DECEMBER FEATURES

The ALUMNI NEWS contains information for and about graduates and former students of Indiana Central College. Items of interest about former Indiana Central students are earnestly solicited by the editor and may be mailed to the Alumni Office.

1941-42 Basketball Team Anniversary ........................................... 27
Enrollment .................................................................................. 6
Alumni Board Appoints Committees ........................................... 10
‘Indy Top Dog’ Trophy ............................................................... 11
Indiana Academy Honors Alumni ............................................... 5
Miss Cravens ............................................................................... 3
Departments Gain New Faculty ................................................... 18

Regular Features:
Dear Editor .................................................................................. 18
Estate Planning Corner .............................................................. 15
From the President’s Desk ........................................................... 4
Future Centralites ...................................................................... 16
In Memoriam ............................................................................ 8, 9
Personals .................................................................................... 22
Sports ....................................................................................... 20, 26, 27, 28
Wedding Bells ............................................................................ 11
WASHINGTON COUNTY NAMES CRAVENS AS OUTSTANDING EARLY EDUCATOR

Dr. Virginia Cravens '66 was notified in August by Everett S. Dean that she has been selected as one of the outstanding early native Washington County (Ind.) educators.

Miss Cravens' picture and biographical information have been placed in the new John Hay Center in Salem, Ind. Among other Washington County educators so honored were John L. Morrison, Lotus Coffman, the Mays, R. E. Cavanaugh, Sarah Morrison, Jesse Newland, William Wilson, and Professor Buerls.

The former editor of the Alumni News has had a long life of service. The sixth child and third daughter of the Honorable Aaron A. and Rebecca Schwartz Cravens, Virginia was born March 19, 1884, northeast of Hardinsburg, Ind.

She attended elementary and high school in Hardinsburg. She began college at Indiana State Normal by attending four spring and two summer terms. She later attended three years at DePauw University and graduated as a Phi Beta Kappa. Dr. Cravens attended Wisconsin University, then later received her M.A. in English from Indiana University in 1908. ICC awarded her an honorary degree Doctor of Humane Letters in 1966.

Dr. Cravens taught Latin and English in several schools in Indiana between 1902-1912. From 1912-14 she served as principal and teacher for Redkey High School, followed by four years of English teaching at Decatur (Ind.) High School. In 1918 she became principal of Hardinsburg H.S. and also taught in several subject areas. She served there until 1927 when she came to Indiana Central as dean of women and assistant professor of English.

From 1927 to the present Dr. Cravens has contributed many valuable hours of love and service to the college, including 22 years as executive secretary of the Alumni Association and as the Alumni News editor. Still actively involved, she currently is working on a historical review of the ICC alumni.

Miss Cravens is a member of ISTA, NEA, Pi Lambda Theta, Delta Kappa Gamma, Alpha Psi Omega, Sigma Zeta, and Eastern Star. She also belongs to the Eta Chapter, Alpha Gamma Delta; and the White Cross Guild of HAPPY NEW YEAR!

WHAT THE MAIL BRINGS

By DR. GENE E. SEASE

Each day is exciting, not only because of the untold opportunities which will be provided by personal visits and discussions with interested individuals, but because almost every day some new idea, different thought, or challenging concept comes in the mail. It is pleasant to greet the mail arrival with anticipation! Admittedly, I harbor the hope that each day will bring more positive accolades than negative epistles, a greater number of checks than statements and bills, and a generous supply of food for thought as contrasted with dull and uninteresting reading.

Among the valued treasures of the daily mail are letters from students, alumni, and parents. These are given careful and thoughtful attention. Likewise, we receive a wide assortment of literature from other colleges and universities, including their alumni publications. In a current alumni magazine this letter to the editor appeared. (We have printed only a part and have changed the names to protect the innocent.)

Sirs: I read in your columns recently a letter from a classmate of mine who stated that he no longer gave to the Alumni Fund because the college he knew was dead. Of course it is dead. It was magnificent in its day, and I loved it, but it is dead. That is why I continue to give to the Alumni Fund. If I thought that the college of 1928 was still alive and trying to cope with 1971, I should suspend giving and move for immediate burial.

The Class of 1928 bears the same relation to the Class of 1971 that the Class of 1885 bore to us. Arithmetic tells us this. If any one in '85 had told us in '28 how to dress or how to run the college, I should have rolled in the grass and laughed all night long.

And so I give to the Alumni Fund to see the college, so far as my small pittance can, into 1971.

Sincerely yours,
John Q. Alumnus

So, the Indiana Central of 1971-72 is not the Indiana Central of 1911-12, nor would we wish it to be! Maintaining the best of what the past has brought to us, and building carefully upon that solid base, we press on to 1972 and to 2000 A.D., with our eyes constantly fixed on current and future needs. If it has been a while since you have been on campus, why not plan a visit? We appreciate what the mail brings—keep your letters coming—but better yet, come for a visit to your alma mater.

EMHARDT IS GUEST FOR 'LEAR' OPENING

Robert Emhardt, a veteran character actor of Broadway and Hollywood, was the special guest at the premiere performance of King Lear at the college on Nov. 5.

Mr. Emhardt is a native of Indianapolis and a graduate of Butler University. He also attended the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art in London. His long list of credits began at the Westminster Theatre in London in Shakespeare’s Troilus and Cressida. On Broadway, among his other roles, he has played more than 1,000 performances as the psychiatrist in the original cast of The Seven-Year Itch. He also toured with Helen Hayes in the production of Harriet.

In Hollywood he has been active in both movies and television. In the former, he has acted opposite such performers as Glenn Ford, Van Hefflin and Alan Ladd. In just the past few months he has been seen on television in “Marcus Welby, M.D.” and “Ironside.”

For Creativity Center Receives Award

The Continuing Education Center has been named recipient of the National University Extension Association’s Creative Programming Award for the program entitled “Liberal Arts for Management.”

The eight-evening series is presented once each school year as part of the 12-course Management Development Program and consists of dinner meetings which are attended by persons in middle management positions and their spouses. The course seeks to broaden the knowledge of those who are advancing in their organization but whose formal education has been primarily in areas such as engineering, accounting or science. The program features members of the college faculty discussing their particular discipline as it relates to business and professional people. Among the topics discussed are: art, drama, literature, music, history, philosophy and social psychology.

Alum Gains Recognition

Phyllis (Albright ’53) Beima has been named in Outstanding and Distinguished Personalities of the West and Midwest.

Phyllis, daughter of Otto ’26 and Marguerite (Brockschmidt ’28) Albright, lives in Juneau, Alaska, where she served as State Supervisor of Home Economics for two years prior to her marriage to James R. Beima. Her community activities include the Juneau-Douglas Planned Parenthood, Inc.; the American Association of University Women, and the Juneau Professional Home Economists. She was on the board of directors of AAUW, as well as a past state and local officer.

Mrs. Beima is also concerned with preserving the culture, arts and crafts of the Alaskan Indians and Eskimos. She lectures at the Juneau Community College, an affiliate of the University of Alaska. She is also active in church work, 4-H, and other community organizations.
INDIANA ACADEMY INCLUDES IC HONORARY ALUMNI

Dr. Herman C. Krannert and Bishop Reuben H. Mueller, members of the Alumni Association, were among 25 distinguished Hoosiers who were honored Oct. 26 with selection to the Indiana Academy.

A project of 17 institutions affiliated with Associated Colleges of Indiana, the Academy was formed last year to honor persons, both living and deceased, who have made significant contributions to the state through public service, higher education, arts, sciences, literature and general culture. The selections, made by presidents of the ACI schools, were announced at a formal dinner at the Indianapolis Art Museum. They are the first active — or living — members of the Academy. Two groups of 40 each already have been cited posthumously.

Dr. Krannert is chairman of the board of Inland Container Corp., a company he founded in 1925 and served as president until 1952. Inland operates 27 plants throughout America with sales $200 million annually. Both he and Mrs. Ellinora Krannert '60 have been widely recognized for philanthropic work, which has included more than two dozen major gifts to medical, educational, cultural and religious institutions. They have been most generous to Indiana Central including gifts to build the Krannert Hall, a residence for women, and an addition to the library.

Mr. Krannert has received several honors from the University of Illinois, his alma mater, plus honorary doctorates from seven colleges and universities. ICC awarded him an honorary Doctor of Laws degree in 1967. He is board chairman of the Indianapolis Museum of Art and a trustee at Butler and ICC. He and Mrs. Krannert are in the Methodist Hall of Fame in Philanthropy.

Bishop Mueller has been an episcopal leader in the Evangelical United Brethren Church and later The United Methodist Church since 1954. The former high school teacher entered the ministry in 1922 and has served Indiana assignments since 1924.

Bishop Mueller was president of the National Council of Churches (1963-66), the United Methodist Council of Bishops (1969), and the EUB Board of Bishops (1958-68). He is a delegate to the World Council of Churches and the Consultation on Church Union.

The holder of eight honorary degrees currently supervises the work of 1,500 U.M. congregations and nearly 400,000 members in Indiana. Central awarded him an honorary Doctor of Humane Letters degree in 1960 and an honorary L.H.D. to Mrs. Magdalene Mueller in 1971.

President's Ball May Be Tradition

The college President, the Junior Class and Central Council jointly sponsored the formal President's Ball on Dec. 3.

The dance was held at the Sherwood Country Club, 6500 S. Emerson Ave., Indianapolis, from 8:30-11:30 p.m. The George Nicoloff Band provided the music.

The dance was the result of a request made by the students. Many felt because of the success of last year's inaugural Ball that a similar ball should be given this year and perhaps should be an annual tradition.

The President's Ball included Indianapolis alumni, students, faculty and staff, and Board of Trustees members. It was one time when all facets of the college community were together socially.

The receiving line for the Ball included President and Mrs. Sease; the president of the Junior Class, Bob Biggs; the president of Central Council, Steve Hurst; the vice-president of social activities, John Adams; and the Campus Queen, Linda Smith.

Grant Teaches At Graz

This past summer Dean Leonard T. Grant was a member of the ACUIIS faculty teaching at the University of Graz in Austria. ACUIIS, the Association of Colleges and Universities for International-Intercultural Studies, consists of 35 colleges including Indiana Central College. ACUIIS sponsors the Graz Center and other student and faculty international experiences.

The Graz program for 1971 included four blocks of study: Soviet, Balkan, East Central Europe, and Austrian. Dr. Grant taught a course, The History of East Central Europe, in the third block. Student enrollment this past summer was truly international. There were approximately 100 students from Austria, Britain, Germany, Jordan, and the USA.

The Graz program permits students to earn six hours of college credit while living in Europe. The creative style of the learning experience is especially appealing. Each block engages in a field study. Dr. Grant, who acted as leader of his block, led two field studies—one to Berlin and the other through Yugoslavia and Hungary. The students also have time for independent travel to such cultural centers as Vienna, Zurich, Zagreb, Budapest, Venice, Florence, and Munich.

When asked to identify the real strengths of the program, Dean Grant commented: "First, the Graz program brings western students into direct contact with eastern Europeans. Second, it provides a living laboratory where American students can engage in the study and analysis of European culture. Finally, it offers a base for independent study and travel throughout eastern and western Europe."

Dr. Grant, who lived in Edinburgh, Scotland for three years and has traveled extensively throughout Europe, describes the Graz program as "the most fascinating experiment in international study that he has yet discovered." The whole Grant family, Dr. Grant's wife, Nancy, and their three children, Scott, eleven; Elisabeth, nine; and Constance, five, accompanied him during the seven weeks program.
ENROLLMENT REVERSES NATIONAL TREND

“The 1971-72 enrollment at Indiana Central College put us right on target with our projections,” stated Dr. Gene E. Sease. Reversing the trend in so many colleges and universities, enrollment at Indiana Central has increased consistently for the last two years. Total enrollment for the day school stands at 1174, a gain of 5.6% over the past year, and 25 better than the projected goal for 1971-72.

“We attribute part of our growth,” Dr. Sease said, “to our new fleximester program which affords students the opportunity for creative study with innovative courses and curriculum. It is our observation that we are attracting large numbers of top students from high school graduating classes who are interested in a curriculum designed to motivate better students.”

