Honorary Degrees, Open House, Illustrated Lecture And Art Exhibit Mark Fine Arts Center Dedication At Indiana Central

A retired educator, an air force chaplain and a university dean received honorary degrees Saturday, October 2, at the dedication of the new Leah Ransburg Fine Arts Center at Indiana Central College. Other features of the event included chamber music, an open house, and a nine-day art exhibit.

The formal dedication program was in Ransburg Auditorium of Academic Hall at 2 p.m. The other events took place in the Fine Arts Center, which occupies half of the just remodeled Administration Building, the edifice with Ionic columns which originally was the first and only college building on the campus. Dr. I. Lynd Esch, president of Indiana Central, conferred a doctor of divinity degree on Lt. Col. Harold D. Shoemaker, command chaplain of the U.S. Air Force Academy near Colorado Springs, Colorado, and doctor of laws degrees on the Reverend Roy V. Davis, associate professor emeritus of education at the college, and Dr. Allen S. Weller, dean of the College of Fine and Applied Arts at the University of Illinois.

1925 Alumnus Director Of Health Sciences

Impetus will be given the supporting health sciences in the state of Indiana with the appointment of Dr. J. L. Arbogast, professor of pathology and director of the Clinical Laboratory at the Indiana University Medical Center since 1946, as director of the Division of Allied Health Sciences of the School of Medicine, it has been announced by Dr. Elvis J. Stahr, I.U. president.

The Division includes Bachelor of Science degree programs in medical technology, medical records, occupational therapy, physical therapy, and several options in public health, as well as two-year certificate programs in dental hygiene and X-ray technology. Additional programs will be offered in the near future. Dr. Arbogast now is making plans to extend the technical courses to the regional campuses, making it possible for Hoosier students to take most of the work for these degrees at schools near their homes.

Dr. Arbogast has long been identified with Indiana University. He was graduated from the School of Medicine in 1936, having previously received degrees from Indiana Central, '25, and Illinois Wesleyan Colleges. His internship and residency were served at the Medical Center. He Continued on page 4

Knecht Becomes President Of United Seminary

The Reverend John R. Knecht was inaugurated as President of United Theological Seminary at a service held in Breyfogel Memorial Chapel at 3:30 p.m. October 28. Leading churchmen, alumni, representatives from many educational institutions, and friends attended the ceremonies.

Bishop J. Gordon Howard, President of the Board of Trustees of the seminary, presided at the ceremonies with Bishop Herman W. Kaebnick, Dr. Charles E. Kachel, Vice President J. Bruce Behney, and Dean Nevell J. Wert participating.

Dr. Reubin W. Mueller of Indianapolis, senior bishop of the Evangelical United Brethren Church and president of the National Council of Churches, and the benediction by Dr. Robert E. Cramer, academic dean of Indiana Central.

The act of dedication itself was conducted by Dr. L. L. Huffman of Dayton, Ohio, chairman of the college's board of trustees and publisher of the EUR Church.

Farrell M. Scott, associate professor of music and tenor soloist, sang at the dedication and Miss D. Colleen Johnson, assistant professor of music, was at the organ. The program was followed by an open house and tours of the Fine Arts Center.

During this period there was recorded music and occasional informal piano numbers by Mrs. Dorothy Manger, assistant professor of music, in the center's recital hall. On Sunday, October 3, the same room was the scene of chamber music by Mrs. Manger, Mrs. Norma Woodbury, cellist, and Albert Saurini, flutist.

Sixteen paintings from the larger private collection hanging in the Indianapolis home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. S. Harrington were on exhibit in the center's new art gallery from Saturday, October 2, through Sunday, October 10, between 1 and 9 p.m.

The Harringtons and Mrs. Harper J. Ransburg, for whom the new Fine Arts Center is named, attended the dedication and an invitational luncheon preceding it. A gift from the late Mr. Ransburg, Indianapolis industrialist and trustee of the college, has made possible the new facilities for the Art and Music Departments.

Two of the 9:30 a.m. convocations in Ransburg Auditorium during Dedication Week also centered on the fine arts. Balcony seats were available for visitors. The program Monday, October 4, was a discussion of the 16 paintings on exhibit and the showing of colored slides of them by Gerald G. Royce, chairman of the Art Department. On Wednesday the Music Department presented three of its faculty members in a recital, Mrs. Manger, pianist; Miss Johnson, organist; and Mrs. Miriam Ramaker, soprano soloist.

Col. Shoemaker is a ministerial member of Indiana Conference South of the EUB denomination. After three years as a chaplain during World War II he was pastor of the Otterbein EUB Church in Indianapolis from 1946 to 1956. Since then he has been an air force chaplain. He became Protestant cadet chaplain at the AF Academy in 1946 and a year later the command, or hooch, chaplain. He has served in Ireland, Okinawa, Korea and England.

He attended Owosso (Michigan) Normal College, Anderson College, Butler University, Christian Theological Seminary, and Indiana University. He has been awarded numerous service medals.

Professor Davis has had a long connection with Indiana Central. He received the A.B. degree here in 1923. He returned to teach in the Education Department in 1935, became director of student teacher-training, and retired in 1961. Since then he has taught part-time at his alma mater. He earned a master's degree at Indiana State University in 1938 and did advanced study at Indiana University.

