A NEW YEAR IN PROSPECT

The Central Campus is beginning to look “natural” again. The old familiar “progressive Mud” is showing itself as excavation for the new dormitory gets under way. Foundations and steel structure will soon follow. There has seldom been a time since 1955 when something has not been under construction. There was a small lull last year but now the builders are at it again. Yet for all the construction we seem never to have enough room. So we will begin another development program this year to add additional space for science, physical education and recreation.

To the noise of the power tools working with concrete and steel the students will be returning to campus for the fall semester. Some of them will be a bit “cozy” this year with three in a room, a situation we hope to have corrected a year hence. But in spite of the noise and the “togetherness” we look forward to a very good year.

We will have a number of outstanding new faculty to augment the fine veteran members giving us a capable and well balanced teaching staff. You will want to meet these new people. The returning students will be at an all time high and there is an excellent entering freshman class. This, of course, is open to alumni and to the public.

And so the I. C. family and its activities grow each year. Come back to see it often. It is a real inspiration to be here and to be a part of it.

COLLEGE BUILDS FIVE-STOREY DORM

Excavation began July 30 for the new five-storey, L shaped dormitory. It will be located on the southeast corner of the campus, just east of Trimble Hall and opposite Krannert Hall. This will be the first campus building with more than three floors above the ground. Capacity for the coed dormitory is 250 students.

During the erection of this dormitory, the college will be conducting a campaign to raise $5 million for other facilities. Construction of additions to Lilly Science Hall, the Physical Education Building and the Schwitzer Center are in the immediate future.

Writer Wins Prize

William Raspberry '58, Potomac Watch columnist for the Washington Post, has won the top prize for reporting in the Washington-Baltimore Newspaper Guild's annual Front Page Awards competition. The honor comes from the category of interpretive writing.

Raspberry won the award for his columns, which were said to "bridge the gap between the races." Also he was given the journalist of the year award by the Capital Press Club.

In a column Raspberry suggested that needy Washington area youngsters be admitted to all remaining Washington Senators baseball home games free with proper supervision. The idea caught on and was hailed by Police Chief John B. Layton and by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

Said Humphrey: "I commend Bill Raspberry and The Washington Post. "The Washington Senators, in cooperation with the President's Council and Youth Opportunity, have been providing thousands of disadvantaged youngsters with free admission to D.C. Stadium. We are now working actively to increase very substantially the number of youngsters who will attend the remaining home games."

Additions include more classroom and laboratory space at Lilly Science Hall plus the eventual housing of the Department of Nursing. This will enable them to add a four-year, bachelor's degree course of instruction to its present two-year, associate degree program.

A natatorium will be constructed at the north end of the Louis Schwitzer Center. Expansion of the gym facilities will benefit the Department of Health and Physical Education because of a larger enrollment and more active health and sports programs for men and women at Indiana Central. No starting dates have been set as of press time.

Campus Changes With Needed Improvements

Several improvements changed the appearance of the campus during the summer. The most noticeable changes were the new roof on Dailey Hall and the parking lot behind Wilmore Hall for dorm students.

Sidewalks from Schwitzer Center to Hanna Ave. and from Dailey Hall to Hanna Ave. were removed plus new sidewalk and some rerouting around Dailey.

Lights have been added to the north side of the gym parking lot and at the west entrance to the Academic Hall parking lot.

Renovation is taking place in the former recreation room in Academic Hall to provide facilities for (a) central duplicating and clerical service, (b) fund campaign space for development office, and (c) rehearsal area for the dramatics department.

Building identification signs have been put in place for the west entrance of Schwitzer Center and the north entrance of Academic Hall.

Buxton Hall is receiving new lounge furniture and has been painted inside. Dailey's interior has been painted and all three men's residence Halls, Buxton, Dailey and Wilmore are getting new drapes.

The exterior of Cummins apartments for married students got a fresh coat of paint. Other miscellaneous painting jobs occurred around the campus and other buildings received furniture items that were needed.

Raymond E. Kennedy '49, former principal of Frankfort High School, has been named assistant director of admissions at Ball State University, according to Dr. John J. Pruis, president. He assumed his new position, July 1.

