ATMOSPHERE OF COLLEGE: BUSY

As we move past the halfway mark of the first semester, we are aware that it has been an intensively active period. Students, faculty, and administration have all been busy within their various areas of responsibility. The campus atmosphere has been one of constructive busyness.

The students have been active in the normal curricular and co-curricular programs. The schedule of fall activities has included the traditional Homecoming with the evening Artist Series performance, the High School Day with its unusually large attendance, Brown County Day and the tug of war, which the sophomores won. The weather man cooperated and that day was one of the finest in the long tradition. Then there is the expansion of the inner-city activity of the students. They are not only continuing the service which was instituted to inner-city children but are working on a program to help meet the needs of elementary school children who live close to the campus. All extracurricular activity is not just for fun. Some of it, like this program, is for service as well. When you see time and effort given in these kinds of activities, it makes you really proud to be associated with the young people who make up the student body at Central.

Channels of communication between students, faculty and administration have been opened even wider than before. Needs and problems are discussed quite frankly from all points of view so that the best possible corrective measures may be taken. This results in a much better understanding and also in a much better total program for the college. We are especially pleased with the development of the Honors Program this year. Not only is there a larger number of students participating in it but also the quality of work is of the highest order. This too is a cause for honest pride in the work of both students and faculty.

Of course there is always the mundane activity of trying to provide the necessary material substance to meet institutional needs. This keeps most of the administrative personnel busy long days and hours. We are working earnestly to stimulate the EPIC program in its final phases so that it will be a successful venture. We have a cooperative program under way with DePauw and Evansville to encourage the United Methodist people of Indiana to take full advantage of the Gross Income Tax Credit Law. This has very great potential which in its first year was not realized. Under this law the net cost of a gift to a college in the state is only half what it was before. Much time is being given to the Greater Indianapolis Campaign for buildings and endowment. The goal is $5,000,000. The organization is being completed, and the campaign will get into full swing the latter part of February. It should provide much needed additions to the campus buildings and also some increase in the endowment to help meet future increased operating expenses. This is the largest single financial undertaking in our history. Its success will be a major achievement and a great boost to the future of our college.

We are pleased to report that the Quadrennial Convention of the Council of Protestant Colleges and Universities, an arm of the National Council of Churches, will be held on our campus June 21-25, 1970. This is a national recognition of the quality of our institution and the adequacy of its facilities in which all of us can take pride. It will focus the attention of leaders in American higher education on our campus for a period of months leading up to the actual convention.

May I wish each alumnus a very blessed and happy Christmas season and a wonderful 1969.
Thank You, Alumni

Now that I am well again and "back on the job," I want to sincerely thank all the alumni who during my illness and convalescence sent me many good wishes, good food, cards, and prayers. It is physically impossible for me to write the notes necessary to thank every one who remembered me. So please accept my gratitude expressed this way.

I am happy to be in the Alumni Office again, and I hope each of you will find in this issue of the NEWS at least one item of interest to you.

THANKS TO MCCARTY

Larry McCarty '65, a teacher of English and journalism in the Greenwood Schools, worked last summer as secretary to the Director of Public Relations at Indiana Central. As such he wrote the copy and "set up" the October issue of the NEWS. The editor is grateful for his help.

REQUIEM

Grey dust of yesterday's love
Sift windward
To the laughing stream.

Whenever we pass by the place
Where the laughing stream
Bore our dreams toward the seas
We shall celebrate human joy
For good days shared
In yesterdays that are past.

O God
Ban such bitterness
As might blind our sight
When flowers bloom again
And birdsong returns
Along the way of pain
To spring times
Forever ours.

Grey dust of love
Silver mist
Shall capture you
And the laughing stream
That bears you
Shall meet the sea.

Written by the Rev. Dale Catlin '44 for his brother Glenn after Mary Alice (McKain) Catlin's death and cremation.

Mahoi Returns To Sierra Leone

After a year of leave for study in Detroit, Moses M. Mahoi, M. D. returned to his duties in Freetown, West Africa, where he was superintendent of a hospital there. After earning a bachelor's degree in 1950 from Indiana Central, Moses went to Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons, where he earned the degree of Doctor of Medicine. He then went to Detroit, Michigan to study pediatrics at the Children's Hospital there. In September, 1962, he went to London, England and began a five-month course leading to a diploma at the London School of Hygiene and Tropical Medicine. From there he went to the E.U.B. Mission Hospital, Rotifunk, Sierra Leone, West Africa.

Moses writes that, as always, he will be interested in hearing from friends in the U.S. His address is 13 Ross Road, Box 1344, Freetown, Sierra Leone, West Africa.