The largest single increase on campus is in nursing students. Two years ago there were 30 entering freshmen, last year there were 68, and this year the class rose to 104. (The new class includes one second-generation student—Miss Sara L. Miller, daughter of Patricia and Robert M. Miller of Acton, Ind. Mrs. Miller graduated from the nursing program in 1967.) “Indiana Central’s motto,” Dr. Sease pointed out, “is ‘Education for Service.’ Our large increase in nursing students reflects the interest which our students have in service professions.”

An increasing number of students are now living on campus, and figures indicate that this year only 25% of the total student body are commuter students. These facts are especially significant since Indiana Central had a $200 increase in day school tuition, and for the first time, set a deadline of August 15 for the registration of new students.

Another significant gain is found in the graduate division. Students enrolled this year number 135 compared to 102 last year. This suggests that there is a growing interest among Indianapolis adults for a master’s degree program where the emphasis is on the liberal arts.

The evening division, which serves employed adults, has a total enrollment this fall of 1260 students. Notable in this area, the American Institute of Banking program, accredited for the first time last year, is serving 322 banking employees from the central Indiana area.

Dr. Sease believes that much of the appeal that ICC has for students stems from the emphasis placed on the importance of the individual. “To become acquainted with and work closely with professors whose primary interest is the growth and development of the student is both a challenge and an opportunity,” said Dr. Sease. “This is the source of our strength and our growth.”

Hayes Serves Kansas City Church

The Rev. William A. Hayes ’50 is administrative director of St. Mark’s Church in Kansas City, Mo., where four major religious bodies—the United Presbyterian Church USA, the United Church of Christ, the Roman Catholic Church, and the Episcopal Church—have joined together to build a single building that is jointly staffed and supported.

Rev. Hayes, the United Church of Christ clergyman, writes of the church, “It is important to note that St. Mark’s is not a merger, for the four communions mutually recognize and respect any real differences in church structure, doctrinal belief, or sacramental life that may exist among them.” The church does operate in a single community program of service and outreach.

St. Mark’s began full operation in mid-November 1968. The church, an architectural wonder in itself, is in the heart of the black inner city of Kansas City.

Hayes writes, “The four groups did not come together simply out of a passion for church union but out of desire to render a more effective service to the inner city.

“We are not here to play ecumenical games. We are not experimenting on the community. Our primary purpose is to serve the unmet needs, religious and social, of this inner city community.”
Please Read

Attention all readers! Please help!
The Alumni Office was swamped with returned Homecoming flyers and Alumni News magazines this fall because we were uninformed of address changes. It seems that—at least—250-300 of the ICC alumni moved over the summer without letting us know. This meant, in many cases, the office paid postage three times (approximately 34¢ per person) plus the cost in time of processing the returned mail.

It is important that all of you remember to keep us informed of your correct address, so you may receive your mail on time and so the office may keep accurate records.

From now on a regular "address change form" will be printed in the News. Please remember to use it to let us know where you are! Thank you.—Alumni Office Staff.

Kiwanis Honor Fulp

Rev. Bennett Fulp ’28 was one among six retired Montgomery County ministers honored at a September luncheon program given by the Crawfordsville (Ind.) Kiwanians. The ministers’ combined service in the pulpit totals 322 years.

Rev. Fulp, 72 years old, was active in the ministry 41 years. He retired three years ago as pastor of Christ United Methodist Church in Crawfordsville. A graduate of ICC, he attended Bonebrake Seminary (now United Theological Seminary) at Dayton, and was licensed as a minister in 1930.

He was pastor at Smith Valley, Veedersburg circuit, Honey Creek, Geneva, Otterbein at Terre Haute, Anderson Colonial and Crawfordsville.

The Fulps have three children. Their son Paul is now a minister in Craigville, Ind.

The Kiwanis presented each minister with an engraved plaque.

Peckham Earns Degree

The Rev. Charles W. Peckham ’51, pastor and program director of the Otterbein Home, Lebanon, O., received the degree of Doctor of Education from the University of Cincinnati in August, 1971.

The commencement climaxed five years of study at the university in addition to his pastoral and program duties at the Home. He majored in educational foundations with special attention to gerontology. He has passed the Ohio state examination as a nursing home administrator.

Rev. Peckham is a native of West Lima, Wis. He holds a bachelor of divinity degree and a master of sacred theology degree from United Theological Seminary in Dayton.

He joined the Home staff in 1966 after eight years as minister of education at the First United Methodist Church in Dayton. Previously he had served churches in San Bernardino, Cal., and Kenosha, Wis.

Are You Moving?

If you are please don’t forget the ICC Alumni Office. We need your new address so you will get your mail.

Tape old label here

New address:
Name
Address

Mail to: Alumni Office, Indiana Central College, Indianapolis, IN 46227. THANK YOU.

Frankly Speaking by Phil Frank

IT'S FROM MY ALUMNI ASSOCIATION—THEY WANT TO KNOW WHAT I'M DOING!
Language Department Offers New Course

A new second semester course in "Medieval Literature" is going to be exciting to both those taking the course and the professors teaching it due to the different approach in handling the material and the novel method used to teach it.

It truly will be an interdisciplinary course. In studying medieval literature it is impossible to read only the works of individual countries as known by their boundaries today. At the time the literature was produced it was "European literature." Therefore, the Department of Languages plans to teach the course as a European course, instead of trying in the traditional way, to ascertain what was supposed to be German, Spanish, English, etc. and present only that aspect. What generally results from the traditional way is a false conception of medieval literature.

Moreover, it is erroneous to believe that we can study the literary works without comprehending the whole medieval culture, i.e. the history, the religion, art, music, philosophy, languages, economy, the likes and dislikes of the audiences and anything else that comprised medieval life.

To present this course individuals in various departments of the college will be called upon to inform the class of medieval life as it relates to their respective disciplines. It is felt this is a more valid approach rather than having someone comment on those areas in which he may have only cursory experience.

Basically there will be three professors directing the course: Mr. Floyd Satterlee, Mr. Orman Moulton, Dr. Marga Meier—supplemented by lecturers from other departments. The course will be conducted in an informal seminar fashion to enable the student to draw upon both the knowledge and views of other students and also on all those professors involved.

The course will be taught in English. Those who can use French, German, or Spanish will read the literature and reference materials in the foreign language. The course is open to anyone who may be interested, regardless of his linguistic ability.

EULOGY FOR SHELDON A. KEY

Editor's Note: Sheldon A. Key '29, attorney, former deputy prosecutor, one time 11th District American Legion commander, and Indiana Central College benefactor, died Aug. 23 in Methodist Hospital, Indianapolis. The following is the eulogy given by Dr. Gene E. Sease at the memorial service for Mr. Key on Aug. 26 at University Heights United Methodist Church.

To fully understand and appreciate the life of Sheldon Key, one must return to Marengo, Indiana, to the home of the United Brethren minister's family into which he was born. He told me one day of the will written by his father, the Reverend Perry Key, which provided the legacy for him, his brothers Amza and Perry, and sister, Dorothy. Though he did not accumulate an abundance of material possessions, Reverend Key wrote his children of the priceless things he willed—among them a good mother and a good name. Sheldon never forgot his father's words, influence, and teachings, and each year brought increasing significance to him.

It has been 64 years since those early days in Marengo. The years have seen the pursuit of an education at Vincennes High School, Indiana Central College, Benjamin Harrison Law School, and Indiana University. He distinguished himself as a scholar, teacher, journalist, practicing attorney, and business and community leader. As a member of the Judge Advocate General Corps, United States Army, he served his nation with distinction. For three periods of time, he was deputy prosecuting attorney of Marion County and has made a significant contribution to the civic leadership of Indianapolis and the State of Indiana. A member of the bar since 1936, he has been actively involved in legal, fraternal, veteran, and service organizations, while applying his wise business acumen to the successful direction of several corporations.

His wide range of interests and involvements did not diminish the strong interest and appreciation which was held for his church and alma mater. Indiana Central College and University Heights Church were chief among his concerns. On frequent occasions, as we sat and talked together, he expressed his deep and growing appreciation for what the college meant to him and would dream, with me, of its goals and needs for the future. He willingly gave time to the college as a member of its Board of Trustees and Foundation, but also in less impressive, but equally important ways, like talking with a friend soliciting a gift, or helping someone interested in the college to prepare a will. His generosity with his own resources is a matter of record, and the Key Stadium which bears his name will be a lasting memorial of his affection for Indiana Central. Two things I remember well from our visit when he pledged the generous gift for the stadium: (1) he was modest about its carrying his name and yielded reluctantly to persuasion when we pointed out the long-standing relationship between the college and the Key family; and, (2) he reminisced about his debt to the college for the education it made possible for him, and of the deep satisfaction which his minister-father would have had in knowing that now he could do something in return for the college and the church. He and Velma and the entire Key family have demonstrated a strong and increasing interest in all that occurs on these grounds and in these buildings.

(Continued on page 9)
In Memoriam

William A. Beavers '27 died Aug. 25 in Community Hospital, Indianapolis. An educator and school administrator for many years, he later retired from education and was superintendent of lighting for the Indianapolis city engineer's office 12 years. He retired three years ago.

He held two master's degrees from Indiana University. He was a member of Lebanon Primitive Baptist Church, Phi Delta Kappa, State Schoolman's Club, Irvington Masonic Lodge, state and national chapters of the Retired Teachers Association and the ISTA.

Rites were held in Shirley Brothers Drexel Chapel. Survivors include his wife Bertha (Deardoff '27), sons Addison M., William C., and Dr. Thomas H.

J. Everett Light '32 died Oct. 19, 1971, in his Brown County home. He was the former superintendent of Washington Township schools in Indianapolis, which was acclaimed as one of the outstanding school systems in the country.

Light began his educational career by teaching one year at the Soldiers and Sailors Childrens Home, then taught at Rushville several years. After earning his master's at Columbia, he was selected as Washington superintendent, a post he held for 16 years. A vocational educational building now under construction has been named the J. Everett Light Career Center.

Memorial services were conducted at St. Luke's United Methodist Church, Indianapolis. Survivors include his wife Louise, a son Dr. James M. Light, daughters Mrs. Margaret Graham and Mrs. Carolyn McGraw.

Alice M. Seymour '33, a retired school teacher who taught over 40 years in schools in and around Seymour, Ind., died Sept. 8 in Schneck Memorial Hospital.

Miss Seymour attended Western College for Women at Oxford, Ohio, for one year. After receiving her bachelor's degree from ICC, she earned a master's in education from Indiana University in 1948. She began her teaching career in the former Conologue School, going from there to Carter School, where she served as principal for many years. Later she taught at Kasting School and Seymour-Redding Elementary School.

Miss Seymour served with the Women's Army Corps during World War II. She was a member of the Business and Professional Women's Club, Retired Teachers Association, ISTA, NEA, and Delta Kappa Gamma Society.

Survivors include two sisters and two nephews. Her two brothers are deceased.

Max B. Sumner, who attended Indiana Central in 1941 and 1942, died Aug. 10 at Community Hospital in Indianapolis. Mr. Sumner worked as an auto mechanic for 25 years. He was a member of Faith United Methodist Church.

Survivors include his wife, Anita L. Sumner; and five daughters, Mrs. Suzanne Gunthrop, Mrs. Patricia Monka, Misses Barbara '70, Virginia (a current ICC student), and Janet Sumner, all of Indianapolis.

Crawford Heads Terre Haute District

The Rev. Gene P. Crawford '47 has been named superintendent of the Terre Haute (Ind.) District of the United Methodist Church, in recent appointment changes announced by Bishop R. H. Mueller.

Rev. Crawford succeeds Dr. C. David Hancock '38, who has been appointed pastor of the Plainfield (Ind.) U.M. Church.

Since 1969 Rev. Crawford has been pastor of the Southport U.M. Church. Prior to that he served as minister of the Evansville Albright congregation for 13 years. Earlier in his ministry he served churches at Dale and New Albany.

Originally from Princeton, Ind., he received his bachelor of divinity degree from United Theological Seminary. Rev. Crawford is married to the former Ruth Bond '47 and they have three children, Sue Ellen, Charles, and Philip.

