McNeely was born at Jackson, Mo., and attended Southeast Missouri Teachers College and received a bachelor of science in electrical engineering degree from the University of Missouri in 1922. Missouri gave him a doctor of laws degree in 1962. McNeely is a trustee of Teachers College, Columbia University, and a member of the boards of several companies. He and Mrs. McNeely live in New York City.

Martin, Paris, Illinois; Anne Norcross, Indianapolis; Nancy Arndt Prickett, Indianapolis; Vera Blinn Reber, Dayton, Ohio; Marletta Showalter, Plymouth; Carol Vawter, Bargersville; Lynn Youngblood, Terre Haute; and Larry Thompson, South Bend.

Important Notice

We are all aware of the high cost of groceries, which affects the college food service just as it does the individual family. The manager of our food service doesn't want to prepare, for example, 100 cups of coffee and have 200 appear at the coffee hour, nor does he want to prepare 200 cups and have to dispose of 100 cups. Please mail your reservation card, which you will receive with your commencement invitation, with the items checked, before the specified time.

Evening Students' Age Increases

Mr. Harry A. McGuff, Director of the Evening Division at Indiana Central College, has announced the results of recent studies made relative to the composition of the division.

Even though emphasis has been placed on the attendance of college by recent high school graduates, the trend at Indiana Central College has indicated increase in the average age of its students. In the past two years the average age has moved from 26.9 to 28.3 for the current semester. Mr. McGuff feels that this is an indication of increased interest in higher education by the more mature adult.

The range of ages has also increased to include students from 17 to 68.

The $250,000 Challenge Gift

For several months alumni have been approached in various ways to match an anonymous $250,000 challenge gift. The deadline was extended from Christmas to Easter and now the challenge has been met—but the hard way! We were $53,097 short and had to use undesignated contributions which we had planned to utilize for other purposes.

Many of you have been curious as to the identity of the donor of the generous gift. The college will take pride and pleasure in announcing the name of our benefactor at commencement on June 2.

Securing this matching gift assures the remodeling of “Old Main” into a Fine Arts Center.

We have reached another important station in our journey toward a $3,000,000 goal. The grand total raised to date is $1,516,323.

While dormitories have been remodeled, Krannert Hall built and funds now made available for the above mentioned reconstruction, there is still much to be done. The remaining $1,483,677 is needed to complete the Science Building, to build a Campus Center to house many facilities ordinarily included in a student union, and to pay debts on some of the present buildings.

We urge, therefore, that the many alumni who have not contributed to the Development Fund do so now. This is our alma mater. Increasing its prestige and effectiveness should be of concern to all of us.

Another milestone has been passed. We look forward to the next with hope and anticipation.

1944 Alumna Home Economist

Miss June Alvord, '44, is pictured in a recent issue of The Kansas City Star working in a laboratory for the research and development of home consumer products. She is the senior home economist at Niven-Russell Research Associates of Kansas City.

You Are Invited

All alumni and friends are invited to attend the annual MOTHER’S DAY PROGRAM AND MAY FESTIVAL at Indiana Central on Saturday, May 18. A Mothers’ Tea will be held in Krannert Hall from 2:30 to 4:00 in the afternoon. A program has been arranged by the senior women.

All the dormitories will hold Open House from 4:15 to 5:00. Dinner will be served at 6:00 in the college dining room.

The May Festival at 8:15 in Ransburg Auditorium will climax the day’s activities. The program is furnished by the Women’s Physical Education Department, the high light of which will be the crowning of the campus queen.

Our Radio Station WICR-FM Invites

The General Federation of Women’s Clubs, with an active membership of more than eleven million women has developed a new program of great public interest entitled “Women on the Move.” The twice monthly half-hour radio programs will be hosted by the famed producer, Theodore Granik, whose “All America Wants to Know” is now presented monthly on more than 1200 TV and radio stations across the nation. The program will feature guests of national prominence who will present a brief summary of developments in their respective fields and then answer questions by a panel of women selected by the Federation.

WICR-FM—88.7 on the FM dial, Indianapolis—will present “Women on the Move” the second and fourth Mondays of the month at 8:00 p.m. beginning April 22, 1963. The program will be presented in cooperation with the Better Business Bureau of Central Indiana as a public service.

The station invites its listeners to make comments about its presentation of content by writing to WICR-FM, Indiana Central, 4001 Otterbein Avenue, Indianapolis 27, Indiana, or by calling State 7-1301 or State 7-0342.

Last Call For Roll Call

While the main emphasis during the past school year has been on securing contributions to match a $250,000 challenge gift and thus insure the completion of the Science and Fine Arts Buildings, the door is always open to contribute to the Annual Roll Call.

You are all aware, we are sure, that this fund is designed to help raise faculty salary levels to a level where we can secure and retain the highest possible faculty instruction.

Out of 3100 graduates only 122 have, during this fiscal year, contributed to Roll Call. We realize, of course, that many who have not given have concentrated on the Development Fund. However, at least 2,900 have not given to either.

