College Choir Visits Two Ohio
And Seven Indiana Cities

Forty members of the Indiana Central College Choir gave fifteen concerts in two Ohio and seven Indiana cities on its annual mid-winter tour.

The group left Indianapolis early Sunday, January 28, by chartered bus and returned to the Indiana Central campus on Saturday, February 3, after a day of sightseeing in Chicago.

The choir is directed by Farrell M. Scott, associate professor of music, a well-known tenor soloist. Accompanists are Verna Adler, Decatur; Melanie Manges, Crawfordsville; and Marsha Wallace, Weldon, Ill. They also sing with the choir.

The officers of the choir are John Beeler, Decatur, Indiana, president; Walter Maxon, Indianapolis, vice-president; Miss Manges, secretary-treasurer; and Steve Miller, New Albany.

The first public performance on the choir’s tour was at the 10:30 a.m. worship service Sunday, January 28, at the Evangelical United Brethren Church at New Madison, Ohio. It gave another sacred concert Sunday evening at seven in the EUB Church in Arcanum, Ohio.

On Monday, Jan. 29, it sang at the Arcanum High School at 9 a.m. and at the New Madison High School at 1:30 p.m. before returning to Indiana for the remainder of its appearances.

An Alumna Letter

Mrs. Charles A. Smith (Floris Highsmith N36) writes:

“It was a great pleasure to be back on the campus of Indiana Central in June for the 30th reunion of the Class of 1937. It was the first time we had really been back to see what has been done since June, 1947. As we walked around the campus and saw the absolutely beautiful buildings, we could hardly believe it! What a contrast to those lean years of the 30’s when we were still struggling out of the depression! Back in those days we never dreamed of such luxury! But I am sure our memories of those days at Indiana Central are just as precious to us as the memories of today’s students will be to them.

“We share with many of the ‘old grads’ a feeling of gladness that the old Ad Building was preserved. The inside renovation is wonderful, but the classic design and great white pillars will always be Indiana Central to many of us. (Charlie says he will never forget helping to paint those pillars one year.)

“I hope it won’t be so long before we get back again and I hope Hanna Avenue will be all finished!” (It is not yet finished because of the unusually bad weather, but it is usable and will no doubt be completed before next Alumni Day. Ed.)

Floris is the wife of Charles A. Smith ’37, a YMCA secretary in various cities, for the past 16 years in Youngstown, Ohio.

The Central Story

The Central Story is being told with enthusiasm these days as EPIC moves from the office out into the field. The volunteer organization numbers in the thousands over the states of Indiana and Illinois. There were forty-three separate instruction meetings held to train these workers and to give them the materials which they need to tell the Central story to their fellow church members.

The story is being told, too, in the brochures which have been mailed. The mailing list is about 30,000. There will be four separate mailings each presenting a part of the story.

It is really a thrilling story that is being told. It has all of the elements of "Horatio Alger," small beginnings, great difficulties, sacrifice and long years of hard, seemingly unrewarding work by the pioneer leaders, and then recognition of significant achievement. Central has traveled a long, hard road. It has emerged as a successful institution because of the dedicated efforts of thousands of people who need to tell the Central story to their fellow church members.

Central, too, must continue to press forward if it is to be successful in meeting the demands of the years ahead. The success of EPIC will depend upon the dedicated efforts of thousands of people who have volunteered to tell the Central story. It is a great story; let us all continue to tell it with pride and enthusiasm.

Hillis Elected Vice President

Seaborn W. Hillis '57, who spent seven years as teacher and coach in the Indiana school system and gave it up to go with Lincoln Life Insurance Company and who, since January 1 of last year, has served as Midwest Sales Director and has guided the continued growth and expansion of the nation's fifth ranking Central Illinois Division, has been elected by the Board of Directors to the post of Home Office Vice President within the Agency Department.

The holder of a Master's degree in Education from the University of Indiana, Seab was without previous life sales experience, but, within his first four weeks, his commissions equaled his previous year's income. He ranked 35th nationally that first year. During 1965 he recruited, trained, and developed an agency organization ranking 16th nationally. In September, 1966, he was named Associate Midwest Sales Director within the Home Office to assist in the development of the Central Illinois Division. Then, on January 1, 1967, he again accepted a new and challenging position when he was named to the post of Midwest Sales Director.

