Legion Award Will Go To Emery

Richard E. Emery '38, Principal of Harry E. Wood High School, Indianapolis, has been named recipient of the 11th District American Legion's outstanding citizen award, and will be presented a plaque at a banquet to be held February 22 at the Indianapolis Athletic Club.

Joseph Quill, chairman of the banquet, said Emery was selected on the basis of "his outstanding career as an educational director, as well as his community service activities."

His community services include chairmanship of the Governor's Youth Council of Indiana; member of the Mayor's Committee on Juvenile Affairs for Indianapolis, serving from 1956 to the present; member of the Indiana Mental Health Commission Planning Advisory; member of the National Association of Secondary Principals; member of the Regional Interviewing Committee for International Teacher Exchange; and administrative chairman of Medical Treatment Station 98 for the Red Cross.

In addition, he is a member of the Board of Sponsors of the Indiana Central College School of Nursing; member of the Board of Associates of Rose Polytechnic Institute; vice-president of Madison Avenue Businessmen's Association and member of the board and vice-president of Greater Southside Inc.

Hillis Promoted by Insurance Company

Seaborn, “Seab,” Hillis ’57 joined the Franklin Life Insurance Company following seven years as a teacher in the Indiana school system. He represented Franklin as General Agent in Indianapolis until September, 1966, when he was promoted to Associate Midwest Sales Director for the Central Illinois Division.

Seab launched his Franklin career in 1964 as Special Representative in Indianapolis, and under the direction of Russell Willsey ’33, area manager, Seab met immediate success. Challenged in 1965 with recruiting and training duties, he developed in a single year an organization ranking 16th nationally in sales and at the same time his 1965 personal sales qualified him for title of Certified Applicant for the Million Dollar Round Table. Then this past September he was named by President Hatmaker to the post of Associate Midwest Sales Director.

In short, says the Franklin Life Insurance Company, “he is a master salesman—a salesman of whom Franklin and the industry can be most proud.”

Centralites may remember that Seab while a student here coached the reserve basketball team, which never lost a game in a 21-game schedule.

Concertmaster of Symphony to Teach at ICC

Arthur Tabachnick, the new concertmaster of the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra, joined the Indiana Central music faculty at the start of the second semester, February 1.

Lowell Boroughs, chairman of the Music Department, announced that Tabachnick would teach violin. Tabachnick joined the Indianapolis orchestra at the start of the 1966-67 season. He received degrees of bachelor of music education and master of music at Roosevelt University, Chicago, and has been a member of the music faculties of Northwestern University and the National Music Camp, Interlochen, Mich. His interest in music became apparent when he was only four years old, and soon thereafter his formal training in violin began. He won both the National High School Contest and National Music Camp scholarship in 1955.

He studied and gave concerts in the Midwest until 1939, when he earned a Juilliard scholarship and went to New York to study with Mischa Mischakoff. During this period he was a member of the National Symphony Orchestra.

Returning to Chicago, he became concertmaster of the Illinois Symphony Orchestra, which was under the baton of Isler Solomon, now Musical director and conductor of the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra.

More recently he was a staff artist with WGN Chicago, appearing as soloist on national radio and television programs; was associate concertmaster of the Lyric Opera and Grant Park summer concert orchestras at Chicago; and was concertmaster of the Chicago Chamber Orchestra and the Clebanoff Strings. He was violinist with the Lyric Trio and the Chicago Chamber Guild Quartet, which he had founded, at the time of his accepting his position with the Indianapolis orchestra last summer.

Brief Account of 50 Year Alumnus

After graduating from ICC I spent sixteen months in the Army Ordnance Department in World War I. We came to Long Beach, Calif. in 1920. I became associated with one of the largest hardwood floor firms in southern California. Upon leaving their employment I went into the floor contracting business for myself, which I continued for 30 years until my retirement in 1960.

Mrs. Good, who was then Mary Ellen Cleaver, had graduated from the Music Department at ICC in 1916. She was soloist in various churches in Long Beach for 25 years. Our son Dean is Senior Design Engineer with North American Aviation Inc. We have three grandchildren.

We celebrated our 50th wedding anniversary December 1, 1966.

“(Some) One Enchanted Evening”

Their costumes were beautiful; their feet were nimble, their voices were sweet and clear; their offerings were generous and varied. Such was the third number of the 1966-67 Artist Series, FEIS EIREANN, singers, dancers and instrumentalists from Ireland. It can be classed as the best program to appeal to the average audience ever to be given in Ransburg Auditorium. Those who missed it are unfortunate, for they have missed a once-in-a-lifetime entertainment.

The house was filled and the audience showed its appreciation by generous applause after each number. And at the end of the program the applause was longer and more spontaneous than was ever before heard in Ransburg Auditorium.
A Cause for Rejoicing and Taking Stock

The report of the Roll Call for this fiscal year is cause for rejoicing. The report shows a 64% increase over the first six months of last year in dollars and a 67% increase in number of alumni who gave.

There is also a slight increase in the size of the gift. The average gift July 1-Dec. 31 in 1965 was $17.50. In 1966 it was $18.27.

This comes at a time of special need because faculty salaries must be increased, and new members of the faculty must be recruited to keep pace with the increased enrollment.

It is a truism that the development of your college adds to your stature as an alumnus and proportionately, I hope, to your pride in your college. Every alumnus who has contributed to ROLL CALL has found increased happiness in so doing. It is my hope that during the second half of this fiscal year a still greater number of alumni may find increased satisfaction in giving and thereby increase the help to their alma mater.

The president of a neighboring college said at a meeting of alumni: “I will never stop, as long as I am president, in asking for more and more financial support from you for your alma mater because I believe in the service she is giving to her students.”