ALUMNI DAY, 1969

It is not too early to begin making plans for Alumni Day, May 31, 1969. Last Alumni Day, June 1, 1968, was the "best ever" with a larger number of alumni returning than ever before. Though the weather was not perfect, the weatherman was considerate. When the crowd had to move from one building to another, the rain ceased long enough for the change.

The class of 1927 had a big celebration on Alumni Day 1967. The class of 1928 said they would outdo the class of 1927 in 1968. And it was a great day for them, not only for them but for all the alumni, especially for the class of 1945, the 25th reunioning class.

Now it is up to the 55th, the 50th, the 40th, and the 25th anniversary classes to show their devotion to each other and to their alma mater.

Of the five members of the class of 1914, three are still living: Beryl (Estes) (Good) Gemmer, Pleasant R. Hightower, and Vergie Mendenhall.

Of the four members of the class of 1919, all are living: Dr. A. B. McKain, Nellie (McMichael) Hardin, Dr. W. R. Montgomery, and Dr. W. P. Morgan. Remarkable!

Of the 55 members of the class of 1929, 49 are living, a good number after so many years.

ALL OF THE CLASS OF 1944 ARE LIVING!

The classes of 1934, '39, '49, '54, '59, and '64 are expected to hold reunions also.

East Is First Boys' Club Alumni Chief

James R. East '53, associate dean of the Indiana University Indianapolis campus, has been installed as the first president of the Indianapolis Boys' Club Association.

East became a member of the English Avenue Boys' Club when he was six years old. He earned his master's degree in rhetoric and public speaking from Stanford University in 1958 and his doctor's degree from Stanford in 1960. His wife was the late Allegra (Young) East, B. S. Purdue '56.
If you do not have a will, the state law will determine how your property will be distributed. If a person has no heirs, without a will all property reverts to the state government.

Despite the allowable deductions and the specific federal exemption of $60,000, many find that their net estates are larger than they thought and are therefore taxable by the federal and the state governments. However, neither tax applies to a gift in a will to a college. Thus you preserve your assets; they work for a good cause designated by you instead of passing into the hands of the impersonal tax collector.

When you leave a bequest of property or money to a college, its value reduces the size of your taxable estate and therefore reduces the federal estate tax. The government thus shares in the cost of your gift. The following are some methods of charitable giving:

THE OUTRIGHT REQUEST: This is a gift of a stated amount or a specific property to the college without any "strings." Such a bequest will reduce the estate tax, thus reducing the "cost" of the gift, since the gift comes off the top, which is subject to the highest tax.

THE RESIDUARY BEQUEST: This is a gift of the remainder of an estate after all other bequest, costs and taxes have been taken care of.

THE DELAYED BEQUEST: This is a type of gift that benefits a member of the family or others before it is available to the college. A typical case is a life estate to a beloved one and on such a person's death to the college. Often such gifts involve a trust. The "present value" of the delayed gift to a college is an allowable deduction for tax purposes.

THE CONTINGENT BEQUEST: This is the type of gift to a college which only becomes effective if certain conditions occur. A typical example is a bequest to grandchildren if living at death, and if not, then to the college.

THE CONDITIONAL BEQUEST: This is similar to the contingent bequest, because unrelated to family beneficiaries. A typical example is a gift to the college on condition that the estate exceeds a certain amount.

THE TESTAMENTARY TRUST: A gift of property in trust is an attractive method of accomplishing many objectives with greatest flexibility. Such a trust usually provides for family members first and later for the college. Typically, a trust will provide for the needs of a wife for as long as she lives and upon her death the remainder, if any, will pass to the college. Such a gift can have attractive tax benefits.

THE LIFE INCOME BEQUEST: Under such a plan the college invests the property left to it and pays a designated beneficiary the income for life, after which the income of property is for the sole benefit of the college.

LIFE INSURANCE: A college can be made the beneficiary of a life insurance policy, either as first beneficiary or as contingent beneficiary.

R. Ragains Is In Pic

The name of Robert Ragains is omitted from the Class of 1928, page 10 of the October issue of the NEWS. He is the tall man in the back row towering over his wife Corrinne and Edna Miller.

The first group picture on page 10 should be designated Class of 1923 instead of Class of 1933.

Children Honor Parents

The children of Ralph '43 and Esther (Grose '63) Coddington of 3615 S. Rural Street, Indianapolis, held open house Sunday, October 13, in honor of their parent's 25th wedding anniversary. Two daughters, Doretta and Laona, are students at Indiana Central.

