ALUMNI DAY REUNITES FRIENDS, CLASSES

Annual Alumni Day proved sunny, busy and fun for the more than 300 graduates and former students who gathered on campus June 5.

The music alums were the “early birds” with a breakfast in the dining room at 7:30 a.m. Professor James Lamberston and Connie (Park ’64) Langille helped coordinate the event. The group hopes to make it an annual event on Alumni Day.

The Board of Directors also met for breakfast at 7:45, including retiring members and newly elected ones. Their meeting began at 8:30 in upstairs Schwitzer Center.

Registration tables began buzzing at 8:30 and tallied 315 persons during the day. During the early registration hours, coffee and donuts were served in the main dining room. Nate ’47 and Helen Wooden ’46, Ken ’58 and Rosie Partridge served as hosts.

The annual convocation featured Camoll W. Butler ’25 as guest speaker. Mr. Butler is a retired research chemist and flew in from Redondo Beach, Ca., for the day. Dr. Roy Davis ’25 presided at convocation. Others participating were W. Lynn Henry ’46, Russell Coats ’51, and Mrs. Jean (Lewis ’51) Hirst.

Following the luncheon, the annual Alumni Association meeting was conducted by 1970-71 president, Ron Hauswald ’54. Reports from the necrology, resolutions, alumni fund committees and alumni office were heard as well as appropriate acknowledgements and announcements.

Reunioning classes met for small-talk and picture-taking during the early afternoon. The nursing graduates and the Philalethean Literary Society held teas for their respective members.

Canadian, IC Students Exchange Visits

Indiana Central was host to a group of students from Laurentian University, Sudbury, Ontario, for an International Seminar on March 12 and 13.

The seminar was planned by students enrolled in Diplomatic History of the United States. It consisted of a series of discussion sessions in which papers on topics in diplomatic history involving the U.S. and Canada were presented by both Laurentian and Indiana Central students.

Dr. Ronald Tonks, instructor of the course at ICC, announced that the activities of the conference included visits with Governor Edgar Whitcomb, Mayor Richard Lugar and other government officials, as well as a visit to the Speedway and other points of interest in Indianapolis. The tour was followed by a dinner at which Dr. Gene Sease presided.

The seminar was an outgrowth of a one-week tour in which Dr. Tonks and several ICC students went to Canada last December to visit historical sights related to the War of 1812. It also included a trip to Toronto and an interview with the then Premier of Ontario. The students were enthusiastic about the lessons learned from international travel and immediately began to plan for future class projects.
CENTRAL HOSTS STUDENT FORUM

As part of the International Conference on Cities meeting in Indianapolis, Indiana Central was host for the Student Forum on May 26 and 27.

Approximately 2500 Indiana high school and college students gathered in the gymnasium each day to hear remarks and ask questions of several prominent delegates to the conference.

The first day’s session included speakers Carl B. Stokes, Cleveland mayor and vice-president of the National League of Cities; Madame Collette Flesch, mayor of Luxembourg City, Luxembourg; and James M. Woods, president of the Studio Watts Workshop in Los Angeles.

Speaking at the second session were Russell E. Train, chairman of the council on Environmental Equality; Denis Hayes, founder of Earth Day and director of Environmental Action; Richard Hatcher, mayor of Gary; and Desmond Plummer, leader of the Greater London Council and chief elected official. Each speaker gave a short informal talk and then answered questions from students attending. Microphones were available at four places on the gym floor.

The exchange was excellent. Though the crowd of students was half the number expected, those attending were well-informed and showed vital interest and concern in the problems of the cities.

Press conferences in Recital Hall for student and daily news media representatives followed each speech. Moderator for the Student Forum was Dr. Gene Sease and Indianapolis Mayor Richard G. Lugar welcomed the participation of the delegates each day.

Indiana Central students, faculty and staff members were encouraged to participate. Regular classes were dismissed so that students could attend. The forum and the college received local radio and television coverage for the event.

‘71 Homecoming Theme Is ‘Under the Big Top’

‘Under the Big Top’ will be the theme of Central’s annual Homecoming on Saturday, Oct. 9, when the Greyhounds meet Rose-Hulman in Key Stadium at 2 p.m.

