Indiana Central Offers Master's Degree

Indiana Central is offering this fall its first graduate program.

The North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools has approved the program. The Division of Teachers Education and Certification of the Department of Public Instruction has taken similar action.

In anticipation that the graduate program would be approved before the opening of college in the fall, President Esch took steps to be ready to place the program in effect immediately. The Division is responsible to Dr. Robert E. Cramer, academic dean, who, with Dr. Esch is an ex officio member of the council.

Dr. Robert E. McBride, who was chairman of the faculty and administrative staff committee which drafted the graduate program, was named chairman of the Graduate Council but later resigned to become academic dean at Albright College. Dr. Leonard T. Grant of the history faculty has been named active chairman of the council to replace Dr. McBride.

The master’s degree program is designed to emphasize Indiana Central’s liberal arts tradition. Half of the 32 hours of credit required for the advanced degree will be selected from a liberal arts core and the other half in the area of the student’s specialization.

During the first year, at least, graduate classes will be offered only at night, with a more extensive offering in the 1967 summer session. The plan would enable a teacher, for example, to continue his full time employment and within 2½ to 3 years also earn a master’s degree.

Thanks To Dr. Walker
The one original painting hanging in the rooms of the Schwitzer Center is the work and gift of Dr. Mildred Walker and hangs in the office of the executive secretary of the Alumni Association. It is on the theme of the story of Icarus. Mildred writes: "The theme is of interest to me because it seems to encompass so much of vision, daring and sometimes un-wisdom, and the penalty of foolishness. The painting that I am sending to you is entitled 'Post Volante.' My feeling in this one is that, after the flight (ill-starred by Icarus' general pig-headed disregard for common sense) the shattered bird-man is absorbed by the earth."

Dr. Walker A.B. '36 earned her Master of Fine Arts Degree from the University of Southern California in 1947 and later her Ph.D. from the same institution. While teaching in the Martinsville and Ft. Wayne schools, she did graduate work at John Herron Art School, Chicago Art Institute, and Columbia University. She has since 1948 been head of the art department of El Camino College, Los Angeles. She has traveled widely in Europe and Africa to gather material for her pictures, which have been shown in a number of exhibits in Indiana, Chicago, Los Angeles and other cities.

Her gift is greatly appreciated and admired.

Former Student Receives Award
Rodney Scott x65, 5119 Fishburg Rd., Dayton, Ohio, was selected to receive the SPIRIT OF DAYTON AWARD for the week of July 3, 1966. The citation reads: "We of the GREATER DAYTON JAYCEES have joined forces with WONE to salute you for your contribution and dedication to the youth of our community in promoting juvenile decency instead of juvenile delinquency."

Mrs. House Appointed Dean Of Women

Mrs. Ruth House, who has been associate dean of women and assistant professor of Education, has been appointed dean of women to succeed Miss Mary Huey, who died May 24 of this year.

Mrs. House received her bachelor of arts degree from Whittier College in 1962 and a master’s degree in education there in 1965. While teaching in the Whittier High School she also engaged in student counseling. For ten years she was a counselor in a family YMCA summer camp.

Alumni Day

We were disappointed that no member of 50th anniversary class could be present on Alumni Day. There were five graduates in 1916, the late Bishop Fred L. Dennis and four women: Dr. Sibyl Weaver, who on that day was in Cairo, Egypt; Mrs. Lucile Cummins Eaton of Dekalb, Ill.; Mrs. Jessie Hanger Ellwanger of Selma, Ala.; and Mrs. Anna Hardy Myers of Plainville, Ind.

President Esch finds something amusing.

Of the 41 living members of the class of 1941, nineteen were present for the activities of the day. Three of the class made the supreme sacrifice for their country during WW II. They were Emerson Barker, Darrell Ratliff and Walter Brennanmen.

Those present were Wavelene Babitt, missionary to Africa four terms and now teacher of English in the Battle Creek, Michigan schools; Mrs. Mark (Mabel Mitchell) Braford, homemaker; Rev. Kenneth Brooks, Illinois Pastor; Dr. Donald Emery, school superintendent; Ralph M. Frey, director of personnel, U. S. Rubber; M. K. Holzhausen, school principal; Mrs. Robert (Clarena Schlegel) Huffman, teacher of English, Indianapolis Schools; Ruth Chambers Meader, homemaker of Fowler, Ind.; Martha Langston Mills, homemaker of Winchester, Ind.; Mrs. James (Harriet Hancock) Piepenbrock, homemaker and teacher of 3rd grade, Acton, Ind.; Cloyd C. Rose, Allison Division of General Motors; Lois Moyer Schauwecker, homemaker, Greencastle; Howard Zimmerman, Indianapolis school principal; Alva E. Stoneburner, U. S. Rubber; Harvey M. Showalter, Internal Revenue; Henrietta Rider Showalter, homemaker; Tracy Turner, teacher; Francis Wilcoxon, insurance; Rev. E. Leon Willhite, Illinois pastor.

Two Alumni Highlight Commencement Activities

The addresses of two prominent ICC alumni made the 1966 commencement week-end especially interesting.

Dr. Donald G. Emery ’41, a member of the silver anniversary class and superintendent of schools at Searsdale, N.Y., addressed the alumni con-vocation on Alumni Day. His interesting and challenging subject was “Where is Education Going?”