Seab Hillis is not only a talented sales management executive, but is a masterful salesman as well.

Eskew Addresses Indianapolis Area Club

Phil Eskew, commissioner of the Indiana High School Athletic Association, spoke at a dinner meeting of the Indianapolis Area Alumni Club of Indiana Central Thursday night, February 15. The buffet dinner was served in Schwitzer Center at 6:30.

Mrs. Marguerite Albright '28, president of the club, has announced three other meetings the Indianapolis alumni will hold during 1968. The second will be for dessert and discussion after the season's final Artist Series program, on which David Brinkley, NBC news commentator, will speak in Ransburg Auditorium on Saturday night, April 20.

The club will stage a family picnic on the campus at 5:30 p.m. on September 10, and a dinner meeting will precede the annual alumni-varsity basketball game on November 25.

Wind Ensemble And Orchestra Give Concert

The Indiana Central College Wind Ensemble and Symphony Orchestra will present their second combined concert of the year on Sunday, February 25, at 3:00 p.m. The concert will be in Ransburg Auditorium. Both organizations are conducted by Lowell Bovoughs, Chairman of the Music Department.

The first half of the concert will feature the symphony orchestra, playing Schubert's Symphony No. 5 in B flat Major. Two students, Melanie Manges and James Frazee will be piano soloists in Saint-Saens' Carnival of the Animals.

The Wind Ensemble will begin the second half of the concert with the Royal Fireworks Music by Handel.

Also being performed are Tocatta Marsiale by Ralph Vaughan-Williams, Overture to the Opera "Martha" by Freidrich von Flotow, and Concerto in B Flat Major for Two Trumpets and Wind Ensemble by Vivaldi. Featured as trumpet soloists in the concerto will be Jo Ellen Spencer and Paul Hilgeman. Mr. Hilgeman is a member of the music faculty at Indiana Central, and Jo Ellen is one of his students.

The Responsible Alumnus

As president of your Alumni Association, I have the opportunity of presenting my thoughts to you in the columns of the Alumni News. Each issue I receive brings out the continuing progress of Indiana Central and with each issue, I find it easy to take pride in the advances of our college.

The Alumni Association itself has made many changes and much progress in recent years. The organization has been strengthened and the Board of 20 members serving as directors have functioned in an active and articulate manner. A great deal of credit is due these elected volunteers who come to the campus four times each year to plan the program of the association.

Yet, I wonder if you, the alumni, are giving your full support to the work of these dedicated individuals. They are elected to serve your interests in promoting the advancement and progress of our college. Are you as alumni taking advantage of the opportunity to make your feelings and frustrations known to the Administration through these people? Do you communicate your hopes and fears to these Board members? Do you ask your questions of these representatives? Do you share your criticisms and constructive advice for improvement with your alumni officers? If not, are you not taking advantage of the opportunities available to you.

Our progress as an educational institution and an important cog in the life of the community hinges upon those involved with the work of our Alma Mater. The role of the active alumnus is one that only you can fill. The properly motivated alumnus can open the door to new challenges for the college on one hand, and help the school avoid pitfalls which would deter success.

Interested? You will find the names of the Board Members listed under the masthead. Express yourself to one of them. Ask your questions of them. Let them bring your comments under consideration for improvement for your Alumni Association and your college.

When you accept your responsibility as an alumnus of the college you attended, you get involved; and when you get yourself involved you and Indiana Central both will profit. Try it and see.

He played four years of football for Indiana Central, where he was named most valuable offensive lineman in 1963, and two years of varsity basketball.

Five Alumni Outstanding

The Indiana Central Alumni Office has been informed that five alumni have been chosen as OUTSTANDING YOUNG MEN OF AMERICA. They are Arlen Armstrong ’58, James R. Day ’56, Kenneth J. Knox ’60, Joseph W. McIntosh ’58, and Robert L. Thiel ’57.

OUTSTANDING YOUNG MEN OF AMERICA is an annual project of the Outstanding Americans Foundation to “recognize and honor the young men of our country who are working toward excellence in their careers and community service.”