Accountant Resigns

Mrs. Ruth (Hagelskamp '44) Burcham, B.S. in Business, 1945, Indiana University, Indiana Central's accountant since 1945, resigned her position this last summer. Her desk was taken over by Robert Barrick, who has served as assistant business manager since 1960. Mr. Barrick received his B.S. in Business from Indiana University in 1949 and had been in the accounting office of Allison Division of General Motors Corporation.

The administration and clerical staff honored Mrs. Burcham with a luncheon when she was presented with a portable Singer sewing machine.

Brittenham YM/YW Director

The following was sent by the Young Men's Christian Association of St. Louis and St. Louis County:

The appointment of David A. Brittenham as Executive Director of the YMCA-YWCA Inter-Campus project has been announced by J. Clinton Hawkins and Mrs. John D. Williams, Presidents, YM and YWCA Metropolitan Boards of Directors, respectively.

Mr. Brittenham, of Fort Wayne, Indiana, received an A.B. in physical education in 1961 from Indiana Central College. In 1968, he received a Master of Social Work degree from George Williams College, Downers Grove, Illinois.

Brittenham was employed as Program Director at the South Oakland Branch of the Detroit YMCA from 1961 to 1966. In 1967, he became Program Director at the George Williams College, Lake Geneva, Wisconsin, Campus; and the past summer was Dean of Students at that campus.

The Inter-Campus Project is a YMCA-YWCA jointly sponsored program to provide service to students of St. Louis area college campuses.
ALUMNI CLUBS MEET

Indianapolis Area

In spite of its being a cool misty-moisty evening on September 10 forcing people inside, the Indianapolis Alumni picnic was a success. Instead of meeting in the campus park as planned, the alumni with their spouses and children met in the college dining hall. A long table in the alcove was spread with the meat and drink furnished by the Alumni Association and the attractive delicious dishes brought by the Alumni. After the meal the children were entertained with games and prizes while the parents visited with each other.

Mrs. Marguerite Albright '28 is the able president of the group.

The Fall Meeting of the Indianapolis Area Club was held Tuesday, Nov. 19, 1968. At 6:30 there was a buffet dinner in Schwitzer Center main dining room.

Following the meal, Dr. Esch discussed recent developments at the college. Then there was a short business meeting with election of officers for the coming year.

Southeastern Indiana

The Southeastern Indiana Area Club met at the Corydon home of President Bonnie (Binkley) Pinaire for a pitch-in supper on Sunday evening, November 3, 1968. When the meal began 36 people representing 13 families were in attendance.

Dr. Marshall Chambers, Director of Church Relations, was guest speaker as he shared with the group information about the work of his department. He related the work underway and gave several examples of how Alumni could assist in future projects. Dean Ransburg represented the Alumni Office at the meeting.

Election of officers was held and Hilda (Becker) Meyer was named to lead the activities in the year ahead. The next meeting of the club will be held on January 18, 1969, at New Albany United Methodist Church. Plans include a light supper meal, brief meeting, and adjournment to attend the Indiana Central-Bellarmine basketball game in Louisville.

In attendance were the families of Dorothy (Miller) Reimold, Ron and Mary Hauswald, Hilda (Becker) Meyer, Art and Rosemary Funk, Rev. Wilfred Smith, Dave and Betty Elliott, Raymond Crawford, Dr. Charles Stanton, Joe Pezzullo, Bonnie Pinaire, and Betty (Binkley) Henricksen.

Chicago Area Club

The Chicago Area Club met at 7:30 p.m. on Saturday, October 26, 1968, at The Last Word restaurant in Downers Grove, Illinois. In attendance were Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Warren, Byron and Dorothy (Cooper) Goetz, Rev. George and Dorothy (Mihouse) Jacobs, Mr. and Mrs. Merolin Dipert, Rev. David and Roselie (Rapp) Eiler, Miss Janet Stiles, Ed. and Ruth Ann (Wagner) Gault, Harold and Ann (Cory) Bretz, Richard and Mildred (Dean) Warren.

Dr. Robert M. Brooker, Chairman of the Division of science and mathematics, was the speaker from the campus. His topic "Stranger than it may seem" was an interesting and thought provoking presentation. Dean Ransburg attended from the Alumni Office to bring current information about the college and its programs.

Arrangements were the result of coordinated efforts of the Gault and the Jacobs families. President Jacobs adjourned the meeting with a reminder that the group would be preparing for a spring meeting in April or May.