Kennedy has been principal at Frankfort the past three years. Prior to that he was assistant principal and principal at Martinsville High School from 1957 to 1965, principal at West Baden High School, 1956-57, and a teacher-coach at Tell City High School, 1955-56 and at Pekin High School from 1949-53.

A veteran of both World War II and the Korean War, he earned his bachelor of science degree at Indiana Central College and the M.S. degree in education administration at Indiana University in 1954. He has done additional graduate work at I.U.

183 Grads Earn Some Credit At Night

With an increasing demand from business and industry requiring employees to have college training, Indiana Central's Evening Division made a recent study of the 1968 graduating class. The study revealed that the Evening Division had played a significant role in the education of the graduates. While only a relatively small number did all of their work in the evening, the records show that of the 232 graduates, 183 or 78% of them earned some of their credits in evening and summer classes.

The statistics are broken down as follows:
1. Of the students receiving a bachelor's degree (124 hours), 17 earned 100 or more hours in the evening; 29 earned between 62 and 100 hours; 19 earned between 30 and 61 hours; and 118 earned between 9 and 29 hours in the evening.
2. Of the students receiving an Associate Degree (62 hours), 4 earned all of their work in the evening and an additional 4 graduates earned between 30 and 61 hours in evening classes.

For many students the Evening Division has provided the only doorway to a college experience. Where work and home responsibilities prohibit attendance in the day, evening classes become the means to an education.

Education Department Adopts New Program

During the past academic year, the teacher education program at Indiana Central was restructured to include the professional semester concept. Central's plan is called the Synoptic Program. A student preparing for teacher certification devotes full time during one semester of his senior year to pre-professional courses and experiences, including eight weeks of full-day student teaching.

A few scheduling revisions have been made on the basis of the first year's experience with the plan. During the first half of the semester student teachers will spend four days a week on campus for professional course work. During this period of time, the student will spend one day each week in full-day observation in the school to which he is assigned. The last half of the semester, after all course work is completed, he will participate in full-time student teaching.

Several advantages accrue from the fact that students devote full time to activities in the education department. Flexible scheduling is possible to accommodate changing needs of the various classes, since the same students are involved in all the classes at either the secondary or elementary level. Activities can be arranged to accommodate the schedules of returning students.

ALUMNI DAY ALBUM

June 1, 1968 was Alumni Day for the largest returning group in Indiana Central's history. Over 420 alumni returned to the campus for a day of festivities and reunions and to participate in Commencement weekend events. Even occasional showers failed to dampen the enthusiasm of the former classmates who attended.

From the opening of the Registration Center at 8:30 a.m. through the Buffet Dinner which ended shortly after 9:00 p.m., fun and fellowship was the order of the day. Activities began with the Alumni-Faculty Coffee Call at 9:30; Alumni convocation followed at 10:30 with Dr. Roy Davis '25 presiding and Dr. Charles H. McClung '43 the speaker of the day. Returning alumni were recognized by classes, with special kudos to the Silver and Golden Anniversary classes.

The dining hall was attractively decorated by Jane Click '39 for the Noon Luncheon, and reunion classes ate together at reserved tables. The annual meeting followed lunch; then class reunion pictures were taken by the Public Relations Office photographers.

During the afternoon Alumni busied themselves at class meetings, Literary Society teas, Alumni Chorus rehearsal, or visiting the campus buildings, Data Processing Center, Student Art exhibit or the expanded library facilities.

At 5:00 Alumni returned to the concourse of Schwitzer Center for the Alumni Association reception. Dr. Esch, outgoing president Bob Theil, incoming president Dwight Smith, and the newly elected Board of Directors members welcomed alumni from the receiving line.

Alumni Day 1968 ended with nearly 300 in attendance at the Buffet Dinner. The program included installation of officers; welcome to the class of 1968 with a response from Jim Ton, class president, and presentation of coach of the year awards by the College Association. Dr. John Deever and Mr. Ray Crawford were inducted as honorary members of the Alumni Association and Dr. Paul Alexander was named outstanding alumnus.

