Homecoming 1961

It was an ideal day, September 30! The kind that college students dream about and hope for. The day dawned bright and clear, cool and crisp, with not a cloud in the sky.

The dormitory decorations had been completed late the night before. After a few hours' sleep, the students were busy putting the finishing touches to the floats, for each class and organization on the campus.

At ten o'clock the alumni began to come to register and, in between scheduled events, to visit with friends or inspect the new buildings. The students had been served brunch and had cleared the dining room by 11:00 to make room for alumni.

The parade of student floats, plus the alumni float, started for downtown promptly at 12:00, returning in time for the kick-off of the football game between ICC and Indiana State at 2:00 o'clock. The sun shone warm from a clear sky on a crowd that overflowed the bleachers, but a brisk cool breeze kept the spectators comfortable.

The crowd was entertained between halves by the marching band, the crimson steppers, the crownings of Carole Blackwell, a high stepper (coeds dressed in white blouses, red ballet skirts and white boots, and waving red and white shakers) and rejoicing students, the students got a few hours of relaxation before the day ended with a delightful and well attended entertainment in Academic Hall, beginning at 9:00 o'clock.

Normal '31

For Alumni Day, Mrs. Nedra Moudy Krider of Churubusco, Normal '31, did an unusual and much appreciated thing of "rounding up" the members of her class for a reunion.

Maurice F. Shadley

Shadley Director for Professional Fraternity

Maurice F. Shadley, who served as coordinator of music services at Indiana University from 1950 until June of this year, has been named director of special services for Phi Delta Kappa, international professional education fraternity, an organization of 88,000 members, with headquarters in Bloomington, Indiana.

"Shad" was a Rector Scholar at DePauw and also attended Arthur Jordan Conservatory in Indianapolis. He received the bachelor of music degree, cum laude, in 1932 and the A.B. degree in 1933 from Indiana Central College. He did his graduate work at Indiana University, receiving his master of music degree in 1947 and the doctor of education degree in 1951.

He has traveled 30,000 to 40,000 miles a year for I.U.—almost entirely by automobile. He will be traveling extensively for Phi Delta Kappa also, but via the air route, certainly a time saver.

While with Indiana University, he served as guest conductor for music festivals throughout Indiana and adjoining states. Many ICC alumni will remember him as the very inspiring conductor of the first alumni chorus, which sang on Alumni Day, 1958.

Three Central Grads Win Fellowships

Three 1961 graduates of Indiana Central College have been awarded valuable fellowships for graduate study. They are Ingrid H. Henkels, 555 South Keystone Avenue, Indianapolis; Richard V. Carlson, 629 Marleston Road, Logansport; and Gerald E. Sipes, R. R. 2, Centerpoint, Indiana.

Miss Henkels received a National Defense Graduate Fellowship for three years of study at George Washington University, Washington, D. C., in Germanic languages and literature, leading to a doctor of philosophy degree. The grant is for $2,000 the first year and increases $200 each year, making the total amount $6,600.

Miss Henkels was born in Latvia and came to the United States with her family. She majored in German and minored in French and English at Indiana Central, and plans to become a college teacher. She attended Arsenal Technical High School at Indianapolis.

Carlson received a scholarship at the University of Michigan Graduate School to study nuclear chemistry. It will provide $2,200 a year, plus tuition and fees, until he completes his work on a Ph.D. Carlson also received a National Science Foundation grant which enabled him to study this summer at Roswell Park Memorial Institute, Buffalo, New York. He will enter Michigan this fall.

He expects to become a research chemist. He attended Warsaw High School and is the son of Dr. and Mrs. V. A. Carlson. His father is superintendent of the Logansport district of the Evangelical United Brethren Church.

Sipes will go to the University of Illinois on a $2,000-a-year graduate fellowship also providing fees and tuition. He will study analytical chemistry.

Sipes is the son of the Reverend and Mrs. G. Stanley Sipes. His father is pastor of the Saline City EUB Church in Clay County. Young Sipes attended Odon-Madison High School in Daviess County.
Activities Resumed at ICC

Activities for the school year 1961-62 were resumed at Indiana Central with the holding of the annual faculty and staff institutes and the new student orientation.