Colorado Alumni

President I. Lynd Esch met with Indiana Central alumni in Colorado while attending a meeting in Denver last month. A group of 20 alumni and their families gathered at Luby's Cafeteria on November 9 to eat supper together with Dr. Esch. They saw slides of the campus and heard a report of the current changes and plans for the future from the president.

Alumni in attendance were: John and Lois (Kirkham) Young, Nancy (Parker) Dawson, Robert C. Enyart, Tom McCormick, John and Janice (Wininger) Engle, Jay Windell, Paul and Margaret (Haworth) Bilby, Frances (Brazeal) Richardson, Linda (Nixon) Whitfield, and Janet (Bilby) Nelson.

With Tom McCormick serving as coordinator, the group is planning to get together in the future, though the date has not yet been specified. A roster of alumni in Colorado is being prepared for circulation with the announcement.

At Bradford Woods

The Rev. Glenn W. Catlin '45, for the past seven years director of camping of the Presbyterian Church, Presbytery of Philadelphia, has been chosen as Assistant Director of the American Camping Association and has moved to the National Headquarters at Bradford Woods, Martinsville, Indiana.

Previous to going to Philadelphia, Glenn was pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Seaton, Illinois, and Coordinator of Monmouth, Illinois, Cooperative Parish consisting of 25 churches.

His wife was the late Mary Alice (McKain '43) Catlin. There are two children, Emily Elaine 19 and Mark 16.

Personals

David A. Conrad is a mathematics teacher in Perry East Junior High, Marion Co.

Karen (Bertels) Cramer is teaching first grade at Public School 28 in Indianapolis.

Janice Goodyear teaches in the Carmel-Clay Schools.

Bruce Jeffery-Smith is working at Allison in Quality Assurance Training, using T.V. video tape as a training tool because Allison Division is much too large to use individual instructors. He is one of two men at Allison using video tape as a training device and is often consulted by other Allison departments to put one of their programs on video tape. He says his degree in psychology has helped him immensely in his job.

Kip Kistler is an executive with the Boy Scouts of America working in Indianapolis.

Bonnie Rife is a staff nurse—O.B. Department of Community Hospital.
Admissions Congress
At
Indiana Central Again

The Eighth Annual Indiana Admissions Congress met at Indiana Central College on September 30 and October 1 with over 600 high school counselors and administrators and college admissions personnel in attendance.

Sponsored by the Indiana Association of College Admissions Counselors; the State Scholarship Commission of Indiana; the Indiana Student Financial Aids Association; the United States Department of Health, Education, and Welfare; and the State Department of Public Instruction of Indiana, the Congress met for the second year on the ICC campus.

General chairman of the conference was John E. Owen, Director of Admissions and Records, Earlham College. He was assisted by Joseph T. Naumcheff, Assistant Director of Admissions, Ball State University.

The main concern of the Congress centered on student unrest and the responsibilities of educators toward students of today. Keynote speeches were presented by J. Dudley Dawson, Vice-President and Dean of Students, Emeritus (1967), Antioch College, Yellow Springs, Ohio; David D. Johnson, Chief, Educational Opportunity Grant Branch, Division of Student Financial Aid, Washington, D.C.; Robert C. Sinnaeve, Executive Secretary, State Scholarship Commission; Norman Dixon, Coordinator for Graduate Studies in Education, Southern University, Baton Rouge, Louisiana. On the second day of the meetings, the Honorable John Brademas, Member of Congress, Third District of Indiana, addressed the audience by telephone on "Congress and the College Student."

The Congress also included a "reverse" college day program during which the high school counselors had opportunity to attend four different information sessions to learn about colleges and universities, in order to better serve the students of their respective high schools. The final meeting of the Congress was especially for the benefit of new counselors, to furnish them with vital information about tests, counseling materials, and basic college requirements.

Four offices were filled by non-alumni.

These Thoughts Are So
Good They Should Be Passed On

Ralph Waldo Emerson

My friend is that one whom I can associate with my choicest thought.

Henry David Thoreau

The happiest moments of my life have been in the flow of affection among friends.

Thomas Jefferson

Of all felicities the most charming is that of a firm and gentle friendship. It sweetens our cares, dispels our sorrows, and counsels us in all our extremities.

Seneca

I count myself in nothing else so happy
As in a soul remembering my good friends.

William Shakespeare

We may build more splendid habitations, fill our rooms with paintings and with sculptures. But we cannot buy with gold the old associations.

Neighbors Honor
The Hoppings

Mrs. Hazel (Foutch '31) Hopping and her husband Earl were honored Monday night, October 29, by a gathering of friends and customers who had been served for 38 years by Hopping's Regal Store, 2720 E. Michigan Street.