Wayne E. Babler ’35 of St. Louis, vice president and general counsel of the Southwestern Telephone Company, gave the commencement address and spoke of the inevitability of change. He said, “Change there will always be, but it will be in a new direction, never backward.” He went on to say, “I think you can safely believe that whatever goal man dreams of today can become reality tomorrow. Whatever you think today should be accomplished can be achieved by some one some day. . . . This means you do not have to accept the world as it is. You have the opportunity to take part in the reshaping of the world, changing it to what you dream it should be.”

Thank You

I am taking this means of thanking the alumni and other friends who made the dedication day of Schwitzer Center, the day I was given the honorary degree of Doctor of Humanities, so wonderful for me. Thank you for your generous applause, your congratulations, your flowers, and, above all, for the hundreds of letters of appreciation for my many years of service as dean of women and executive secretary of the Indiana Central College Alumni Association. I have spent almost two-thirds of my working years on the Indiana Central campus. They have been happy years, spent in pleasant surroundings and with cultured students and faculty. For all this I am thankful every day. I hope I may be allowed to continue my work with you. I wish I could express my appreciation in a better way, but all I can say is that I thank you sincerely.

Sesquicentennial Salute Opens Artist Series
Indiana Central will open its annual Artist Series with a Cole Porter musical revue as part of its observance of Indiana's sesquicentennial and close with the Four Saints. In between will be a Shakespearean comedy, a troupe of singers and dancers from Ireland, and a soprano from Brazil.

"The Decline and Fall of the Entire World as Seen Through the Eyes of Cole Porter, Revisited" will be presented on Saturday night October 8. Ben Bagley has combined Porter tunes with a narrative to form this revue containing many of the popular words and tunes of the late Hoosier composer.

The four other numbers on the Artist Series will be on Friday night. All will be in Ransburg Auditorium except the final event. It is anticipated that the popularity of the Four Saints will necessitate using the gymnasium.

Season tickets cost $10 and single admission $3. There is a special rate of $6 and $2, respectively, for students.

The second program will be "Much Ado About Nothing," presented by the National Shakespeare Company on Nov. 4. This is the same group which was seen at Indiana Central last year in "As You Like It." It was formed four years ago to present quality productions of culturally significant dramatic literature on national tours. A majority of its appearances are on college campuses.

The Four Saints will close the series on April 21. They have been entertaining together for a dozen years, and are well known for their personal and television appearances and recordings. They began as a barber shop quartet in high school and remained together through college and professionally since.

Sports

Coach Paul E. Velez views the 1966 football season as a year to rebuild. In his four previous years in this job he learned what it meant to be too optimistic early in the season. Last year was his first winning one, when the Greyhounds won six and lost three games.

Velez lost 12 players and their departure was felt especially in the offensive line. He has had to rebuild both his defensive and offensive lines.

One advantage is that every player on the 1966 squad was recruited personally by Velez. Another is that he has two full time assistant coaches, Ed Dwyer and Jack Stabler. And they have 25 freshmen to augment the core of experienced sophomores.

Even though the team lost its opening game at Otterbein 19-7, the coaches still hope for another winning season and perhaps even a chance at the Hoosier Conference championship, which it hasn't held since 1960. Its victory over Rose Poly Saturday, September 24, 1966, 32-7 bolsters this hope.

The cross country team, directed by Bill Bright, will be led by Fritz Hohlt, who led it to the conference championship last year as a freshman. Five other lettermen are back, and Bright has five talented freshmen also.

Bob McKinney, tennis coach, has his top seven players back and hopes to build around them a HCC championship contender. Outstanding sophomore Willard Mays, who won the Indianapolis city championship his last year in high school.

On Saturday September 24, Marian outplayed Central in tennis 4-3, and in cross-country DePauw outran Central leaving the ICC harriers in second place.

An Important Milestone

The dedication of the Louis Schwitzer Center April 30, 1966, was an important milestone in life of Indiana Central College. It is not only a house of beauty but it fills some long felt needs for more rooms. While the renovation of the Administration Building, the new Academic Hall, the Physical Education Building, and the Lilly Science Hall have furnished sufficient class rooms and faculty offices, there was not sufficient library space nor space for other offices and student activities. There are now in the Center on the main floor the kitchen, the large dining room and three small dining rooms, which by means of folding walls can be made into a larger room for special occasions; a faculty lounge, a spacious room for gathering before meals and a meditation chapel. On the ground floor are offices of the dean of students, the dean of women, the director of public relations, the director of development, the executive secretary of the Alumni Association, the director of alumni relations, three offices for secretaries, all surrounding a large alumni lounge. Also on this floor are four small conference rooms, the post office, the book store, the snack room, a recreation room for students, and an unbelievably large student lounge, which by folding walls is usually divided into three rooms.

On the second floor are four conference rooms, which can be made into one large room, and a kitchenette.

On the east side are six guest rooms, entered only from the outside and in charge of the house mother of Dailey Hall.

Visitors never fail to exclaim over the beauty of the rooms and the furnishings, the most attractive of which are the portrait of Mrs. Schwitzer painted especially to hang over one of the fireplaces, the windows of the chapel designed by Professor Boyce of the art department, and the mosaic made by the students in the art department.

Truly a great debt of gratitude is owed to the Schwitzers.