Dr. Hancock had been superintendent of the Terre Haute District since the Methodist-EUB Church merger in 1968. Prior to that he served as pastor of Riverside Church in Muncie. In previous years he was minister in Lapel, Selma, Connersville, Saratoga, and Smith Valley.

Education Sponsors Drug Seminar

The Education Department in cooperation with the Indiana State Board of Health held a two day drug seminar on Oct. 21 and 22 in Ransburg Auditorium.

Dr. William Bishop and Dr. David Rushong of the Education Department offered the program especially for the teacher education students. The public was invited to attend the sessions also.

Dr. George Spratto of the School of Pharmacy of Purdue University opened the program with a discussion of drugs and their effects. He was followed by Dr. Ivan Bennett of the Medical Research Division of Eli Lilly and Co., who spoke on "Why Kids Take Drugs." Dr. Robert Forney, professor of toxicology at the Indiana University School of Medicine, discussed "Alcohol and Marihuana."

Beginning the second morning Sergeant Richard Poe, public information officer for the Indiana State Police, talked on "Drugs and Law Enforcement."

Dr. Rushong, a teacher education supervisor at ICC, said, "It is my concern that student teachers be better informed on this important area. Unless we can help them to be fully aware of the drug problem, their training will not be adequate to the task of helping young men and women learn and live in today's society."

Key . . .

(Continued from page 8)

Words are inadequate vehicles to convey the deep feelings which all of us share upon his death. He has been a beloved husband and father, a Christian gentleman, a dedicated churchman, a counselor and advisor, a loyal alumnus, a partner and co-worker, a business associate, a philanthropist, and a civic leader. But more, he has been to me, and to you, a warm, generous and sincere friend.

His presence among us will be sorely missed; but great souls like Sheldon Key never really leave us, for his influence will live on through the mark he has placed upon my life and yours. I shall be forever grateful for the touch on mine!

Survivors to Mr. Key include his wife Velma, for whom the stadium was also named, daughters Barbara, Mrs. Susi Gittinger; son Dr. Richard K. Johnson.
Alumni Board Appoints Committees

The first Alumni Board of Directors meeting was Oct. 23 with President Clayton Kinkade presiding.

After the invocation the board paid silent tribute to Sheldon A. Key, a member of the board. Mr. Key passed away in August.

Elected to fill the two vacancies were Henry "Hank" Potter '39, as member of the Alumni Board, and Gordon France '33, as alumni representative to the Board of Trustees. Mr. Potter of Martinsville, Ind., is an agency manager with the Franklin Life Insurance Co. in Indianapolis. Mr. France is an executive with Delco-Remy Division, GMC, in Anderson, Ind.

Dr. Sease made a brief report to the board including information on scholarships, the new fleximeter program, and the President's Ball. He emphasized the importance of alumni in public relations, personnel recruiting, and financial help.

Gene Lausch reported on the progress of the Alumni Fund. He also explained the “giving year” has been changed from a fiscal year to a calendar year. The Fellows program gained 28 new members in 1971 bringing the total to 238. Alumni director Jim Brunnemer reported on the Class Agent Day and that 46 classes now have class agents.

President Kinkade appointed the following members to committees: alumni giving, Gene Lausch; alumni tours, Mary Kay Anthony, chairman, Fred Belser, Art Funk, George Keenan; resolutions, Vic Bogle, chairman, and Gordon Geiger; special events, Kathryn Koenig, chairman, Mickie Shirell, Michelle Branch, and Hank Potter. Honors and recognition, Florabelle Wilson, chairman, and Don Klinger; placement, Bill Fisher; area clubs, Gloria Hilfiker, chairman, P. K. Smith and Delmer Huppert; publications, Clare Stone, chairman, and Everett Swank complete the committee appointments. The board nominated and approved as members of the election committee Fred Belser, chairman, Gloria Hilfiker, Gordon Geiger, Betty Majors, and Blanche Penrod.

Lynn Youngblood reported on memorial gifts, charitable bequests, and the college-sponsored London Theater Tour (over the Christmas holidays). Beverly Gorbett reported that the News is being printed by a new company at a considerable savings in time and money.

Mr. Brunnemer then reviewed several items for the board including his recent trip to the Alumni Directors' (Continued on page 21)

ICC Educators Named Outstanding

Honored as Outstanding Educators of 1971 were three members of the Central faculty, Miss Virginia R. Sims, director of nursing education; Dr. Robert M. Brooker, chairman of the chemistry department; and Dr. Kenneth Borden, associate professor of chemistry.

Outstanding Educators of America is an annual awards program honoring distinguished men and women for their exceptional service, achievements, and leadership in the field of education. Each year those chosen are featured in a national awards volume. Nominations for the programs are made by the officials of colleges and universities including presidents, deans and department heads. Guidelines for selection include an educator's talents in the classroom, contributions to research, administrative abilities, civic service and professional recognition.

Miss Sims completed her R.N. training at Indiana University in 1941 and received her B.S. in Nursing Education in 1944 from IU. She earned an M.S. degree in 1958 from Butler University. She has been on the Indiana Central faculty since 1959 and has been the primary builder of the two year/four year optional nursing program which has received both state and national acclaim.

Dr. Brooker received an A.A. degree in 1937 from Iberia Junior College, a B.S. in education in 1939 from the University of Missouri, and a B.S. in chemistry in 1947 from the U. of M. He earned his Ph.D. at the University in 1950 and joined the faculty at ICC the same year. In addition to his teaching duties, he is a consultant to the Dow Chemical Corp., Indianapolis, and until his recent retirement, was active in the U.S. Army Reserves.

Dr. Borden earned his B.S. in 1962 from Eastern New Mexico University. He received his M.S. from the University of Illinois in 1964 and his Ph.D. from the University of Arkansas in 1958. In 1958 he joined the Indiana Central faculty and the chemistry department.
Wedding Bells

Brenda Ellen Anderson '69 and Douglas L. Baker were married Oct. 23 in Edwardsville (Ind.) United Methodist Church.

Sue L. Bewley '69 and Frank D. Kritsch were married Aug. 14 in the St. Barnabas Catholic Church in Indianapolis.

Marcia E. Favorite '68 and David Stillabower '69 were married in July, 1971. She works as an R.N. at Winona Hospital in Indianapolis and David is employed as a purchasing agent at Schneider division of Wallace Murray. They live in Indianapolis.

Rich Huey '67 and Linda Loy of Bryant, Ind., were married Aug. 3, 1971, at the Trinity United Methodist Church in Portland, Ind. Mrs. Huey is a 1971 graduate of Ball State University with a degree in elementary education. Rich is teaching English at New Haven Senior High School, New Haven, Ind., and is working on his doctorate in school administration and counseling at Purdue University in Ft. Wayne.

Guy D. Hullinger '71 and Beth Ann Weldy were married Aug. 22. Both are attending Purdue University, where she is majoring in art education and he is studying physical education.

James S. "Sandy" Mayfield '71 and Margie Ann Wheeler, an ICC student, were married Aug. 21 in St. Luke's United Methodist Church in Kokomo, Ind. Sandy is working in the public relations department of the American Cancer Society, Indianapolis.

Jo Ann Meyer '67 and Norman Riemer were married Dec. 19, 1970, in Emmaus Lutheran Church, Indianapolis. Norman is an electrical engineer at Naval Avionics Facility. Jo Ann, who completed her undergraduate work at Concordia Teachers College in River Forest, Ill., formerly taught elementary school at Zion Lutheran School in New Palestine, Ind.

Mrs. Dorothy Needler '26 and Harry Mills were married Sept. 12, 1971, and reside in Hartford City, Ind.

Imo Lou Rogers '71 and James H. Nesmith were married Aug. 14 in Russiaville United Methodist Church, Russiaville, Ind. The bride is a graduate of the nursing program. Mr. Nesmith is stationed with the United States Air Force at Yakota AFB, Japan. The couple is living in Japan.

Steven Wittenauer '71 and Nancy Lee Gross were married in August in St. Mary's Cathedral at Lafayette, Ind. He is teaching elementary school in Otterbein, Ind. The bride is employed with the Ball, Eggleston and Bumbleburg Law Firm in Lafayette.

Alumni of the Butler B-Men's Association and the Indiana Central C Association inaugurated a football "Indy Top Dog Trophy" to spark interschool rivalry between the Butler Bulldogs and the ICC Greyhounds. The first presentation of the traveling trophy was made to the victor of the Nov. 20 game in the Butler bowl.

Alumni and supporters of both grid teams sponsored the first annual "Indy Top Dog Luncheon" which was held at the Murriah Shrine Club, 502 N. New Jersey, Indianapolis on Nov. 19. A social hour began at 11 a.m. followed by lunch at noon.

The occasion honored both coaching staffs and featured film highlights of the 1971 football season. The trophy was on view at the luncheon.

McAfee Retires From Army

Chaplain Paul K. McAfee, 80, United States Army Reserves, was retired from the active Army at Ft. Knox, Ky., Aug. 31, 1971.

Col. McAfee served twenty years in the Army, two years as a combat medic in World War II, and slightly over eighteen years as an Army Chaplain. During his tour of duty as a chaplain he served in Korea (1953-1955) and in Vietnam (1968-1969). In 1960 he and his family went to Europe for a three year tour of duty, where he served as assistant post chaplain, Frankfurt Post, Frankfurt-am-Main, West Germany. From 1963 to 1965 he was post chaplain at Ft. Benjamin Harrison, Indianapolis. In 1966 he was assigned as instructor in military writing at the US Army Chaplain School, Ft. Hamilton, N.Y. where he taught until being sent to Vietnam in 1968.

Chaplain McAfee is a native of Lawrence County, Ind. He graduated from Tunnelton High School. He for two sessions, then transferred to Franklin College, graduating there in 1949. He graduated from Garrett Theological Seminary with a bachelor of divinity degree in 1953. In 1965 he entered the University of Illinois for graduate work in journalism and communications.

Col. McAfee has been honored by various awards during his military service. Among them is the Legion of Merit (the second highest award non-combatant), the Bronze Star Medal, the Air Medal and the Army Commendation Medal. His last tour of duty before retirement was at Ft. Knox, where he served as administrative chaplain in the Armor Center Chaplain's Office, Deputy Post Chaplain and Post Chaplain.

Chaplain and Mrs. McAfee (the former Dorothy L. Duncan of Indianapolis) reside at Carmel, Ind., where the chaplain was recently appointed associate minister to the Carmel United Methodist Church. The McAfees have four children, Charles, Earl and Marylu, who are married, and Thomas, who is a student in Carmel Junior High School.
Former Teachers Give Scholarship

At the annual Fellows Luncheon on Homecoming Day, Dr. Gene Sease announced that four of the emeritus faculty members from the Education Department are endowing a partial scholarship for a student in elementary education.

Professors Roy V. Davis, Russel S. Merkel, Russell H. Rayburn, and Kermit R. Todd are contributing a beginning amount of $5,000 for endowment. The earnings of the money will be awarded annually to a promising student in elementary education. The grant will be known as the Davis-Merkel-Rayburn-Todd Scholarship.

Dr. Davis joined the college in 1936 and taught until his retirement. Since then he has taught frequently in evening classes, and this year, is teaching geography classes while Mr. Gomel is on sabbatical.

Dr. Merkel began his career at the college in 1945; Dr. Rayburn, in 1961; and Dr. Todd, in 1960. All have taught education courses. Drs. Todd and Rayburn also helped supervise student teachers.

Ohio Coed Reigns Over Homecoming

"Under the Big Top" was the theme of the annual Homecoming activities Oct. 9. Miss Karen Rogers was crowned Homecoming Queen and Mu Phi Epsilon music sorority, Trimble Hall, and the Junior Class took display honors for the day.

First event of the day was the Queen's Breakfast, sponsored by the Homecoming Committee. Last year's queen, Miss Mary Rucker, was honored guest along with this year's court which included Miss Rogers, a junior music major from Arcanum, Oh.; Susan Klingerman, a senior philosophy major from Walkerton, Ind.; Chris Hodgkin, a freshman nursing student from Richmond, Ind.; Debbie Bowles, a sophomore physical education from Indianapolis; and Cheryl McBride, a freshman elementary education major from Bridgeton, N.J.