The Hoppings were forced to retire because the building housing the store had been sold. The meeting was held in St. Philip Neri Catholic parish auditorium. The Hoppings are Methodists. The Hoppings were praised by the pastor of St. Philip Neri Church and by Mayor Richard D. Lugar for their service to the eastside, Arsenal Technical High School, and the school's Parent-Teacher Association.

The Hoppings have four children, David of California, Daniel of Indianapolis, and Mark and Mary Jane, both students at Indiana University.

Since the oldest child entered Tech High School both parents have been active in Tech's PTA. Hazel is a member of the Board of Directors of the ICC Alumni Association.
Women's Society Elects Alumna

Nearly 3,000 women gathered October 30 in Roberts Park United Methodist Church in a service which united three former Methodist and two former Evangelical United Brethren Women's conferences into two new units. Among officers elected was Mrs. Philip (Clare Jacobs '44) Stone who was named vice-president. Her husband is pastor of the Terre Haute First United Methodist Church. The Stones have two children: Dennis '67, a student at I. U. Medical School, and Donna '68, a nurse who is still in Indiana Central studying toward an AB degree.

Dr. Noblitt Writes Book

There has come to the desk of Pres. Each a book, Home in the Hills. The author is Dr. Loren S. Noblitt, head of the mathematics and physics departments at Indiana Central in the late twenties. He is the grinder and donor of the lens for the telescope that for many years was housed in the Noblitt Observatory that stood on the east side of the small campus. Now the telescope rests on the roof of Lilly Science Hall. The site of the Noblitt Observatory is being occupied by the new dormitory.

Dr. Noblitt obtained his B.S. and M.S. degrees from New York University and was granted an honorary degree of Doctor of Humane Letters by Indiana Central in 1962. He also studied at Moody Bible Institute, and Rutgers and Columbia U.

Dr. Noblitt lives with his wife, who was also on ICC's faculty, at 1719 4th Ave., E. Brandenton, Florida during the winter months. When spring comes they return to their farm home near Columbus.

The Noblitts are the parents of two sons and one daughter: Dr. Loren Walls Noblitt '49 of LaHabra, CA; Charles Robert Noblitt '50 of Noblesville, IN; and Mrs. Ralph (Alma Noblitt '31) O'Dell of Cleburne, TX.

He is also the author of The Lost Song and co-author of Down the Centuries with the Noblittes.

ICC Board Of Directors Discuss Future Plans

by
Dwight L. Smith

One of the notable differences which sets the election year of 1968 apart from previous ones of memory is the participation of many who never before involved themselves in the campaigns beyond the ballot box, if even then.

The electorate is rightfully determined that those whom they elect reflect their views and assume the responsibility of articulating and translating their needs into effective programs and solutions. They are further determined to exercise their own responsibilities in maintaining channels of communication with their representatives.

Our situation is analogous. The Board of Directors consists of representatives of the Alumni Association. The Board is charged with the immediate responsibility for the success of the Association. Beyond housekeeping chores, it is keenly aware that its principal obligation is to its alumni constituency to promote the welfare and best interests of the Indiana Central family. As it is solemnly and keenly aware of its role, the Board sincerely hopes that the alumni themselves will realize that their responsibility does not cease when they cast their ballots once a year to choose the membership of the Board.

The Board solicits your letters—complaints, suggestions, ideas, proposals, or even praise. Like yourselves, the Board is composed of homemakers, educators, physicians, lawyers, dentists, librarians, businessmen, and other professions, including a janitor. They are listed under the masthead of the Alumni News. As you voice your opinions at the PTA, complain to the trustees of your church, or write to your Congressman, why not register your thoughts with the Board? We can thus be more responsive to your needs and wishes. (If postage is a problem, our Director of Alumni Relations, Dean Ransburg, says he will accept postage due charges.)

The Board met in extended session on October 12 to establish guidelines for its program for the 1968-69 year. Not only is it concerned with the ongoing duties attending such a body. It is exploring new paths of service for the Board and the Association; and it is scrutinizing and redefining their role, purpose, and structure in the belief that self-examination and criticism are necessary and desirable. Also, so that the Board not operate in a vacuum, it will seek to involve other members of the Alumni family, students, and College officials in its deliberations and program.

Another Wish

Dear Magazine, go upon your way
Over mountain, plain or sea.
God bless all who speed your flight
To where I wish you to be.

And bless all those beneath the roof
Where I would have you rest;
But bless even more the one to whom
This magazine is addressed.