Staff members met Tuesday morning, September 5. The faculty session began Tuesday afternoon and ended Wednesday evening with a dinner for faculty and wives/or husbands, at which time an address on "Church and College" was given by Bishop Reuben Mueller of Indianapolis, head of the West Central Area of the Evangelical United Brethren Church.

Orientation for new students began Thursday forenoon and continued throughout Sunday, September 10. Registration for day classes was held on Monday, September 11, and classes began on Tuesday.

President I. Lynd Esch spoke at the formal opening convocation on Wednesday, September 13.

Classes in the Evening Division began a week later than those in day school.

Upperclass women have moved into the new Krannert Hall and freshman girls into Trimble Hall, which was Men's Hall before undergoing a complete rehabilitation this past summer. Men students now live in Dailey and Wilmore Halls, which formerly housed the coeds. Buxton Hall is not being used for student housing this year.

Alumni in Hamilton County

Four Indiana Central Alumni are serving as principals of schools in Hamilton County. Mrs. Lucille Valentine Noblit, '50, is principal of Fall Creek Elementary School; Paul Beanblossom, N37, of Durbin School; Early Lemme, '29, of Carmel High School; and Charles Robert Noblit, '50, of Atlanta Elementary School. In addition to these the following Alumni are teaching in the county: Lee Bahan, '38; Abie Carter, '54; Allen Meyerrose, '54; Verda Rider Eastridge, '30; Omer Eastridge, '29; Richard Nyers, '56; and Lavonne Huff Francis, '49.

Donors Honored at ICC

A reception honoring the donors of funds to convert Men's Hall into a residence for women was an added attraction at the annual homecoming festivities at Indiana Central College, Saturday, September 30.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Trimble of Indianapolis were guests at a reception in the newly christened Trimble Hall after the Indiana State-Indiana Central football game.

The Trimbles contributed $75,000 to Indiana Central to rehabilitate the former Men's Hall. It was completely rebuilt on the inside. All the old plaster and ceilings were replaced with new tinted walls, new tile floors, and terraza floors, and the entrances and stairways were replaced.

The first-floor reception room was enlarged, and a pantry and kitchenette were added to the second floor. A new heating plant was installed in the building in 1960. The dormitory will now accommodate 110 coeds.

In thanking Mr. and Mrs. Trimble for their gift Dr. I. Lynd Esch, the college president, said they had been generous with their support of Indiana Central through the years. Trimble is a member of the college's board of trustees, and also is a director of the American Fletcher National Bank and the Salvation Army.

Six Receive Graduate Degrees From Butler

Six ICC alumni were awarded master's degrees from Butler University this past summer. Ellsworth Shroy, '59, received a B.A. degree with a major in history and political science; Abe L. Carter, '54, received an M.S. in education; Paul Mendenhall, '55, in education; Roger L. Rouch, '57, in education; Paul E. Velez, '56, in education; and Mrs. Lassie McClure Woodard, '45, in education.
Alumni Float

The appreciation of the ICC alumni goes to the Indianapolis group for the very attractive float in the homecoming parade.

The float was a copy of the Administration Building with older alumni in front of it and bearing the statement, "See Us Now."

Dr. A. Glen O'Dell in clerical robe, standing before a lectern, represented the ministry; Prof. Roy Davis, standing beside an old-fashioned school desk, at which sat a child, represented teaching; Mrs. Helen Mosier Beeman, standing beside a student in football togs, represented nursing; and Mrs. Flossie Beghtel and/or Herbert Hiatt represented business.

The float was the brain child of Louise Dragoo Bailey.

1939 Alumnus Writes Article for Plating

Mitchel G. Osman was graduated from Indiana Central in 1939 with a B.S. degree in chemistry. He was employed by International Harvester Company, Indianapolis, in the Metallurgical Laboratory from 1939 to 1945. Since 1945 he has been with the Victor Division, RCA, Indianapolis, serving as process engineer in charge of the Factory Control Laboratory.