I feel that way about your alma mater. I believe Indiana Central gave something valuable to you. I believe she is giving more now.

A recent issue of TIME magazine says: “As campus expenses continue to climb, the nation’s institutions of higher learning are stepping up their appeals for private gifts from alumni, corporations and anyone, in fact, who has a dollar to give. What’s more, they are finding the money with surprising ease. Private gifts to the nation’s 50 best-known colleges and universities have jumped at least 50% over 1960-61’s gifts.

Compared with the giving programs of other colleges and universities, Indiana Central’s ROLL CALL is only in its infancy. Let’s more and more of us alumni join the ranks of givers so that our alma mater may more nearly approach what we want her to be.

“A man’s reach should exceed his grasp, Or what’s a heaven for?”

If you have not enrolled in ROLL CALL, won’t you do so before Alumni Day?

Virginia Cravens.

We are in the process of securing class agents to assist us in completing another successful year of Roll Call. At the end of seven months, we are running ahead of last year (see below) and hope to finish strong to make it the greatest Roll Call report in history.
Noted Philosopher Delivered Humanities Lectures

Dr. Paul A. Schilpp, a former president of the American Philosophical Association, gave three lectures on “The Challenge of the World Crisis!” at Indiana Central on Wednesday and Thursday, February 8 and 9.

His opening subtopic was “The Nature of the Crisis,” discussed at the student convocation in Ransburg Auditorium on Wednesday. He spoke on “The Idealogical Nature of the Crisis,” at 7:30 the same day in Recital Hall. His concluding lecture was at another convocation on Thursday at 9:35 a.m. Then he discussed “Ways on Meeting the Crisis.”

During his two days on the campus he held informal discussions with students in the concourse of Schwitzer Center.

These Annual Lectures in the Humanities are endowed by Samuel B. Sutphin, retired chairman of the Board of Beveridge Paper Co. of Indianapolis and its affiliated firms.

Dr. Schilpp was born in Germany and came to the United States as a boy in 1913. He earned a doctor of philosophy degree at Stanford University and holds honorary doctorates from Baldwin-Wallace and Springfield (Mass.) Colleges.

He taught at the Universities of the Pacific and of Puget Sound before serving on Northwestern University’s philosophy faculty from 1936 to 1966. Since then he has been visiting distinguished professor of philosophy at Southern Illinois University. In 1967-68 he will be visiting professor at the University of Bonn, Germany.

The lecturer’s principal concern is the application of philosophy to everyday life.

Dr. Nelson Member of African Study Tour

Professor Roland Nelson of Indiana Central’s History Department was a member during last summer of a group visiting a number of African countries. About a dozen social science professors from mid-west colleges and universities made up the tour group.

The flight arrangements to and from Africa and between the bases there were paid for by the U.S. State Department; major contributions for other expenses was from the Non-Western Studies Program of Indiana University.

Countries visited included Senegal and Nigeria in W. Africa, but most of the summer was spent in E. Africa in these countries: Kenya, Uganda, Tanzania, Malawi and Zambia.

Contacts of many different kinds were made for information: lectures by and interviews with experts at African universities, interviews with cabinet members and other government people in the several countries visited, talks with Americans stationed in these countries in Peace Corps, U.S.A.I.D. (Agency for International Development), Missionaries, professors on two- or three-year assignments at various universities, etc.; visits to government resettlement and cooperative projects, primary and secondary schools, mission Stations, homes of naives, even a copper mine in Northern Zambia; some tourist type sight-seeing, especially on a visit to Victoria Falls and another to the fabulous island of Zanzibar.

Outstanding impressions from the observations in Africa:

1. The infinite variety of Africa; the usual notions about jungles and lions are misleading. Actually a very small proportion of the area is jungle, and there are more African children who have never seen a lion than there are American children who have not.

2. The impressive progress being made by many African countries.

(3) The extremely difficult problems faced: crushing poverty, low standards of nutrition and medical care. (Average income in Malawi is $48 a year.)

(4) At the core of these problems is the bottleneck of education—there is a long, hard, uphill struggle to achieve the real educational progress that is urgently needed. In some countries the rate of illiteracy is actually rising despite desperate efforts to combat it. The population grows faster than the government building of schools can keep up with.

(5) Most disturbing of all, the apparently inevitable coming of explosive violence in the southern African countries where the Africans have not yet won freedom.

(6) As in every country, the leaders are a mixed lot: some superbly competent, some mediocre, some scoundrels. The tour has given a much more sensitive appreciation for Africa as people.

(7) The significance of Africa for America seems to lie most deeply not so much in our aid programs, although these are important, as in our responsibility to continue providing for Africa and the world a convincing example of democracy in action.

ICC Alumni Attend First Ohio School

Reverend D. Charles Elson ’37, pastor of Trinity Methodist Church, New Albany, and Rev. J. Phillip Klinger ’61, pastor of the Methodist Church of Battle Ground, Ind., are participating in the first month-long program of continuing education at Methodist Theological Seminary in Delaware, Ohio. The program is designed to “update” the education of the pastors.

Huffman in Admissions Office

David J. Huffman, ’64, has joined the ICC Admissions Office as assistant director. He works with Lynn Youngblood, ’63, director of admissions.
A Seal Is Designed

Have you ever wondered about the Indiana Central College seal? Where it came from? Who designed it?

It is the result of the work of a committee consisting of Dr. Alvin H. N. A. Schull, treasurer; and Russell Settle, a student. The time was the college year 1925-26.

