HOMECOMING, OCTOBER 3

Saturday, October 3, is the day chosen for Central's alumni to come home. It will be a comfortable day, not too warm, not too cool. There will be lots of entertainment and plenty of time to visit with friends, that is, if you come early in the day. A program of varied attractions and events is being planned under the chairmanship of Tom Anthony, Class of '64. In addition to dorm decorations, floats and parades, and a ball game, there will be "some surprises." There will be tours of the campus for those who have not "come home" lately. So come early and stay late.

Other important dates are High School Day, October 17, Dads Day, October 31.

The Capital (Building) Campaign Report

We have listed, in past issues, the names of all who made pledges to the building campaign. However, after our last report new pledges were made by the following alumni:

- Ralph Hile '24
- Leonard Bean '28
- Melba Sims Padgett '30
- S. Louise Reeter '32
- Mary K. Smith Groves '36
- Helen Thomas Hecht '36
- Virl Veal '38
- Oscar Lee Harper '53
- C. Rex Lewis '54
- Rev. William Myers II '55
- Mary Herman Gillespie '58
- Marilyn Hawkins Dixon '60
- Carolyn Geier '60
- Zona Boseck Hully '62
- Cleon Freeman '62

Of course, the college still needs money for construction of facilities and will gladly and gratefully accept additional donations. Buildings always seem to cost more than anticipated.

It should be of interest to all alumni to have a report on their support for all purposes over the years. Here it is:

1. During the 50's for Academic Hall ....... $154,105.00
2. To date in the 60's for the Science Building ........ 86,640.00
3. Roll Call (since 1960) .... 21,500.00

This total of $262,245 was contributed by 1,213 different alumni. How wonderful it would be if all our alumni would participate as generously as these faithful few!

Letter From Agapita

A letter from Agapita Obaldo Basco of the class of 1924 came too late to be read by the members of her class who met for their 40th anniversary. She says, "I wish it were possible for me to join the reunion of the class of 1924 and to meet the others, especially those of the 25 and 50 classes. Distance and finance do not allow me to do so at this time.

"Since my graduation from Indiana Central in 1924, I have been teaching in the different departments of Union Christian College, except during the four years of Japanese occupation, 1941-45. In 1947-50 I went to Sillman University to finish my M.A. Then I taught in the same university in the College of Theology. Now I am back in Union Christian College of San Fermado, La Union, teaching in the English Department.

"Indiana Central College has done much for me. It has created in me the craving to share what little I have learned and to pursue higher levels of learning. We are never too old to learn and we are never too old to serve.

"May the Lord bless and prosper you in your work."

Nierstheimer Graduates

Paul H. Nierstheimer, '42, graduated June 5 from the Air War College, the U. S. Air Force's senior professional school, at the Air University, Maxwell AFB, Alabama. He is a Department of the Air Force civilian executive.

The university-level course provides senior officers a better understanding of the elements of national power and aerospace resources preparing the graduates for higher level command and staff positions.

Paul is returning to the Aeronautical Systems Division of Air Force Systems Command at Wright-Patterson AFB, Ohio, as a systems management officer. His wife, Ester, is a sister of Elizabeth (Cobb), Rachel, John and Omer Breedlove, all alumni of Indiana Central.

He also completed requirements for an M. A. degree in international affairs at the Air University extension center of George Washington University while attending the Air War College.
Have We Forgotten?

PSALM 137 is uttered by one of the Israelites in Babylonian captivity, and he says, “If I forgot thee, O Jerusalem, let my right hand forget her cunning. If I do not remember thee, let my tongue cleave to the roof of my mouth; if I prefer not Jerusalem above my chief joy.”

Now what did this captive Israelite mean by “Jerusalem”? For him Jerusalem was the seat of his religion, his church, if you will, though the word “church” was not used until centuries later. Jerusalem was so closely associated with the worship of God that he invoked upon himself dire punishment if he forgot the God that had chosen his people to give to the world the religion of the one true God, Jehovah.

What is our Jerusalem? It is our church, regardless of denomination, and all that it promotes and supports, places of worship, children’s and old people’s homes, hospitals, summer camps, home and foreign missions, colleges, etc.

For this time, let us confine ourselves to the last named item, the colleges, and more specifically our college, Indiana Central College. The founders of this college thought of it as a branch of the church, an institution where youth would be trained for Christian service whether as mothers and fathers, day laborers, business men, scientists, or professional men and women. These early supporters gave much of their energy, their time, and their meager substance that Indiana Central, an offspring of the church, might live and grow into the excellent institution that it is now. This growth has been possible only with the help of friends along the way, who have not forgotten.