President Theil presented Dr. Esch with a medallion of office as a gift to the college from the Alumni Association. Special guests were introduced, and the music by the Alumni Chorus delighted the group prior to President Esch’s “State of the College 1968” message to alumni.

Letter Gives Sentiments
Forty years after graduation the class of 1928 gathered at their Alma Mater in celebration of full membership in “Club 40.” A distinction gained after 40 years of service. The ID tags were by “Courtesy of Retirement Made Easy, Inc.” Thirty-three members of the class registered. Many had with them their spouses, which made for a real gathering for convocation, luncheon and the buffet dinner.

In the afternoon “Club 40” met in room C14 of Schwitzer Center for a business meeting and a memorial service for those who are no longer (Cont’d on page 11) here. The memorial service was planned by Beulah Mae Long, Howard Patton, and Helen Phipps Patton. It is a hope by the class of '28 that each reuniting class, in the future, will adopt some form of memorial service.

For the closing episode of the meeting, every member of "Club 40" was given a replica Oracle. In it were the histories of forty-three classmates. The dedication was made to Dr. Virginia Cravens. The dedicatory presentation was given by Marguerite B. Albright.

A voluntary contribution by the class members present in appreciation for the Oracle was turned over to Dean Ransburg. The contribution made the class of '28 the first class to reach $2,000 in Roll Call.

A debt of gratitude goes to the Alumni Office, to Edna Miller, Marguerite Albright, The Memorial Committee, Dr. Merryman, Faye Crocker Myers and Geraldine Parr Clark for their cooperation.

The class of 1928 was responsible for the sign that Holiday Inn South flashed June 1 and June 2. It read, "Welcome Indiana Central Alumni."

Hope we can get together again.

Your reunion chairman,

Fanny Varner Boger

1925 — May 30, 1967, after 36 years of teaching, the last 25 of which were in Greensburg Community Schools, I retired from teaching. I moved to New Castle because my daughter and her husband both teach in this city system. Two grand-children, the boy entering the first grade this year and the girl entering kindergarten, were also attractions.

Last fall I enjoyed a cruise down the west coast of South America; thereby, fulfilling a yen that has existed since I was an undergraduate at I.C.C. in '23 or '24 under Glen Blackburn. I highly recommend cargo travel. It just "whetted my appetite."

Last spring I visited Thelma Woodburn DeVine in Florida. Time on my hands is no problem. There is always so much to do for others. I work with migrants at Brooks at Mt. Summit and at Westminster House in town. The church already has me on committees. And, my knitting and sewing are always at hand.

Here I have found many new friends among retired teachers and within the church; also, made renewed contacts of friends and students of pre-Greensburg years, for I was reared 16 miles west of here on Road 234.

1953—An alumna writes, a year ago, when I married the State Supervisor of Office Occupations I had to cease being the State Supervisor of Home Economics since the Department of Education has a nepotism clause and one of us had to go. Since then I’ve been writing training courses for the Manpower Development Training Programs and teaching a couple of courses at the Community College.

We live on 2 1/4 acres of virgin forest land on Douglas Island. Juneau is a city and spills onto Douglas Island with appropriate suburbs so we have a bridge and don’t need a boat. However, when the tide is out we could walk across the flats if we were so disposed.

Even though this is civilized country our yard doesn’t get mowed. We pick the blueberries, instead. And a week ago the boys across the road were walking down the creek behind our property when they came upon a black bear — eating berries, of course. They returned wide-eyed and puffing and I suspect the bear was a bit shook also.

On recent fishing trips we met a wolverine, a Sitka (blacktail) deer, a porcupine, and a friendly bald eagle. The salmon are running and our freezer purrs happily as it fills up with sock-eyes and kings. Sound like “the land of ice and snow?” Well, there goes another myth.

Anyone who is looking for a pleasant vacation spot should look North. We’d love to have visitors any time and the Chamber of Commerce loves tourists. Our address is R. R. 1, Box 1487, Juneau, AK 99801. Greetings to all.