The Indiana Central College Faculty minutes of January 14, 1926 read:

On Motion of Prof. Stonecipher the following recommendation was approved:

To the faculty of Indiana Central College:

We, the committee appointed to design a seal, recommend one to be made according to the following description and the accompanying illustration:

The seal is to be round with an irregular border. Within a band formed by a small concentric circle shall appear the name “Indiana Central College,” with the date of the founding 1902, in Roman numerals (MDCCCCII). Within the smaller circle and with the points touching the circumference shall be a shield with a lighted torch in the center. In the segment of the circle formed by the top of the shield shall appear in an ornamental band the Latin word “Veritas” and along the two inner-sides and lower part of the shield the Latin phrase “per fidem et scientiam!”

The legend is intended to express the thought that it is the ideal of the college to discover Truth through Faith and Knowledge. The shield is symbolic of Protection and the lighted torch of Truth.

Respectfully submitted,

A. H. M. Stonecipher
N. A. Schull
R. E. Settle
Committee

Dr. Stonecipher suggested the motto. Mr. Schull made the sketches of the torch and shield.

(The following letter from Donald Hilton is reproduced verbatim.)

January 1, 1967

Dear Friends:

“Let’s send out a New Year’s letter instead of Christmas cards this year,” said Mary. “A good idea,” said I and looked at the calendar. (It was December 29) So here it is.

In April we had our last tropical holiday — two week’s vacation near Bombay on the Indian Ocean. In July we packed all our household goods and shipped them to New York. The last day of July we left Nairobi, Kenya via Pan Amer. arriving in New York 21 hours later. A scheduled 2-week stopover in Nigeria to visit my brother Dave and his family in a mission hospital there was canceled for three reasons—our visas never arrived, we discovered we had to be in New Mexico by August 15, and a coup in Nigeria closed the Lagos airport to all traffic. We missed Dave by one day at Kennedy Airport, where his family was embarking for the return to Nigeria after a three-month furlough in the States.

We flew to Detroit where Mary’s brother picked us up and drove up to Gibsonburg, Ohio, where we had a nice visit with the Huston clan. Then we drove to Blue Earth, Minn. where we visited my parents. On to Denver to visit friends made in our seven years there, and then to New Mexico. (See October NEWS, 1954 Personals)

We live in Espanola, a town of about 10,000 people on the Rio Grande River. It was in this area that the Spaniards made their first permanent settlement in the new world, even before the Mayflower. I am teaching science and math in grades 6, 7 and 8 at the McCurdy School, a mission school of the Evangelical United Brethren Church. The students are in grades 1-12. Some are boarders; less than half are of Spanish descent; and many religious denominations are represented.

Since October we have been blessed with the midnight cries (and 2 a.m. and 4 a.m. etc.) of Daniel Lee, who came to join Mark and David in the battle for supremacy of the household.

We traveled to Greenville, Miss., to have Christmas with my brother Bruce, who is director of interpretation for the Delta Ministry — a World and National Council of Churches sponsored program to help the poor people of northwestern Mississippi help themselves. It was our first trip to the South and a real eye opener to us. Most of the news coming out of the South these days is written by the Southern Whites and is neither unbiased nor enlightened. From our short stay there we could not help but observe great similarities in cultural backgrounds in the African living in his mud hut and the Negro in his plantation shack. Yet, from experience we know the African is educable and can quickly overcome many of his limitations of environment. Why not the American Negro?

On the way back to New Mexico we visited some college friends, Jim and Gladys Fisher, who recently were transferred to Shreveport, La., and have learned a lot about the South, too.

Our prayer is that we may all have a challenging 1967.

Our love and prayers,

Sam, Mary, Mark,
Dave and Dan

Crowe Elected Representative

In the November election, Ray Crowe '38 was elected on the Republican ticket as a State Representative to the Indiana General Assembly.
Dr. John at Missouri State

Mary Jane John '44, after working a number of years in the field of education in Indiana, left her native state in 1961 to go to Central Missouri State College in Warrensburg, Missouri, where she became their first director of Special Education.

Dr. John received the Master of Science degree from Indiana State Teachers College (now Indiana State University) and the Doctor of Education degree from Indiana University. She taught in the public schools of Indiana for ten years. For three years she served as Instructor of Education in the Laboratory School of Indiana State Teachers College. While in Indiana, Dr. John was educational consultant for the Audio-Visual Department of Indiana University. She also participated in the development of the Children's Personality Questionnaire—a personality test for young children.

In Central Missouri State College, Dr. John's academic load included many varied courses in the Department of Education and Psychology, such as: Abnormal Psychology, Child and Adolescent Psychology, Psychology of Exceptional Children, and the Teaching of the Mentally Retarded and Mentally Deficient. She also directed a number of summer workshops in Special Education.

Dr. John is the author of the Time Workbook Series and the Clock-Bingo Games, which teach educable mentally retarded children to "tell" time, a basic concept if they are to function efficiently in an adult society.

She is actively participating in a number of organizations whose purpose is to assist the mentally retarded and also the exceptional child.

She has been a visiting professor at the University of Missouri at Kansas City and at the University of Nebraska. She was a guest lecturer at the Western Regional Conference of the Council for Exceptional Children and for the Missouri Consultation on the Church's Ministry with Children of the Missouri Council of Churches. She is presently assistant to the director and a member of the Board of Directors of the Greater Kansas City Foundation for Exceptional Children.

During the summer of 1966 Dr. John initiated and directed a summer school for children with learning difficulties. In conjunction with the school she participated in a workshop for religious educators interested in developing Sunday School experiences for exceptional children.