Plating, a magazine of the American Electroplating Society carried in its July, 1959, issue a rather lengthy article by Osman, entitled "Automatic Additions of All Chemicals to the Nickel Plating Baths."

Language Teachers Elect New Officer

Dr. Eugene T. Underwood, chairman of the foreign language department at Indiana Central College, has been elected president of the Indiana Foreign Language Teachers Association for 1961-62.
Denver Alumni Organize Club

"A combined Alumni Association of Graduates and former students of any EUB college was the outgrowth of an evening of fellowship at the home of the Reverend and Mrs. William L. Young in Denver, Colorado. Thirty-two graduates or former students, representing five different colleges, responded to the informal invitation given through the Denver churches. This group is now organized and hopes to contact other graduates in the area before the next meeting, which is planned for sometime in the summer. Edgar M. Turley, a 1924 Indiana Central graduate, is president. Mrs. Sam Hilton, a 1954 Indiana Central graduate, is secretary. Both now live in Denver. Doctor Young is a superintendent in Rocky Mountain Conference."

The above paragraph is copied from the TELESCOPE MESSENGER. The Indiana Central Alumni Association is proud of this group and its organizers and hopes that the alumni in other cities will do the same thing. No doubt there are many cities in the United States where there are not enough ICC Alumni to effect a good organization, but if they would combine with the alumni of other EUB colleges, there would be a sufficiently large group to make an interesting club. Will some ICC alumni or alumni try it?

Two Institutes

As of September 30, 57 elementary and high school teachers have enrolled for the mathematics and science institutes, which are sponsored by the evening division of Indiana Central, 80 for the elementary institute and 27 for the junior high.

Teachers may earn 6 hours of credit from the college by attending the sessions three hours Saturday mornings during the school year. They are taught by college faculty and visiting lecturers.

The National Science Foundation pays the travel expenses and registration fees for teachers accepted in the program.

Alumni Day at Central

Alumni Day, June 3, was a perfect day as to weather, sunny and pleasantly warm, and most satisfactory as to attendance and program.

The day began at 9:30 with registration and coffee in the foyer of Ransburg Auditorium. At 10:30 the alumni were so much enjoying visiting with each other that they were slow in moving into the auditorium for Alumni Chapel, which was marked by an unusual event, that of recognizing the college's first 50-year graduate. Mrs. Flossie Beghtel, '11, was presented with a bronze plaque expressing appreciation of her fifty years of service and devotion to Indiana Central College.

The members of the class of 1936, who had been out 25 years, were presented with certificates of appreciation of their return to the campus.

Mrs. Jean Lewis Hirst, '31, gave an organ recital before both the alumni chapel and the business session in the afternoon.

The attractive features of the afternoon business session were the singing of the alumni chorus and the appearance of an alumni quartet. Much appreciation from the alumni is extended to Gene Mogle, '40, and his wife Kathryn Nicodemus Mogle, '41, for directing and accompanying the chorus. They came from Royal Oak, Michigan, where they serve as ministers of music in a large Methodist Church there. The members of the chorus were: Ruth Chambers Mead-er, Virginia Aeppli Freeman, Harriet Hancock Piepenbrock, Virginia Miller Walker, Julia Good Wolfe, Agnes Dawson Everitt, Helen Whaley Wooden, Winona Heath Barnett, May Trumbull Barnett, Jean Lewis Hirst, Margaret Long Emery, Mary Jordan Smith, Mary Ellen Shambaugh Sprague, Arline Kitterman Todd, Agnes Jordan, LaVonne Thompson Coldren, Mary Sidebottom Turner, Jan-ice Stone, Hanna Bunner, Cathryn Kurtz Laush, Bernice Fisher Dux, Julia George Burkhardt, Kathryn Deel Koenig, Mary Stoneburner, Delmer Huppert, Robert Todd, Robert Well-

Miller Still in Philippines

Lawrence Dean Miller, '44, and Mrs. Miller are still serving Kalinga Academy, Lubuagan, Mountain Province, Philippine Islands. The following is a supplement to his general letter, which is too long to print here:

"Besides your full cooperation in support of the Division of World Mission program with its special projects for this and other fields—many of you have asked what you might send in the way of gifts that would prove helpful in the ministry to the 'whole of life' here.

