NOTICEABLE PROGRESS IS BEING MADE ON THE ACADEMIC HALL. Standing before it is Nancy Tiano of New Mexico, showing three freshmen about the campus. They are three presidents of their high school classes: Harry Hill of Warren Township H.S., Tom McCormick of Manual, and Carol Furichia of Washington.

ANOTHER INCREASED ENROLLMENT

The largest student body in the history of Indiana Central registered Tuesday, September 10. On September 19 the students for day classes numbered 659. In addition to these day students, 56 were registered for evening classes. Indiana Central is now entering on its fourth year of evening classes. In addition to a two-year business course, the evening division offers classes in English Composition, World Literature, Old Testament, Social Message of the Prophets, History of Western Civilization, Crafts, and Principles of Economics.

Dates to Mark

Three important days will have come and gone before you can be notified in another issue of the NEWS. They are High School Day, October 5; Greyhound Day, October 19; and Friday of Teachers Association, October 25, when Central Alumni will lunch together at the Sheraton-Lincoln Hotel.
From President ESCH

As this is being written, a new school year has gotten under way, and the inadequacy of the present plant is most apparent as more than 650 students try to crowd into class rooms, chapel and the campus cupboard. On two days each week we have taken the chapel services to the church across the street, with chairs in the aisles and by using the lounge we can get everyone in. Needless to say, these are the most welcome headaches that college administrators get.

Progress is being made on the development program in spite of many problems. There is enough brick and stone in place on the Academic Hall to give some idea of its vast size and its beauty. It will be a building of which all can be very proud. The specifications for steel bids on the Physical Education Building have gone out today and the remainder of the working drawings are to be ready within the next ten days. If prices are within our reach we should have no difficulty in getting it completed in time for school to open next fall.

These buildings will make a very great difference on the campus. We will be able to care for an additional hundred students next fall. We are working very diligently at the job of securing the funds for the completion of the work. Because of the increases in costs, this job which we expected to have completed by the end of this year, will take considerable additional time and effort. The loyal support of our alumni is very much appreciated and we are making contacts among members of the Churches of the area and also renewing our askings from Indianapolis businesses and friends.

You will be pleased with the progress which you will see when you come to campus on Homecoming Day, October 19. Be sure to make a special effort to get here, it will be well worth-while.

Every Little Helps

"Little drops of water, little drizzles of sand, make the mighty ocean and the pleasant land."

Little pieces of silver make the dollars, and a few dollars added to a few dollars often enough make the thousands of dollars that are needed to complete the alumni goal toward the Academic Hall. Surely you have intended to make a pledge toward this goal, but you may not have done it for one of two reasons. Either you have simply neglected to do it or you have felt that you could not afford it. For the first reason there is the simple remedy of laying it on your conscience so heavily that you will make your pledge before you can sleep.

For the second reason there are three solutions. The first is to put the pledge into your budget and plan to pay a portion of it each year for two or three years. The second is to use a part of your tithe. (Some alumni are making a second pledge on this basis.) The third solution is to ask a gift from some of your Christian friends who are not alumni. There are those who will be glad to give before the end of the year, when they must reckon their income tax. And income tax concerns all of you. Perhaps a gift of a hundred dollars, more or less, will save you a good part of that on your tax.

If enough of these little pledges are sent in, the alumni will reach their goal. That in turn would help in raising the amount needed to claim Lilly's conditional gift.

Four Alumni Retired

Four Central alumni retired from the active ministry at the time of the annual conference. They are the Rev. A. D. Smith, '15, who had been serving a Terre Haute church; the Rev. L. A. Huddleston, who had served the Calvary S.U.B. Church in Indianapolis for 20 years; the Rev. Forest A. Reed, who had been serving the Noblesville church; and the Rev. C. G. McCracklin, who had also been serving a Terre Haute church. Rev. Huddleston has taken residence in University Heights.
President Confers Degrees

President I. Lynd Esch conferred degrees on 68 exultant seniors at the fifty-second commencement of Indiana Central College on June 9, 1957. As in recent previous years, exercises were held on the west campus, with the west porch serving for platform for speaker, faculty, and orchestra. The address was given by Dr. O. P. Kretzmann, president of Valparaiso University. Besides the 68 bachelor's degrees, four honorary degrees were conferred.

The Rev. Floyd Cook, '37, superintendent of the New Albany District of the Methodist Church, was awarded the Doctor of Divinity degree. He had in the forenoon delivered the baccalaureate address.

The Rev. Walter Bartlett, '28, pastor of the First Evangelical United Brethren Church of Springfield, Ill., also was awarded a Doctor of Divinity degree.

Chaplain Silas Decker, x-35, a colonel and 2nd Army chaplain at Ft. Meade, Md., received a Doctor of Divinity degree.