Participation rather than the amount given is the main emphasis in Roll Call. If all alumni give something, it would at least show a feeling of responsibility on the part of those who spent a good piece of their lives in Indiana Central.

The fiscal year ends June 30. If you have not given to either Fund in the past few months, the pledge form, page 9, will provide you with that opportunity. Just cut it out, fill it in and mail it to the Alumni or Development Office. A report will be made in the October issue of the ALUMNI NEWS.

Alumna Writes Song

Mrs. Eulala Graham Roettger, a Normal Alumna of 1939, has written the words and music of a song, "Christmas Is Santa Claus." This song was featured in the December Song and Verse section of The INSTRUCTOR, published by the F. A. Owen Publishing Company of Dansville, New York. A tear sheet of the song, together with a letter from the Public Relations Department of the magazine, was sent to President Esch by the publishers.

Eulala is a sixth-grade teacher at Grandview School, Connersville, Indiana. She lives at 600 East Delaware Street, Cambridge City, Indiana.

Hunter Writes About Steinbeck

J. Paul Hunter, '55, is the author of one of the dozen essays in the recent Essays In Modern American Literature, published by the Stetson University Press. The title of the essay is "Steinbeck's Wine of Affirmation in The Grapes of Wrath." The brochure calls the essay a "penetrating probe of John Steinbeck's enduring fame . . . ethical analogy woven into eloquent defense . . . a long sought interpretive key to Steinbeck, winner of Nobel Prize for Literature."

He has also written "Friday as a Convert: Defoe and the Accounts of Indian Missionaries," a forthcoming essay in the Review of English Studies, published by Oxford University. At Williams College, where he is teaching, he is serving on the bibliography staff of Twentieth Century Literature, published in Denver.

Please Note

Many of you have been making Alumni Roll Call payments in small installment envelopes we provided in the past for your convenience.

The new postal regulations now state that an envelope must be at least three inches in width (height) and four and one-half inches in length, or they are unmailable and will go to the Dead Letter Section of the Post Office.

These special envelopes lack one-eighth of an inch in height of meeting expectations and we have already received a warning from the Post Office.

Please destroy any you may have; and if you need regular-sized envelopes, postage to be paid by us, please let us know and we shall be glad to send them to you.

If you have sent a payment to us in this type of envelope and have not received either our acknowledgment or your canceled check, please let us know and we will try to follow it up with the Post Office.

College Sends Religious Play On State Tour

The Indiana Central College Players toured Indiana, beginning April 17, to present “Everyman Today,” a modern adaptation of the famous medieval morality play, in seven churches.

The cast of 11 was accompanied by the director, Professor Kenneth Kohn, chairman of the Department of Speech and Drama.

“Everyman Today” retains much of the allegory of the original—the personification of virtues, vices, and other abstract qualities. It is presented so that members of the audience see themselves as the characters in the drama.

The relevancy to modern man comes into vivid focus as he himself suddenly becomes the business tycoon, the politician, and the dictator, resisting the pleas of Conscience until the end when she, like Good Deeds, pleads his case at Judgment Day. The conclusion affords a moving, personal experience for the thinking 20th century Christian.

Evening performances were given at the First Evangelical United Brethren Church, South Bend, Wednesday, April 17; Barbour Avenue EUB Church, Terre Haute, Thursday, April 18; First Presbyterian Church, Brazil, Friday, April 19; First EUB Church, Hammond, Saturday, April 20; First EUB Church, Kendallville, Sunday, April 21; University Heights EUB Church, Indianapolis, Sunday, April 28; and Grace EUB Church, Lafayette, Sunday, May 5.

George Schwartz, Freeburg, Missouri, portrays the dictator, business man, general, scientist and intellectual. Jim Reber, Dayton, Ohio, is an announcer. Mary Kay Coon, Mt. Vernon, represents Conscience; Sue Hiatt, Indianapolis, Death; and Jane Winter, Indianapolis, Beauty.

Jeannene Huffman, Lebanon, has the role of a mother and wife; Bill Linson, Indianapolis, a flier; Jim Ellars, Logansport, a messenger; Dan Lawther, Hammond, a doctor and minister; and Joe Rankin, Muncie, the Devil. Jim Peck, Kokomo, is electrician. The other backstage duties are performed by the members of the cast.

Indiana Central has been chosen as one of the 80 test centers in the United States, Puerto Rico and Canada to administer the 13th annual Certified Professional Secretary examination Friday and Saturday, May 3 and 4.

"There is no frigate like a book
To take you far away,
Nor any courser like a page
Of prancing poetry.
This traverse may the poorest
Without oppress of toll.
How frugal is the chariot
That bears a human soul!"

Missouri, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Texas. He grew up in Illinois, was graduated magna cum laude from Indiana Central in 1932, and earned the degrees of bachelor of divinity in 1937 and doctor of theology in 1946 from the American Theological Seminary. In 1950 Indiana Central conferred a doctor of divinity degree upon him.