Registration for alumni will begin at 8:30 a.m. in Schwitzer Center lobby and alumni may register and obtain tickets through noon. A special “Alumnus” badge will be given to each one so that they may obtain free coffee and donuts at the game.

The Queen’s Breakfast, sponsored by the Homecoming committee, will be served at 9:30 in the dining hall. The meal, by invitation only, is to honor the queen and her court.

At 10:00 a.m. there will be a tennis match between ICC and Franklin College on the home courts. Judging on Homecoming displays will begin at 10:30. Classes, dormitories, and campus organizations each compete for various prizes.

Luncheon, served in Schwitzer Center, will be cafeteria style. The invitational Fellows Luncheon will meet in the private dining rooms.

Kick-off time is 2 p.m. with the Hounds meeting the Engineers in their second home game of the season. The 1971 Homecoming Queen will be crowned at halftime, and prizes for the “Under the Big Top” displays will be awarded. Free donuts and coffee will be served to all alumni who are wearing an “Alumnus” badge, as long as the refreshments last. The concession stand will be at the north end of Key Stadium.

After the game the residence halls will be open, so that friends and visitors may view the decorations.

The annual smorgasbord will begin at 6:45 p.m. in the dining hall. All alumni are invited to attend.

A Homecoming Dance, beginning at 8 p.m., will be held at the Sahara Grotto, 4107 E. Washington St., in Indianapolis. The dance will be followed by a Homecoming Breakfast. Tickets for the dance only are $3.50 per couple, and for both the dance and breakfast, tickets are $5 per couple.

Homecoming promises to be a full day for everyone. The Greyhounds would welcome a big, enthusiastic crowd to cheer them to victory.

Two other delegates to the Conference on Cities May 26 and 27 were Denis Hayes, founder of Earth Day and director of Environmental Action; and James Woods, president of the Studio Watts Workshop in Los Angeles. Fowl Receives Air Force DFC

U.S. Air Force Captain Gregory A. Fowl '63, has been decorated with the Distinguished Flying Cross (DFC) and his second through seventh awards of the Air Medal for aerial achievement in Southeast Asia.

Captain Fowl received his DFC for extraordinary achievement as a forward air controller while assigned to Cam Ranh Bay AB, Vietnam. During a mission in support of the beleaguered village of Dam Phu, the captain, despite mountainous terrain and antiaircraft fire which damaged his aircraft, remained over the area to mark hostile positions for allied strike aircraft until the enemy forces withdrew.

His Air Medals were for his outstanding airmanship and courage on successful and important missions completed under hazardous conditions.

The captain was presented the medal at Kincheloe AFB, Mich., where he now serves as a KC-135 Stratotanker pilot in a unit for the Strategic Air Command, America's nuclear deterrent force of long range bombers and intercontinental ballistic missiles.

Fowl was commissioned through Officers Training School, Lackland AFB. He is married to the former Billie Hut ton '63.

He currently serves on the boards of Ransburg Electro-Coating Corporation and of Peoples Bank and Trust Co. Burkhart was awarded the honorary degree, Doctor of Laws.

Mrs. Mueller, teacher, author and church worker, is the wife of Bishop Reuben H. Mueller, bishop of the Indiana Area of the United Methodist Church. She co-authored the Guidebook for Intermediate Camps and wrote Lesson Studies for Pupils and Teachers for the Junior Department of the Church School.

Students who received degrees magna cum laude were Carol J. Bennett and Roger K. Core, Dayton, Ohio; Daniel L. DuBois, Macy, Indiana; Michael A. Shurn, Deedsville, Ind.; John W. Tolley and Marilyn Gleason Caster, Crawfordsville, Ind.; Rosalie A. Bishop, Janice L. Coryell, Lucy H. Jackson, Bonnie Jo Lewis, Pamela Gunnue Locke, and Ronald D. Perkins, all of Indianapolis.

A man of many interests, Dr. Hightower has had experience as an educator, psychologist, college president and farmer. A graduate of Indiana Central, Hightower has taught elementary school in Illinois and in the Philippines (where he was also a principal). He was a teacher and counselor for 11 years at Butler University. He received a master's degree from Indiana University and his Ph.D. in psychology from the University of Iowa.