Bart R. Brummer of New Augusta, President of the American City Bureau in Chicago and member of the Indiana Central College Board of Trustees, received a Doctor of Laws degree.

They Came a Long Way

Last Alumni Day, June 8, did not bring the usual number of people back to the campus, probably because of showers and lowering skies. Yet it did seem to be notable for the alumni who came long distances. Dr. Glenn Ramsey, '32, came from Texas; Dr. Roy Turley, '20, and Mrs. Stella Smith Baermann, '37, from New Mexico; and Lt. Col. Dyson Cox, '37, who is a career man in the U. S. Air Force, came from and returned to California by jet.

Perkins Highest

Charles Perkins, '54, was graduated on May 27 with highest honors from the United Seminary at Dayton, Ohio. Mr. Perkins' mother is the former Genevieve Nashburn, '29, who lives at Marshall, Illinois. His wife is the former Ann Price, x-56.

BE IT PRINCETON or INDIANA CENTRAL

"No independent school, no independent college or university today can even hope for an independent future unless those who have benefited most directly from its existence--its alumni--are aware that this existence is in jeopardy and that theirs is the first responsibility. There can be little incentive for others to help if the beneficiaries themselves are not actively interested.

"Annual Giving is a means of giving unmistakable evidence to the University itself and to a watching world that the men who were offered in this place not just instruction but the elements of wisdom are determined that Princeton shall endure. Without Annual Giving, the University already would be in grave danger."

--Harold W. Dodds, President, Princeton University.

Faculty Facts

During his two weeks of training at Fort Leonard Wood this past summer Dr. Robert Brockner, Professor of Chemistry, was promoted to Major. He served as Commander of the 451st Quartermaster Depot Provisional Basic Training Company.

Marvin L. Henricke, Assistant Professor of Sociology and History, who spent last year in graduate study at Indiana University, has returned to his teaching duties this year.

Charles H. Hildreth, B.A., Maryville College; M.A., Northwestern University; Ph.D., University of Florida, '54, has been added to the faculty of the department of history.

Florabelle Williams, '49, is the new assistant librarian.

Master's Recital

On Saturday evening, August 3, in Recital Hall of the Indiana University campus, Groff Bittner, '43, played brilliantly a piano recital of selections from Bach, Beethoven, Chopin, and Liszt. This recital was in partial fulfillment of requirements for the Master of Music Degree in Piano.
WILL YOU HELP?

For many years the majority of alumni and former students have been receiving the ALUMNI NEWS gratis. The cost of your alumni publication and the salary of your executive secretary are paid solely from alumni dues. The bank account of the Alumni Association is about to be exhausted. If you are not a life member, would you like to become one by paying a mere $10 and be assured of receiving the alumni publication for the rest of your life? Or would you like to send one dollar for a year's subscription to the ALUMNI NEWS? Or do you wish your subscription to be canceled? Let us hear from you.

WANTED

The college library lacks the 1918, 1919, 1921, and 1922 issues of The Oracle. If any one has one of these copies which he would be willing to give to the library for permanent reference, it will be a welcome and useful addition to the library.

25 Years of Service

At the President's breakfast for faculty and staff Mrs. Lois Taylor Fouts was cited for 25 years of service on the I.C. faculty and presented with a gift from the administration. The citation was read and the gift presented by Dr. Robert Cramer, dean of the faculty.

East Gets Assistantship

James R. East, '53, who studied debate and speech last year in the graduate school of Stanford University, is this year studying there again on a scholarship and holds a teaching assistantship in public speaking and rhetoric looking toward a Ph.D. degree. Under the assistantship program he will serve as assistant debate coach and teach two beginning speech classes.

Before going to Stanford in the fall of 1956, Mr. East taught one year in Washington High School of Indianapolis and spent two years in the U.S. Army.

Efficient Official Retires

Lowell "Odie" Barnett, '39, after 20 years as referee of high school basketball, has given up that work. During those years he has handled illustrious sectional, state, regional, and state meets, and two state finals. Since leaving Indiana Central, Odie has taught physical education in the schools of Muncie, where he lives with his wife, the former May Trumbull, and their three sons. A Muncie newspaper writes of him:

"Odie's success as an official stemmed from the fact that he knew the game, was utterly fearless, completely honest, and above all, since in his determination to see that the rules were enforced in such a manner as to make the game better....Players and coaches rarely disputed his decisions, even in the hottest battle, and it is significant that when it became his duty to call an all-important fifth on Oscar Robertson in a tight game against Gersthemeyer in the state finals there was no complaining either from Ray Crawford or Oscar himself."

All those who have known Odie like him.

IN MEMORIAM

Wayne L. Abernathy, x-40, died April 1st, at his home in Covington, Indiana, following an illness of four months. Death was attributed to brain tumor. Mr. Abernathy served three years in the Air Force during World War II and had been in ill health since his discharge.