Have we as alumni, who have benefited from Indiana Central, remembered or have we forgotten her and “not preferred her above our chief joy”—a motor boat, a cabin on the lake, a new car every other year, a vacation and exercise necessary for health and happiness. But when we are considering these, can’t we also “remember” Jerusalem?

If we are members of the EUB Church, we owe not only allegiance but also support to her institutions, especially Indiana Central College, our alma mater. If we are members of some other church, we owe a double debt, for the EUB Church and her friends have paid for a good part of our education. (Surely we have learned by this time that a student’s tuition fee pays but little more than half his tuition cost.) The more students the more education cost to be paid by others than students.

The “Biggest And Best”

Alumni Day, June 6, was the “biggest and best” Indiana Central has ever experienced. The weather was perfect, the crowd was the largest, and the entertainment was the most varied of any alumni day remembered.

Registration began early and continued through the day. Perhaps not enough time was allowed for friends to greet and visit with each other. That will be remedied in next year’s program.

The day’s program began with the alumni convocation, when five-year reunioning classes were recognized, especially the 50-year, the 25-year, and the 25-year Normal classes. Two alumni, or 50% of the fifty-year class were present: Warren G. Bailey of Evanston, Illinois and Dr. P. R. Hightower of Frankfort, Indiana.

Of the 25-year class, 30% returned. They were: Mrs. Helen Todd Huehls, Mrs. Esther Smith Miller, Otis F. Baker, Mrs. Elsie Beck Good, Mrs. Ida Mae Good Miller, Paul K. Smith, H. Orval Moore, Mrs. Jane Hickman Click, Leland E. Swengel, O. Raymond Ruff, Marion W. Coplen, Bruce Wright, Marvin L. Hendricks, and Harold Everitt.

One of the delightful events of the day was the reunion of the Normal Class of 1939. Those who received certificates of attendance were: Mildred Myers Flanary, Margaret Kendal Dorton, Ethel Pfeffer Baker, Eula Graham Roettger, Anita Mitchell Oliver, Hazel Mullin Klein, Laverne Harrod Hubbard, Frances Whiteman Towe, Neva Funk Mikesell, Mary Shatto Sheedy, Lillian Brooks Rowe, Decemna Martinie Hughes, Elsie E. Weekly, Ellen Mitchell Sparks, Ershel G. Miller.

Elsie Weekly of St. Louis, Missouri, was the moving force of this reunion and the writer of many letters.

A delightful item on this program was the singing of a faculty male quartet.

College Professor Attends Conference

Dr. Marvin Baker, assistant professor of education at Indiana Central College, participated in a conference concerning the revolutionary new Initial Teaching Alphabet held at Bethlehem, Pennsylvania, May 10-14. The conference was arranged in conjunction with school officials of Lehigh University, which is in the second year of a two-year experiment in the use of I.T.A.

Dr. Baker became interested in the I.T.A. through its relationship to creative writing, which was the topic of his doctoral dissertation. The alphabet is an augmentation of the standard alphabet and uses 45 characters instead of the normal 26. Each sound in the vocabulary is expressed through a character of the I.T.A. The alphabet has been recommended by the Ministry of Education for use throughout the school system of the British Isles.

Principal speaker for the Bethlehem conference was Dr. A. J. Mazurkiewicz, director of the I.T.A. center at Lehigh University. Dr. Mazurkiewicz will be in Indiana this fall to speak to the Indiana State Teachers Association convention. Participants in the conference had opportunities to visit classrooms to observe the program in action.

I will be especially happy to be on a nine-month schedule instead of eleven. Many parts of this world I have not had time to visit and I look forward to doing so.

"The past seven years have been exciting and rewarding. I am deeply grateful to the University family and to the many citizens who have contributed generously and devotedly during these years to the building of the University of California, Riverside."

Dr. Spieth is one of the many scientists whom Dr. William P. Morgan has trained in the laboratories of the old Administration Building.

The ICC Alumni Association wish Dr. Spieth much happiness and satisfaction in the pursuit of his favorite work in research and teaching of biology.

Actor Basil Rathbone To Replace Canadian Players

Versatile actor Basil Rathbone will give a one-man performance of scenes from Shakespeare's plays as the opening number of the Indiana Central College Artist Series on Friday night, November 6. He will replace the Canadian Players, who notified the college they would be unable to tour the United States in 1964-65.