During the Depression, Hightower helped organize and implement an Emergency Education Program. Later he joined the faculty of Central Normal College in Danville, Ind., where he eventually became president and greatly expanded the school's curriculum.

Hightower has also served as a clinical psychologist for both churches and individuals. He received the degree Doctor of Letters.
New Programs to Increase Support

The college recently instituted two new development programs—The President's Club and the Scroll of Remembrance—designed to increase financial support for the operating budget.

The President's Club is open to all who support through an annual unrestricted contribution of $1000 (or more) a year, each member continuing such support until the college is notified to the contrary. This regular annual support will enable Indiana Central to plan with more confidence as it faces the future in a developing and changing society.

An annual card will be presented to persons making the $1000 annual gift. A gold lifetime membership card will be presented to anyone making a lifetime gift of $20,000.

The President’s Club will meet annually for dinner, to hear a full report by the president on the progress of the college and its development. Regular communications, reports, and publications will be sent to members. They will be guests of the president at all sponsored events held on campus and will be seated in his reserved section. An attractive framed certificate will also be issued to the donor, or to the donor and spouse. Ten persons have already pledged their annual support to ICC through the President's Club.

The Scroll of Remembrance program is designed to give recognition to persons who have included the college in their wills. It is hoped persons who choose to name the college as beneficiary in their wills will notify the college of the action when it is taken. The college in turn can show its appreciation to the living benefactor with a tribute called the Scroll of Remembrance. The scroll is an attractive, printed and framed certificate recognizing the future bequest and faith in higher education shown by the supporters.

Both programs are ways Indiana Central can recognize its need of advice, counsel and support of all those who believe that there is a definite need for a small college, dedicated to Christian principles and educational excellence.

Office Plans Day

For Class Agents

The Alumni Office is sponsoring a Class Agent Day on Saturday, Sept. 25, in Schwitzer Center.

All class agents and their spouses have been invited to the one-day workshop, which will involve discussions of the financial needs of the college, their importance in fund-raising, ways of reaching and gaining support of fellow alumni, and future goals of the Alumni Association Roll Call program.

Coffee and rolls will be served to all in attendance at 10:00 a.m. Beginning at 10:30 the agents will have an opportunity to hear and share with various college personnel concerning finances and fund-raising. Alumni Association president Clayton Kinkade will welcome the class agents and guests. Then Dr. Gene Sease will speak to the group, sharing some of his hopes and concerns for the college. Following his remarks, a panel including Leo Miller, treasurer and business manager; Lynn Youngblood, director of development; Nate Wooden, dean of students; and Gene Lausch, alumni vice-president and fund chairman, will speak to the group.

The day is to help current and new agents to better understand their function and importance in the alumni giving program, to learn new ways in which to reach their classmates for ICC, and to learn more clearly the budget needs and present status of the college’s finances.

Following the morning session the group will have lunch and attend the ICC vs. Taylor football game.

ESTATE PLANNING CORNER

Gift Annuity Rates Increase

By Lynn R. Youngblood
Director of Development

As a result of the action of the Conference on Gift Annuities, of which Indiana Central College is a member, the uniform gift annuity rates have been increased. The implications for prospective donors of gift annuities to Indiana Central is that they may now receive anywhere from 0.4% to 2.0% more as a return on their annuity than was the case prior to June 1, 1971. The actual rate of return for a gift annuity is determined entirely on the basis of the annuitant's age and for those in the higher bracket here it is possible to now earn 10.0% annually!

With apologies to those who are already acquainted with the basic concepts of a gift annuity let us briefly review the characteristics of such an agreement. A donor irrevocably transfers to the college a sum of money, bonds, securities, etc., that will be held in trust by the institution to provide a life income for the donor(s) or anyone designated by the donor to be the annuitant. The rate of return to the annuitant will range from 4.0% to 10.0% annually depending upon the age of the annuitant(s).

A couple of the more attractive features of the gift annuity include the facts that (1) a sizeable portion of the amount donated (usually 1/2 to 1/3 of the principal) is tax deductible and (2) the annual return, only a small portion is taxable. The exact amounts of the tax deduction and tax exempt income can be determined only on an individual basis but they generally meet the categories mentioned above.