Lieutenant Charles R. Youngblood, '42, was killed in an auto accident July 31 near the Air Force Base at Columbia, South Carolina, where he was stationed. Funeral services were charge of Rev. Crval Moore, '39, the Moore and Kirk Funeral Home, Indianapolis. Burial was in Washington Park Cemetery, Indianapolis. He was the younger brother of Horse Youngblood, '47, and the Reverend Russell Youngblood, '37. His wife is the former Betty Moore, 49, of Indianapolis.

REMEMBER GREYHOUND DAY OCTOBER 15
Future Centralites

Philip James, b. June 5, son of .Bruce and Virginia (Young) Hilton, '53 and '54.
Bettina Lynn Stevens, b. July 7 to Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Stevens, '53.
Nina Rachel, b. to Rev. and Mrs. Richard Kistler of Bippus, Indiana, on July 12.
Vicki Lynne, b. August 4, to Wayne H. and Mary Jordan Smith, '51 and '50.

Faculty Institute Features Alumni

The annual faculty institute, which opened on Wednesday, September 19, with a luncheon in the Nelson House, the home of the college president, and closed with a picnic supper on the east campus, enlisted alumni as the guest speakers. The daytime sessions were held in the social room of the Nelson House. The Wednesday evening dinner meeting was held in the college dining room.

Blanche Penrod, '26, Dean of Girls of Southport High School and President of the I.C.C Alumni Association, spoke Wednesday afternoon on "Adjustments from High School to the Liberal Arts College." Dr. Donald Carmony, '29, Associate Dean, Department of Adult Education, Indiana University, spoke at the dinner meeting on "The Contribution of the Liberal Arts College to Scholarship." The climax of the institute was the closing speech on Thursday by Dr. Arthur Core, '37, Professor of Church History, United Theological Seminary, on "Great Teachers I Have Known."

Bruce Hilton Has Added Responsibility

Rev. Bruce Hilton, '53, Editor of Friends, is now the chairman of the Story Paper Editors' Subsection of the National Council of Churches. The subsection, which includes editors of 39 Sunday-school papers from 27 different denominations, held its annual meeting May 7 to 10 in Washington, D. C.

Personals

Mrs. Mildred Myers Reynolds, '52, is teaching in the public schools of Washington, D.C., for the second year. Before going to Washington she earned a master's degree from Butler University and taught three years in Indianapolis.

Garold H. Muncie, '50, is now a civilian employee with the Department of the Air Force. After passing the Federal Service Entrance Examination, he was selected to fill a key position in the Central Civilian Personnel Office in the Indianapolis Air Procurement District. In this capacity, he is responsible for selection of all candidates who enter on duty with the Indianapolis Air Procurement District. He was sent for a 3-weeks' training course in the Civilian Personnel School of Administration at Maxwell Air Force Base, Alabama.

Mrs. Margaret Bonebrake Nelson, '10, with her husband, is living at Old's Hall, Box 791, Daytona Beach, Florida. Old's Hall is a home for retired ministers and missionaries and is a benefaction of Mr. and Mrs. Old of the Oldsmobile family.

In a letter with a generous check for Academic Hall Eugene Westley, '51, tells of the joy he and Mrs. Westley have in working in the Sudan United Mission of Lambaviri, North Nigeria, British West Africa. He says he and his family look forward to visiting Central next year during their furlough. Terry is four years old and Kathleen one year old.

Burdellis L. Carter, '54, graduated from the Methodist Hospital School of Nursing, Indianapolis, on June 7, having been one of the high honor students there.

William E. Rider, '47, after ten years of successful basketball coaching, (wins 87 - losses 67), the last four years at Glenbard High School, Glen Ellyn, Illinois, has been made dean of students at Glenbard for this year. He is being relieved of his coaching duties and will give part time to teaching and part time to administrative work.

Agnes Ann Jordan, '55, is teaching this year in the elementary schools of St. Clair Shores, Michigan.
Paul H. Kline, '31, a biology teacher at Howe High School in Indianapolis, has been appointed a coordinator for school science, a newly-created position at Indiana University. He will serve as a liaison man between the University's science departments and high school science teachers and students.

Mr. Kline is a past president of the biology section of the Indiana State Teachers Association. He received a national Outstanding Science Teacher Award in 1952 when he was a consultant at the United States Office of Education Conference for developing more scientists and technicians.

Wayne H. Smith, '51, is teaching music in the Grosse Point, Michigan, public schools and directing youth activities at the Grosse Point Congregational Church.

Raymond Kennedy, '49, former principal of West Baden High School, is now assistant principal of Martinsville High School. Raymond is a veteran of World War II and the Korean War. After leaving Central he was teacher and coach at Petru and then at Tell City. He has earned a master's degree at Indiana University. He is married and is the father of three children.