Rathbone, who has played 52 roles in 23 of the Bard's dramas, will offer "William Shakespeare—1564-1964" as his contribution to the observance of the 400th anniversary of the playwright's birth. The star of stage, movies and television is one of the foremost interpreters of Shakespeare today.

His performance will be on the same night that the Canadian Players had been scheduled to present "A Midsummer Night's Dream," in what would have been their fifth consecutive year to appear on the Ransburg Auditorium stage, if they had not been forced to cancel their tour.

The remainder of the 1964-65 Artist series remains unchanged. Drew Pearson, Washington columnist, will lecture on January 8, and Richard Ellsasser, organist, will give a concert on February 12. Janos Starker, cellist, and Gyorgy Sebok, pianist, will be the March 5 attraction, and the series will end April 2 with the appearance of Arthur Whittimore and Jack Lowe, a piano duo. Each program will be on a Friday night and will begin at 8:30 p.m. Adult tickets for the entire series are $10 each, single performances $3 each. There is a special student rate of $6 and $2, respectively.

His wife, Virginia Valiska Gregory, has been awarded a $2,600.00 scholarship, which will enable her to complete her Master's of Arts in Teaching degree (English) in two years, also at the University of Chicago.

Alumni Club Meetings

On Sunday, June 14, at 2 p.m. in a South Bend park the South Bend-Plymouth area alumni group met for a picnic dinner and afternoon of fellowship. Approximately fifty were present including spouses and a few children. Gene Mogle, music minister of the First Methodist Church of South Bend, was responsible for getting the group together. The present officers were retained for the coming year.

On Saturday evening, July 11, the Dayton Alumni group were guests of Dr. L. L. Huffman, President of ICC's Board of Trustees, at his suburban home in Dayton.

While the children played on the spacious lawn, Dr. Huffman with the help of Bruce Hilton and Floyd Mevis grilled the hamburgers and sausages. Mrs. Huffman had prepared the remainder of the delectable food, which was served on the patio. The tables were decorated with place mats, napkins, and ebony statues brought from Africa. After the meal there were short talks by Dr. Huffman and President Each.

This group was honored by the presence of Mrs. J. Balmer Showers, widow of the late bishop.

Bruce Hilton had invited the Dayton Area alumni to this meeting at the order, he said, of his "boss," Dr. Huffman.

***

ICC alumni and friends living in the New Albany area held a pitch-in picnic on Sunday, August 23 at 4 p.m. Dr. and Mrs. (Mary Milhouse) Hauswald were hosts of the group at their attractive suburban home with its spacious grounds, 1568 Meadow Lane, New Albany, Indiana.

Graduates, current and former students, and friends of the college from Clark, Floyd, Harrison and Crawford Counties as well as Louisville, Kentucky, were invited to attend.

Representing the college were Dean Ransburg, Director of Alumni Relations, and Miss Virginia Cravens, Executive Secretary of the Alumni Association.

Newly elected club officers are Mr. Joseph Pezzullo, Sellersburg, president; Mr. Dave Elliott, New Albany, vice-president; Mrs. Rose Armstrong, Louisville, secretary.
The Busy Hiltons

The Hilton brothers, Bruce ’53, David ’53, and Donald ’54, are as busy as always, as the following will show. An excerpt from a letter from Bruce, editor of FRIENDS, a magazine for junior high youths, reads:

“...These have been busy days. I am beginning my tenth year as editor of youth publications by changing the format of FRIENDS; we are adding two bedrooms on our house so we won’t have to move from our integrated neighborhood; my book (MY BROTHER IS A STRANGER) has just about run through its second printing; as chairman of the Task Force of Human Relations Commission we’re fighting a ‘block-busting’ operation on a local suburb; and I’m getting ready to go to Europe in August. So we are keeping out of trouble, I hope, by not displaying idle hands.”

With all that, Bruce took time to send out notices and direct a "get together" of the Dayton ICC alumni, as reported under ICC REUNIONS.

Dr. Dave, with his wife Laveta (Smith) ’52, is serving his second term as a medical missionary in Nigeria, West Africa.

After expressing regret at not being able to attend their ten-year reunion on Alumni Day, Don “Sam” and Mary Huston Hilton wrote that they were leaving their home in Denver, Colorado, on June 6 to settle in East Africa.