The amounts of money currently held by the college as gift annuities range from $500 to $175,000, so actually a gift annuity is appropriate to most any income bracket. There are also many options to which the principal of a gift annuity can eventually be designated. Included among these are a perpetual library book endowment and/or memorial, a named scholarship, a named lectureship, and a named endowed faculty chair.

If you are interested in learning more about gift annuities, please write or call the Development Office.
from the President’s Desk

Dear Alumni:

This summer has been a busy one on campus! In June, 291 graduated of whom 27 were M.A. degree recipients. Thirty-three more are completing degree requirements this summer. Six hundred fifty-two students have been enrolled in summer classes (118 in the Graduate Division and 534 undergraduates). Five sessions of workshops in ceramics have been conducted in cooperation with the American Art Clay Company with 66 persons attending; 200 youth have been enrolled in four weeks of basketball camp; 12 conferences, institutes and conventions have been hosted with a total attendance in excess of 2000 persons; and faculty and administrative personnel have been busily at work preparing for the new Fleximester program to be launched in September.

Amidst the flurry of academic activity and various programs, we have continued campus improvement at an accelerated pace. A new maintenance building has been built north of Schwitzer and east of Lilly Science Hall, allowing us to centralize this operation and free much needed space in the basement of Good Hall; a new Development office suite and conference room have been constructed in the lower level of Esch Hall; a new lighted activities sign has been erected, the gift of Alpha Phi Omega; Schwitzer Center has been repainted; Buxton Hall received a new roof; sidewalks have been placed between the gymnasium and Key Stadium; and facilities for secretarial reception suite have been arranged in the lounge of lower Schwitzer Center.

Enrollment predictions for the fall point toward a record number of day students. The most notable increase appears to be in the nursing education program which has grown from 30 two years ago to 60 last year to 100 entering freshmen this year. As of this writing, every bed in the girls’ dormitories will be filled with a good possibility of the same being true for men. We appreciate all that alumni are doing in encouraging students from your homes, schools, churches, and communities to attend Indiana Central. We look forward to an exciting year with our new Fleximester plan. You will be reading much more about it as the year progresses.

I would like to express my deepest thanks to each of you for the immediate and generous response of our alumni to my June letter. Because of your help, we were able to balance our 1970-71 budget by $2,600. It took the help and support of our alumni and many friends of the college to do it. While many private colleges ended the year with deficits, your help allowed us to balance. In 1970-71, alumni contributed $45,654 to current operations as compared to $53,812 a year ago—an increase of nearly $12,000. For capital purposes, primarily the new stadium, $87,000 more was given in 1970-71 than in 1969-70. In January 1964, the Fellows program began with 13 persons; there are now 250 Fellows; and we have already enrolled ten persons in the President’s Club. We are truly grateful to each of you and look forward to our most eventful and promising year yet!

Most sincerely,
Gene E. Sease
President

Danforth Foundation Offers
Graduate Fellowships for Women

The Danforth Foundation announces the eighth competition for its Graduate Fellowships for Women. The objective of the program is to find and develop college and secondary school teachers among that group of American women whose preparation for teaching has been postponed or interrupted. In general, the Fellowships are intended for women who no longer qualify for more conventional fellowship programs or whose candidacy in such programs might be looked upon as somewhat irregular.

At some time in her career each candidate must have experienced a continuous break of at least three years' duration when she would have been engaged neither in study or teaching, whether on a full- or part-time basis. At the time of application she may not be employed as a full-time teacher or enrolled as a full-time graduate student, as defined by her graduate school. The career of a typical recipient may have been interrupted by such factors as the raising of her family, personal illness, or the need for a paying job, but she now finds herself in circumstances which will permit her to undertake the graduate work essential for a professional career as a full-time teacher at the college or secondary school level.