Ed Waldrum, '50, expects to receive a degree next June from St. Luke's Seminary at Sewanee, Tennessee. He expects also to be ordained in Christ Cathedral on the Circle, Indianapolis. In addition to his studies he is teaching church music in the Seminary and physical education in St. Mary's School for Girls near Sewanee. His second child, Mary Elizabeth, was born June 21, 1957.

Five members of the Indiana Central class of 1954 received the degree of Bachelor of Divinity from United Seminary in June. They are James Allen, Alton Hawkins, Charles Lane, Charles Perkins, and Sam Stone.

Mrs. Gertrude McConnell Van Sickle, '31, after four years of teaching in the Community Consolidated Schools of Flora, Illinois, resigned that position to teach this year in the Granite City Schools of Granite, Illinois.

Griesemer Promoted

The February "D2CO TRIGFOL," official publication of the Denver Equipment Company, gives an account of the promotion of Francis Griesemer, '41. He has been made responsible for the Manufacturing, Sales and Advertising Divisions of that company. After leaving Central, Francis received an M. S. in Business from Butler University. He also studied in the graduate schools of Harvard University, Indiana University, and Colorado University. During World War II he served in the U. S. Navy.

Diane Liechty and Roger Rouch were married in the University Heights EUB Church by the Reverend Roy Davis on the afternoon of June 9. Both were graduated from Indiana Central in the evening of the same day.

Elizabeth Ann Liechty and Gerald Ruan, both of '56, were married at the University Heights Church on June 23 by the pastor, Rev. Robert Koenig. Both Diane and Elizabeth Ann are daughters of Clarence Liechty, '26.

Janet Silby, x-57, and Robert Chastain, '56, were married June 23 in the EUB Church of Warsaw.

Ruth Emmert, '56, and Theodore S. Hermann, '56, were married on Easter Sunday, April 21, in the Georgetown EUB Church in a ceremony performed by the father of the bride, the Reverend A. F. Emmert, '28, assisted by the Reverend Herman Emmert, '53, her brother. At the time of the wedding Ted was with the Sixth Army Medical Laboratory, Fort Lewis, Washington. The couple are now at Fort Richardson, Anchorage, Alaska.

Phyllis Huber, '52, was married on June 15 to Wilborn Kendall of Greencastle. Phyllis finished her Master of Science in Education degree in the summer of '55. Since leaving Indiana Central she has taught first grade in Danville one year and in Speedway for four years. She is now teaching in the Greencastle schools.

Tilo Wolff, x-38, who finished her work for a bachelor's degree in home economics at Purdue, was married May 12, 1955, to Hugh Matchett, a lawyer of Chicago.

Evelyn June Munk, '51, became the bride of Wendell Sims Miller on June 29 in a ceremony performed in Fort Wayne. The couple will live at 4603 Millrich, Cincinnati.

One wedding of Centralites followed close upon another on Saturday, August 3. At 3:30 in the afternoon Margaret Louise Dragoo, '50, became the bride of Charles Bailey of Lafayette in a ceremony performed in the University Heights EUB Church by Dr. I. Lynd Batch and the Reverend Robert Koenig, pastor of the local church. Vernon Smiley, '49, furnished the wedding music. Mrs. Helen Downs Kays, '49, was matron of honor. Helen Moon and Joyce Everett Owen, both of the class of '50, were bridesmaids. Jack Owen, x-53, was an usher. Among the guests were several members of the class of 1950.

Immediately following this wedding, President Esch went by plane to Colusa, Illinois, to perform the wedding ceremony for Neysa Vass, x-57, and Fred Wilt, '53. Mrs. Carlotta Martinez Thompson, '56, and Mrs. Lois Morgan Thompson, x-56, were bridesmaids. L'Dea Delton Budny and Byrne Do Haro, fellow students, were attendants of the groom. Ward Vass, '52, brother of the bride, sang. Two little nieces and two little nephews of the bride were flower girls and ring bearers.

Student Achievements

James Wilbur, a junior at ICC, was chosen from among 73 men as the outstanding trainee at Fort Leonard Wood this past summer while training with the 551st Quartermaster Depot Provisional Basic Training Company.

Lawrence S. Bunting, a junior at ICC, received the Third Prize for his Experimental Exhibit at the Colloquium of College Physicists held in June at the State University of Iowa.

Sixty-one colleges and universities from the United States and Canada were represented.

Mr. Bunting made a apparatus to demonstrate the Right-Hand Grasp Rule: Application to the wire and coil and the interaction of the magnetic fields.

Dr. Konstantin D. Kolitsch, Chairman of the Physics and Mathematics Department of Indiana Central, supervised the construction of the apparatus and attended the meeting in Ames, Iowa, with Mr. Bunting.