After a six-week training program at Columbia University, they expected to be flown to one of three countries for a teaching assignment—Tanganyika, Uganda or Kenya. After their two-year contract is fulfilled, they expect to remain in Africa with the same program or another similar one. Don writes further:

“For seven years I have taught in the same school in Denver, Kuna- miller Junior High. The school is currently on double session with over 2700 students. I have been chairman of the mathematics department for the past three years with nine others working with me. Mary has been substitute teaching this past year on a part time basis since our children are still young. Mark is four and David is 2½.

“...Please give our greetings to the members of the Class of ’54.”

The father is still in the active ministry in Rochester, Minnesota.

Miller Becomes Dean
Of Otterbein

An Indiana Central member of the Class of 1942 has been appointed Dean of Otterbein College, a sister E.U.B. college at Westerville, Ohio, effective July 1.

Dr. James V. Miller, a native of Crawfordsville, had been serving as Chairman of the Department of Philosophy and Religion at Bates College, Lewiston, Maine, prior to his appointment at Otterbein. He was a member of the Bates faculty for the past fourteen years. After leaving Indiana Central, he graduated from Berea College, (now called United Theological Seminary) in Dayton, Ohio, and received his Ph. D. degree from Boston University. His wife is the former Mildred Hockersmith, ‘48. They have two children, Matyllyn, 12, and Rachel Katherine, 8.

While on Central campus Jim was very active in the Student Christian Association, planning excellent devotional programs, and also active as a member of the track team, for which he won four letters.

David Dejernett, X35, former basketball star at Indiana Central, died August 4 of a heart attack. He was found dead in a basement room of Roger Popp, Inc., a janitorial supply firm at 111 North New Jersey Street, where he was employed as a stock man.

Before coming to Indiana Central, Dave was a star on Washington, Indiana’s basketball team and helped to win the state tournament by sinking two baskets in the last thirty seconds of the game.

Survivors include the widow, Mrs. Josephine Dejernett, three brothers and two sisters.

Mrs. Mildred Schurtter Gilliatt, ’35, died in her home in Vincennes August 18. She had taught English in St. Francisville, Illinois, last year.

She was a native of Tell City, Indiana, but had spent her married life in Vincennes and Clermont, Florida.

Surviving are her husband, Huber Gilliatt of Vincennes; a daughter, Mrs. Joan Freeman of Gainesville, Florida; her mother, Mrs. Flora Schurter, and a sister, Mrs. Dorothy Embry, both of Tell City.

Burial was in Greenwood Cemetery, Tell City.

Wayne Harbin, X50, formerly of Indianapolis, who had been living at San Jose, California, died suddenly of a heart attack while at Alma, Michigan, for the funeral of his father-in-law. He was an accountant.

John D. Mossier, 22, former teacher and principal of Corydon High School, died at his home in Corydon this past summer at the age of 72.

He was born in Harrison County and taught at Corydon before World War I. After his military service he taught at Elizabeth and Laconia. Then he returned to Corydon in 1929 where he taught and served as principal until he retired in 1952.

Mr. Mossier was a member of the E.U.B. Church, Masons, Woodmen Lodge, and Past Commander of Harrison Post American Legion.

Among the survivors are his widow, Hallie Boone Mossier, three sons, one brother, and three sisters, one of whom is Mrs. Emma Haviland of Southport.

Mrs. Lillian Ragains Marshall, class of 1928, wife of Justin Marshall, vice-principal of George Washington High School, Indianapolis, died September 14 in Methodist Hospital after more than a year’s illness. She was born in Harrison County, lived through her high school days near Hardinsburg in Washington County and since graduating from Indiana Central in University Heights. She earned her master’s degree in education from Indiana University.

She was a teacher until her retirement in 1951. She taught at Kays Chapel country school, at Hardinsburg High School, at old Lawrence High School, and was principal of Ben Davis Junior High School for nine years until her retirement. After her retirement she was instructor in freshman English at Indiana Central for five years.

Lillian's friends were legion, and the Ragains and Marshall home both before and after her marriage was synonymous with hospitality and a mecca for all who knew her.

She was a former trustee of Indiana Central College, a member of University Heights EUB Church and of various cultural organizations of Indianapolis.

Memorial services were held at 10:30 a.m. in University Heights EUB Church and at 3:00 p.m. at Kays Chapel, near Hardinsburg, where she was buried beside her sister Mildred and her parents. Survivors, besides her husband, are two brothers, Robert A. Ragains of Hyattsville, Maryland, and Joseph Ragains of Kokomo.