The morning also included a tennis match between ICC and Franklin College. The judging of displays began at 10:30 a.m. Classes, dormitories, and campus organizations competed for prizes with displays built to represent the "Big Top" theme.

The annual luncheon for the Fellows members was served at 11:30 a.m. in the dining hall. Fellows are persons pledged to support the college with $100 or more annually.

Kick-off time between the Greyhounds and the Rose-Hulman Engineers was 2 p.m. The Greyhounds tallied a 27-14 victory for the afternoon.

Halftime activities included the official coronation of Miss Rogers as 1971 Homecoming Queen, awarding of the display prizes, and a routine by the Crimson Steppers. Following the game the residence halls had open house for visitors to campus.

The evenings' events included an Alumni Association smorgasbord dinner served in the dining hall and a dance and breakfast sponsored by Central Council. The dance took place at the Sahara Grotto in Indianapolis followed by the midnight breakfast served on the college campus.

ALUMNI CHAIRS AVAILABLE

Alumni and friends of the College may be interested to hear that S. Bent and Brothers of Gardner, Ma., are making available arm chairs, side chairs, and Boston rockers bearing the seal of Indiana Central College.

These attractive chairs—black with gold trim and seal—are suitable for home or office, study or den. The arm chair is also available with cherry arms.

When ordering, please allow seven weeks for delivery. All orders are shipped directly from the factory to any United States location. Shipping charges, determined by weight and distance, will be collected upon delivery. (For example, charges for Indianapolis delivery would be $10-$13.)

SEND YOUR CHECK OR MONEY ORDER TO:
Indiana Central College
Alumni Office
Indianapolis, IN 46227

I would like to order the following:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Chair Type</th>
<th>Quantity</th>
<th>Price</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Black arm chair with cherry arms (32 lbs.)</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>$37.00 ea.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Black arm chair with black arms (32 lbs.)</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>$36.00 ea.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Black side chair without arms (18 lbs.)</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>$22.50 ea.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Black Boston rocker (27 lbs.)</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>$29.75 ea.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Deliver chair to:

Name __________________________________________
Street Address __________________________________
City _____________________________________________
County __________________________________________
State ___________________________________________
Zip Code _________________________________________

Please find enclosed check, made payable to Indiana Central College, for $______________________
Signature ______________________________________
December, 1971

All Nursing Grads Pass State Boards

All eighteen Indiana Central nursing students graduating this past June passed all parts of the Registered Nurse Licensing Examination, required by the state of Indiana.

The graduates took the test on June 21 and 22 at the Indiana State Teachers' Association Center in Indianapolis. During the two day examination the girls were required to write from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. The test included five areas, and to become licensed each student must pass all parts of the exam. The five areas are medical nursing, surgical nursing, nursing of children, maternity nursing and psychiatric nursing.

Given in all 50 states, the test must be passed by students with nursing diplomas, A.D. or B.S. degrees. Indiana Central's newest members of the medical profession are: Mrs. Barbara Broadlick, Susan Burke, Mrs. Rosaland Douthart, Wanda K. Slaton, Karen Soucie, and Jean A. Welborn, Indianapolis; Karen E. Chase, Crawfordsville, Ind.; Carol S. Clark, Richmond, Ind. Others who were licensed are Mrs. Jennifer Earl, Greenfield, Ind.; JoEtta Harden, Dana, Ind.; Diane S. Kerkhof, Seymour, Ind.; Linda C. Petty, Greenwood, Ind.; Karen C. Raney, New Castle, Ind.; Gloria Reed, LePaz, Ind.

Completing the list of R.N.'s are Imo Lou Rogers, Russiaville, Ind.; Teresa Southwick, Anderson, Ind.; Mary Ellen Turner, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Billie Vinion, Youngstown, Oh.

Steppers Perform at Games

The Crimson Steppers, a girls' pom-pom corps, reorganized two years ago and now are performing with precision and style at half time during football and basketball games.

The captains of the Steppers are senior Bonnie Beck, Cincinnati, and sophomore Vickie Recher, Camdenton, Ind. Sophomore Kathy Siedenschnitz, Huntington Station, N.Y., is training to be one of next year's captains.

(Continued on page 15)
The Indiana Central Players presented William Shakespeare's King Lear, starring veteran actor Aldo Bertorelli, as the capital city's official tribute to "Theater Indianapolis" on opening night Nov. 5 in Ransburg Auditorium.

The tribute to the city was announced at an October 7 news conference at Stouffer's Inn by Mr. George Diener, chairman of the Sesquicentennial Commission, and Mr. Richard Williams, chairman of the Speech and Drama Department at the college. Current presidents or directors of all known theater groups, in Indianapolis as well as other special guests, were invited to the opening night performance and to the semi-formal banquet-reception immediately following. A special display area also was provided for the participating groups.

Speaking for the Commission, Mr. Diener said, "It is certainly appropriate and we are deeply grateful to the Indiana Central College Drama Department for presenting Shakespeare's King Lear as a general salute to the Theater on the occasion of Indianapolis' Sesquicentennial year."

Also appearing at the conference was Mr. Bertorelli who has had 30 years of stage experience and is portraying the title role in the ICC production. He began his career at the age of fifteen with the Kipps Bay Drama League in New York. From 1942-44 he served with the armed forces in the Pacific and returned to New York in 1944. He later moved to Indianapolis where he started in the trade of pipe organ building.

Mr. Bertorelli and his wife Dorothea began working with the local capital city groups and organized their own Reader's Theatre. Not limited to one area, Bertorelli has worked with Footlite Musicals in Paint Your Wagon, Kismet, and The Unsinkable Molly Brown. More dramatic roles have come his way as Henry VIII in Anne of a Thousand Days and as Dr. Einstein in Arsenic and Old Lace, both presented by Circle Players. Most recently he has appeared with Theater-in-the-Woods in Come Back Little Sheba and Awake and Sing.

Students who carried major roles with Mr. Bertorelli included Linda Potter as Cordelia. Mrs. Potter was Juliet in last year's production of Romeo and Juliet. IC graduate David Geible, as the fool, and Linda Potter, as Cordelia. The production was presented Nov. 5, 6, 11, 12 and 13.

Huntington Names Greeson Coordinator of Library

Judy Greeson '69 was named coordinator of library services at Huntington College, Huntington, Ind., beginning with the fall term. Last year she served as assistant librarian and was promoted this year to the top position.

Miss Greeson has her B. A. degree from ICC and her master's in library science from Indiana University. She is a member of Beta Phi Mu, national library honorary fraternity, is publicity chairman of Civic Newcomers Club of Huntington, and she is currently serving on an advisory committee to revise state curriculum requirements in the area of instructional media.

Miss Greeson is a member of the Troub Memorial Presbyterian Church of Indianapolis.

CHICAGO ALUMS MEET

The Chicago Area Club met Oct. 16 at the home of Rev. and Mrs. (Virginia '44) Kenneth Brooks '41 in Dolton, Ill.

The group met for a pitch-in dinner followed by a program from Jim Brunnemer, director of alumni relations; Dave Huffman, director of admissions; and Ed Gault. Mr. Brunnemer brought the club up to date concerning activities at the college during their last meeting in the spring. Mr. Huffman then discussed admissions procedures, the present enrollment, and the predicted enrollment for next year. He also mentioned the possibility of asking alumni to serve as admissions representatives for ICC in their local areas.

The evening was highlighted by the showing of slides by Mr. Gault. He had taken slides of past Chicago Area Club meetings as well as Homecoming and Alumni Days dating back to 1963.

Alumni and spouses in attendance were Harold and Ann Cory Bretz, the Brooks, Sherman and Marjory Cravens, Kenneth and Lorene Hartman, George and Dorothy Jacobs, Vern and Elsie Longenbaugh, Glenn and Marilyn Walrich, Ed Gault, Dave Huffman, and Jim Brunnemer.

The date of the next Chicago meeting was set for April 29, 1972.

Veteran actor Aldo Bertorelli (c), who portrayed the lead in King Lear, rehearses with David Geible, as the fool, and Linda Potter, as Cordelia. The production was presented Nov. 5, 6, 11, 12 and 13.
BISHOP ATTENDS SEMINAR IN INDIA

Dr. William Bishop, chairman of the Education Department, attended an ACUIIS faculty seminar in India this past summer. The seminar included faculty persons from 25 member institutions of the Association of Colleges and Universities for International-Intercultural Studies, Inc.

The theme of the eight-week trip was "The Modernization Process in India." The group met at American University in Washington, D.C. for one week for orientation, during which time Indian experts spoke to them. They also received briefings at the Indian Embassy and at the State Department.

After a one-day layover in Germany the seminar participants arrived in New Delhi, India, where they stayed for three weeks. They also spent time in Benares, the holy city of Hinduism; Calcutta; Agra, home of the Taj Mahal; Sarnath, city of Buddhism; Madras; Tiruchirappoli; and Cochin among others.

There was learning activity each day. The group heard professors from leading Indian universities and several governmental officials who shared information and answered questions in areas such as economic planning, sociology, agriculture, education, military structure, etc. Then the individual members of the ACUIIS group had spare time to visit places and institutions that interested them. Dr. Bishop visited in several schools and talked with educators. He also met with officials at the National Council of Educational Research and Training, which is comparable to the HEW Department in the US.

The seminar offered many and varied experiences. They visited a Pakistani refugee camp in Calcutta. Nearly 9 million people have fled from East Pakistan to India since civil strife erupted in Pakistan earlier this year. The group observed several smaller agricultural villages where "the green revolution" is in operation. New types of seeds and fertilization are being used and India is making great progress on the agricultural front.

The group saw first-hand the Family Planning Festival during July in the Kerala state, where over 60,000 men were sterilized through the vasectomy operation. The officials had set a goal of 20,000 and were overwhelmed and pleased with the response from the men.

Kerala is the most literate state in India and the experiment in population control was begun there.

Dr. Bishop's trip was funded primarily by HEW along with some support from Indiana Central. As a member of ACUIIS, the college can offer learning experiences such as the Indian trip to both students and faculty members.

Steppers . . .

(Continued from page 13)

Stepper Debbie Hockersmith, Indianapolis, is a junior. Twirlers for the group are freshman Pat Miller, Elkhart, Ind.; and junior Carol Ferrand, Greenwood, Ind.

Central Receives Bequests

By LYNN R. YOUNGBLOOD
Director of Development

Alumni of ICC will be interested to know that in the past two years Indiana Central has received a legacy from seven different estates and the college has been notified by attorneys that at least four additional wills are under probate at the present time where the college has been named as a beneficiary!

Included among these estates was that of Edith Bishop '24. She and her late husband, Ross '24 left a substantial amount to be used for improvement of faculty salaries. The Bishops were residents of Canton, Ill.

Other estates which have been settled in the past two years and in which Central has been included as a beneficiary were those of T. W. Davidson, Indianapolis; Leroy Foutch, Leipsic, Ind.; Josephine Key, Plainville, Ind.; Lillie Thatcher, Decatur, Ill.; Jennie E. Ellis, Bremen, Ind.; and Phoebe Gegenheimer, Indianapolis. These individuals, for the most part, were related to the college through the church, as parents of alumni or faculty, or as businessmen and businesswomen interested in the welfare of Indiana Central.

There are many alumni who have already included the college in their wills and certainly many others who plan to do so in the future. One cannot overemphasize the importance, however, of having a will. Dying intestate (without a will) allows the government to decide how a person's assets will be distributed and then neither Indiana Central nor any other charitable institution will be included. The government does encourage giving through bequests, however, by allowing one to reduce the amount of his estate which will be taxable by deducting all gifts to charitable institutions, which includes ICC.

The development office will be happy to serve as an estate planning counselor to any alumni who may be considering including the college as a beneficiary of his estate.
Students To Tour England Over Christmas

The tour is under the overall direction of Professor Richard A. Williams. Aiding him will be Dr. Donald T. Shonower, chairman of the Speech Department at North Central College, Naperville, Ill. Other college and high school teachers will serve as study tour leaders. Mr. George S. Angelo, director of Seminars International (appointed representative from Indiana Central), will personally supervise the arrangements and travel matters.