The Fellowships are open to women who hold bachelor's degrees from accredited colleges or universities in the United States (received no later than June, 1972). Thirty-five new appointments are available annually. Selection will be made without reference to race, creed, citizenship, or marital status. Candidates may or may not have begun graduate study; they may or may not have had experience in teaching; they may propose a full- or a part-time study program at an accredited graduate school in the United States, leading to a master's or to a doctoral degree. Although there are no upper or lower age limitations, low priority is given to candidates who will not complete their study programs by the age of fifty and to applicants in the younger age group whose personal situations and/or study programs make them potentially strong candidates for other sources of fellowship aid. Fellowships are not available for postdoctoral study or research or for graduate study not related to a degree. Applicants asking support for the dissertation only have low priority. Recipients are expected to undertake full-time teaching upon completion of their degrees.

Appointment is for one year beginning September 1, 1972, and is renewable annually provided the recipient remains in good academic standing and follows the study plan submitted in her application. The stipend will depend on individual need (tuition, books, graduate fees, compensation for such household help as babysitters); except for women who are heads of families or are not married, the stipend will not replace income which might be contributed were the recipient gainfully employed or provide funds for "living expenses." Nor will the Foundation consider maintaining a second residence as a legitimate "need." The maximum award for 1972-73 will be $5,000 plus tuition and academic fees, or, for heads of families, $4,000 plus tuition and academic fees. Honorary appointments are sometimes made if there is no evidence of financial need.

In considering candidates for the Fellowships, the Foundation will look for: 1) a strong undergraduate record and, for candidates who have begun graduate work, a creditable graduate school record; 2) evidence that the candidate's intellectual curiosity and vitality have survived her years of separation from an academic environment; 3) an indication of strong motivation for graduate work and for teaching, together with the flexibility of mind and persistence which a delayed graduate career, particularly if pursued on a part-time basis, will exact; 4) a proposed course of study which is meaningful in terms of the candidate's goal and which is realistic in terms of her background and family responsibilities; 5) the personal qualifications important for good teaching, including a strong sense of moral and intellectual responsibility in personal and professional life; and 6) the physical stamina necessary for the demands of graduate study and family responsibilities.

Candidates are required to submit scores for the Verbal and Quantitative sections of the Graduate Record Examination and the test score in the Advanced category if it is offered in the candidate's major field. Candidates who last took the examination(s) prior to October, 1966, or who have never taken the test(s) must do so no later than the December 11, 1971, national administration. The last date for candidates to secure guaranteed registration with the Educational Testing Service for the December 11 testing is November 23, 1971. Candidates are responsible for having their scores reported to the Danforth Foundation.

Recipients may not hold paying jobs while in study. The holding of teaching assistantships is usually restricted to those recipients whose graduate institutions require students to teach in order to qualify for a given degree. Recipients are expected to attend a weekend conference in mid-June preceding or following their first year of study as Fellows.

Application materials (including the registration form for the Graduate Record Examination) will be sent upon request to persons who signify an interest.
"Through the years, the reputation of Indiana Central College has been enhanced immeasurably by her alumni and friends. Many who have not seen our campus have developed an appreciation of the principles for which I.C.C. stands because of the reflection of these principles in the lives of her supporters.

"In recognition of the debt our Alma Mater owes to those who represent her so well throughout the United States and indeed, throughout the world, the Alumni Association wishes to take time tonight to give special honor to a few from among the many.

"To paraphrase a familiar adage, a school is known by the company she keeps, Central's longtime friends are another of her most valuable assets. Tonight we wish to recognize one of those good friends who has demonstrated through his support his belief in young people and in the value of higher education. He attends most of the events at the college, supports her athletic programs enthusiastically, contributes his time, energy, and money for Central's welfare, supports her loyalty, and seemingly has adopted her as his own. Tonight we would like in turn to officially adopt him as an Honorary Alumnus, Mr. Ben Copeland.

"Central's name has not been confined to the U. S. Her motto "Education for Service" is very ably represented by another of her graduates in Sierra Leone, West Africa. A 1950 graduate of I.C.C., with a major in Biology, this young man received his M.D. from Columbia University and a degree in tropical medicine and hygiene from the University of London. On his way home after an absence of more than 15 years, he visited the campus of I.C.C. and exhibited the same enthusiasm for living and charming personality he had displayed during his days as a student. Presently a doctor in Rorofunk Hospital in Sierra Leone, it has also been reported that he has filled the position of Minister of Health. Although he is not present, we would like to recognize Moses Mahoi as Distinguished Alumnus.