He taught in elementary and high schools in Daviess, Franklin, Marion, Vigo and Wayne counties, and was a pastor of churches in Indianapolis, Terre Haute, and Boone County. He is an ordained EUR minister. He was a teacher at Indianapolis Manual High School three years after his retirement from Indiana Central.

Dr. Wellar earned his bachelor's degree at the University of Chicago, master's at Princeton University, and doctor of philosophy at Chicago. He taught at the University of Missouri from 1929 to 1940, was an air force major in World War II, and has been at the University of Illinois since 1947.

He became dean of the College of Fine and Applied Arts in 1954, and since 1964 has been director of the Krannert Museum of Art. In addition he has been visiting professor at the universities of California, Colorado, Minnesota and Rhode Island and the Aspen (Colorado) Institute of Humanistic Studies.

Alumni Goes To Alaska
Mrs. Phyllis Albright Davis, '53, has been appointed State Supervisor of Home Economics Education for the State of Alaska. She will be in charge of junior and senior high school home economics programs as well as of the adult project. She will also supervise the home economics teacher-training program of the University of Alaska at Fairbanks. She has moved to Juneau, where headquarters are.

She received her master's degree at Purdue this past summer. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Albright, '26 and '28.

permit additional time for productivity. Dr. Smith is author, editor or contributor for seven books, nearly 40 magazine or encyclopedia articles and approximately 100 book reviews for historical journals. Before going to Miami University he taught at Indiana Central, Ohio State and Indiana Universities, and Centre College.

He spent the 1964-65 school year as a Carnegie Visiting Assistant Professor at Columbia University and the 1965-66 school year as a visiting professor at Indiana University. He was a visiting professor at the University of Alberta in the summer of 1964 and visiting professor at Colombo College this past summer.

He is a Miami Valley native, his master's and doctor's degrees are from Indiana University.

Three More Join Central Staff
Three vacancies on the Indiana Central College staff have been filled since school opened September 13. The new employees are John E. Hill, assistant director of the Evening Division; Mrs. Beverly A. Sims, college nurse; and Robert P. Underwood, food service manager.

Hill came to the college from Blue Cross-Blue Shield, where he had worked since 1951. He had been an English instructor at Indiana Central from 1948 to 1951, and more recently taught evening speech classes. He also taught evening classes in his own firm, the University Extension Center at Indianapolis in 1954-55. He graduated from Earlham College in 1942 and has done graduate study at Butler University. He was with the army in 1942-45.

Mrs. Sims became a registered nurse after training at Indianapolis General Hospital, and since then has worked at Oak Forest (Illinois) Terminal Hospital and Community Hospital at Indianapolis. She was a member of the 1949 graduating class at Technical High School in Indianapolis.

Underwood was assistant food service manager at Mankato, Minnesota State College two years before coming to Central. He graduated from Southern Illinois University in 1963.

I love the Christmas-tide, and yet
I notice this each year I live.
I always like the gifts I get.
But how I love the gifts I give.

First 100 Donors Set Good Example

In order to better understand the results and effects of Alumni Roll Call, an analysis was made of the first 100 gifts received during the 1965-66 Roll Call Campaign. The following pertinent facts were ascertained:

By Previous Performance

1. 47 alumni gave the same amount as last year; a total of $504.00 and an average gift of $10.72.

2. 14 alumni increased their gifts over last year from $193 to $568, a gain of $375 and an average gift of $40.57.

3. 2 alumni decreased giving from $30 last year to $22 this year, a loss of $8.00 and an average gift of $11.00.

4. 37 alumni who did not give last year have given $732.50 for an average gift of $19.80.

5. 100 alumni have given $1310.50 for an average gift of $13.10

Chronologically By Classes

1. 1910-1919 4 gifts for a total of .......... $ 65.00
2. 1920-1929 7 gifts for a total of .......... 200.00
3. 1930-1939 16 gifts for a total of .......... 373.00
4. 1940-1949 15½ gifts for a total of .......... 260.00
5. 1950-1959 18½ gifts for a total of .......... 343.00
6. 1960-1965 9 gifts for a total of .......... 569.50

Note: ½ gift results when joint donors are members of classes in different decades. A joint gift is credited 50-50.

By Size of Gift

$10 or less 63 gifts for a total of .............. $455.50
$11 - $24 14 gifts for a total of .............. 267.00
$25 - $49 13 gifts for a total of .............. 368.00
$50 - $74 5 gifts for a total of .............. 250.00
$75 or more 5 gifts for a total of .............. 470.00

Note: The last category does not include Alumni Fellows who are in a separate classification.

Emphasis is still on number of contributors. We want a higher percent of participation than last year. Now is the time. Why delay? Write the check now, please, for your Christmas gift to your Alma Mater.

College Forms New Graduate Division

Establishment of a new Graduate Division at Indiana Central has been announced by Dr. I. Lynd Esch, president.

Dr. Robert E. McBride was appointed director of the division. He will continue as chairman of the Department of Psychology and Philosophy and as professor of philosophy. The Graduate Division will be responsible to Dr. Robert E. Cramer, academic dean of the college.

A Graduate Council also was formed, with Dr. McBride as chairman and President Esch and Dean Cramer ex officio members of the council.