The one-week program is designed to offer an inexpensive opportunity to visit London and other parts of England during the Holiday Season, and to attend significant drama presentations of the great London theatre. ICC offers non-credit certification to all participants and a one-hour credit performance in London and Jan. 2 will include other lectures and an optional visit to Parliament. There will be an evening theatre party and New Year's Eve celebration at Trafalgar Square.

The tour will assemble Dec. 26 at Chicago's O'Hare Field and depart by jet to London. The group will arrive in London Dec. 27 and transfer by private motorcoach to family homes located in the communities of Eltham, New Eltham, and Sidcup. On Dec. 28 there will be a full day in London, including Buckingham Palace and changing of the Guard, Westminster Abbey, 10 Downing Street, St. Paul's Cathedral, Tower of London, and the Cutty Sark. A play will be attended that evening. On Dec. 29 there will be a briefing on the British educational system, followed by a theatre lecture and a discussion on the previous evening's play. The afternoon will offer an optional visit to a London school. Another evening theatre performance completes the day.

A tour of Coventry and Stratford-on-Avon are scheduled for Dec. 30, with a stop in Oxford on the return trip. Dec. 31 will include other lectures and an optional visit to Parliament. There will be another evening theatre party and New Year's Eve celebration at Trafalgar Square.

Jan. 1 includes another theatre performance in London and Jan. 2 will be a tour of Canterbury. The group will visit the Cathedral and pass through the Kent countryside. On Jan. 3 the tour will fly back to Chicago and home.

It Starts With an Idea

When the members of Alpha Phi Omega started developing the idea of an outdoor events sign for the IC campus in the fall of 1969, the idea was just to construct a small lighted sign southwest of Esch Hall.

But under the direction of Randall Boys '71, APO's president at that time, and help by the college maintenance department, the idea started to grow. By the time of construction in the spring of 1971 the location, size, material, and basic design had changed. The finished product, valued at $3500, is plexiglass and aluminum, mounted on two steel poles.

As the idea grew, Roy Meyer '71 started raising the necessary capital for the project. This was later continued by Mike Werling, the current president of the service fraternity. The donors include Alpha Phi Omega, Alpha Psi Omega, A Association, Central Council, the classes of 1966, 1967, 1968, 1969, and 1971, and friends and alumni of APO.

A sign without a message is useless, so now Alpha Phi Omega is continually updating the messages, so that “those that drive may read,” and learn what’s happening at Indiana Central.
ALUMNI MAKE ‘EDUCATION FOR SERVICE’ MORE THAN COLLEGE SLOGAN

(Editor's note: The following article is an excerpt from a story by Bettie Cadou, reporter, which appeared in a September issue of the Indianapolis News. With her permission, we are reprinting part of the article.)

Shelbyville, Ind.—Triton North Elementary School looks like a castle, operates on a shoestring and faces discrimination like a tiger.

"Let someone else worry about them is the attitude of too many people," said principal Robert J. McKinney '52, referring to children of the migrants in a nearby camp.

But he worried. So did the surrounding community members spearheaded by the Rev. Donald Shanks '63, pastor of the Sugar Creek United Methodist Church.

Recognizing that Spanish-speaking migrant children, as a group, do poorly in school by any measure; drop out early; speak Spanish, and are poor, the group decided to do something about it.

The result has been an interchange of cultures and language. "Last year we had two migrant children enrolled. This year there're 17," stated the tall, lean principal proudly.

He readily admitted that the Anglos have learned as much from the Spanish-speaking people as they had from them. "This past summer we organized handicraft programs, language and reading, games and outings. Sugar Creek United Methodist Church opened their doors three times a week for picnics.

"We've been invited to the camp for a wedding, fiestas and dinners. And by the same token they have been invited into our homes. They need to learn English, and we need to learn Spanish in order to better our communication. We've established a beautiful rapport," McKinney said.

In an effort to maintain and increase this rapport, the school has invested in language master machines, tapes, and a recorder. "We plan to go ahead and work on our Spanish so that next year the interchange will be even more improved."

The dynamic educator is hopeful of a grant from the federal government to assist them in their efforts to help the migrant workers to educate their children.

"We really have to fight for any money we get, and we don't waste any funds that we do receive either," said McKinney.

A former assistant superintendent of a Warren Township school, McKinney turned down an offer to become head man at the school in deference to the Triton job.

"That was a brand new building, too. This place looks like a castle; when I first came here we had water problems in the basement (the rest-rooms are on the lower level) and the furnace still doesn't work half the time. But it's been worth it. I love it!" he said projecting his enthusiasm and sense of accomplishment during his three years as principal.

He confessed that he and staff members are sad that the children will be leaving soon, but plans for the future include bettering the language recreational programs, math and remedial reading, planning field trips, and including preschool migrant children in Triton's preschool program.

When he was sighted outside, the children squealed, ran to him, and then Spanish-speaking, Anglos and principal joined hands for an impromptu ring-around-the-rosie, with the educator flopping down on the ground with the best of them.

Glancing back over his shoulder, he indicated that this was the key, joining hands and getting together.

COLLEGE PERSONNEL MEET WITH CLASS AGENTS

The first Class Agent Day was September 25 to help inform class agents of the college's needs and their contribution to its growth.

Attending the meeting were agents Margarette Albright, Geraldine Rodebaugh, John Sharp, Alva Stoneburner, Merrell Geible, Eloise Marshall, C. David Hancock, Elnor Biggs, Bob Sachs, Keith Brown, J. C. White, Dean Ransburg, Mary Jo Shambaugh, Tom Anthony, Lynn Soughan, Jim Ferrier, and Sally Lagle. Alumni Association president Clayton Kinkade presided.

Panel members who shared with the agents were President Gene Sease; Leo S. Miller, treasurer; Nathan Wooden, dean of students; Lynn Youngblood, director of development; and Gene Lausch, vice president of the Association and chairman of the Annual Fund. Each person reported on various college activities, expenses, and needs that would help class agents in supporting the fund campaign.

Following the remarks of the panel Jim Brunnemer, director of alumni relations, explained the new system of class agent competition. Each class will be rated in five categories: percentage of participation, total donors, total dollars, average gift, and improvement over previous years. The 1970-71 class agent of the year was Mrs. Albright '28, and an alumni chair has been given to her from the Association.

The meeting was followed by a luncheon in the college dining room.

Class agents who attended the first Class Agent Day workshop, Sept. 25, included:
DEPARTMENTS GAIN NEW FACULTY

New faculty members joined the college in several departments this year, including English, sociology, business, nursing, and the library.

The two new assistant professors in English are Dr. Adolf Hansen and Miss Charlotte Templin. A native of Brooklyn, N.Y., Hansen received his B.A. from Taylor University. He earned his S.T.B. and S.T.M. degrees from New York Theological Seminary, and earned his Ph.D. from Northwestern University.

He holds membership in the Society of Biblical Literature, American Academy of Religion, and the American School of Oriental Research. He has served as a visiting professor with both N.Y. Theological Seminary and Garrett Theological Seminary. He has served pastorates in both New York and Indiana and, since 1968, has been associate minister of the Meridian Street United Methodist Church in Indianapolis.

Miss Templin earned her B.A. at the University of Minnesota and is completing her Ph.D. at Indiana University. She taught high school English from 1965 to 1965 and was an associate instructor at IU from 1965-70. She is a member of the Modern Language Association.

The Sociology Department gained Assistant Professor Kenneth H. Merck and Instructor Stella B. Jones. Dr. Merck earned his A.B. at Lenair Rhyne College in North Carolina, his B.D. from Northwestern Lutheran Theological Seminary, Minneapolis, and his M.S. and Ph.D. degrees from IU.

For the past year he taught in the Department of Educational Psychology at Indiana-Purdue in Indianapolis. From 1960-63 he served pastorates in Milwaukee and in Arden, N.C. He served as Protestant chaplain at the IU Med Center from 1963-65.

Dr. Hansen Miss Templin

The Sociology Department gained Assistant Professor Kenneth H. Merck and Instructor Stella B. Jones. Dr. Merck earned his A.B. at Lenair Rhyne College in North Carolina, his B.D. from Northwestern Lutheran Theological Seminary, Minneapolis, and his M.S. and Ph.D. degrees from IU.

For the past year he taught in the Department of Educational Psychology at Indiana-Purdue in Indianapolis. From 1960-63 he served pastorates in Milwaukee and in Arden, N.C. He served as Protestant chaplain at the IU Med Center from 1963-65.

Dr. Merck

Dr. Merck is a member of the American and Indiana Psychological Associations, American Personnel and Guidance Association, National Council on Family Relations, Conference on Conciliation Courts, Indiana Rehabilitation Counseling Association, and is certified by the Indiana State Board of Examiners in Psychology.

Mrs. Jones received her bachelor's degree from Seattle Pacific College and her M.A. from the University of Washington. She has been a social case worker with the Washington State Department of Public Assistance and has served as a teaching assistant at the University of Washington.

Mrs. Jones is a member of the American Sociological Society and the Pacific Sociological Society.

Joining the business faculty is Mrs. Julia Tinsley, graduate of Eastern Kentucky University where she received both her B.S. and M.A. degrees. She also taught business at Eastern for a year.

The past year Mrs. Tinsley was employed in the computer center of the Indianapolis Public Schools. She is a member of the National and the North Central Business Education Associations and the Association for Educational Data Systems.

A 1971 graduate of the ICC nursing program, Miss L. Cheryl Catlin is now a full-time instructor in the department. She has worked as an R.N. at Community Hospital, Indianapolis, and at the Galesburg (Ill.) State Research Hospital.

Miss Catlin belongs to the National League of Nurses and the American Nurses Association.

Miss Gladden Miss Catlin

The new cataloger in the library is Miss Vivian Gladden. She received her A.B. in fine arts from Indiana University in 1970 and is currently working on her master's degree at IU. Her home is Clayton, Ind.
Students Join Deputation Teams

There are eight deputation teams and a swing choir traveling for the college and the Church Relations office this year, offering various types of music to audiences in Indiana churches, clubs, retirement homes, hospitals, children's homes, and schools.

The groups, composed of from two to five members, present music such as folk, popular, traditional and gospel. They also help with other parts of church programs if asked in advance.

The "Each and All" group includes Vicki Vertrees, Vicki Beeson, Bruce Haddix, and Gil Hubbard. Lynn Hillsamer, Bob Biggs and Sam Chambers make up "A New Song." "Daybreak" includes students Becky Alexander, Marty Bosworth, Debbie Gregory and Sara Drake.

The group of Marcia Overmyer, Robin Coombs, Roger Outcalt and David Parsons call themselves "We Are Who We Are." "One Way" includes Doris Deubelbeiss, Martha Philhower, Jack Johnson and Mark McCreary. The "Gospel Guys" are Kent Biller, Larry Musselman and Craig DeMyer.

Patti Gardner, Bev Butler and Terry Chattin call themselves "Stained Glass." Robin Riebsomer, Susan Walton, Becky Geible, and Mike Strycher are "Together Again for the First Time." Others singing in deputation teams are Martha Larison, Marcia Smith, Rick Shaw, Bob Steindorff, Sherry Walker, Bill Coffee and Oscar Gardner.

The swing choir includes Karen Rogers, Jena Jones, Debbie Bowles, Bev Butler, Doris Deubelbeiss, Nancy Carr, Brian Boroughs, Kent Schwartz, Bruce Haddix, Martin McDaniel, Greg Whaley and Mark McCreary. Ester Littrell plays the piano for the group and Marilyn Jones play drums.

Mueller Endorses Bequest Program

Bishop Reuben H. Mueller, episcopal leader of the Indiana area, United Methodist Church, was presented the Scroll of Remembrance Oct. 10 by Dr. Gene E. Sease. In doing so, Indiana’s "first citizen" of United Methodism set the pace for his constituency across the state.

The Scroll, awarded to those who have included the college in their wills, is part of an intensified bequest program of Indiana Central. President Sease stated, "It is important for the privately supported college today to assure a strong future by building larger endowment funds. Reports indicate that 80-90% of all college endowment comes from bequests. It is for this reason that Indiana Central is placing increasing emphasis on this source of support and recognizing donors who believe and support private education." He added that private liberal arts colleges from the earliest days of our nation have played a major role in preparing many of our outstanding leaders in the church, government, business, industry and education.