"Another graduate who at one time was a member of the faculty at I.C.C. is presently a professor of history at Indiana University. He is well known in the state for his scholarly contributions to the accumulated knowledge of the history of Indiana. He is an author, lecturer, and an active participant in the Indiana Historical Society. He has served as editor of the Indiana Magazine of History. He served as chairman of the Indiana Sesquicentennial Commission and did a marvelous job of revitalizing interest in Indiana and its past. He also directed the Advisory Committee on History for the Commission. He was appointed as Chairman of the I.U. Commission on Historical Preservation which added still another string to his bow. Though an able historian, he is very much interested in the present and the future. In a recent newspaper article he said, "Preservation is not only essential to man's well-being but vital to his survival in the future." He serves as a member of the Board of Trustees and is a strong supporter of Indiana Central and her principles. We wish to recognize as Distinguished Alumnus, Donald Carmony.

"The person we especially wish to recognize is one whose dynamic personality and enthusiastic pursuit of only the best for Indiana Central College has created for him a distinctive position both at Indiana Central and throughout the country. He has been associated with I.C.C. for more than 20 years, and he has always exhibited the same effervescent qualities which have made his efforts toward development of the Alumni Association worthwhile. The strength of a school is said to be determined to a great degree by the support of its alumni. This person has worked diligently to reinforce and strengthen the bond of belonging between alumni and I.C.C. and to re-emphasize the value of pride in I.C.C. and what she means to each of us. Possessor of a creative and inventive mind which is coupled with the drive necessary to implement his ideas, he has served as a very able director of Alumni Relations since 1964 and Indiana Central owes him much for the successful efforts he has made to make the Alumni Association what it is. We wish to recognize as Distinguished Alumnus, Dean Ransburg.

ICC Players

To Present

‘King Lear’

The year’s first major production by the ICC Players will be William Shakespeare’s King Lear on two weekends—Nov. 5 and 6, and Nov. 11, 12, and 13.

Under the direction of Richard Williams, chairman of the speech and drama department, the cast began rehearsals immediately after the beginning of school.

The tragedy of King Lear is believed to be one of Shakespeare’s later plays. Scholars rank it often as his greatest achievement, and agree that it belongs with Hamlet, Othello and Macbeth as the greatest tragedies in stage literature.

Lear has always been considered one of the most challenging plays any producing group can attempt. The aging king, wishing to step down from his throne into honored retirement, divides his kingdom between his two greedy, coldly flattering daughters—Regan and Goneril, and punishes his third, loving daughter Cordelia, as well as his friends who loyal try to save him from his drive to self-destruction.

Lear’s bitter realization of his self-deceiving mistake is paralleled in the drama’s story of the Duke of Gloucester, who similarly misjudges his sons—Edmund and Edgar, and pays dearly for it.

Richard Watts, Jr., of the New York Post has said of the tragedy: “Seeing Lear today reminds one of its touch of modernity. It is Shakespeare’s play about the generation gap... the whole plot deals with the difficulties of relationships between the old and the young.”

The ICC production will be presented in Ransburg Auditorium each evening at 8 p.m.

Dear Editor

Note: Mrs. Bertha (Palmer '24) Keeseeke is a retired teacher living in Pompano Beach, Fl. She wrote recently of meeting fellow Centralites.

I no longer feel estranged from my alma mater. Last Sunday (in June) we got a new minister—both minister and wife, I learned, are graduates of Indiana Central and are from southern Indiana as I am. Our new minister is Floyd Fisher ('44) . . .

Last July 18 I was reading my local paper one morning when I noticed on the front page: "Cambodia Gets More Nixon Aid." About half way down the column I read: "installed a new chief of the U.S. Aid Mission to Vietnam. Taking the Saigon post will be John R. Mossler, 46, former U.S. aid chief in Indonesia." I was thrilled for Bob Mossler is my nephew. I was with his mother when he was born on the day before I went to Indiana Central for my last year. That is now 47 years ago.

John's father is a graduate of Indiana Central (John D, Mossler, '22, deceased). His mother (Vernetta Palmer Mossler, deceased) attended with me a summer term in 1916 . . . . That was an important summer for us.