Other members are Dr. Marvin G. Baker, chairman of the Education Department; Dr. Robert D. Deuel, chairman of the Biology Department; Dr. Allen B. Kellogg, chairman of the English Department and also of the Division of Language and Literature; Harry G. McGuff, director of the Evening Division and the Industrial Relations Center; Dr. Roland T. Nelson, chairman of the Department of History and Political Science; and Dr. Kermit R. Todd, professor of education and director of supervised teaching.

Indiana Central will offer a master's degree, primarily for teachers, as soon as its proposed program is fully accredited. Under new regulations persons beginning to teach in Indiana will be required to start study toward a master's degree within five years. If they were already teaching when the new requirement took effect, they have a maximum of five years to begin graduate study.

In Salute

He snatched a swooning college that seemed about to die —
His goal and goal for knowledge soon yielded it into high!
Up buildings popped — and gracious!
the Senior, Soph and Fresh
Are housed in grandeur, spacious —
All due to Dr. Esch!

The student body numbers 169 men and women working toward one of three graduate degrees: Bachelor of Divinity; Master of Religious Education or Master of Sacred Theology.

Who Influenced You?

Who carries the most weight when it comes to deciding upon which college to attend? A couple of researchers at Syracuse University interviewed more than 5,000 freshmen and found the number one influence on college choice to be Mom, by quite a margin over the rest of the field.

Deflating though it may be to high school counselors, they finished in tenth place behind brothers, sisters, uncles, aunts, personal and family friends, and even the family doctor.

2nd Generation Make Good Records
Annual Honors Program was held in the Ransburg Auditorium at the regular convocation hour October 15. Of the 69 upperclass students who had made a 2.00 average during the 1964-65 year 16 or 23% were children of alumni. Twenty of these 69 were on the Dean's list and had a scholarship index of 2.25.

Twelve of these 69 were freshmen last year and were eligible for election to the freshman honor society, Phi Alpha Epsilon. Four or 35% were second generation students. They are: Genette Sue Core, daughter of Revere Gordon and Odessa Core; Alice Ann French, daughter of Helen Schmidt French, a former campus queen; Susanne Rodbaugh, daughter of Myron and Geraldine Gilliard Rodbaugh and granddaughter of Dr. Harvey and Ethel Gilliard; and Kenneth D. Sidebottom, son of Professor J. and Hallie Davis Sidebottom.

Six of the 18 seniors elected to "Who's Who" are second generation students. They are: Barbara B. Bean, d. of Leonard Bean, '28; Richard W. Cravens, s. of Dr. Sherman Cravens, '42; Alice Sue Findley, d. of Albert Findley, '31; Beverly J. Gorbett, d. of Dr. Donald W. Gorbett, '43; Michelle Stoneburner, d. of Alva Stoneburner, '41; and Marydee Meyer West, d. of Mrs. Hilda Becker Meyer, N34.

Mikesell On Guam
In a recent letter to the Alumni Office, Major Verlin E. Mikesell '51 shared with us the following information regarding his work and family:

"My present schedule is a busy one. I am the chaplain for the 7th Bomb Wing. This is the B-52 wing that you no doubt have been reading about in the papers." "Ruth and the children are very well. Judith was married in the chapel at Castle Air Force Base in '61 and we are the proud grandparents of a beautiful three year old. Deanna is attending college at Modesto Junior College in California. Hope to get her to Central one day. Bob is graduating from high school here on Guam in June '66. Kevin is a second grader in our local school. Min (our newest arrival 18 Jan. 65) — Island born — Annette is keeping us both busy and adding a joy to our lives we had almost forgotten."
A Letter From Westley

Eugene M. Westley, Sudan United Mission, P.A. Zinna via Yola, North Nigeria, West Africa, writes:

"First, thanks for the Alumni News. We appreciate receiving it and, believe me, out here it is read every word. Since we never hear from any of the old classmates (perhaps a few at Christmas) it is good to have this avenue of the paper to refresh our memory and hear what the others are doing.

"Frieda Myers '54 and a fellow worker in the Peace Corps came from Ethiopia this past month to have a vacation in another part of Africa. They were entertained at Bambur by Dr. Dave and Levetta Hilton and then came on to our home for a few days. The major part of the day's trip to our home was spent in a dug-out canoe on the river. That's a story all its own which Frieda may tell you one day." (How about some of you "old classmates" of Gene's writing to him at the above address?)

College Parents Hold Elections

The Dads' Association and the Mothers' Association chose new leaders at the recent Dad's Day at Indiana Central College.

The mothers' officers are Mrs. David Hill (Doris Brown, '37), president; Mrs. Lucian Bare (Mary Rider, '43), vice president; and Mrs. Harold Hodges, secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Hill is the mother of David Hill, a junior. Mrs. Hodges' daughter, Cheryl, also is a junior. Mrs. Bare's son, Don, is a sophomore.

The officers elected by the dads were: George Maple, president; Clayton Kinkade, '50, vice president; Reverend John Chambers, '37, secretary; and Professor Robert Coker, treasurer.

Maple has two sons at Indiana Central—Steve, a senior, and Robert, a sophomore. Kinkade's daughter, Johanna, is a junior, and his son, Lynn is a freshman. The Reverend Mr. Chambers is the father of Joe, a senior. Coker is assistant professor of economics.