Arlen Armstrong is an elementary school teacher in Beech Grove, Indiana; James Day is principal of Camden Central School, Camden, N.Y.; Kenneth Knox is Director of the Boys’ Clubs of Indianapolis; Joe McIntosh is health educator for the Health and Hospital Corporation’s Public Health Division of Indiana; and Robert Thiel is vice-principal of Belzer Junior High School, Marion County, Indiana.

Former Faculty

Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth St. Clair spent the Christmas holidays with Mrs. St. Clair’s parents in Decatur, Georgia. Kenneth Jr., X65, AB66, University of Kentucky, a specialist fourth class in the Army (armor), will finish his term of duty in Germany in April. He is also teaching a class in English at his Army base. He plans to return to U. of Ky. for graduate work in history.

Both Dr. and Mrs. St. Clair are doing full-time teaching in Tarkio, Missouri, and both are busy in church and college life.

Prof. Norman Bosley, after finishing a year of advanced graduate study at the University of Chicago in theology and literature, went to teach summer school at Ocean County College at Toms River, New Jersey, and stayed to teach full time. Mrs. Bosley (Karen Foley ’65) is teaching English at Southern Regional High School in Manahawkin, New Jersey.

Prof. Bosley writes, “This end of New Jersey is radically different from the cluttered, jammed strip between Philadelphia and New York, for the region here is rural farmland, mile upon mile of rolling pine forest, and windswept marsh and seashore resorts, and its an area we have come to love.

“We live in a summer house owned by my parents, who live in New York in the winter. We feel privileged to live by the sea and be able to watch the bleak white moon riding over the winter ocean. The whistle of the wind and the growling of the surf are ever present, and these sounds are joined by the sight of swarms of stars, which extend down to the eastern horizon.”

Kathryn Green Pearson, who was an assistant professor of nursing at Central from 1961 to 1965, is living at 2916 Tilden Avenue, Los Angeles 90064, with her husband Bruce and their two children, Sarah 5 and Tom 3. Her husband formerly taught at Indianapolis Shortridge High School and Earlham College. This year he started on his doctorate in linguistics at UCLA. Kathy is teaching nursing at Los Angeles State College. Bruce is the son of Leonard E. Pearson, IC director of public relations, and Hillerd Hudson Pearson ’66.
Roll Call And Fellows Report

Alumni response to the 1967-68 Roll Call campaign has been most heartening, was the report to the Board of Directors of the Alumni Association at their last meeting. More and more alumni have become aware of the need to aid the college annually and are responding with larger gifts than in any previous Roll Call.

Under the theme of Progress Toward Excellence, funds received from alumni donations have been pledged to support a three part goal: (1) securing and maintaining a top-flight faculty, (2) providing more scholarship and student aid for needy students and (3) assisting in library improvements. These are three basic needs to provide excellence in education for Indiana Central students.

Gifts already received from graduates and former students total over $18,000 and give the Roll Call committee the best seven month report in history. There are still a large number of alumni yet to be heard from before the end of the current Roll Call campaign on June 30, 1968. Gift envelopes are in the hands of many alumni who will respond during the final months of the campaign, and these can put us well within our goal of $35,000, according to Richard Reasoner, campaign chairman of this year's fund drive.

FELLOWS CONTINUES EXPANSION

The Fellows of Indiana Central, a program of continuing support of the college, continues its record of expanding membership. The college has welcomed 30 new members since the start of this year's fund drive in July, and it is pleasing to note that 17 of these are alumni.

Dr. Charles W. Dill, alumni fellows chairman, reported the following new members since the December issue of the ALUMNI NEWS: Richard & Gloria (Conway) Hilfiker, Mrs. Kathryn (Purecell) Poffenberger, Dr. Glen & Margaret (Scott) Todd, Casey and Mary Ellen (Moren) Wykowski, C. B. Kendall, L. Bruce Wright, Mrs. Opal (Burch) Boyd, and Mrs. Dorcas (Petty) Dice. Dill stated that several more alumni have been contacted and are giving consideration.

Each alumnus has an opportunity to play a vital role in the progress of Indiana Central. Every alumni contribution whether a large, medium or small gift makes the college more effective in its continuing program. By making a thoughtful annual contribution, you become a partner with others who are providing educational opportunity for tomorrow's leaders.