Bertha Palmer Keeseeke

Note: Below are some excerpts from a letter from Franklin V. Young '62, who is now serving with the U.S. Air Force in Vietnam. His previous assignment was with Altus AFB, Ok., about which he writes.

Altus AFB is known as the university of MAC (Military Airlift Command) where the primary mission is to train the crews for the world's largest aircraft, the C-5 and the C-141 . . . . the C-5 has received a lot of bad publicity for its high costs and some other problems, but those who work most closely with it think it is a great airplane and an invaluable asset in the defense of our country. Since the aircraft and a great many of its complicated systems were completely new, there was no previous experience to go on for much of the design and construction. Our people feel it has a very good record considering all factors involved in its development . . . . The C-5 will not only be important for carrying large loads—both size and quantities—for fast, efficient support of overseas requirements; but because of this ability, it will be a key factor in enabling the U.S. to maintain smaller forces and weapons stocks abroad and still be able to respond to situations as required.

We have been privileged to have several contacts with Centralites since moving here (Oklahoma) . . . . we were tremendously pleased to find that our Oklahoma United Methodist Bishop is Dr. Milhouse . . . .

Recently, I ran into Capt. Delane Fawcett who is here for training as a C-5 pilot . . . .

Report of the Resolutions Committee

June 5, 1971

Alumni Day

"WHEREAS any business, company, or organization is known by its products or services, Indiana Central College is no exception to this. The output of this organization is known as graduates, a product. But while this product is actively connected with the organization, a service is rendered by both parties.

"BE IT, THEREFORE, RESOLVED that we recognize some of these.

"WHEREAS the operation of a college goes on, even though the administrative leadership changes, let us with united zeal, continue our support of Dr. Gene Sease. The college has had a successful year and let us look forward to another good year.

"WHEREAS creative and innovative changes are signs of a thinking group of people that are willing to go the second mile, there are some departments that stand out in leadership.

"BE IT THEREFORE, resolved that we recognize such groups as: the Drama Department for its continuous superb productions; the Curriculum Committee for its revision program; the industrial relations Division for its additional programs in Banking and Insurance; the Athletic Department for its recent affiliation with the Indiana Collegiate Conference; the Wrestling team and the Baseball team for their championship in this conference; the Athletic Director, Angus Nicolson, for his most recent honors—(2) he was voted into the Indiana Basketball Hall of Fame; (3) he attained his 400th basketball victory this past season. Recognition goes also to the Sheldon Keys for the new Key Stadium, which is adding so much to the athletic department.

"WHEREAS the graduates are also known by another name, ALUMNI, and these have a great impact upon the college because they not only furnish new students but also support the college in other ways, including financial matters. Ever since the first graduating class, there has been an Alumni Association. It had the usual core of officers and constitution, but its ability to be a dynamic and worthwhile force for its Alma Mater was slow in coming. This change did not happen over night. It was over a period of time. Some of the things which aided this change were: Dr. I. Lynd Esch's encouragement and help, the several revisions of the constitution, the reorganization of the Board of Directors under the new constitution, and a very important person, the director of Alumni Relations, Dean Ransburg. Dr. Ransburg and the Alumni Relations Department have successfully generated a program of events which use an apprentice, or internship, as part of the training program. Since ICC has many teachers among her graduates, this committee would endorse such a program between the college and the various school corporations in the area.

Respectfully submitted,

P. K. Smith
Chairman, Resolutions Committee

On Memorial Day weekend, we are going to visit the Robert Coakes of Ft. Worth, . . . . We also look forward to receiving each new issue of the Alumni News to keep up on all the news of other alumni and school activities of ICC, a school I will always be proud of.

Sincerely,

Franklin V. Young Jr. '62
FOOTBALL OUTLOOK 1971

By Coach Dick Nyers

Last year Indiana Central College started the football season with 20 returning lettermen reporting to head football coach Dick Nyers. These lettermen along with 15 non-letter winners and 35 freshmen were to form the nucleus of the football team that went on to lose their first five ball games (Taylor 21-0, Manchester 20-10, Rose Poly 24-22, Franklin 61-13, and Anderson 26-13) and came on at the end of the season to win three out of the last four games (Principia 16-33, Hanover 14-31, Earlham, co-champs of the H.C.C., 0-10). Butler supplied the only loss in the last four games, 35-0.