"As You Like It" Replaces "War Of Roses" Drama On Artist Series

"As You Like It," presented by the National Shakespeare Company, replaced "The White Rose and the Red" on Oct. 23 as the second number on the Indiana Central College Artist Series.

Homecoming Events Well Attended

A good number of alumni, some of whom had not been on the campus in years, were back for Homecoming Saturday, October 9. There was no formal program in the forenoon. After registering, visiting with each other, touring the new or newly-renovated buildings, and eating an early lunch, the visitors sought a good seat on the ball park bleachers to watch the return of the annual parade, which had left the campus at 11 a.m., and to be ready for the kick-off of the ball game with the Chicago Illini.

Between halves of the game Sue Ann Schilling of Indianapolis was crowned Homecoming Queen by Jack Je Hall of Indianapolis. Her attendants were Mary Jane Dennis of Shelbyville, Omomoe Marie Johnson of Acton, and Lana Jo Livingston of Shelbyville, all of whom were chosen in a secret ballot by the students. A greyhound victory gave zest to the evening events, which included a steak fry, the New Christy Minstrels, and an informal Homecoming dance.

Five Indiana Central Alumnae Are Honored

Five alumnae of Indiana Central College—one a faculty member on leave and another the daughter of a faculty member—have been selected for inclusion in the 1965 edition of "Outstanding Young Women of America."

Miss Pauline J. Milhouse, the faculty member, is an instructor in nursing at the college but is on leave this year for advanced study at Indiana University in Bloomington. Miss Sylvia Mae Weber is the daughter of Dr. James A. Weber, chairman of the Bible and Religion Department, and Mrs. Weber. The three others chosen are the Misses Burdellis Laverne Carter, Ingrid Helga Henkels, and Marlene J. O'Dell.

The book will be a biographical compilation of almost 6,000 women between the ages of 21 and 36 selected on the basis of unselfish service to others, charitable activities, community service, professional excellence, business advancement, and civic and professional recognition. Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, wife of the President of the United States, is honorary chairman of the board of advisory editors, composed of representatives of national women's organizations.

Miss Milhouse is the daughter of Bishop and Mrs. Paul W. Milhouse of Kansas City. Her father is episcopal head of the Southeast Area of the Evangelical United Brethren Church. Miss Milhouse received degrees in biology and nursing at Indiana Central in 1961 and then, between her graduation and her return as a teacher, she worked in St. Frances Hospital, Beech Grove, Indiana, and Español (New Mexico) Hospital, a missionary operation of the EUB denomination.

Miss Weber, whose parents live at 1326 East Castle Avenue in University Heights, received her nurse's training under a former plan of cooperation between Indianapolis Methodist Hospital and Indiana Central, getting her bachelor's degree from the college in 1960. She has been a teacher in the Methodist Hospital Nursing School, but is on leave to complete work on a master's degree in surgical nursing at the University of Washington in Seattle. She is to return to Methodist soon to begin teaching her new specialty.

Dr. Carter graduated from Indiana Central in 1954, then from the Methodist Hospital Nursing School, and received a master's degree in nursing education from Indiana University School of Nursing. She worked as a nurse and as a teacher at Methodist, and later taught nursing education at the University of Iowa and Indiana University. Last June she received a doctor of education degree from I. U. and now is again teaching nursing at the University's Medical Center in Indianapolis. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carter, live at Rural Route 2, Brazil, Indiana.

Miss Henkels is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Henkels, 555 South Keystone Avenue, Indianapolis. She graduated from Central in 1961, got a master's degree at George Washington University in Washington, D.C., and is teaching German at Lake Forest, Illinois, College.

Miss O'Dell has been abroad with the United Nations or similar agencies much of the time since her graduation from Central in 1950 but now is working in the U. N. headquarters in New York City. She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. Glen O'Dell of New Albany. The Reverend Mr. O'Dell is a superintendent in Indiana Conference South of the EUB Church. Before his election as conference superintendent he was pastor of Brookside EUB Church in Indianapolis.
New Play Coach At Indiana Central Announces 1st Plays

Lawrence F. Fisher, assistant professor of speech and dramatics at Indiana Central College, has announced that a series of three one-act plays by Edward Albee will be among the student productions during the current academic year.

The first of these, "The Zoo Story," was given Monday, November 1, at the 9:35 a.m. convocation. The others, "Death of Bessie Smith" and "The Sand Box," will follow in December and April. "Although this will be somewhat of a captive audience," Fisher observed, "I think the students will enjoy these three exiting plays of the controversial playwright whose 'Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolfe' set Broadway on fire several seasons back. This is a young man who thinks, and forces his audiences to think. You may object to him, but you never ignore Edward Albee. As an educational media he couldn't be better." Although Prof. Fisher's first offering won't be open to the public, he expressed the hope that the delay in beginning full-scale production will only serve to increase expectations and help fill the house. Usually Indiana Central's dramatic productions are presented only one or two nights, which Fisher views as a waste of time, ability and talent. "When a group, with as little time as students have, works on a production for four or five —maybe even six weeks, it seems a shame to cut their hard work down to two public showings, especially when one considers that a cast rarely hits its stride until a third performance," Mr. Fisher said.