Bishop Mueller was the general secretary of Christian Education in the Evangelical United Brethren Church, one of the predecessor denominations of the United Methodist Church and has been vitally interested in private church-related colleges for many years. He has been a bishop in the church since 1954 and has served as president of the National Council of Churches. Mrs. Mueller was honored by Indiana Central College at its Commencement last spring when she was awarded the honorary degree, Doctor of Humane Letters, for her contributions to education, the church, and humanity.

Next Issue Is In February.

What's New With You?
Alumni Coaches-of-Year Given Awards

Four alumni coaches were among the persons honored at the annual spring sports banquet in May. The banquet was attended by alumni, students, faculty, and staff. Special awards were given to five alumni who were named Coaches of the Year in their various fields. Don Poole, baseball coach at Jeffersonville (Ind.) H.S., was named Coach of the Year in his various fields. Don was also coaching at Indian Creek High School and is now head baseball and assistant basketball coach at Jeffersonville.

Bob Otolski, '60, a coach at Mishawaka High School, was named football coach of the year. Named for track was John Jarosinski, '65; he is the track coach at Ben Davis High School. Dick Elmore, '66 was named wrestling coach of the year; he coaches at Brebeuf High School. The Alumnus Athletic Contribution Award was given to Sheldon A. Key, '29.

Special awards given to athletes included the Parker P. Jordan Academic Achievement award to Dan Dubois, the Robert Brooker Outstanding Athlete Award, and the Kelso Reid Mental Attitude Award (all sports) to Bill Smock.

Baseball awards included plaques to all members of Central's Indiana Collegiate Conference championship team. The John S. Yeftich Award was given to Randy Ferrand, the Outstanding Pitcher Award to Bill Smock, the Captain Award to Dave Verhonik, and the Kelso Reid Mental Attitude Award in baseball was given to Dwain Wall. Ferrand also received the William P. Morgan Award. Craig DeMyer was named Rookie of the Year. Four-year plaques were awarded to Jim McFarland, Smock and Jim Hedges.

Golf awards were given to John Davis, low medalist; Bob Buchanan, captain award; Al Hess, most improved; Davis, Reid mental attitude award. Buchanan received a four-year plaque.

The Highest Point Award in track was given to Joe Breisch. Broken record awards went to Breisch, for the 220 yard dash (21.5) and the mile relay (3:19.1); Gary Brendel, 880-yard run (1:54.7) and mile relay (3:19.1); Paul Glapsie, mile relay (3:19.1); Larry Musselman, mile relay (3:19.1); Rick Allen, pole vault (14'8''); John Layman, high jump (6'6''); Dave Williams, triple jump (49'6''); Dennis Walker, steeplechase (9:33.2) and two-mile run (9:31.3).

Brendel and Walker shared the track captain award. Walker also received the Reid mental attitude award. Four-year plaques were given to Walker, Todd Jones, and Rick Everhart.

The C Award was given to participants of spring sports for their varsity experience. Receiving the varsity C were Jeff Baker, Jim Hedges, Jim McFarland, Dave Verhonik, Jeff McGuire, Bob Tremain, Joe Tutterow, John Mitney, Mike Jannusch, and Steve Cochran. Also receiving the C were Randy Ferrand, Bill Smock, Jim Kistler, Randy Watson, Craig DeMyer, George Dietrich, Bert Fleming, Don Hecklinski, Gary Judy, Brad Barber, Steve Ford, Ed Kautcher, and Gary Kunning.

Others who received the varsity C were Bruce Botrom, Bill Alexander, Bob Buchanan, John Davis, Al Hess, Rick Allen, Joe Antie, Paul Glaspie, Dave Hawkins, Dave Williams, Greg Babcock, Joe Breisch, Gary Brendel, Larry Davis, Mike Denney, Rick Everhart, Randy Gunyon, Paul Hass, Doug Holder, Todd Jones, John Layman, Larry Musselman, Jack Ott, Don Steckler, John Stone, Dennis Walker, Loren Enders, and Larry Kriete.

Also receiving the C Award were Carl Hershberger, John Adams, Mike Wilks, Ron Young, and Randy Lee.

'Lear' Salutes . . .

(Continued from page 14)

known for his roles in Inherit the Wind and Hamlet, played the fool in Lear.

The two daughters Regan and Goneril were portrayed by Pam Abbey and Gayle Stahlhuth, respectively. Senior Phil Haas appeared as the Earl of Kent. The Earl of Gloucester was played by James Ream. Freshmen Morris Todd and Geoffrey Smith were Edgar and Edmund, sons of Gloucester.

The production was presented Nov. 6, 11, 12 and 13 also.

Wetherald Gains Twenty Wrestlers

Terry Wetherald, wrestling coach, gained 20 outstanding high school wrestlers this fall.

The Indianapolis-Marion County area is represented by four names on the list. They are Carl May, '58, 165 lbs., Northwest High School; Dave Pfleiffer, '59, 160 lbs., Warren Central; Jeff Rabourn, '50, 150 lbs., Franklin Central; and Steve Seminick, '77, 160 lbs., Ben Davis.

Of the 20, one comes from out of state and eight from Central Indiana. The group represents all weight classes.

Completing the list are Mark Brandham, '58, 140 lbs., Indian Creek; Bob Deer, '62, 220 lbs., New Prairie; Dave Egelb, '59, 115 lbs., Whiteland; Stan Fowler, '57, 138 lbs., Martinsville; Rogelio Gomez, '77, 130 lbs., East Chicago; Mike Hutley, '58, 150 lbs., Brownstown. Other wrestlers include Scott Jaimet, '57, 225 lbs., Noblesville; Bruce Jones, '54, 130 lbs., Martinsville; Richard Kischell, '59, 125 lbs., Hammond; Robert Lambert, '57, 145 lbs., Mooresville; Bill Lockman, '51, 181 lbs., Brownstown; Mark Lowder, '58, 165 lbs., Eastern Hancock; Randy Rhoads, '51, 175 lbs., Wabash; Charles Smitha, '59, 200 lbs., Anderson; Dan Starkey, '57, 165 lbs., Princeton, Cincinnati, Oh.; and Jim Siding, '55, 132 lbs., Whiteland.

Several of the wrestlers' high school coaches are alumni. They include Tom Welch, '53, coach at Indian Creek; Dave Holman, '66, coach at Eastern Hancock; Dick Cummings, '66, coach at Northwest; Al Morgan, '59, coach at Warren Central and John Gruner, '66, coach at Franklin Central.

FIRST ESCH SCHOLAR

Joyce Parker, a student in the rapidly growing nursing program, has been awarded the first I. Lynd Esch Scholarship at Indiana Central.

The award was established this summer in honor of Dr. Esch, President Emeritus, who served the college for 25 years. The scholarship is an annual grant to be applied toward tuition and fees. It is given on the basis of the student's scholastic achievement, leadership, character, and promise for the future.

Joyce is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy O. Parker, R. R. 3, Box 127, Air Hill Road, Brookville, Oh. Her sister Jill graduated from ICC in 1969.
JOURNALIST SPEAKS ON HONORS DAY

William J. Raspberry, "Potomac Watch" columnist for the Washington Post was the speaker for the annual Honors Day program Oct. 15.

An alumnus of Indiana Central College Raspberry was associated with the Indianapolis Recorder from 1956 to 1960. After serving two years in the Army, he joined the Washington Post and worked his way up to copy editor and assistant city editor. Since 1965 he has been the author of the Washington, D.C., urban affairs column, Potomac Watch.

Raspberry's coverage of the Watts riot in Los Angeles in 1965 brought him the Capitol Press Club's Journalist of the Year Award. In 1967 he was awarded a Citation of Merit in journalism from Lincoln University in Jefferson City, Mo., and in 1968 the Washington/Baltimore Newspaper Guild gave a Front Page Award. His columns were judged the best reportorial work of 1967.

Raspberry is also a contributing reporter to the ABC News early evening TV newscasts.

The program, a part of the regular convocation series for students, was conducted in Ransburg Auditorium. Raspberry addressed the students concerning "Keeping Things in Balance: A Look at the Presidency."

Development Initiates Parents Club

Lynn R. Youngblood, Assistant to the President and Director of Development, has announced the formation of a Parents Club at Indiana Central. The organization is to be comprised of parents of graduates, primarily those whose sons and daughters have graduated since 1969.

The announcement has come as a result of a meeting held on the campus on May 8, 1971, involving parents of the graduating classes of 1967 through 1970, President Sease, and Mr. Youngblood. The parents in attendance at that meeting and the classes which they represented were:

- Dr. and Mrs. Roy V. Maxson, Indianapolis, Class of 1970
- Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rogers, Arcanum, Oh., Class of 1969
- Mr. and Mrs. Thurlow Axel, Kendallville, Ind., Class of 1968
- Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Dorville, Indianapolis, Class of 1967.

A second organizational meeting was held on Nov. 6. Joining those mentioned previously were:

- Mr. and Mrs. Gerald D. Young, New Augusta, Ind., Class of 1971
- Mrs. Marjorie Maple, Speedway, Ind., Class of 1966
- Mrs. Judy Buchanan, Greenwood, Ind., Class of 1965.

All of these individuals have agreed to serve as class agents and will soon be in contact with other parents.

In discussing the purpose of the club Youngblood stated, "We have had active Dad's and Mom's Associations here at Central and they have fulfilled an important role at the college. However, membership in these associations has been exclusively limited to those parents whose children were currently enrolled in school. Once students graduate they automatically retain their ties with the college through their membership in the Alumni Association, but parents of graduates have been a forgotten constituency."

The Parents Club will provide parents with the opportunity to keep informed of events involving the college through the quarterly publication of the Central Idea. In addition parents will be encouraged to attend various social functions on the campus throughout the year such as Homecoming and May Festival, as well as participating in an Alumni Area Club in their vicinity. It is also hoped that parents will want to support Indiana Central through contributions to the annual fund, submitting names of prospective students to the Admissions Office, etc.

Alumni Board . . .

(Continued from page 10)

Convention in Colorado, the Jan. 22 anniversary celebration of the 1941-42 basketball team, the ICC-Butler "Top Dog" luncheon and trophy, group insurance rates available to alumni, and alumni tours. He mentioned several new projects of the Alumni Office including "The Board Bulletin," a newsletter to board members; a sports film series offered free to students; area alumni admissions representatives; and awards for distinguished alumni people.

Board meeting dates for the 1972 year were set for Jan. 22, May 20, and Oct. 28.
1922
Oscar B. Rose, a retired teacher, is living in Garrett, Ind.

1923
Helen Roberts entertained some Indiana Central College friends at dinner in her Rich Valley, Ind., home in October. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. (Allie Odle '24) Dorsey Stonehill, Brook, Ind.; Mrs. Julia (McFarland '23) Hunt, Huntington, Ind.; Mrs. Bertha (Rager '23) Leader, Winona Lake, Ind.; Mrs. M. S. Livengood Sr., Warsaw, Ind.; the Rev. and Mrs. Willard F. '20 (Dorothy Fields '23) Brown, Indianapolis; Dr. and Mrs. I. M. '22 (Louise Brown '22) Blackburn, Smyrna, Ga.; and Mr. and Mrs. Dwight (Ruth Wilson '23) Hostetler, LaGrange, Ind.

1926
Ralph E. Miller and wife have moved to a small home on Sweetwater Lake, south of Indianapolis. The "semi-retired" couple plans to spend their summers in Indiana and the winters in Sebring, Fla., where they have a mobile home on a lake.

1927
Guy C. Anderson is retired in Wilmington, Del., after working 33 1/2 years with the National Weather Service, U.S. Department of Commerce.

1928
Lillian Briscoe is a retired teacher-librarian residing in Oblong, Ill.

1929
Paul Fawley has been with the University of Utah since 1949. He served as chairman of the Department of Educational Administration for 17 years. This past August he completed a year as president of the National Conference of Professors of Educational Administration. Paul and Audrey have two daughters—Ann and family live in Corvallis, Ore., and Colleen is a sophomore at Westminster College in Salt Lake City.

Amza A. Key and Alice Faye (Waits '34) are retired and living in Albuquerque, N.M.

1932
Ralph Hiatt is a professor of electrical engineering and director of the radiation laboratory in the Department of Electrical and Computer Engineering at the University of Michigan.