Indiana Central In Greater Need

Now Indiana Central is in greater need than ever. The new students this year are in greater number than ever before. In fact, they number as many as the whole student body ten years ago. The college must have more teachers to care for this increased number of students. And to retain the present faculty, salaries should be increased. Competition among colleges is great. Good teachers demand good salaries. Will the alumni help here? Solicitation of alumni for capital funds, that is, for funds to help in building, has ceased. The alumni are now concentrating on the Alumni Annual Roll Call, the funds of which go entirely to the increase of faculty salaries. The Alumni Association wants every one who reads the ALUMNI NEWS to help in this effort. Will you please, when you receive an envelope for the purpose, place a check in it and put the envelope in the mail box. We want every alumnus to participate. REMEMBER, IT IS NOT THE SIZE OF THE CHECK BUT YOUR PARTICIPATION THAT WE WANT.

Elton Trueblood, Earlham’s Quaker philosopher, says “For enlisting and holding effective workers in the Army of the Lord, there are three magics. The first magic is participation; the second magic is participation; and the third magic is participation.” We want you to be one of us. “Where your treasure is, there your heart will be also.”

This seminar began on Monday evening and closed with a banquet on Friday evening with Dr. D. Elton Trueblood, distinguished writer, lecturer, and teacher as speaker.

At Central, John was an honor student and played center (6' 4") on the Greyhound basketball team under Coach Harry Good. A native of South Bend, he has spent all his professional life, 27 years, in the South Bend School Corporation as teacher, principal, and as Director of the South Bend Community School Corporation.

He received his Master's Degree in Education from Indiana University. He married Betty Erhmin of Mishawaka, Indiana. They are the parents of four boys and live at 3310 Addison Street, South Bend.

ICC Represented At National Science Convention

Sigma Zeta, a national honorary science fraternity, held its national convention at Our Lady of the Lake College, San Antonio, Texas, March 29-25. Indiana Central was represented by four seniors, Tom Anthony, John Houlihan, Tom Short and Bob Williams. High points included a cultural tour of San Antonio, showing the Spanish Governor's Palace, the Alamo, Botanical gardens and a Mexican cafe; presentation of 12 scientific papers, one of which was given by Tom Anthony entitled "Significance of Thumb in Man's Evolution" and one by John Houlihan entitled "Energy Ether," in which he attempted to take our concept of "empty space" out of a metaphysical mode of thought and consider it in a more scientific manner.

Twelve different colleges were represented at the convention with about 120 delegates in attendance. Ball State Teachers College was the only other Hoosier school represented. Central's representatives extended an invitation to the convention to hold the 1966 convention on Central's campus.
Velez Hopes For First Winning Football

Looking optimistically toward his first winning season since coming to Indiana Central as head football coach in 1962 is Paul E. Velez, youthful mentor of the Greyhounds.

Inexperience, injuries, and graduation losses plagued Coach Velez in his first two seasons. However, with 29 lettermen returning to bolster the squad, things are looking up in the Greyhound camp. Potentially the Greyhounds have a fine football team.

The defense, led by All-Hoosier College Conference selections Bob Delinger (200) at guard, Dave Weber (207) at linebacker, little Bruce Quinn (139) also at linebacker, and MVP Vasco Walton (165), who nailed 101 enemy ball carriers from his safety position last year, is “the best since I’ve been here,” says Velez.

The offensive backfield is fast, strong, and experienced, with six veterans vying for the starting positions.

The most pressing problem facing Coach Velez is in filling the holes in the offensive line left vacant by the graduation of All-HCC tackle John Koontz and stalwart end Pat Koers. “Inexperience in the offensive line will hurt us, unless the vacant spots are adequately filled by underclassmen,” warned Velez.

Spirit and enthusiasm are high at Indiana Central this season as Coach Velez has the nucleus for a winner. Although talk of a Hoosier College Conference championship is avoided, Velez feels assured that the Greyhound football squad will improve upon its fifth place HCC finishes in 1962.

Arabelle Enyart Returns To Africa

After a furlough and vacation in Indiana, Arabelle Enyart, '39, has returned to West Africa. She writes “Furlough has come to an end, and I am back in Nigeria enjoying the pleasant coolness of the rainy season. This teacher training school is two miles from any town, and we are very much a community of our own . . .

“We are thankful for the privilege of training Nigerian young people to be Christian leaders, and in the case of this school, we are training young women to teach in mission schools. Pray for these and the many other young people preparing for Christian service either as teachers or as pastors and evangelists . . .”