"What I would like to do is launch a publicity campaign on somewhat of a charity basis. By that, I mean the use of free television and radio openings as guests on interview programs as a means of attracting attention to our productions, which I trust will be worthwhile. Posters, handbills and other media will also be used to fill the college's beautiful Ransburg Auditorium for three performances."

The choice of the full-length plays which will be open to the public depends upon the talent, ambition and abilities of the students with whom he will be working, the new play director said. He was uncertain what longer plays he would select for production, but he would like to present his own so far unproduced play, "The Delicately Wounded," and Eugene O'Neill's "Ah, Wilderness!" He said he began writing his own play while studying at England's University of Birmingham and finished it at the University of Michigan "as a sort of substitute master's thesis.

Mr. Fisher earned his bachelor of arts degree in speech and theater at Kalamazoo College in 1963, then went to Michigan. After getting his master's degree there in 1964, he taught speech and drama last year at Culver-Stockton College in Missouri.

He has spent five consecutive summers in professional stock companies as an apprentice, actor, director and technician at the Ledges Playhouse in 1960; the Berkshire Festival in 1961; the Royal Shakespearean Theater at Stratford-on-Avon, where he both worked and studied while attending the University of Birmingham on a scholarship; the Irish Hills Playhouse in 1963; and the Festival Playhouse of Kalamazoo in 1964. "Working in educational theater is rewarding," Fisher said in conclusion. "College administrations are usually kind about doing shows of literary merit as well as of an experimental nature. That's what theater in the United States needs in order to be kept as alive and beautiful a thing as it is in Europe. I hope I can bring that quality to the stage at Indiana Central."

Wedding Bells

Arnold W. Traylor, N93, and Ver- ona East were married June 26, 1965, at the Winona Lake Bible Conference Grounds in the Prayer Chapel, Warsaw, Indiana. Mrs. Traylor has her bachelor's degree in religious education from Northern Baptist Seminary, Chicago, and an MS degree from Indiana University. Arnold is teaching junior high school mathematics in the New Bremen School, New Bremen, Ohio.

Dorothea Alford, X60, was married August 28, 1965, to James J. Davidson, a graduate student at Purdue. After a year of working in the office of the President of Pratt Institute, she is now a full-time student at Purdue working toward a B.F.A. degree with a major in Advertising Design. The couple live at 402 Northwestern Avenue, Apt. 208, Lafayette, Indiana.

Arlene M. Buskirk, '60, and Reverend Bruce Lenich were married September 11, 1965, at Nine Mile EUB Church, Fort Wayne, Indiana. Reverend Lenich is pastor of the Hempfield EUB Church, Lancaster, Pennsylvania. The couple live at 3950 Marietta Avenue, Lancaster, Pennsylvania.

David Milhouse, '63, and Martha Catlin, '65, were married on July 25, 1965, at the Azalea, Indiana. Friends Church by Bishop Paul Milhouse, father of the groom. Parents of the bride are Ernest, N36, and Mrs. Catlin.

Malinda Wiles, '64, and Philip Lutes, '65, were married July 4, 1965, in the EUB Church at Paxton, Illinois. Joan Delle Brown, '64, was organist and Sue Findley, '66, sang. The couple now live at 1810 Harvard Boulevard, Dayton, Ohio, where Philip is studying at the United Seminary.

Mrs. Eloise Eviston McCormick, '29, and Justin Marshall, '29, were married July 3, 1965, in the University Heights EUB Church.

George A. Marshall, '59, and Carol L. Robinson of Winchester, Indiana, were married April 23, 1965, in the Third Christian Church of Indianapolis. Mrs. Marshall was graduated from Indiana University in 1965 and is now doing graduate work in social work in Indianapolis. The couple live at Rural Route 1, Franklin.

Reva Elizabeth Sattison, ADS64, and Douglas Alan Stith, a graduate of Purdue University, were married November 13 in the First Evangelical United Brethren Church of Butler, Indiana. The couple will live at 6200 East 11th Street, Indianapolis.

My best wishes for your merry Christmases and your happy New Years, your long lives and your true prosperities. Worth twenty pound good if they are delivered as I send them. Remember! Here's a final prescription added, "To be taken for life."

Area Club Activities

Northern Illinois Area

The Chicago-Northern Illinois Area Alumni Club met on October 19, 1965 at the Sweden House Restaurant in Naperville, Illinois. Thirty-two alumni met for supper and fellowship. Under the leadership of club President George Jacobs, '42, the group had an informal hospitality session prior to eating a delicious smorgasbord. President Esch was the featured speaker at an informative and entertaining program. The group heard about progress at Indiana Central and responded with many questions about their alma mater. President Jacobs announced that the club would hold its next meeting on April 30, 1966 at the home of Glen and Marilyn Merritt Wahrlich in Crystal Lake, Illinois. The meeting will be a family get together with a picnic planned for members.

Southeastern Indiana

The New Albany Area Club held a pitch-in picnic meeting in the delightful surroundings of the Harrison County Forestry near Corydon on Sunday, September 19, 1965. Club president Joe Pezzullo, '54, conducted an informal meeting and heard information about the college from Director of Alumni Relations, Dean Ransburg. After election of new officers, Mr. Pezzullo encouraged the club to consider a trip to Indianapolis and a formal banquet during the winter. Newly elected president Dorothy Miller, '48, has set January 8, 1966 for a trip to the campus. The club members, with four new facilities, have a short meeting, and eat supper with students from southern Indiana who are enrolled. The day will conclude with the attendance at the I.C.C.-Franklin basketball game.