"We would suggest: used clothing for both summer and winterwear—this winter has been exceptionally cold—toys, games and athletic equipment, any band musical instruments, children's books, crayons, scissors, pencils, construction paper, writing paper and vegetable seeds. There are at present no special restrictions on GIFT packages so marked.

"The effort is being made to divert the energy now given to addiction to gambling and excessive drinking into more wholesome recreational activities. The economic outlook is severe. The decontrol of the peso allowing it to seek its natural level in relation to the dollar has made the money situation very tight. This coupled with usury of 150% to 400% annually and the gambling away of rice fields, houses, and in the case of some salaried government workers—up to six months of advance of salary tend to make the gospel extremely relevant."

Bishop Paul Milhouse, '32, of the Southwestern Area with his residence in Kansas City, Missouri, addressed the society at its meeting June 2. Bishop Milhouse's second daughter, Pauline, graduated cum laude with the class of 1961 with the degree of R.N. She also completed the nursing course, which entitled her to write the State Board examination for the degree of R.N. She has gone to Espanola Hospital, New Mexico, of which Dr. Roy H. Turley, '20, is superintendent.

Preparation for College

Because of the importance of adequate high school preparation, alumni are urged to advise their children and other students to follow a college preparatory program of studies and to make good grades. The Admissions Office suggests the following: four years of English, a year each of algebra and geometry, two years of laboratory sciences, two years of a foreign language, and the social studies subjects that are required for graduation. These are minimum standards and prospective college students are encouraged to carry additional college preparatory subjects. For example, students contemplating careers in science, engineering, or mathematics should take more mathematics than the two years suggested above.

Good preparation at the high school level is important not only in gaining admission but also in succeeding in college.

Don Fleener, Admissions Counselor

O sun and skies and clouds of June
And flowers of June together,
Ye cannot rival for one hour
October's bright blue weather.

Hiltons in Africa

Dear Friends:

As we think back over the first half of our first term as missionaries and look forward to the next half we wish we could share with you more of our experiences here. We are all five healthy and happy. Charles Douglas was born here in Bambur in February and is growing rapidly. Carol, now 4, thinks she should go to school since she has learned to tie her shoes. Ben, just 3, is full of mischief, as Hilton boys have always been. All three make frequent interruptions to Laveta’s sewing, cooking, and missionarying. Now that there are two doctors at the hospital, Dave is concentrating on surgery and x-ray while Dean OleWiler takes care of bed patients, clinic patients, and the laboratory.

Since there are a quarter of a million people in this area and no other medical work, one of the most important phases of our work is training African men to go out and treat their own people. The students, who are the highest educated in the area, having passed sixth grade, spend three years in training at the hospital. As well as having classes in anatomy, physiology, chemistry, biology, diagnosis, treatment, and Bible taught by the doctors and nurses, they work on the hospital wards, in the clinic, and in the laboratory. So far 18 have graduated and there are 16 in the school at present.

Right now there is a severe epidemic of smallpox. Once started, this disease spreads like wildfire. People have been coming to the hospital by the hundreds for vaccination.

The rainy season is upon us again, which means sleeping under mosquito nets, doubling the weekly dose of antimalarial medicine, and the ever present moldy smell. The return of green grass, beds of flowers, fresh garden vegetables, and cooler weather are all a welcome relief from the long, desert-like dry season. All roads are closed by high rivers until Christmas.

At times the work is discouraging, especially as nationalism propagates the idea that all white people are out to exploit the African. An occasional sincere smile and grateful handshake of a cured patient and the privilege of working with those who have risen from primitive tribes to live genuine Christian lives is reward enough to make it seem worthwhile. We covet your prayers for us as well as for these, God’s people.

Sincerely,
Dave and Laveta Hilton