Seniors Make Student Who's Who

Nineteen Indiana Central seniors will be listed in the 1967 edition of WHO'S WHO Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. They were chosen for this distinction by a faculty committee which considered the students' scholastic standing, their participation and leadership in academic and extra-curricular activities, their general citizenship and service to the college, and their promise of future use to society.

Those honored are Robert D. Berry, a Noblesville High School graduate; Michael W. Bertram of Haubstadt, Ind.; Christina G. Blumhardt, Indianapolis; Rebecca Chambers, Ft. Wayne; Susan Coombs, Cleveland Hts., Ohio; Conniannear Dorville, Indianapolis; Bonnie Gates, Indianapolis; Cheryl Hodges, Indianapolis; Richard D. Huey, Portland, Ind.; Johanna Kinkade, Indianapolis; John W. Ransburg, Ft. Wayne; Judith Scott, Decatur, Ill.; Dennis A. Shock, Culver, Ind.; Vivian Smith, Greenfield; Dennis E. Stone, Terre Haute; Mary Sue (Everitt) Stone, Mason City, Ill.; Larry Swift, Manilla, Ind.; Donald Tiano, Santa Fe, New Mexico; and Roger Wathen, Indianapolis.

Dennis Stone and Mary Sue Everitt were married last summer and now live in the married student apartments on Mathews Ave. He is the son of Rev. Philip '42 and Clare (Jacobs X44) Stone. She is the daughter of Harold W. '39 and Agnes (Dawson '36) Everitt. Rebecca Chambers is the daughter of Dr. Marshall '40 and Maxine (Black '42) Chambers. Johanna Kinkade is the daughter of Clayton Kinkade '50.

In Memoriam

The Rev. Lucy R. Sharp, 87 years old, an early student of Indiana Central, died October 24, 1966 at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Pauline Harvey, at Gary, Ind.

The Rev. Mrs. Sharp was born in Harrison County. She was a minister of the Evangelical United Brethren Church, Indiana Conference South, and retired in 1945. Since then she spent most of her years in University Heights.

Funeral services were held in the University Hts. EUB Church, and burial was at Corydon.

Survivors, besides the daughter, include a son, John Edward Sharp '26 of Indianapolis, four grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Joyce White Wolverton '63 died Sunday, December 18, 1966, in University Heights Hospital after a very brief illness. As a student she came from Culver, Indiana, where her parents live, but had lived in Indianapolis for a year and a half. She was a teacher at Northeast Elementary School at Greenwood. Her husband, Lee Wolverton, is a 1966 graduate of Indiana Central.

The Rev. Mathias Preston Kindred '18 died suddenly in his home December 29, 1966. He was also a graduate of United, formerly Bonebrak, Seminary.

After he retired from the active ministry in 1959 he was with the Park Ave. Evangelical United Brethren Church as associate and visiting pastor until 1964. He had formerly held pastorates in New Albany, French Lick, Princeton, Westport, Boonville, Evansville and Terre Haute.

Funeral services were held Friday, December 23 in University Heights EUB Church with burial in Fairview Cemetery, Bedford.

Survivors include the widow, Mrs. Artie (Holiman) Kindred X19, who continues to live at 1446 E. Edwards Ave., University Hts.; three sons, Preston Kindred of Rochester, N.Y.; James D. Kindred '50 of Ft. Myers, Fla.; and John Kindred of Indianapolis; and a daughter, Mrs. Helen Peck of Cincinnati, Ohio.
Letters to Mrs. Alice Black, Sec'y of Class of 1926

Dear Alice: May 13, 1966

I regret that we cannot attend our class reunion. We have guests coming that week.

Since I retired last June we have traveled 15,000 miles in our travel-trailer plus a trip to Hawaii.

I wish it were possible to see and visit with our classmates again. Give them my best regards.

Outstanding Young Women Chosen

Again this year Indiana Central alumnae have been chosen to be included in the volume, OUTSTANDING YOUNG WOMEN OF AMERICA. This time seven have been selected: Miss Margaret Rose Brasel '56, Miss Rita Marlene Coake '57, Dr. Maridee Ann (Balsy) Gregory '60, Mrs. Joanna (Baldwin) Lantz '53, Miss Judith Ellen McBride '63, Miss Kathryn Alice Merkel '55, and Miss Judith Ann Whiteman '58.

OUTSTANDING YOUNG WOMEN OF AMERICA is an annual compilation of 6,000 outstanding young women between the ages of 21 and 35. Selections for this volume are made by the Board of Advisory Editors. Local women's clubs throughout the country submit nominations for the book each year. A different group of outstanding young women is included each year. Guidelines for selection include unselfish service to others, charitable activities, community service, professional excellence, business advancement, and civic and professional recognition.

Miss Brasel is working with the Family Service Association of Indiana. Miss Rita Coake is teaching in Wheaton College, Wheaton, Ill. Dr. Gregory is a pediatrician in Indianapolis. Mrs. Lantz is counselor and teacher at the Purdue Center at Ft. Wayne. Miss McBride teaches English in Arsenal Technical High School of Indianapolis. Miss Merkel teaches Spanish at North Central High School, Indianapolis. Miss Whiteman teaches fifth grade at the Indiana School for the Blind.

Sidebottom Elected Vice-President

Kenneth Sidebottom '42, Assistant Professor of Mathematics at ICC since 1946, recently was elected vice-president of the Indiana section of the Mathematical Association of America. This puts him in line for the state presidency at the next convention.
1966 Graduate Commissioned

John C. Fischer '66 has been commissioned a second lieutenant in the U.S. Air Force upon graduation from Officer Training School (OTS) Lackland AFB, Texas.

Lieutenant Fischer, selected for OTS through competitive examination, is being assigned to Mather AFB, Calif., for navigator training.