The club is planning for a dinner meeting at Pfrimmer's Chapel during late March or April for alumni and prospective students. Other officers elected by the 33 members in attendance were: David Elliott, '51, vice president; and Rosemary Springer, '55, secretary. The club includes alumni and friends from Clark, Crawford, Floyd and Harrison counties in Indiana and Louisville, Kentucky.

Southwestern Indiana

A series of conflicts on November 19 has resulted in the rescheduling of the meeting originally planned on that date by the Evansville Area Alumni. At this writing it appears that the next meeting will be held on Friday evening, January 21, 1966. Complete details will be mailed to area alumni as soon as arrangements have been completed. Alumni and friends in the Evansville area are encouraged to save the date on their calendars for the meeting.

North Central Indiana

A group of 25 alumni and friends convened in South Bend on Saturday evening, November 6. Light refreshments were served. President Gene Mogle, '40, conducted an election of officers for the coming year with the following results: President, Richard Snellenberger, '62; Vice President, Russell "Bud" Hatfield, '31, and Secretary, Garth Shepherd, '46. Plans were made for a pitch-in picnic meeting at Pottawattamie Park on June 12, 1965.

Director of Alumni Relations, Dean Ransburg discussed a laundry list of alumni responsibilities and possibilities. Prior to closing, the club set November 12, 1966 for the next formal dinner meeting and sang "Happy Birthday" to past president Mogle. The South Bend Area Club includes alumni and friends in Elkhart, LaPorte, Marshall, Starke and St. Joseph counties.

West Central Indiana

The Muncie-Anderson Area Club has made plans for a group meeting in Anderson on Tuesday evening February 15, 1966. The meeting will be held in the followship hall of Anderson Colonial E.U.B. Church. A chili supper will be served and the group plans to finish in time to attend the Anderson-I.C.C. basketball game at Anderson College. The club is also working on arrangements for a meeting in Muncie during the winter. The club consists of alumni in Madison, Jay, Blackford, Henry, Delaware and Randolph counties.

Indianaapolis Area

The Indianapolis Area Club held a pitch-in picnic meeting Sunday afternoon, September 9, in the campus park north of Wilmore Hall. There was no formal program. After eating, most of the alumni with their families took a tour of the new Lilly Science Hall and the remodeled Administration Building. Ivan Moreman, '50, is president of the group.

Illinois Pastors Visit Central

On Monday, November 8, Illinois ministers of the EUB Church held a meeting in Recital Hall, Fine Arts Center, and met with pre-ministerial students from Illinois.

Departmental Notes

Mrs. Dorothy Munger of the Music Department performed November 12 at Warren Central High School. She will be guest soloist for the Warren H. S. orchestra, playing the Rhapsody in Blue by George Gershwin.

A delightful program entitled "A Look at Hebrew Music" was given at the convocation of October 25 by the quartet of the Hebrew Temple. The quartet was made up of Farrell Scott, tenor, of the voice department of Indiana Central, Tom McCormick, '61, bass, of the voice department of Washington High School, Helen Woodin, '46, alto, music instructor in Perry Township Schools, and Doris Prince, soprano.

Earl G. Snellenberger, instructor in art, drew all of the numerous illustrations for "Creative Writing," recently published by the Indianapolis Public Schools as a supplement to the Language Arts Guide for teachers from Kindergarten through grade 12. The 86-page book is printed in two colors.

Raymond E. Warden, Jr., Associate Professor of English and Director of Freshman English, attended and served as a discussion leader for the Conference on the Status of English Teaching, August 27-28.

The conference, sponsored by the National Council of Teachers of English, Indiana Council of Teachers of English, met at the Sheraton-Lincoln Hotel in Indianapolis. The central theme of the conference was "Proud New Patterns."

Dr. Richard Corbin, National president of NCTE, was the keynote speaker. Dr. Corbin is from Hunter College High School in New York City.

There were several study group sessions including topics such as new patterns in teaching composition, in reading, in linguistics. The second study session centered on the English curriculum. Professor Warden was discussion leader for the section on "Sequentia Units in Literature."

THE ALUMNI NEWS WISHES YOU A VERY MERRY CHRISTMAS AND PROSPEROUS NEW YEAR

Heap on more wood!—the wind is chill; But let it whistle as it will. We'll keep our Christmas merry still. —"Marmion," Scott
In Memoriam

Miss Mary E. Morgan, B.S. '30, died Sunday, November 14, in Methodist Hospital, Indianapolis. A native of Franklin, she had taught in several schools for 40 years. She retired six years ago as principal of Public School 10. She had a degree also from Butler University. Survivors include a brother, Dr. W. P. Morgan, Professor Emeritus of Biology of Indiana Central, and an ICC alumnus of the class of 1919; Mrs. Winfred Pellett, '30; and Wilbur K. Pellett, '37.

Funeral services were held in Flanner and Buchanan Fall Creek Mortuary. Burial was in Crown Hill Cemetery.