In commenting on the report, one board member said that he did not know of any alumni who could donate the $15,000 necessary to make our goal; but he was confident that we have more than 1,000 alumni who can contribute at least $15 and this has the same result. Our objective is quality in education and it is no secret that money buys quality.

If you still have a Roll Call envelope on your desk at home waiting to be filled, take action today. Make out your check and drop it in the mail to help us do our part as loyal alumni of Indiana Central.

Indiana Central Launches
$1 Million Endowment Drive First Phase Of $25 Million Campaign
Extending To 1985

Indiana Central College is in the midst of a campaign to raise $1 million among members of the Evgelical United Brethren Church in Indiana and Illinois.

The money will be added to the present endowment to provide further aid for students and for faculty excellence, according to Dr. L. L.
Huffman of Dayton, Ohio, president of the college's board of trustees, who is general chairman of the campaign.

Dr. Huffman, formerly a Hammond lawyer, retired earlier this year as publisher of the Otterbein Press at Dayton, the EUB publishing house.
He has been a trustee of Indiana,
Central since 1928.

This intensive campaign has been designated EPIC—Endowment Program Indiana Central—and is the first phase of a development program extending to 1986 and expected to produce a total of $25 million.

Honorary state chairmen of the EPIC program are Bishop Reuben H.
Mueller of Indianapolis, head of the EUB's West Central Area, for Indiana, and Bishop H. R. Heininger of Minneapolis, head of the denomination's Northwestern Area, for Illinois.

An organization for the campaign is being established in the three church conferences affiliated with Indiana Central—Indiana North, Indi-ania South, and Illinois. Under the conference volunteer leaders will be organizations of workers at the discinct, group, and church congregation levels.

All of Indiana is included in the EPIC campaign. The Indiana South Conference embraces a small portion of Kentucky, including the Louisville area. Only part of the Illinois conference is related to Indiana Central the Southern District and the Canton and Galesburg groups of the Western District. The remainder of the Western District and all of the Eastern District are the territory of North Central College, Naperville, Illinois.

Preliminary meetings to set up this organization have been held, and others are planned between now and Sunday, February 18, which will be Indiana Central College Day in the EUB churches of these conferences. The solicitation of EUB's for EPIC pledges will be conducted between then and March 19.

"The needs of a growing and progressive institution are never fully met," said President Esch in discussing EPIC. "Indiana Central now has a very modern campus. Its facilities are among the best to be found anywhere. But continuing growth will soon be overcrowding present capacities, and there will be need for additional facilities.

"Educational costs are rising rapidly, and there is urgent need for funds to supplement tuition and fees in order to insure that we will have the ability to attract and hold outstanding faculty. There also is a growing need for funds which can be used to assist worthy, but financially needy, students. It is to meet these two needs more adequately that the college is launching an endowment campaign . . . the immediate goal is to secure $1 million.

"Indiana Central was founded by the United Brethren Church. In 1946 the United Brethren Church and the Evangelical Church merged to form the Evangelical United Brethren Church, which now sponsors the college.

"This sponsoring church and the Methodist Church are forming a new union. The uniting conference of the two churches is scheduled for late April, 1968, at Dallas. The new denomination, the United Methodist Church, will become the sponsoring body for Indiana Central. The United Methodists will also sponsor DePauw University and the University of Evansville in Indiana.

"Indiana Central College looks with anticipation, enthusiasm, and confidence to the future and the opportunities and challenges this new affiliation will bring."
When Indiana Central opened in 1905 there was a single building—which served as classrooms, offices, and living quarters for students and professors—on an 8-acre campus. During the 1920's four dormitories and a frame gymnasium were built.

Dr. Esh became president of the college in 1945, just before the end of World War II. Since then the old gym has been replaced by a modern building with physical education classrooms, other facilities, and a basketball floor surrounded by 4,200 seats.

A multi-purpose Academic Hall, Lilly Science Hall, Krannert Hall for coeds, and the Schwitzer Student Center have been built as well, and the original Administration Building and the four older dormitories all have been completely renovated. Two other residences—one for the college president and one for 28 families of married students—likewise have materialized.