ICC Receives $2000 Gift From Gulf Oil

Indiana Central College recently received a $2000 grant for unrestricted use from Gulf Oil Corporation.

It was among grants totaling $300,000 which the corporation is making during the year to 150 colleges and universities which are privately operated and controlled, and which obtain the major portion of their financial support from non-tax sources.

The check was presented to Leo S. Miller, treasurer of Indiana Central, by R. J. Stephenson, Indianapolis sales supervisor of Gulf.

Besides such unrestricted grants, the corporation's aid-to-education program includes capital grants, merit scholarships to children of Gulf employees and annuitants, employee gifts to colleges, departmental assistant grants, graduated fellowships, and grants for special purposes such as research.

Alumnus Is Inventor

Lance Riggin, electronic engineer at U.S. Naval Avionics Facility, Indianapolis, has received a $50 award for an invention concerning a "time-gated sync separator for television synchronizing waveform" following approval of the patent application.

The invention, developed with the aid of two other Naval Avionics engineers, relates to a modification of a horizontal timing circuit for television vertical and horizontal synchronization. The invention applies to any closed circuit TV system using composite video for a single cable distribution. It also applies to specialized RF TV links where a composite TV signal is transmitted. The invention will have possible use at NAFI in projects concerning a "Walleye Indicator" and "Deep Submergence TV Display."

Mr. Riggin, who was graduated from Indiana Central in 1966, joined NAFI that same year. He also has taken courses at Eastern Illinois University and Purdue University.

Two ICC Alumni Promoted

Superintendent Frank Hunter of the Metropolitan School District of Perry Township has announced the promotion of two Indiana Central alumni. Samuel H. Brewer, '38, formerly director of instruction in Perry Township, has been named assistant superintendent for elementary instruction.

He will help interview applicants, assign student teachers and work closely with the elementary principals and teachers in all phases of program development. Before serving as director of instruction, Mr. Brewer had been an elementary and high school teacher and elementary principal.

Ray Alexander, '52, who has been the principal of the Perry Township Bluff Road Elementary School the last six years, has been named principal of the Homecroft Elementary School.

Letters

Larry Martin X59 writes:

"A letter such as yours brings up many memories of good times ... At present time I am employed as a sales representative for Marathon Oil Company. I am responsible for the well-being and success of the Service Stations and Bulk Plants in my territory."

Ralph Hile '24 writes from Ann Arbor:

"I have not changed my work but continue as Technical Editor, Division of Biological Research, Bureau of Commercial Fisheries. This enterprise is most interesting both in the office and in the visits to research establishments. In 1966, for example, my official travel has carried me as far west and south as Honolulu, as far north as Juneau, and as far east as Great Britain, where I attended a symposium at Reading University and visited laboratories in England and Scotland."

The Class of 1922

After 45 years, of the 14 members of the Class of 1922, nine are still living. This year is a good time to come back to the campus for a reunion. The living members are: Oscar Baker, R. R. 2, Warsaw, Ind. 46580; Dr. Glenn A. Blackburn, 1625 N. Raymond, Las Cruces, N. Mex. 88001; Dr. Irmo and Louise (Brown) Blackburn, 3697 Shallowford Rd., Apt. E, Doraville, Ga. 30040; Dr. Benjamin H. Cain, 621 S. Columbia, Warsaw, Ind. 46580; Ernest O. Hanger, 5712 Radar Rd., Indianapolis 46226; Robert J. Karstedt, Box 194, Polo, Ill. 62976; Dr. John C. Roberts, 701 Rex St., Muncie 47301; Oscar B. Rose, 601 S. Lee St., Garrett, Ind. 46738.

The deceased are Enid Helene Carson, Rev. Guy R. Champlin, John D. Mossler, Margurite (Parsons) Reed, and Rev. Forest A. Reed.

Both Dr. Glenn and Dr. Imro Blackburn are retired college professors and Episcopalian ministers. Dr. Cain, though listed as a retired EUB minister, is serving a church in Warsaw, Ind. Dr. Roberts is a retired minister of the EUB Church.
Livengood New Director of Heart Association
Melvin E. Livengood '37, formerly public information director for the Indiana Heart Association, has been named director of the Marion County Heart Association.

He has been serving as south central director of the Indiana Heart Association since 1964.

Master's Course for Second Semester
Three new courses leading to a master's degree are being offered for the second semester at ICC as planned by Dr. Leonard T. Grant, director of the Graduate Division.

The college offered its first graduate program last fall, and 72 persons enrolled in it. The master of arts program contains a liberal arts course, with half of the work being done in the area of the student's specialty, and is designed especially for persons already devoting full time to teaching. On this basis the degree can be earned in 2 1/2 to 3 years.

The second semester graduate offerings are:
- The Character and Development of the 20th Century Thought, taught by Dr. Grant.
- The Growth and Development of the American Character, taught by Dr. Roland T. Nelson, professor and chairman of the Department of History and Political Science.
- Problems in Teaching Elementary School Subjects, taught by Dr. Kermit R. Todd, professor of education and director of supervised teaching.

ARTIST SERIES DATE CHANGED
The fourth program of the Artist Series has been changed from Feb. 10 to Feb. 17. Maria Lucia Godoy, Brazilian soprano, will give a concert. The No. 4 ticket with the date on it will be good, of course, for the Feb. 17 performance.