Darline Landis (Mrs. George) Giffin, x45, died November 12 in her home at 418 South Fifth Street, Princeton, Illinois, of a broken neck as a result of a fall on the stairs. She was a daughter of Dr. O. F. Landis, Illinois trustee of Indiana Central, and the sister of Darrell M. Landis x55 and Norvan L. Landis x51.

Shirley Ruth O'Dell Andress '30, of Lubbock, Texas, died October 13, a victim of cancer. She is survived by her husband Donald, D.D.S., a son, Perry Don 10, and two daughters, Sheryl 2 1/2 and Allison 7 months. She is the daughter of Reverend Ralph and Alma Noblitt O'Dell '32 of 1003 Princeton Place, Cleburne, Texas, and the granddaughter of Dr. and Mrs. Lorin S. Noblitt of Columbus, Indiana, and Bradenton, Florida, both former professors at Indiana Central.

Clarence R. Settlemyre, x32, died May 6, 1964 at his desk while serving as mayor of Logansport.

G. Victor Bernardini, M.D., '25, of San Diego, California, died March 16, 1963.

Paul and Lucy Brown Alexander, '49, Taichung University, Taichung, Taiwan, lost both their sons within a period of 34 days. Because their friends will want to know the details Paul's letter is copied verbatim:

Tanghui University

September 22, 1965

Dear Loving Family and Friends:

This brief note assures you that life for us goes on, filled with love and promise. Through tears and laughter we can always say to the Lord, "All my springs are in Thee." Psalm 87:7.

Stevie had an unusual ability to see things as a whole and surprised us with some of his writing and projects. But Phil just seemed to fit through life spreading joy with the momentary surprises. I had been calling him my absent-minded professor, and he was proud to find this note of resemblance between us. I still think he was caught in one of those disappearing acts down the pillbox shaft when his hands slipped from the ladder rung. Now we are treasuring these gifts of God through our sons: seeing things as a whole; and finding joy in the surprises of the present moment.

Your words of comfort have been precious simply because they are your words and they remind us of the intertwining of our lives with yours in myriad ways of growth and responsibility. You have shared with us the joy and the sorrow of life. We know so well the difficulty of writing at such times because we have failed so miserably in the past. Now we realize how much the "late" letters are a blessing as the days pass and the mail continues to bring you to us.

Miss Cravens, it is good to hear from you. I hope that Lucy's folks have shared some of our letters with you. If not, pay them a visit.

We think of you often.

Love
Paul & Lucy

Ephesians 1
Stephen Carl—12/21/54/8/20/65

On August 14, the second evening of our vacation in Hualien on the East Coast, Stevie complained of a slight headache. After 36 hours he developed nausea and we took him to the Mennonite Christian Hospital nearby for thorough examination. A white count of 20,000 and other symptoms suggested meningitis or encephalitis. He had his first convolution at 4 p.m. August 18 and stopped his own breathing at 6 a.m. August 19. A U.S. Navy plane with a navy pediatrician flew from Taipei to take Stevie, Lucy and me to Taipei to an iron lung at the National Taiwan University Hospital by 1 p.m. Stevie was in a deep coma until his heart stopped at 6:30 p.m. August 20. His medical care was excellent. This virus is passed by a mosquito which is active in the summer, usually from about 4-7 p.m. outdoors.

September 17 three classmates stayed overnight with Phil. They had a gay time and Phil wanted to show them the old Japanese military pillbox about a mile up the hill. Saturday at noon I went with them for a picnic lunch. Phil and two of the other boys climbed up into the main floor where an open shaft with iron rungs set in concrete dropped down about 50 feet into a sloping-stairway tunnel which opened about 50 yards away. Phil had been there before with our family and was familiar with it. While the rest of us were passing binoculars and lunch boxes through the window, Phil must have decided to hide down the ladder a few feet and slipped. One of the boys heard something and called out, "Where's Phil?" I sent the boys for help and ran down the pitch black tunnel stairway to where Phil lay unconscious and moaning with each breath. In anguish of despair I cried out to Jesus for help as I carried him up the dark passageway. About halfway up my awareness of God's presence turned my words to thanksgiving and praise as I offered Phil into God's care. The college car took Phil to Dr. Nielson's small hospital in Taichung where Dr. Wilkerson of our Mission helped take care of him. Phil's blood pressure continued to fall until he died at 3:45 p.m. of internal damages.

Philip Daniel—12/31/56/9/18/65

The Alumni Association send sincerest sympathy to Paul and Lucy, who are serving in Taiwan (Free China). Details of their work will appear in the February issue of the NEWS.

Dr. Bogle Chairman of Dedication

Dr. Victor N. Bogle, '47, director of the Indiana University Kokomo campus, was chairman for the dedication Friday, October 12, of the new $1,000,000 Kokomo campus.
ICC Faculty Grows

Thirteen new faces appeared at the first faculty meeting in September. Some of these replace former members who have either resigned or are on leave. Others are added to the faculty to care for the increased enrollment. They are:

Nancy Tagge, Part-time Instructor in English; B.S., 1960, University of Wisconsin; M.A., 1965, Northwestern University.

Marilyn Waterman, Instructor in Nursing; R.N., Lutheran Hospital School of Nursing; B.S. in Nursing, 1960, Arizona School of Nursing.