Author Unknown
In Memoriam

Only recently has information come to the Alumni Office of the death of John C. Beukema LL.D. '59. The following are excerpts from the Muskegon Chronicle of Muskegon, Michigan, Sept. 21, 1967:

"City's Best-known Leader: Death came today to John Charles Beukema, civic leader, industrialist, banker, public official, and one of Muskegon's— and Michigan's—leading citizens. He was 79.

"... He will be best remembered for his most vital and lasting contribution—his successful 40-year fight as one of the leading national proponents of the St. Lawrence Seaway."

Alumni may remember him as the commencement speaker of 1956.

No better epitaph can be written than the citation by President Esch when Dr. Bailey received the degree of Doctor of Laws:

"Business Administrator, Governmental Counselor, and Civic Benefactor. In appreciation of the valuable contribution you have rendered to the peoples of the United States and the Dominion of Canada through your services in the field of Government reorganization and administration; and in recognition of your leadership in the area of business administration, and your Christian statesmanship in community enterprises, the faculty of Indiana Central has voted to grant you and the Board of Trustees has authorized me to hereby confer on you the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws."

His wife, the former Lavina Good, sister of the late Pres. I. J. Good, died April 13, 1965. They leave two sons, Robert and Arthur. The Baileys were active members of the Methodist Church.

Dr. Bailey taught the Social Sciences at Indiana Central from 1915 to 1917.

Benjamin F. Ropp, 86 years old, former Justice of the Peace and teacher in the Bartholomew County schools for 31 years, died August 15, 1968, just 18 days after his wife of 54 years died. Both were laid to rest in the City Cemetery of Columbus.

He was graduated from Indiana State Teachers College in 1913 and from Indiana Central in 1920. He was principal of Clifford High School from 1914 to 1916 and of Taylorsville from 1917 to 1919. He taught mathematics at Columbus High School from 1920 to 1941, when he retired. He was Justice of the Peace of Columbus township from 1955 to 1962. He was a member of the First United Methodist Church, St. John's Masonic Lodge, Chapter and Council, and the Columbus Commandery.

Surviving are five sisters, the youngest of whom is Mrs. Esta Isley, R. R. 4, Shelbyville, IN 46176.

Mrs. Dorothy (Gray '30) Tyner died August 6, 1968 in the Polyclinic Hospital of Camp Hill, PA. She is survived by her husband, Richard T. Tyner, and two sons.

Walter J. Padgett of Mulberry, Indiana, husband of Melba Sims '30, died in his sleep February 7, 1968, the result of a heart attack. Mr. Padgett, a veteran of World War II, was employed by the Aluminum Company of America, Lafayette, Indiana. Surviving, besides the widow, is a son, James.

Mary Alice (McKain '43) Catlin of Jenkentown, Pennsylvania, died May 4, 1968, following her second heart surgery. She was the wife of the Rev. Glenn W. Catlin '46, at that time associate moderator of the Prebytery of Philadelphia, and the mother of a daughter Emily and son Mark. In addition to her immediate family, she is survived by her father and mother, Dr. and Mrs. A. B. McKain '19, and three sisters, Esther McKain '39, Martha (Mrs. Carl) Leiter '45, and Lois (Mrs. Merrill) Hoban '47.

Mary Alice's alumni friends will remember her as a violinist, both soloist and a member of the college orchestra.

Mrs. Ruby (Dennis '38) Finney died of a heart attack May 29, 1968 in the Miami Valley Hospital, Dayton, OH. Since 1950 she had lived near Brookville, OH, with her husband, John Franklin Finney, daughter Susan, and son Joseph, all of whom survive her. She is also survived by her mother, Mrs. Fred L. Dennis Sr., sisters, Mrs. Othella Poling '35, Springfield, MA; Mrs. Janet Eisendrath '46, Belmont, MA; Mrs. Martha Vertrees '37, Crown Point, IN; Mrs. Joanne Dobbs '53, Anderson, IN; and brother, Fred L. Dennis, Jr. Before her heart attack she had been nursing at Miami Valley Hospital.

Central Council President Reports
by Jim Miller

This year's Central Council has been quite active. Over the summer, we signed agreements with fourteen businesses in the Indianapolis area to extend student discounts to Indiana Central students. The businesses range from the Priority Theaters to Sanders Cleaners, Bourke's Standard Service Station, and Chuck and Bob's Marathon Service Station. Thus far these agreements have worked to the satisfaction of the businesses and the students. This summer we also presented a lighting plan for the campus to Mr. Leo Miller, which was accepted and put into effect.