1933
Irma (Chambers) Hartman is teaching second grade at Northwestern Elementary School in Kokomo, Ind. She is also completing a master’s degree through Indiana University-Kokomo campus.

1934
Daisy (Froman) Sears teaches elementary school in the Crawford County Community School Corp. She lives in Grantsburg, Ind.

1935
Harry Spurgeon is principal of Brownstown (Ind.) Elementary School.

1937
Floyd L. Cook recently assumed the pulpit at Southport United Methodist Church, Indianapolis. He moved from the Broad Ripple U.M. Church where he had served since 1967. He also serves as vice-chairman of the South Indiana Conference world service and finance commission.

Martha (Stewart) Flannery is budget clerk for Arlington High School in Indianapolis.

Paul E. Klinge is an associate dean in the Chancellor’s Office of Indiana University, Bloomington.

L. Wayne Smith is governor of Rotary District 654 in Indiana. The local governor is Dr. John Fawley, a former governor and current Rotary district governor.

1939
Frances Richardson is a guidance counselor with the Clear Creek School District in Colorado.

1942
John R. Andrew teaches in Beech Grove High School. His wife Rosa (Wegner '43) teaches in Center Grove High School. They reside in Beech Grove, Ind.

1943
Elizabeth (Carrington) Girard is a staff nurse for St. Anthony’s Hospital in Amarillo, Tex.

1944
Merrell Geible is serving on the Program Staff of the North Indiana Conference, United Methodist Church. Lois (Fulton ’46) is employed at Ball State. They reside in Muncie, Ind.

Delmont Gordy is pastor of Grace United Methodist Church in Paynesville, Minn.

Shirley Mae (Fisher) Johnson is co-owner of Johnson Music in Janesville, Wis.

1945
Ralph Bowman is pastor at Claypool United Methodist Church, Claypool, Ind. Deloris (Cloud ’48) is a nurse at Murphy Medical Center, Warsaw, Ind. Ralph received his doctor of sacred literature in September of 1971.

Fischer Receives Air Force Medal

Captain John C. Fischer '66 has received the United States Air Force Commendation Medal at Sheppard AFB, Tex.

Capt. Fischer was decorated for meritorious service while assigned to the 17th Tactical Reconnaissance Squadron at Upper Heyford RAF Station, England, and the 86th Tactical Fighter Wing at Zweibrucken AB, Germany. His outstanding professional skill and leadership contributed to squadron scheduling procedures and daily flying operations.

The captain is now attending pilot training at Sheppard with a unit of the Air Training Command. ATC provides flying, technical and basic training for US Air Force personnel.

He was commissioned in 1966 through Officer Training School, Lackland AFB, Tex., and has also completed a tour of duty in Vietnam.

Fischer is married to the former Suzanne Allanson of Brownsburg, Ind. office makes him responsible to Rotary International for the 51 clubs located in the northern third of the state.

Wichita Falls, Tex.—Captain John C. Fischer (r.), is presented the US Air Force Commendation Medal and accompanying citation at Sheppard AFB, Tex., by Colonel Elmer K. Follis, deputy commander for operations, 3630th Flying Training Wing. (US Air Force Photo)
1949
Henry and Helen Sommers ’50 have moved to Brownstown, Ind., where he is teaching seventh grade math in Brownstown Elementary School. Their son Dan ’71 is serving with the postal department in Vietnam and daughter-in-law Sandra (Weaver FS) Sommers is living in Brownstown until his return.

1950
Bill Fisher is employed at Eli Lilly & Co. as an officer in charge of the loan department for the Lilly Credit Union. His duties include supervision of the department, employee financial counseling, review of loan applications and assisting with the investment of credit union funds. He has been with Lilly & Co. for 19 years.

1951
Gene Westley and family, after 17 years with their denominational board of missions, have taken a leave of absence and are on a Stateside job. Gene has been appointed administrator of Camp Findley, Clymer, N.Y. The camp is former EUB property and is now part of the Western Pennsylvania Conference. Gene is the camp’s first full-time administrator.

1952
Max Moore is assistant principal at the new high school in Columbus, Ind.

1953
John E. Sinclair is principal of Tempe High School in Tempe, Ariz.

1954
Burdellis Carter is the assistant dean for the School of Nursing at Indiana University in Indianapolis.

1955
Emmett L. Anderson is serving Faith United Methodist Church in Kokomo, Ind.

1959
Mildred (Beaty) Cole is an elementary teacher in the South Bend (Ind.) Community Schools.

John W. Engle received his master of arts degree from the University of Northern Colorado in Greeley, Co., on Aug. 17. John and family reside in Denver.

Fred F. Thayer Jr., principal of Woodview Junior High School for the past three years, has been appointed principal of the new Stony Brook Junior High School, now under construction in northern Indianapolis, Warren Township.

Ron White works for Magnavox in Ft. Wayne, Ind. He finished his undergraduate work at Purdue, and earned his master’s from the University of Illinois. Marilyn (Clark ’59) received her B.S. from the U. of I. in 1969.

1960
Kenneth J. Knox, who attended ICC on Boys’ Club scholarship, is now executive director of the Boys’ Club Association of Indianapolis.

1961
Joyce Blackburn is a special education teacher in the Shelbyville Central Schools, Shelbyville, Ind.

Lee N. Porter is assistant principal at Muellesl Junior High School in South Bend, Ind.

1962
Susan Weybright and husband Bill are living in Middlebury, Ind., where he is in private general medical practice with two other doctors. They recently returned from serving and working in India. Susan writes, “I find that being a housewife in America is a real privilege, and I can assure anyone that it will be a long time before I’ll be complaining about the trips to these wonderful supermarkets!”

1964
John Lyzott teaches biology and coaches wrestling at McArthur High School in Broward County, Hollywood, Fla. His wrestling team was undefeated for the season last year (15-0) and won the Broward Conference Tournament.

Tom McNamara and Sondra (Naab ’65) are both teaching math. The couple and sons Dan and Marc live in Mt. Vernon, Ind.

Barth H. Ragatz is an instructor in the department of biochemistry at Indiana University Medical Center, Indianapolis. He received his Ph.D. in June, 1971, from IU.

Sam K. Young received the doctor of ministry degree, summa cum laude, from Christian Theological Seminary in July. Rev. Young completed his graduate work in the areas of theology and pastoral care. He formerly received the master of divinity from CTS in 1967. The subject of his thesis was the theology of Bernard E. Meland. While studying for his doctorate Young served as graduate assistant to Dr. Paul Johnson and Dr. Edgar A. Towne, instructors in pastoral counseling and Christian theology.

Rev. Young is the pastor of the Providence Christian Church, where he has served the last four years. He and wife Judy have four children, Cheryl, Lynn, Eric and Damon.

(Continued on page 24)
WHAT IS C.I.R.C.E.?

What services are available through the Center for Industrial Relations and Continuing Education of Indiana Central College? What does the Center contribute to the overall effort of the college?

Indiana Central essentially has four arms of education that reach out to the public. All are aware of the day school, the evening division, and the relatively new graduate division. The Center for Industrial Relations and Continuing Education is the fourth arm, so to speak, and is a very substantial contributor to the total college effort. In the 1970-71 school year, the day school, the evening division, and graduate division, together including the summer session, served a total of 3,139 different students. In the same time period the Center served a total of 1,975 different persons.

In what ways does Industrial Relations and Continuing Education serve? The Center is responsible for all of the non-credit education activities of the college both on and off the campus. This encompasses two broad areas—industrial relations and continuing education. Industrial relations refers to the courses that are offered to organizations for use in developing their personnel. These programs include a 12-course management development program, a monthly three-day supervisory institute, management development films, and a variety of special in-plant and on-campus programs on various topics depending upon the needs of the organization. Industrial relations activities served 1,194 individuals from 250 different organizations in 1970.

Initiated in 1967, the Continuing Education aspect of the Center now offers courses ranging from computer technology and telescope making to the "Milady's Day On Campus" programs. The latter is a series of daytime, informative courses designed for the personal enrichment of the fairer sex. These programs range in subject matter from interior design to problems of metropolitan Indianapolis. The next term begins Jan. 11, 1972.

A large portion of the programs in both areas are conducted by part-time resource persons who are well qualified and work full-time in their respective subject areas. Other programs are led by full-time faculty members of the college and by full-time members of the Center staff.

The Center is in its fourteenth year of service to business and industry as an Industrial Relations Center, and in its fifth year as a Continuing Education Center serving the public in general. Flexibility in programming, quality of education, and a dedication to serve the needs of business and the community through non-credit education have guided the Center in the past. New programming makes the future look even brighter for this important arm of Indiana Central.

The staff extends an invitation to anyone seeking more information to write or call the Center.
Nancy (Adams) Swallow completed her master's degree in library science and education at Butler University in June, 1971.

1969

Jody Barnett is in his senior year at the IU School of Dentistry, Indianapolis.

Janet (Woods) Fisel is teaching in the Vernon Parish School Corp. in Leesville, La.

Greg and Jane (Traylor) Michael are living in Shelbyville, Ind. He is pastor of the Bengal United Methodist Church at Marietta, and is also in his second year at Christian Theological Seminary in Indianapolis.

Dan and Karen (Knight) Mollau are both teaching at South Decatur High School near Greensburg, Ind. Dan teaches science and coaches reserve football and varsity baseball. Karen teaches English and sponsors the school newspaper.

Larry M. Pace is a programming manager for Underwriters National Assurance Co. He lives in Greenwood, Ind.

Brice Tresslar, in cooperation with the German American National Congress (D.A.N.K.) of Indianapolis, is providing elementary instruction in the German language on Saturday morning on IC's campus. A total of 105 persons are enrolled in classes in the German school.

Larry D. White is a graduate student and graduate assistant in chemistry at DePauw University, Greencastle, Ind. He finished a tour of duty with the Marine Corps in August.

1970

J. Donald Cossairt will receive his M.S. in physics in December, 1971, from Indiana University. He plans to pursue work on a Ph.D. in nuclear physics at IU.

Larry A. Criss is working for Mattel, Inc. in Hawthorne, Cal., where he is an accountant. He formerly worked for Ernst & Ernst in Indianapolis.

Charlotte Downin, who teaches at Franklin High School, has been made head of the school's language department.

Charles Radcliff is now teaching in his home town at Spring Valley Junior High School, West Baden, Ind. He also coaches junior high football, freshman basketball and is head track coach.

H. Dennis Shoemaker has been awarded his silver wings at Randolph AFB, Tex., upon graduation from US Air Force pilot training. He has been assigned to Ching Chuan Kang AB, Taiwan. He will fly the C-130 Hercules cargo-troop carrier aircraft with a unit of the Pacific Air Forces.

Jo Ellen Spencer, an Indianapolis schoolteacher, starred in that city's Footlite Musicals' 1971-72 opener, "Hello, Dolly!" in October. Jo Ellen has been active in the summer Starlight productions for two years and has performed as a folk singer on local television.

Robert L. Stewart is a medical technologist with Methodist Hospital, Indianapolis.

1971

Jim Armbrister is teaching in the Martinsville School District and is pastor for a church also.

Judy Barnes is teaching health and physical education at Center Grove Junior High School, Greenwood, Ind.

Wayne E. Burton entered military training for the Army Reserves on Oct. 15 at Ft. Knox, Ky. His wife Sarah (Lovell '71) is living in Indianapolis and working at Indiana Lumbermens Mutual Insurance Co.

Kathryn (Borden) Cagle is teaching fourth grade at School 78 in Indianapolis.

Linda Compton is teaching at Bingham School in Mishawaka, Ind. She is also working on a master's degree in guidance and counseling at Indiana University in South Bend.

Dan DuBois is a graduate student in chemistry at the Ohio State University, Columbus, Oh. He was awarded an NDEA fellowship to study there.

George Gordon is teaching in the Newport, Ky., city schools and Michelle (Daugherty '71) is attending the University of Cincinnati on a teaching assistantship in German language and literature. They are living in Newport.

Jenny Graham is a member of the Indianapolis Symphony Choir.

Joetta Harden is working as a nurse at Union Hospital in Terre Haute, Ind.

Steve Humphrey is a professional Scout executive with the Calumet Council, Boy Scouts of America, Munster, Ind.