The value of Indiana Central's present 60-acre campus has increased ten-fold since 1945 so that it exceeds $7 million. Its budget has increased from $200,000 to $2½ million a year.

This fall found more than 1,000 full-time students attending day classes, 1,400 part-time students in evening classes, and 102 in the second year of the college's new graduate program.

Indiana Central fulfills its motto of "Education for Service" by preparing its graduates for many fields. The majority, however, are in teaching, Christian service, nursing, or business. Seventy percent of its alumni are engaged in education at some level.

"It is so that Indiana Central can continue to employ more and better teachers and increase assistance to worthy and needy students that we are undertaking this EPIC program," said its chairman, Dr. Huffman.

Stines Return Home

Indiana Central Offers Summer Tour Of Europe

A 30-day tour of Europe will be offered by Indiana Central College again this summer, and for the third time it will be led by Dr. Marga Meier, chairman of the Foreign Language Department, and Prof. Gerald G. Boyce, chairman of the Fine Arts Division.

The cost per person is $995. This includes round-trip plane fare from New York, transportation in Europe, hotel and travel tips, and breakfast and the main meal each day. The group is limited to 25 persons, who must be students, employees, or alumni of Indiana Central or members of their families.

Students may earn up to six semester hours of credit for the trip, which will leave New York August 1 and return August 30. Historical sites and other points of interest, including museums, art galleries, famous buildings and theaters, will be visited.

Committee Needs Names

The Awards and Recognition Committee would like to solicit your help by your suggesting the names of ICC alumni to be considered for a Distinguished Service Award. The presentations will be made at the annual Alumni meeting in June.

It is anticipated that this will be an annual event, with alumni from any field of endeavor being considered. Criteria for the awards will include high achievement in a specific field and distinguished service to Indiana Central. This does not necessarily mean that an award will be made in each separate field, but each candidate will be considered.

If you know of an alumnus you feel would qualify for such an award, will you please send his or her name to the Alumni Office. Also include a brief statement of why you feel this person should be considered for the award. Names should be in the Alumni Office not later than May 1, 1968.

Fleener Receives Degree And Research Grant

Don Fleener '49, received the Ph.D. in psychology from Indiana University in October, 1967. Presently he is on the faculty of Indianapolis Regional Campus of Indiana University. In addition to his teaching duties, he is doing research at the Institute of Psychiatric Research and is participating in an internship program at the Child Guidance Center of Riley Hospital at the L.U. Medical Center.

The following is from the FACULTY-STAFF BULLETIN of the Indianapolis Downtown Center:

"Of interest to all will be the news that Dr. Don Fleener, Psychology Department, has been awarded a faculty research grant-in-aid.

"Title for the proposed study is 'Infant-Mother Attachment Formation.' For his dissertation Dr. Fleener made the first laboratory attempt to study this attachment formation. A good part of his work lay in devising techniques for assessing the results and in determining the reliability of assessment indices. His hypothesis that such an attachment is formed quite rapidly was confirmed in the study.

"The new study will be one in which intervals for forming the attachment will be varied and in which infants will be placed with strangers. Dr. Fleener will try to determine whether an increase in interaction time with a stranger is associated with a progressive increase in attachment strength.

"Dr. Fleener's dissertation has been nominated by the Psychology Department for entry in the national Creative Talent Award program."

Dr. Fleener lives at 2575 Redfern Drive, Indianapolis, with his wife, the former Esther Reidenbach '49, and four daughters.

Father And Quartette of Sons

Kenneth (Pop) Brice of the class of '34 is in the seventh year as pastor of First EUB Church at Richland Center, Wisconsin. He and his wife Dorothy have four sons, who sometimes sing as a male quartette. The oldest, Joseph, heads the instrumental department at Central High in LeMars, Iowa, where he graduated from Westmar College. His band won first place in competition with thirty-five other bands at Winnipeg, Canada a couple of summers ago. Having received his master's degree four summers ago, he now expects to work on his doctorate in another year.

Second son, David, who is pastor at Lake Mills, Wisconsin, was privileged to travel to Europe with the United Seminary Choir upon his graduation.

Third son, Philip, is completing his work in architectural drafting at the University of Cincinnati.