Join The Chorus
TWO CLASSES OF ALUMNI HAVE ALWAYS ENJOYED THE SINGING OF THE ALUMNI CHORUS ON ALUMNI DAY, THOSE WHO SING AND THOSE WHO LISTEN. THIS IS YOUR INVITATION TO "JOIN THE CHORUS." NO SEPARATE INVITATIONS WILL GO OUT. WE WILL TRY TO GET THE TIME OF REHEARSAL IN THE NEXT ISSUE OF THE NEWS. WATCH FOR IT.

Evening Division Secretaries Entertain
All the Day School secretaries responded gladly to an invitation from the Evening Division secretaries to a Christmas tea on December 16 held in the Conference Room of the Evening Division. The invitation was for coffee, cookies and conversation. Instead of coffee, Christmas punch was served. The cookies were there, varied, delicious and in abundance. Also Christmas candies.

The Conference Room is well equipped with hot plate and sink for serving light refreshments.

School Named for George Fisher
Indianapolis School 93 has been named for George H. Fisher, a former assistant superintendent in city public schools.

Fisher earned his A.B. degree at Indiana Central in 1924 and his M.A. in Education from Indiana University in 1929. He began his teaching career in Hardinsburg, where he taught mathematics and physics and coached basketball. From there he went as principal and superintendent to the Albany, Indiana, schools. He came to Indianapolis in 1932 as principal of a city school and was promoted twice before being made assistant superintendent in 1960 in which capacity he served until his death July 5, 1963.

His widow is the former Charlotte Borkert X24, who lives at 5920 E. St. Clair St., Indianapolis.

McAfee Promoted
Chaplain Paul K. McAfee '46 was promoted to Lt. Colonel on December 13, 1966. Chaplain McAfee is a Methodist minister, a member of the Indiana Annual Conference of the Methodist Church. He holds a B.D. degree from Garrett Theological Seminary, Evanston, Illinois, and has taken special studies in journalism at the University of Illinois. He is also a graduate of the Chaplain Officer Advanced Career Course of the U.S. Army Chaplain School. At the present, Chaplain McAfee is assigned to the U.S. Army Chaplain School, where he is instructor in "Effective Army Writing" and "Speech." His wife, Dorothy, and their two younger children, Mary and Tommy, reside with him at Fort Hamilton. Two older sons, Charles and Earl, are in the military service.

Nursing Director Honored Twice
Miss Virginia Sims, director of the two-year nursing program at Indiana Central College, has been honored twice recently. Soon after her reelection as president of the Indiana State Board of Nursing Education and Registration, she was elected chairman of the National League for Nursing Board of Review.

The league is the accrediting agency for all associate degree nursing programs in the United States. The league commended Indiana Central "for the continuing progress made by the faculty in the pursuit of excellence in nursing education."

The Indiana Board sets standards and administers examinations to determine whether graduates of nursing program shall be certified as registered nurses.

Five ICC Men Chosen Outstanding

For the 1966 biographical compilation of OUTSTANDING YOUNG MEN OF AMERICA five Indiana Central alumni have been chosen: James Robert East '53, David Hilton '53, Paul Hunter '55, Theodore Herman '56 and Roy H. Turley '52.

The publication Outstanding Young Men of America is published by the Montgomery, Alabama, Junior Chamber of Commerce. The organization states that men were selected between the ages of twenty-one and thirty-six who "had distinguished themselves in one or more fields of endeavor to the point of being outstanding."

Dr. East received a master's degree in rhetoric and public speaking from Stanford University in 1958 and a Ph.D. degree in 1960. He has taught at Stanford; Parsons College, Fairfield, Iowa; and is now at Midwestern College, Denison, Iowa.

David Hilton, after graduating from I.U. Medical School in 1957, took special training in tropical medicine in the Panama Canal Zone, in Fort Worth, Texas, and in London, England before going to Nigeria, West Africa, where he is superintendent of a hospital at Bambur. His wife is the former Leveta Smith '52. They are the parents of four children.

Paul Hunter has taught English at Florida State College, Gainesville, at Rice Institute, Houston, Texas; at William's College, Williamstown, Mass.; at Riverside, Calif.; and is now at Emory University, Atlanta, Ga. His wife is the former Caroline Schrack '54.

Theodore S. Herman did graduate work at Purdue University, earned a Ph.D. in Chemistry at the University of Missouri, and since 1963 has been with the Midwest Research Institute in Kansas City, Mo., where he is senior chemist. His wife is the former Ruth Emmert '56.

Roy Turley, after serving his stint in the U.S. Army, earned a doctorate in chemistry from the University of Missouri. He went in 1959 to Otterbein College to join the Chemistry Department and is now Chairman of the Science Division. His wife is the former Shirley Moren '52.

Senior Earns Vanderbilt U. Assistantship

Larry Swift, a member of the 1967 graduating class, has earned an assistantship at Vanderbilt University and will teach twelve hours a week. This teaching, which is something like a lab assistantship, will pay his expenses as a graduate student. He plans to use the Ph.D. degree, which he hopes to earn, "in industry or research, or possibly even college teaching."

He bases his acceptance primarily on grades. "Of course, there were recommendations, for which I am thankful." He says Indiana Central gives preparation for graduate school, but, "the basic courses could stand improvement by expansion."

From The Indianapolis Star

"Hoosier Hodgepodge"

FAMILY OF MINISTERS — The Rev. Calvin Craig Brandenburg, pastor of the First Evangelical United Brethren Church at Dunkirk, is the fifth generation of his family to serve as a minister in that denomination. His father, the Rev. E. Craig Brandenburg of Dayton, O., is executive secretary of the Board of Christian Education of the EUB Church and formerly held a pastorate at Evansville. Calvin's grandfather, the Rev. William S. Brandenburg, held pastorates in southern Indiana for 37 years before retiring in 1956 and now has assumed a part-time pastorate of the Potato Run Church located in the Harrison County State Forest. It was in this church that Calvin's great grandmother was licensed as minister before her marriage to John L. Brandenburg and it was her father, the Rev. William Craig, who started the long succession of ministers when he was licensed by the Indiana EUB Conference.