Knoepfle Appears On Sutphin Lecture Series

As guest for the first session in the 1965-66 Samuel A. Sutphin Lecture series, poet John Knoepfle was on the Indiana Central College campus Thursday and Friday, November 4 and 5.

Mr. Knoepfle spoke and read his and other poets' works to the student body in convocation sessions both days. On Thursday evening at 7:30 he read to an invitational audience of college and high school English teachers and other guests. The reading was in Recital Hall of the Leah Ransburg Fine Arts Center.

Besides the convocation on Friday, Mr. Knoepfle met with Professor Raymond Warden's creative writing class at 12:15 p.m. and with his American literature class at 2:05. These sessions were also held in the Recital Hall.

Mr. Knoepfle (pronounced No-ful) was born in Cincinnati in 1923 and obtained his Master's degree from Xavier University. He served in the Navy at Iwo Jima and Okinawa, worked as a producer-director for an educational television station, taught English for eight years at the Ohio State University, Southern Illinois University, and Maryville College, near St. Louis, Missouri.

Mr. Knoepfle has published his poems in some thirty poetry and literary publications, including The Yale Review, Quartet, Fleur de Lis, Commonweal, Genesis West and Poetry. He has written outstanding articles for several well-known publications such as The Shakespeare Newsletter, Abstracts in English Studies and Midcontinent American Studies Journal. The author has also contributed to several anthologies and was co-author of two books of poetry.

The poet has made a collection of fifty one-hour tape recordings of the recollections of steamboaters of the inland rivers. gathered during the years 1954-60. Noted for lectures and readings of his poetry, Mr. Knoepfle has appeared at many colleges and universities including Notre Dame U., Washington U., Westminster College, and Marymount College.
ICC Sports Review

The Indiana Central Greyhound football squad terminated one of the finest sports campaigns in many seasons with a 40-27 shellacking of Hooiser College conference rival Manchester on the University Heights gridiron November 15.

This victory was ICC's fifth in a row on the home field against no losses for the year, and it enabled the Hounds to take third place in the HCC with a 3-2 conference slate. All 3 of ICC's losses were incurred in away-from-home contests.

Ironically, coach Paul Velez's squad had the only winning record (6-3) in overall play in the HCC, but was bettered in conference wars by both champ Anderson (4-1) and Taylor (3-1-1).

Dave Smith, the 170-pound junior halfback, compiled 563 yards on the ground and another 505 yards on pass receptions in addition to tallying nine touchdowns in leading the Greyhound offense for the year. Dan Nicolson, son of ICC athletic director and basketball mentor Angus Nicolson, was one of the leading passers in the HCC with a total of 984 passing yards and 8 touchdown passes thrown.

Coach Velez will find 11 faces missing next year when fall football practice begins in 1966. Senior footballers who will receive their diplomas next June are Maurice Barnes and Dick Cummings, both tackles; linebackers Dick Elmore and Steve Maple; captain and guard George Friell, a 1964-all-NAIA and all-HCC choice; defensive end John Gruner; offensive ends Steve Lemmen and Vaseo Walton, ICC MVP two seasons ago; center Herb Lepper; fullback Tom Patterson; and place-kicker Meredith Payne.

Coach Bill Bright garnered his fifth HCC cross-country title in eight years as his Harriers outdistanced the field in the conference meet at South Grove golf course October 27.

The Hounds thinned compiled a fine 7-1 dual meet record for the year on their way to the conference title.

Freshman Fritz Hohlt and sophomore Dennis Grider, former Indiana high school champion, finished second and fourth, respectively, in the conference meet to lead ICC to the crown.

The only senior on the squad, Butch Mozingo, finished seventh in the race and third for the Hounds.

Coach Bob McKinney, who led the ICC tennis team to a third and two second place finishes in his three previous years at the helm, originated a young and comparatively inexperienced group this season but still managed to grab a third in the HCC. The squad compiles an over-all record of 2-4.

Senior members of the squad were Rick Showalter and Don Tiano.

Traveling Professor Visits Alumni

Professor James A. Weber on his trip around the world last summer had pleasant visits with Indiana Central alumni. He had dinner with Mary Klonis and family in Athens, 19 Klou Str. Mary has her Ph.D. in physics and is teaching. Her father is an attorney.

While in Formosa (Taiwan) he was entertained by Paul Alexander, '49, and his wife, the former Lucy Brown, '49. Prof. Weber says it was fun to meet with the Alexander children (See In Memoriam) and eat a real Chinese meal with chop sticks. Paul is teaching in Tunghai University at Tai-chung. In addition to teaching he bands birds for our government and studies rice paddies frogs. In Hawaii Professor Weber had an opportunity to meet with Betty Lam, '50, and her family. Betty teaches in first grade and her husband is principal of an elementary school of 1,200 pupils. They have a beautiful new home and three delightful children.

McIntosh Registered As Sanitarian

Joseph W. McIntosh, '58, recently received certification as a Registered Sanitarian at the Indiana State Board of Health. The basic intent of the registration is to upgrade the quality of services by local and public health personnel in Indiana. The sanitary has rapidly become a key figure in the field of preventive medicine and public health. Mr. McIntosh is currently Supervisor of Special Services and Educational Director for the Bureau of Environmental Health of the Marion County Health and Hospital Corporation.