After college Bishop Milhouse served Illinois pastorates at Elkhart, Olney and Decatur for eight years and executive secretary of the General Council of Administration of the E.U.B. Church two years before his election to the episcopacy in 1960.

He has written many pamphlets and articles for church magazines and agencies. He was a delegate to the last meeting of the World Council of Churches, and also represents his denomination in the National Council of Churches.

Indiana Central Starts Historical Collection

Indiana Central College, which is nearing the end of its sixth decade, has started a historical collection. At present the collection consists largely of newspaper clippings, photographs, letters, speech manuscripts, and programs of a variety of college events.

Dr. Sybil Weaver, professor emeritus of English, has charge of setting up the archives. Miss Weaver's recollections of the college, even before she became a student and then a faculty member, extend over half a century, giving her a valuable background for this undertaking.

Space has been set aside on an upper floor of the college library for housing the college's archives and a similar collection belonging to the Indiana South Conference of the Evangelical United Brethren Church.

The first contribution from outside sources came after the Sunday Magazine of the Indianapolis Star carried an old picture of the Administration Building. Mrs. Emerson H. Thompson of Indianapolis gave the college a collection of photographs that belonged to her aunt, the late Miss Iva May Smith, who taught music at Indiana Central in its early years.

Indiana Central College
Summer Classes Announced

Indiana Central College has announced that summer schedules indicating both day and evening classes are now available for distribution and can be obtained by calling the college at State 7-1301. A total of 46 classes will be offered in the evening enabling both beginning and advanced students to pursue their programs without interruption. Classes will begin on Tuesday, June 11, and will end on Thursday, August 8. June high school graduates are being encouraged to register for summer classes so that they might be introduced to college work. In this manner, by taking a basic course during the summer months, they are not confronted with a completely new experience when they start their full-time college program in September.

Indiana Central College emphasizes the importance of close personal counseling and would encourage all prospective students to make arrangements with the Evening Division office for educational counseling during the evening hours or on Saturday morning. This is a community service that is provided by the college.

Hathaway To Attend Seminar

Thomas Hathaway, '54, a biology teacher at Southport High School, is one of 64 high school teachers elected to take part in a seminar at the state University of Iowa in Iowa City.

Spring Sports

Bill Bright, a 1953 graduate of Central, is in his fifth year as head baseball coach. The young diamond team (9 freshmen, 9 sophomores, 3 juniors, and 2 seniors) has gotten off to a slow start against some tough non-conference opposition. The Greyhounds have dropped doubleheaders to Purdue, Eastern Illinois, and Indiana State, and have swept twin games from Marian and Earlham. Sophomore pitchers Jerry Mullinix and Ray Trisler have split Central's 4 wins. Trisler shut out Earlham and Mullinix limited the Quakers to one run as Central swept the double-header 1-0 and 2-1. The diamondmen open their conference schedule April 30 at Hanover.

Angus Nicoson, athletic director and head basketball coach, and head coach of last year's HCC championship track team, has this year's squad off to a fast start. The Greyhounds have won all 5 of their dual meets with several records having fallen. Bill Asdell, senior from Bloomfield, has broken the old mark set by Dick Reasoner in 1957. Asdell jumped 6' 21/2" to lead IC to a 75-61 victory over Taylor in the track opener. Asdell extended his record to 6' 31/2" in Central's 77-54 win over Louisville, and cleared 6' 4" in the Wabash Relays.

Sophomore Clark Crafton threw the javelin 187' 41/2" to break the old record of 178' 51/2" set by Akers in 1956, and IC defeated Earlham 72-64.

Senior John Koontz threw the discus 134' 4" breaking his own record of 130' 1/2" to pace the cindermen to a 1121/2-231/2 victory over Anderson. Koontz extended his record to 138' 111/2" against Franklin as IC set 3 records enroute to a 110-26 victory. Larry Keene ran a 4:29.5 mile to shave .2 second off the old mark set by John Jarosinski last year. The 880 relay team of Dick Burrows, Tom Short, Terry Volpp, and Dick Murphy lowered the mark from 1:35.7 to 1:34.3.

The Greyhound cindermen try for their second straight Hoosier College Conference championship May 18 at Manchester.

Indiana Central's golf team is coached this year by Paul Velez, a 1956 graduate of IC. Velez is in his first year at Central and also coaches football and wrestling.

Central's golf team has defeated Franklin 9-6 and Marian 11-4, while losing to Hanover 61/2-81/2. Senior Walt Lyons has been the most consistent shooter for the linksmen with scores in the upper 70's and low 80's. Senior Fred Belser and freshmen Dick Beeson, Spencer Gillman, and Art Bryant have all been shooting in the 80's.

Coach Velez describes his team as "enthusiastic" and feels that the Greyhound linksmen will have to be reckoned with come conference time, May 18.