Central Council this year has been attempting to build an environment of greater academic concern of which our students can be a part. We finalized plans for our newly formed Academic Curriculum Council which consists of one or two students from every major area. These students represent the students in their major areas on the faculty's Academic Curriculum Council, which decides upon the curriculum to be offered. These area representatives send questionnaires to the students in their major area to find what students feel the needs are in that particular area. From this committee, students were chosen to represent the student body on various faculty and administrative committees—an area in which students have never been represented before. This new Academic Curriculum Council, headed by Cathy Knecht, a junior from Dayton, Ohio, is progressing admirably.

Central Council has also been sponsoring programs on the pass-fail system of grading. This is designed to make education valuable for the sake of gaining knowledge not just a grade. We recently had Dr. Robert McBride, Academic Dean of Albright College in Pennsylvania and a Central alumnus, in convocation to discuss the pros and cons of this grading system which Albright is experimenting with now. The council will be sponsoring a panel discussion of six students debating the merits of such a system. Central Council will also be sponsoring a panel discussion on the problem of communication in a college of our size. Members of the panels for this discussion will consist of students, faculty, and administration.

Indiana Central College is one of the few schools in the state that does not have a debating team. There are about twenty or thirty students interested in participating on such a team. We have written other schools in our area. We have gathered much material on aids for debaters and on our team. There are many more for the football game than for any other event, as is usual. The morning events included the tennis match with Manchester, and the cross country run with Butler, DeFauw and Rose Poly. Manchester claimed the tennis victory and Indiana Central the cross country.

Except for a very light wind, it was a perfect afternoon for the football game with Manchester, won by them 42-28.

The smorgasbords, served by Slater's Food Service, have become popular, and this time, as well as other times, drew a good number of alumni. Supplementing an attractive table and good food was entertainment by the "Generation Gap," a group of students pictured in the October issue of the NEWS.

Later in the evening entertainment was furnished by the first number of the Artist Series. The Ramsey Lewis Trio entertained in the gymnasium. This was followed by an Alumni Association-ICC Central Council reception and dance in the Schwitzer Center concourse. And so ended a perfect day.

Name 20 Seniors
To Who's Who

Twenty Indiana Central seniors will be listed in the 1969 edition of Who's Who. These were chosen for the honor by the faculty in the usual way.

The second generation students chosen are: Verna T. Adler, daughter of Tom and Dorothy Adler, Decatur, Indiana; John T. Everett, son of Harold and Agnes (Dawson) Everitt, Mason City, Illinois; Cary L. Hanni, son of Robert Hanni; Sarah (Hiatt) Maple, daughter of Lloyd and Treva (Shoemaker) Hiatt; Margaret E. Meyer, daughter of Stanley and Hilda (Becker) Meyer; and John W. Swank, son of Everett and Kathryn (Duncan) Swank.
1200 Attend High School Day

Indiana Central's campus was host to approximately 1200 visitors on the annual High School Day, October 19.

The day's activities were planned to acquaint high school students with the facilities, students, faculty, and academic program of ICC. Registration began at 8 a.m. in the gymnasium.

During the registration time, "The Generation Gap"—Roger Hill, Diane Farlow, John Tolley, Marsha Wallace, and Jenny Graham—entertained informally with songs. The five students also represented Indiana Central in church camps during the past summer.

Following a brief welcome by Dr. I. Lynd Essex and announcements by Mr. Lynn R. Youngblood, Director of Admissions, all underclassmen moved to Ransburg Auditorium where they were entertained by the Centralaires and by Miss Jo Ellen Spencer, a junior and a folk-singer from Indianapolis.

The Central Council executive board composed of President Jim Miller, Vice-president Marlowe Mullen, Secretary Susan Snyder, Mike Hines, vice-president of social activities, and Walter Maxson, vice-president of religious activities, talked to the group about campus activities and programs.

At the same time, juniors and seniors were meeting with faculty members who offered information to them concerning requirements, courses, and purposes within their chosen field of interest or career. Later, the upperclassmen also heard the Centralettes and the college choir. A panel of college freshmen and sophomores then discussed their views of Indiana Central. With Dean Nathan Wooden moderating, panel members were Carl Herbster and Julia Vance, freshmen; Micki Daugherty and George Gordon, sophomores.

After lunch in the school dining hall, the students were invited to attend the cross country meet or a style show. At 2 p.m. the group attended the ICC-Franklin football game, which was followed by a bicycle race sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega.

At least 250 seniors were among the students attending. The 1968 attendance topped any previous High School Day count.