1932

Of the ten ministers of the Class of '32, five are serving the Evangelical United Brethren Church: Roy E. Bosserman, Heedle M. Cobb, Arthur W. Garvin, Bishop Paul W. Milhouse, and Manno Shatto. Two are serving Presbyterian churches, Ralph L. O'Dell and Paul L. Sherrel. One, Maurice R. Kerr, is a Methodist; one, Archer C. Shirley, a Baptist; and one, Dale R. Weilbaum, a Congregationalist. In this class there are, or have been, sixteen or more teachers. Of these, one, Dr. Lowell Good, is now an engineer with RCA. One, Ralph E. Hiatt, is a professor and researcher at the University of Michigan. Another, Maurice Shadley, is in the national office of Phi Delta Kappa at Bloomington, Ind. One, Mrs. Lois Taylor Pouts, is a member of the English Department of Indiana Central. One, Harold A. Smith, is a professor and researcher at the University of Michigan.

Dr. Bess Osgood has a unique position, that of being supervisor of the Doctors' Laboratory of South Bend.

Edna Dickison is administrative assistant in the Scholarship Office of Purdue University. Byron Goetz is Social Security Administrator of the Chicago Area. Paul Huckriede is a detective of the Indianapolis Police Department. Albert Judd teaches health in New Castle Junior High School. Martha Linn teaches art in the Southern Wells (County) Community School. Raymond C. Miller is editor of the Van Wert (Ohio) Times Bulletin. Dr. G. Virgil Ramsey is a consulting psychologist in Austin, Texas. J. Ross Slabaugh teaches music in Dearborn, Mich. Robert Windhorst is in the sales department of the American Art Clay Co. Arthur DeMyer is in business in Walkerton. Christine Dalton is a counselor in the Elkhart High School. Ralgh Hays Beamison and Othniel Catt are retired teachers. Mary Elizabeth Cook Fields, Genevieve Donaldson Sutton, Esther Franklin Hollebeck, Beulah Marie Griffin Mayes, Evelyn Horlacher Mahin, Dorothy Key Gray, Veolada Pember Kerr, Mary Ellen Shambaugh Sprague, Marvelle Smith Voss, Ruth Wagener Gault and Ghee Walker Gershner are homemakers. All these except Mrs. Gray, Mrs. Kerr, Mrs. Sprague and Mrs. Gault are, or recently have been, teachers.

Charles Edwin McCune is in business in Cleveland and occasionally writes a column for the Cleveland Newspaper.
College Choir Visited Ten Cities in Three States

Forty members of the Indiana Central College Choir gave 12 concerts in ten cities in Indiana, Illinois and Kentucky on its annual mid-winter tour.

The group left Indianapolis on Saturday, January 28 and returned a week later after a day of sightseeing in St. Louis.

The choir is directed by Farrell M. Scott, associate professor of music, who is well known as a tenor soloist. The choir's repertoire included songs composed by 17 well-known composers and others arranged by five other musicians.

The first appearance on the choir’s tour was at 9:15 a.m. Sunday, Jan. 29, when it sang at the worship service of the Zion Evangelical Church, Louisville, Ky. It gave another sacred concert Sunday evening at the Grant Line EUB Church, New Albany, Ind. The First EUB Church, New Albany, was co-host.

On Monday the singers presented two programs at Corydon, in the early afternoon at Corydon Central High School and in the evening at Corydon EUB Church. The choir members visited the first State Capitol and other points of interest at Corydon.

Paoli High School heard the choir sing in the morning of Tuesday, Jan. 31. In the evening it presented a sacred program in the Emmanuel EUB Church at Huntingburg, Ind.

Next the musicians entertained at Lawrenceville (Ill.) High School on the morning of Feb. 1 and in the evening at Lawrenceville EUB Church. It appeared the next morning at Robinson (Ill.) High School and in the evening at Casey (Ill.) EUB Church.

A “Good” Thanksgiving

With the exception of one grandson, who lives in California, Mrs. I. J. Good, widow of former ICC President I. J. Good, had with her for Thanksgiving vacation all her children and grandchildren. They are Ronald '29 and Julia (Good ’30) Wolfe and their children Douglas, Donna, Judith, and Robert; (The eldest, Ramon, lives in California.) Dr. Lowell ’31 and Elsie (Beck ’29) Good and their children, Barbara Ann and Linda Lee; and John C. and Ida Mae (Good ’39) Miller and their children, Susan Marie, Julia Christina, David Alan and Carl Edward.

Douglas Wolfe holds a doctor’s degree in science. Donna holds a master’s degree from Ohio State and is teaching in Ohio Wesleyan University in Delaware. Judith is now working on a master’s degree, and Robert is a junior in Oberlin.

The Following Are the Reunioning Classes on Alumni Day, June 3, 1967

Are you a member? If so, you will enjoy meeting with other members of your class. Begin your planning now and don’t lost sight of the date.

President Elected President

Dr. I. Lynd Esch, president of ICC, was elected president of the University Heights Hospital Board of Directors in a recent meeting. University Heights Hospital, 3350 Carson Ave., is in its fourth year of service to the local community.

Administrators’ Conference Held

A three day conference of administrators of Evangelical United Brethren affiliated colleges was held last August at Otterbein College. The participating colleges were Albright (Pa.), Westmar (Iowa), Lebanon Valley (Pa.), Shenandoah (Va.), North Central (Ill.) and Indiana Central.