Fourth son, Mark, who is also majoring in instrumental music, will graduate from Westmar College in the spring of 1968. He sang with the choir from Westmar that was chosen to represent the States at the "Expo '67" at Montreal, Canada. All four boys traveled with the college choirs and bands from Westmar during their college days; and David and Mark, each in turn traveled with the college quartettes for the college during some of their summers.

Pop is serving as president of the Local County Ministerial Association, as Conference Youth Cluster leader, President of Conference Board of Pensions and Group Insurance, member of the Conference Council of Administration, Program Council and Department of Health and Welfare. His wife Dorothy is a Dayton, Ohio girl. Her only association with ICC was to teach in a leadership training school held on campus in the early '30's. Having a little less than two years of work to finish her degree, she attended the State College of Eau Claire, when they were pastoring near there, and graduated from college the same year their oldest son Joseph graduated from high school.

The Turleys, An Interesting And Varied Family

The Roy Turleys might be called another ICC family, so closely have the members been associated with the college. Dr. Roy H. Turley, Sr. '20 came from a prominent EUB family in Harrison County. His brother, Claude '26, was deceased in 1944. Edna (Turley) Sharp, a sister, was a member of the class of 1926 but did not graduate. Dr. Turley, the pastor of the University Heights EUB Church for seventeen years, was made superintendent of Espanola Hospital, Espanola, New Mexico, in 1952 and served there until 1965, when he returned to Hartford City, Indiana, where he served his first pastorate and which is the home of his wife Vesta. He was soon asked to become the assistant pastor of the EUB Church there, and Vesta was asked to teach sixth grade after an interim of thirty years. Both are very happy in their retirement jobs.

The education of the eldest child, Howard, was interrupted by the Second World War, but he returned and was graduated from ICC in 1950. He now teaches in the Indianapolis Schools and with his wife, Betty, and three children enjoys the family hobby of raising, training and racing Shetland ponies. Betty, for many years secretary to the college president, is now a secretary in the Evening Division.

Barbara, a home economics graduate of the University of Ohio, lives with her husband and children in Corning, New York, where he is employed.

Jane '49 (Mrs. Roy Schaub) was without a husband for a year while he was on duty in Vietnam. They now live in Pacific Palisades after seven years in Colorado Springs, Colorado, while Roy was on secret work for the government.

Roy Jr. '52 is Chairman of the Science Division at Otterbein College. He and wife, Shirley (Moren '52), keep busy with campus and church activities and two young sons.

Philip '63 and wife Carol (Carlson '64) completed their Master's in August, 1967. Phil, after four years as choral director at Perry East Junior High, is choral director of Hartford City and Montpelier High Schools. Carol has a similar position at Hartford City Junior High School. They have purchased a home at Hartford City and are happily located at 107 Fairway Court, R. R. 4, 47848.

LIEUTENANT PERKINS, selected for OTS through competitive examination, is being assigned to Mather AFB, California, for Navigator training.

Peterson Joins Industrial Center At ICC

James E. Peterson '61, business education teacher in Perry Township school system the past six years, has been appointed assistant director of the Industrial Relations Center at ICC. Indiana Central continues to keep pace with the rapidly advancing usages of Electronic Data Processing. An IBM 1130 computing system was delivered to the campus in mid September and placed in the Data Processing center located in the basement of the Administration Building. The work of the center is under the direction of Peter Harman, who is shown above standing beside the Card Read Punch, while Mrs. Susan Thomas is at the keyboard of the central processing unit. The remaining piece of equipment at the right of the picture is the printer.

Maciejewski Gets New Assignment

Edmund A. Maciejewski, '58, who has been since 1962 with the U. S. Food and Drug Administration, has now been assigned to the new Federal Bureau of Drug Abuse Control in Detroit, Michigan. The Bureau is charged with enforcement activity against illegal distribution of stimulants, depressants, and hallucinogens. This new Bureau of the Food and Drug Administration was created along with a new law on these “Dangerous Drugs.” The new law gives enforcement tools needed in the work, i.e., firearms, arrest and seizure authority, and strict record keeping requirements for manufacturers, wholesalers, pharmacists, etc., who handle these drugs in legal channels.

Ed, his wife Lucille, and Pamela Ann, Joseph, and Jean Marie sent wishes for a happy holiday season to all ICC people.