Earl's Puppets Win 2nd Prize

Earl Snellenberger, assistant professor of art, won second prize in sculpture at this year's Indiana State Fair, and more recently he was on WFBM-TV with his puppets. He presented his puppet show Saturday, September 28, in Ayres auditorium at 1:00, 2:00, and 4:00 p.m. with the Indiana Artist Club exhibit.

Board of Directors Meet

The Board of Directors of the Alumni Association held the first meeting of the 1968-69 year on Oct. 12, 1968. Because alumni are busy people, not every member was present, but we think it worthy of note and gratitude that members came from not only Indianapolis, but from as far away as Fort Wayne, Corydon, and Miami, OH. Dwight Smith, a professor of history at Miami University and president of the Board is always present before the opening hour of 9:09.

Dr. Marshall Chambers, Director of the new Department of Church Relations, had been invited to report on the purpose and progress of the department. After his talk and some preliminaries, Dr. Dwight Smith, president, named the following committees:

Alumni Fund and Roll Call: Ralph Coddington, chairman; Charles Dill, Arville Funk. Charles Dill is also to serve as Fellows chairman.

Students See 'Stars'

Really they were not stars, but planets, though commonly called stars. On the last night of summer, September 30, the Noblit Observatorio, now atop the Lilly Science Hall, was open to the public unless "the sky is cloudy." The sky was clear and the observers were able to see the planets Mercury, Saturn, Venus and also the moon. (The dictionary defines a planet as any heavenly body that shines by reflected sunlight and revolves about the sun, as distinguished from the fixed stars.) The writer remembers one summer when there were four planets to be seen at one time—the three mentioned above and Jupiter.

Their apartment is just south of Knott's Berry Farm and within minutes of the ocean, the mountains, and Disneyland. In spite of their pleasure in their new surroundings, their first days were marred by accidents to their 2½ year old son Bradley. He rode a tricycle into Nancy's sister's pool and nearly drowned, but John's knowledge of artificial resuscitation saved him. Then he was attacked by a dog and bitten in the face. Fortunately, he recovered from that.

Already the Pricketts have found I.C.C. friends and are looking forward to a meeting of I.C.C. alumni and reading the ALUMNI NEWS.

SPORTS OUTLOOK
by Buster Shepherd

In analyzing the coming basketball season, the first thought should be of optimism since Indiana Central did not lose any of the squad from last season. However, Earlham, Hanover, and Taylor, the three teams that finished ahead of ICC last year, are as strong or stronger. Franklin, Anderson, and Manchester who were in a rebuilding program last year were never “out” of any game they played.

Putting these factors together the conclusion is that any one of the seven teams in the HCC could be on top at the end of the coming season.

The morale of the Greyhounds is very high and encouraging. There seems to be a feeling of team unity and an acceptance of individual and team responsibilities. It is gratifying and essential that these two characteristics exist before it is possible for the abilities of a team to show through and for their goal to be accomplished. Coach Angus Nicoson is looking forward to having a good, competitive season, one that the Greyhounds will be proud of.

In addition to the HCC struggle, the Capital City Tournament will be held in the Indiana Central gym on December 27 and 28. Participating will be Marian College of Indianapolis, St. Edwards University of Austin, Texas and North Central College of Naperville, Illinois.

With the Hoosier College Conference wrestling programs getting stronger and with the Greyhound grapplers facing a tougher schedule, Coach Paul Velez hopes for an improvement over last season’s six won and six lost record.

The 1968-69 edition of the Greyhound wrestling team will be led by seniors Jim Phillips (160 & 167), Dave Graves (177), and Dave Holman (191). This trio will be backed up by returning lettermen Marlowe Mullen (152 & 160), Tom Tudor (137 & 145), juniors; and Steve Palmore (115) and Mike Willoughby (123), sophomores.

The addition of Jack Ott, Noblesville, the 1967 and 1968 Indiana High School Athletic Association 127 pound champion is expected to strengthen the 130 pound class. Dale Gunnion (127 & 145) Southport; and Guy Groff (145) Greenwood are expected to improve the 145 pound class which saw victory only once in 1967-68. Randy Watson (167) New Castle looks like an able replacement for four time HCC champion Dale Sidebottom, who graduated.

Two prospects with wrestling experience are determined to fill the vacancy left by Lester Lull. They are: Ted Crisman (248) Elkhart, and Eric Brandgard (225) Plainfield.

Indiana Central’s football team, under the direction of second year coach Ed Dwyer, completed the 1968 campaign with a 2-6 record and finished sixth in a very close Hoosier College Conference battle. The Greyhounds’ tennis squad placed fifth in the HCC race; while the cross country team, which finished seventh in the Little State meet, gained second place in the conference meet at Taylor on November 9.
