.

Our plans for next year are indefinite, depending on the mission board.

Ransburg, '54, Added To Staff

Dean M. Ransburg of Fort Wayne, Indiana, has been added to the staff of Indiana Central as Director of Public Relations. He will also assist Don E. Fleenor in student enlistment. Dean graduated from North Side High School of Fort Wayne in 1950 and from Indiana Central College in 1954. While in the U. S. Army he saw two years' service with the ASA, both in the United States and on Okinawa. He spent one year in commercial radio, Station KSBK, on the island. He was discharged from active service in 1956.

Voice Recital

A most delightful and unusual recital was given in Kephart Auditorium Monday night, November 4. Hollace A. Arment, tenor, sang a wide range of songs beginning with an old Latin introit, which he sang unaccompanied, and progressing through 13th century troubadour songs and 13th century church songs, 15th century English carols, 16th and 17th century sacred and secular songs, 16th century lute songs, to an anthology of humor from the days of James I to the present day. This group included numbers from Purcell, Bach, Haydn, and Gilbert and Sullivan. As an encore he sang a very modern American humorous number.

Mr. Arment's accompanists were Lillie Danek, piano; Victor Danek, violin I; Helen Kellogg, Violin II; Sam Siurua, viola; and Ray Brandes, 'cello.

What The Sports Writers Say

This is from the INDIANAPOLIS STAR of July 10: "A fabulous era in Indianapolis high school athletics ended yesterday when Ray Crowe, the most successful basketball coach in city history, was moved up to Athletic Director at Crispus Attucks.

"Crowe, who won a fantastic 90 percent of his games in seven years and gave this city its only two state high school basketball championships, will be succeeded by Bill Garrett, former Indiana University All-American . . .

"The change arrived as a shock to many, even though Crowe had been talking of retirement for several months. Only 42, the soft-spoken former Indiana Central Star was expected to have another hot state title contender . . . .

Crowe said, 'It was a hard decision. But the job was open and I had to make up my mind. I didn't feel I could pass up an advancement . . . . I will miss coaching and the excitement of competition. But I have some wonderful memories.'

"He should,

"That seven year run that began in the 1950-51 season may never be equalled."

The following is an excerpt from the INDIANAPOLIS TIMES of September 16: "Joe Boland, who does the commentary for the Chicago Cardinals professional football games on TV, is one man who's sold on Dick Nyers, former Indiana Central College star, now with the Baltimore Colts. Although Dick wasn't as spectacular yesterday as was a week ago, Boland was highly complimentary of the young player's ability.

For four years Nyers was a star player for Central's football and basketball teams.