Observatory Holds Open House

Noblitt Observatory, Lilly Science Hall, held an Open House on Monday, February 5, from 7:00 to 10:30 p.m.

Art Faculty Has Exhibit

An exhibit of the work of the Washington High School (Indianapolis) Art Faculty was held in the Leah Ransburg Gallery of Indiana Central from February 11 through March 8. Open House was held on the first day from 3 to 6 p.m.; Monday through Friday, 9:00 to 4:00. It was open until 9:00 p.m. February 12-16. The chairman of Washington’s art faculty is Evelyn McConnel. Other members of the faculty are Jason Bowers, Larry Cox, and Carl Jensen; the latter two are graduates of Indiana Central.

Honors Program At ICC

The Honors program, inaugurated under the leadership of Dr. Roland Nelson in the fall of 1965 with the course Man in Drama, has been making gratifying progress. Two other courses have been added, Man in History and Man in Society, and two additional courses are being readied. Three of this year’s juniors are, during the second semester, engaged in their Honors research projects (for four credits each). These students are Verna Adler, Sarah Hiatt, and Nancy Norcross. Miss Adler will be making a comparative study of “Sir Orfeo”—a Breton lai and one of the most delightful of the Middle English romances—and Chaucer’s “Wife of Bath’s Tale” (language, provenience, use of folk-motifs). Miss Hiatt’s subject deals with various aspects of life in Angustan England as revealed in The Spectator papers. (Our library has recently received a beautiful new five-volume edition of Addison and Steele’s Spectator.) Miss Norcross’s subject is “The Role of Society as Antagonist in Modern Tragedy, with Particular Attention to the Plays of Ibsen, O’Neill, and Arthur Miller.” These are challenging subjects. The working out of such projects under faculty guidance gives a student valuable experience in applying research techniques—in addition to the satisfaction that comes from solid achievement in the field of his major interest.

A Busy Retiree

The Rev. Mrs. Sylvia (Hardesty) Parks ’35 retired from the active ministry and sought rest and retirement in an apartment at 6030 South-green Dr., Indianapolis, which happens to be near the Turtle Creek Nursing Home. According to her nature, it was not long until she was doing some volunteer work at the home. Now she is performing various services there full-time five and one half days a week. First of all, she is chaplain, and as such she arranges for a minister for the Sunday morning services and helps the wheel chair patients to get into the service, arranges a music program for the middle of the week and visits each of the 98 residents at least once a week. She is director of activities, supervising arts and crafts and games several hours a week. She is dining room hostess twice a day, and arranges a birthday party once a month. She also distributes the mail and performs many other residential services.

Athletics 1967-68

A well balanced athletic program has always been the objective of the ICC athletic department and evidences of this policy are obvious on the Central campus.

The winter sports seasons are nearing their end and any Centralite or ex-Centralite can look at this season with a pride which will distinguish him as a Greyhound.

This has been a rebuilding year for Coach Nicoson and his basketball team, but you would have a hard time convincing several other coaches of that. There are not many schools that can have a rebuilding year and still finish very near that 50% mark or better. This year’s team with seven juniors and several sophomores and freshmen will be in their prime next season and the HCC had getter look out.

Coach Paul Velez also had a young team in wrestling and yet the Greyhound grapplers have had one of their best seasons and very likely are bound for a Hoosier Conference Championship. Dale Sidebottom and Mike Watkins are leading the way as co-captains of the team. Sidebot-

tom promises to be one of the best wrestlers ever to attend ICC.

In accordance with the ideas of balanced athletic interest students on campus are still looking back at this year’s football team with some pride also. John Egenolf, who played about four different positions this season, and senior guard Lester Lull were selected as members of the HCC All-Conference team and Lull was given honorable mention in the selection of the District 21 All-NAIA team.

Despite the fact that winter sports are not yet over, there seems to be a great deal of enthusiasm over the coming spring sports season. Coach Bright’s baseball team acts as if the season had already started. The team is looking forward to one of the best schedules it has ever played. This season the team will play about 35 games and the schedule will include a spring tour of Georgia. This team will match the Hounds with Georgia Tech, among others.

Coach Dwyer has started track season already with formal team meetings in preparation for the coming track season.