On Aug. 19 this year 28 lettermen, along with ten non-letter winners and 30 freshmen reported to the Greyhound camp. On tap also will be nine out of the 11 offensive starters and ten out of the 11 defensive starters. Offensive starters include sophomore quarterback Phil Eads, sophomore fullback Rick Sidebottom, sophomore halfback Jim Olson, sophomore split end Mike Eads, sophomore tackle Greg Hill, junior guard Tom Duvall, junior center Bob Rothrock, sophomore guard Bill Coffee, junior tackle Ted Crisman, and junior tight end, Joe Koenig. Also returning is John Mitney, last year's out-fee, junior tackle Ted Crisman, and sophomore tackle Ivory, tackle; and Gary Baker, line-backer.

All in all the 1971 Greyhounds still will be predominantly sophomores and juniors with many key positions being backed up by freshmen.

Coach Nyers and his staff Bill Bless, Terry Wetherald and Willie Martin look at 1971 as a much better year from the standpoint that the coaching staff has worked together for a year and the young Greyhounds know what is expected this time around. The 1971 schedule starts off with last year's first place finisher in the I.C.C., St. Joseph, Sept. 11, followed by second place finisher Evansville Sept. 18. Both are away from home. Out of the 11-game schedule only four games will be played at home—Taylor on Sept. 25, Rose-Hulman (Homecoming) on Oct. 9, Anderson on Oct. 22 and Hanover on Nov. 6.

COLLEGE RECEIVES KELLOGG GRANT

Dr. Gene E. Sease announced in April the receipt of a grant of $5000 from the W. K. Kellogg Foundation.

Obtained through the Foundation’s program entitled College Resources for Environmental Studies (CRES), the grant is to help increase the college’s library and teaching materials for environmental studies. The funds are to be used over three years to permit orderly purchasing and to insure currency of reference materials.

Dr. Robert E. Kinsinger, Kellogg Foundation vice president, explained the grant is one of approximately 300 made to small, private liberal arts colleges throughout the United States. The grants are part of the Foundation’s continuing efforts to support the search for solutions to environmental problems.

Central’s urban location and its awareness of the needs of a large city will help greatly in selecting materials to promote better teaching and to foster a better understanding of all facets of environmental problems. A committee of faculty and students has been appointed to select the materials for purchase.
Greyhounds Meet I.C.C. Challenge

Indiana Central's first year (1970-71) in the Indiana Collegiate Conference proved the Greyhounds are ready for the new competition.

In spring sports, Coach Bill Bright's first place in the conference and won Marian College, before bowing to Lewis in the NAIA Area 6 playoffs. Lewis eventually won that double-elimination tournament.

Central's conference record stood at 9-3 at the end of the season. Total victories and losses tallied 31-16.

Several players were named to the various all-star teams. Senior right-fielder Jim McFarland took the most honors by making All-Conference first team, as well as the District 21 and Area 6 teams. McFarland had a .333 batting average for the season. To top it all, he was awarded NAIA honors when chosen as a member of its 14-man All-Star team.

Also named to the first team in I.C.C. All-Conference were sophomore Craig DeMyer, juniors Randy Ferrand and Dave Verhonik. Junior Randy Watson made the second team.

Ferrand and senior Bill Smock were named to the District 21 team along with McFarland. Ferrand also made the Area 6 team.

Besides baseball and wrestling the Greyhound track team, under Coach Bill Bless, achieved their best season in ten years in 1971. The record shows a undefeated dual meet, two major championships, and a second place in the Indiana Collegiate Conference.

In regular season competition the runners defeated all I.C.C. schools except Valparaiso. However, in the May 8 conference meet, the team finished second.

The two championship crowns were earned at the Midwest Indoor Track Meet on March 13 at North Central College in Naperville, Ill., and on April 17 at the DePauw Invitational in Greencastle, Ind.

In addition to team efforts, the Greyhound runners set 17 single event records during the season. On June 3-5 Coach Bless took two of his team members to the national NAIA Track Tournament in Billings, Mt. Junior Dave Williams took third in the triple jump and senior Dennis Walker took seventh in the steeplechase competition there.