H. Brent McColgin finished his tour in the Air Force Reserves in November. He was stationed at Shepards AFB in Wichita Falls, Tex.

Michael L. Moers is receiving manager for the Shoppers Fair store on East Washington in Indianapolis.

Helen Paraskevopoulos lives in Chicago and is working as a secretary in City Hall.

Dennis W. Shipley has been commissioned a second lieutenant in the US Air Force upon graduation from Officer Training School (OTS) at Lackland AFB, Tex. Lt. Shipley has been assigned to Moody AFB, Ga., for pilot training.

Gary Sloan is teaching at Greenfield Central High School, Greenfield, Ind.

Cynthia (Unger) Spangler is teaching elementary school in Scott County schools in Austin, Ind.

Mark D. Stucker is serving in the US Army.

Margit Szabo is teaching art in Carmel Junior High School, Carmel, Ind.

Dwain Wall is teaching in Salamonic Junior High in Warren, Ind.

Sharon Wheeler is a secretary with the division of code enforcement, City of Indianapolis.

Wilma White is substitute teaching in the Indianapolis high schools.

Steve Wittenauer is a teacher at Otterbein Elementary in Otterbein, Ind. He is also taking courses at Purdue in administration.

College Offers Course On Environment

Indiana Central offered a new three-hour course this fall in "Environmental Chemistry." Particularly designed for the part-time student who wants to improve his knowledge of the world in which he lives, the course is given during the day in one three-hour session per week.

The course studies the problems of pollution in the environment and the damage it does. Members of the class consider the steps being taken to clean up the world, and seek to develop procedures that could be used toward a more comprehensive correction of the pollution problem.

The material is studied from a non-technical viewpoint, although a basic knowledge of high school mathematics and science is helpful for a full understanding of the course content. Dr. Robert M. Brooker, professor of chemistry, and Dr. Kenneth Borden, associate professor of chemistry, are the instructors. They are assisted by several visiting lecturers who present material in their areas of specialty.

Season's Greetings!
President's Charge to the Freshman Class
September, 1971

(With apologies to Abraham Lincoln)

Note: The following is the address given to 1971-72 freshmen by President Sease during the first weekend on campus.

Three score and six years ago our fathers brought forth, upon the southside of Indianapolis, a new college, conceived in the search for truth, and dedicated to the proposition that all men desire to build a better world.

Now we are engaged in educational change, testing whether that college, or any college, so conceived and so dedicated, can ever persist in those principles. We are met here on the site of that confrontation. We have come here as a class of inquisitive freshmen to review her past, assess her present, and help plan her future. We have come to search for new truth, test preconceived notions, enlarge our intellectual and social horizons, and increase in wisdom and knowledge. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this.

But in a larger sense we cannot dedicate—we cannot consecrate—we cannot hallow this campus. The upperclassmen, alumni, faculty, and trustees, living and dead, who struggled here, have consecrated it far above our poor power to add or detract. The world will carefully note and long remember what we say and do here. It is for us, the entering class of students and future leaders of this college and of the world, to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which those before us have so nobly carried on. It is for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us; that those who have given of themselves in full measure of devotion—trustees, benefactors, students, alumni, teachers, administrators—shall not have given in vain.

Let us here highly resolve that this college shall, under God, find in us knowledge. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this.

Merry Christmas

Counselors 'Talk Shop'

The college was host to high school counselors from central Indiana schools Oct. 14 when they and admissions personnel got together to "talk shop."

The program, which was sponsored by the Indiana Association of College Admissions Officers, gave counselors the opportunity to learn more about admissions policies and procedures, educational programs and financial aid opportunities at the institutions of higher learning in Indiana. During discussion sessions they had a chance to ask questions and get information that will be helpful to them in counseling high school students toward a college career.

The group met in Schwitzer Center. David Huffman, director of admissions, is secretary-treasurer of the Indiana Association.

UN Course To Be
On Location in N.Y.

A three hour credit course on the United Nations in action, with the objectives of learning about the world organization through on-the-spot observation and study, will be available to ICC students.

The course will include meetings at the UN, seminars on world issues, analysis by personnel from the Secretariat and other organs and agencies of the UN, briefings by diplomats and staff of national Missions to the UN. The group will have a regular meeting place in the Church Center for the UN, directly opposite the main building.

The pattern of the course is based on three previous seminars carried out by Nebraska Wesleyan since 1967. There will be three resource people for counseling and guidance on student projects.

Before going to New York City, students will make background readings. In New York the course divides itself into two major parts: 1) in the mornings and over the noon hours there will be a series of speakers and resource leaders, plus audiovisual aids; 2) in the afternoons, each student will pursue his special project on some aspect of the United Nations or its agencies. Materials on these projects will be obtained through interviews, visits to missions of countries at the UN, searching out resources in the libraries of the area.

After returning to school, the project becomes a term paper, which will be written and due one month after the conclusion of the New York visit.

The course has the approval of the executive committee and the curriculum committee of ACUIIS, of which Indiana Central is a member.

Cross Country Season Closes

The Indiana Central College cross country team, under the leadership of coach Bill Bright, closed out the 1971 season on Saturday, Oct. 30, with a strong showing in the Big-Little State meet at Butler.

In the Big State section of the competition, ICC finished in the number 9 spot with a total of 279 points. For the Little State meet, the ICC Harriers capped fourth place with 152 points.

On the year, the team compiled a fine record, winning five of the regular meets and losing only one. In addition, the ICCers finished second in the Wabash Kokum Karum on Sept. 18, second in the Greenville Invitational on Oct. 9, and second at Earlham's Invitation on Oct. 12.

Parents Enjoy Dads' Day on Campus

The annual Dads' Day program was Nov. 6 with several activities planned for parents of ICC students.

Registration began in Schwitzer Center at 9:30 a.m. An informal coffee get-together was held in all residence halls during the morning registration period. Parents were invited to visit the dormitory rooms at that time.

Meetings of the Dads' Association and Mothers' Association were conducted at 10:45 in the student center. Officers of the Dads' Association are Glenn A. Herbster, Lakeville, Ind., president; Kenneth Scholl, Ft. Wayne, Ind., vice-president; Charles Bailey, Indianapolis, secretary; and George Humbarger, Indianapolis, treasurer. Officers of the Mothers' Association are Mrs. Charles Bailey, president; Mrs. James Hoffer, Warsaw, Ind., vice-president; and Mrs. Rilus Hill, Brownsburg, Ind., secretary-treasurer.

There was a noon luncheon served in the cafeteria. Parents were invited to attend the ICC-Hanover football game in the afternoon. The evening program included dinner at 6 p.m. and the production of King Lear.
'41-'42 TEAM TO CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY OF UNDEFEATED BASKETBALL SEASON

To celebrate the 30th anniversary year, members of the only undefeated basketball team in the history of the college will be honored during a special halftime ceremony at the DePauw-ICC game on Jan. 22, 1972, in the gymnasium.

During the 1941-42 season the Greyhounds, coached by Harry Good, bowled over 16 opponents while losing to none. Coupled with the ten straight victories achieved at the end of the 1940-41 season and four more victories opening the 1942-43 year, a total of 30 consecutive wins were racked up by ICC during the three year period.

Dick Dunkel, one of the era's foremost sportswriters, listed the following teams in the nation's top ten for 1941-42:

1. Wisconsin 77.0
2. Arkansas 73.0
3. Washington State 71.4
4. Minnesota 71.3
5. Indiana 70.7
6. Stanford 70.4
7. Illinois 68.8
8. Southern California 68.8
9. INDIANA CENTRAL 68.5
10. Santa Clara 68.5

Members of the '41-'42 squad that will be honored are: Don "Sug" Jameson, Bill Rider, Ralph Owen, Otis Sparks, William Harmon, Don "Max" Simmons, Robert Johnston, Chester Linderman, Alonzo Nicodemus, Bob Noel, George Crowe, Lee Perry, John Fredenberger, Don Saylor, and Angus Nicoson. Bill Howe and Ray Bloomingdale, also members of the team, are now deceased.

On the eve of World War II, Coach Good continually built winning teams at Central. For example the 1938-39 squad was 12-3; the 1939-40, 15-2; the 1940-41, 17-1; and the team of 1941-42, of course, 16-0.

At the halftime of the Jan. 22 DePauw-ICC clash, the surviving members of the squad will be given engraved mementos of the occasion, and following the game an informal reception for members, family and friends will be held at Schwitzer Center.

All ICC alumni, friends, and fans are invited to join in honoring this fine team.

Plan Now
To Be Here
Jan. 22
Hounds Begin First Season In ICC Basketball Competition

A young and virtually inexperienced IC basketball squad under coach Angus Nicoson has launched the 1971-72 campaign as a member for the first time of the Indiana Collegiate Athletic Conference.

Nick, the nation's ninth leading collegiate coach in games won with 405 victories, has his work cut out for him this season after losing leading scorers Ed Zeigler (21.6) and Todd Jones (17.4) by graduation.

Although Indiana Central will play a partial schedule of Indiana Collegiate Conference games, the Greyhounds will not be eligible for the title until the 1972-73 season when IC will open a full schedule of conference games at home with Butler University. According to Coach Nicoson the biggest obstacles facing the Greyhounds in the switch to the Indiana Collegiate Conference are in the lack of size and experience.

"With the exception of Wabash and DePauw—who we've played before—we know very little about the personnel, style of play, and experience of the ICC schools," remarked the veteran mentor. "For the most part, we're young, and we need more size underneath."

Only four seniors are listed on the varsity for 1971-72. Norman Steele 6'4" forward from Bainbridge (Ind.) is the only returnee who averaged in double figures (10.0) last season. Mike Dickey (Pendleton) and Dave Williams (Crispus Attucks), both 6'0" guards; and 5'10" Dave Carrington (Russellville) are other seniors.

Juniors on the squad are 6'4" J. D. Layman (Logansport), 6'2" Mike Phelps (Ben Davis), 6'4" Ralph Hodgson (Indianapolis Tech), 5'9" Rick Hans (Coal Creek), and Martin (Tenn.) Junior College transfer Tod Whitten, 6'6" rebounding ace from Jeffersonville.

The two biggest members of the squad, 6'7" Daryl Hall (Northfield) and 6'8" Doug Craig of Fairfield, Oh., are both sophomores. Other sophs include 6'5" Rex Sager (Loogootee), 6'2" Mike Van Emon (South Adams), 6'4½" Paul Jensen (Cathedral) and two ex-Southport performers, 6'3" Dave Strietelmeier and 5'8" Fred Boger.

Nick numbers several top prospects among the freshmen class. Bill Davis, a 6'6" forward for Elkhart's final four squad of last year; 6'4" Bill Wright (Glenbard North High School of Chicago), twice All-Mid-Suburban team choice and the all-time leading scorer in that conference; Richard Lyons, 6'6" from North Putnam, who averaged 22 points per game and hit for 41 in one contest; Daryl Warren, a 6'2" guard from Linden who hit a high game of 45 points, averaged 29.5 and 29.3 his last two varsity years; leading scorer of Vigo County, Larry Morris of South Vigo; and one of Marion County's leading rebounders, 6'5" Dick Chew of Southport, are all highly regarded. Other top freshmen include Mike Lee, sixth man on last year's New Castle finalists; Travis Nay (Southwestern), 6'2" Jim Maels (Beech Grove), 6'4" Don Watson (North Putnam), 5'11" Ron Bruner (Waveland) and Steve Hoeppner of Woodburn.

Athletes Take
NAIA Honors in '71

Two Central athletes took NAIA honors for their achievements last season. Jim McFarland '71 was named to the 14-man All-Star National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics baseball team. Senior David Williams was selected for the 1971 NAIA All-American Out-Door Track and Field Team.

McFarland, who played right field, is now teaching math and coaching football and baseball at Ben Davis Junior High in Indianapolis.

Williams set a new Indiana Collegiate Conference record with his triple jump of 49'6". He completed the season by placing third in the nation with a jump of 50'1½" in competition held at Billings, Mt. He is a physical education major.

Attention Parents

If you are receiving copies of the Alumni News because your son or daughter is now living away from home, please send us the correct address. Then we will send the Alumni News directly.