Noblitt Author of Textbook

"Loren W. Noblitt ('49) is the author of a recently published textbook: Growth and Development of the American Constitution, which he hopes will be adopted for classroom use at the Junior College level.

"Mr. Noblitt holds his M.S. degree from Butler University and has continued graduate study at the University of California and U.C.L.A. Extensive Biblical scholarship has produced several religious articles for which Mr. Noblitt has been granted an honorary doctorate in Religious Education. Dr. Noblitt is the son of Rev. and Mrs. Loren S. Noblitt, former instructors at Indiana Central College.

Dr. Noblitt, Chairman of the History Department at Bolsa Grande High School in Garden Grove, Calif., also teaches in the Extended Day program at nearby Santa Ana College. He was awarded the Freedom Foundation National Teachers Award in 1963 for his research on the Constitution, which was then organized into his textbook.

Dr. Noblitt speaks to various service clubs and actively supports his Church progress by teaching the Adult Bible Class at Hope Lutheran Church. He received the Outstanding Layman of the Year Award in 1965 from the Whittier Kiwanis Club for his spiritual contributions to the community.

Dr. and Mrs. Noblitt with their two daughters reside at 600 N. Fonda St., in La Habra, Calif., and spend the summer months in Brandenten, Florida.

FROM THE DEAD SEA SCROLLS

"At the onset of fear and alarm, or when trouble and stress are at hand, I will bless Him with special thanksgiving and muse upon His power, and rely on His mercies always, and come thereby to know that in His hand lies the judgment of all living, and that all His works are truth."

EUB's Continue To Top Student Enrollment

Members of the Evangelical United Brethren Church continue to be the largest denominational group among the 968 day students at Indiana Central enrolled in September. Two hundred ninety-seven members of the church are enrolled. The next largest group is Methodist with 108. If the proposed merger of the EUB's and Methodists is consummated, they probably will have a majority of the entire student body.

The Christian Church ranks third with 108. There are 91 Baptists, 62 Presbyterians, 57 Roman Catholics, 43 Lutherans, 40 United Church of Christ, 9 Episcopalians, and 8 Friends (Quakers).

More than a score of other religious bodies are represented by lesser numbers of students at Indiana Central.

Twenty states and five foreign countries sent students to Central this year. A year ago only 14 states and five other nations were represented in the day student body.

Indiana is the home of 861 of the total enrollment of 968, and 392 of these have Indianapolis addresses. Illinois provided 41 students, Ohio 29, Pennsylvania 6, New York 4, and Kentucky and Michigan each. Two each live in Florida, Iowa and New Mexico, and one a piece in California, Colorado, Georgia, Kansas, North Carolina, Oregon, Rhode Island, South Carolina and Virginia. One student comes from each of five countries—Hong Kong, Kenya, Philippine Republic, Sierra Leone, and Japan.

Former House Mother Takes New Name

Mrs. Melissa Rider, former house mother of Krannert Hall, is now Mrs. Ward Glezen of Oblong, Illinois. The wedding ceremony was performed December 29, 1966 by Rev. George Warheit '49, husband of Mrs. Rider's daughter Elizabeth '51, in the home of Lucien X42 and Mary (Rider '42) Bare. The couple's address is Oblong, Ill. 62449.

Mr. Glezen, an old acquaintance, is a business man.

Fall And Winter Sports

As Angus Nicolson's Greyhounds race along the last leg of the 1966-67 basketball season, they look forward hopefully toward the District 21 (Indiana) National Association of Intercollegiate Athletic playoff. After 17 games the Hounds were 12-5, and 6-0 in the Hoosier College Conference.

As of February 3, all other HCC foes had lost four or more conference matches except Hanover, which had lost three. If the Hounds continue to win and take the HCC championship, it will insure them an invitation to the NAIA playoff.

This season the Greyhounds have been somewhat inconsistent in their style of basketball. Until February they had not played a single game without a cold streak of some kind. But in their first February clash they displayed greater confidence and determination to play a consistent game.

Central is basically a fast breaking team with great speed, rebounding ability, offensive attack, depth, and several defenses which they were using effectively. All five starters were averaging in double figures; Phil Honnold (20.6), Bob Smock (14.6), Jack Noone (13.7), Roger Wathen (13.1) and Al Williams (12.6). It is this great balance which makes the Hounds such a tremendous threat to all who face them.

Indiana Central's matman held a 2-5 record as of February 3. This was the first time as a wrestling coach that Paul Velez had a losing season. Several factors have contributed to this. One is inexperience. Central has seven freshmen on its team, and one man who is a sophomore is wrestling in his first season. Another factor is that the Hoosier College Conference championship is determined by one big match between all the teams.

Therefore, in preparation for the conference meet, coach Velez has scheduled meets with five big state universities. He feels this tough competition will better condition his men for the HCC meet. Thus far this season the Hounds were 2-1 in conference competition, losing only to Earlham. In this loss Central had to forfeit two weight classes because of sickness.

Marlow Mullen, a freshman at 145 pounds, is turning in a fine season his first year in collegiate wrestling. He has a 5-3 mark after seven meets and one tournament. Jim Phillips, who wrestles in the 152 or 160 pound class, also is turning in a winning performance with a 4-2 record. Dave Hollman, at 191 pounds, is doing a good job in his first year of wrestling.

Central's top contender is Dale Sidebottom, who weighs 160 and has a 7-1 record. He lost one match 4-3 while wrestling in the 172 pound class.

Taylor and Earlham appear to be the ones to beat in the HCC championship at Anderson February 24-25.
