R. N.—Class of 1967

We are indeed proud of the 1967 nursing graduates!

Many of you may not be aware of the fact that nursing graduates must pass a state licensing examination in order to be licensed as an R.N. This is a series of five tests covering the area of medical, surgical, pediatric, obstetric, and psychiatric nursing. Each test consists of approximately 150 questions. One day and a half is needed to complete this series. The passing score for each test is 350.

It is indeed a pleasure to share with you the results of this year’s class. Of the 25 graduates writing there was only one failure and this was only in one test, surgical nursing. This is the best record we have had since we started our program in 1959!

The top 10 in the class were as follows:

Challenge Fund Established For 1967-68 Roll Call

In order to significantly stimulate Indiana Central Alumni in their support of the Annual Giving Campaign, a challenge fund has been established. The Roll Call Committee under chairman Richard Reamer earlier announced a goal of $35,000, and participation by 1550 graduates by June 30, 1968. At the present time the challenge stands at $4,000 for the Alumni Association if these goals are reached by that date. Any contributor who wishes to pledge to the challenge fund may do so by notifying the Alumni Office of the college. Naturally, these would be pledges only and would be honored after the completion of the campaign if it is successful.

Additional stimulation for alumni giving by Indiana alumni came in the form of legislation by the 1967 Indiana State Assembly. That law making body enacted a state tax credit up to $50 for donors to their colleges. This is explained to Indiana alumni in a recent mailing from Indiana Central College. If you failed to get yours, please notify the Alumni Office, and one will be sent out immediately. THIS APPLIES TO YOUR 1967 TAX RETURN. The new law makes it possible for alumni to give more this year—up to $50 without taking any more from their pocketbooks.

This change is necessitated by the recent fire in the Claypool Hotel.

Central Plans Athletic Facilities For All Students

Angus Nicolson, athletic director at I.C.C., has said that improvements which are being made in the sports activities area on the north side of the campus will benefit all students when completed.

The changes will provide more intramural sports fields for both men and women students, Nick said. The area will be laid out for various sports for fall and spring.

The improvements include a new football practice field and a larger baseball diamond, which will be farther from the streets bounding the campus. A new fence gives the college closer control over the tennis courts.

Nick explained that the work is being paid for by private donations and the profits of concessions operated by the Booster Club.

Nathan Wooden, dean of students, reported that the Dads Association is buying a baseball scoreboard for the new diamond.

Nicoson remarked that, since the gymnasium was opened in 1960, the Booster Club and individual contributors have invested $75,000 in improved athletic facilities.

Alumni Day 1967

Reminiscent of former President Good's repeated characterization of the coming college year as hopefully being the "biggest and best," we can say the same about the last Alumni Day. We can say the biggest because many more alumni were on the campus than in any previous year. We can say the best because the classes had made more preparation for the day and, consequently, enjoyed themselves more. The classes with the most members present were those of 1927 and 1942, those celebrating their fortieth and twenty-fifth anniversaries.

The two members of the fiftieth anniversary class were unable to be present because of living far away in the western states, Allan B. Good in Long Beach, CAL. and A. E. Wake in Spokane, WA.

Leolin Long and Herschel Adams were responsible for "rounding up" those of the class of 1927 who celebrated their 40th anniversary: Alletah Eash Catt, Olive Howe Fosha, Thelma Petty Schmalzried, Xena Martin McCune, Herschel E. Adams, Othniel Catt, Charles E. McCune, Leolin E. Long, Arthur Knapp, Dick Lenore Gilliatt Gill, Rev. J. C. Stadler, Mae McCoy, Russell Hiatt, G. Shubert Frye, Oscar Valentine, Maynard Mylin, Lorin L. Rapp, George C. Vance, and Mary Maby Carpenter. (We sorely regret that the films for the pictures of this class have been lost.)

1967 Grads Continue Study

In accord with the trend of the times, an ever increasing number of college graduates continue to study in graduate school. Those we know from the class of 1967 are: Stanley Ray Adkins, I. U. School of Medicine; Larry James Darlage, Iowa State University, assistant in chemistry; Conniante Dorville, I. U. School of Business; Henry E. Max Gorvie, Ball State University; Jack Hartman, United Theological Seminary for master's degree in theology; $900 fellowship; L. Brian Huehls, Univ. of Illinois for architecture; Dorothy Jensen, Graduate School of Western Michigan, elementary education; Jeffery J. Kellams, I. U. School of Medicine; Patricia Ann Lahr, Brigham Young University at Provo, Utah to work toward a Ph.D. in clinical psychology, scholarship and teaching assistantship; Richard Leiter, I. U. Medical School; Larry Swift, Vanderbilt Univ. graduate assistant in chemistry, fellowship under National Defense Education Act; Donald E. Timano, DePauw Graduate School, physics assistantship; Marvin P. Toenjes, I. U.
