Indiana Central Receives Million Dollar Gift

Other Donations Announced at Fellows' Luncheon

Indiana Central College has announced receipt of a gift of one million dollars from Dr. Leon G. Zerfas of Camby. Dr. Gene E. Sease, President of ICC, made the announcement on Oct. 28 at the annual Homecoming. President Sease indicated that Dr. Zerfas made the gift to the college as a tribute to his 95-year old mother, Mrs. Bertha Elizabeth Zerfas, and that the addition to the Lilly Science Hall, now under construction, would be named the Zerfas Wing.

Other recent gifts to the college totaling more than $100,000, including $80,000 from the Indianapolis Foundation, $25,000 from a New Jersey foundation and a gift covering landscaping for the area surrounding Lilly Science Hall and the new Zerfas Wing were disclosed at the luncheon. The Fellows' Luncheon was attended by more than 200 persons who have provided financial support for the school.

Dr. Zerfas was the first director of the Lilly Laboratory for Research of the Eli Lilly & Co. from 1926-36. He came to Eli Lilly & Co. from the Thoemlke Laboratory of Harvard University. He has also taught medicine at the School of Medicine, Indiana University and had been a Visiting Physician and Physician-in-Chief of General Hospital, Indianapolis. Following his service to Eli Lilly & Company, he studied at Cambridge University in England where he was awarded the Doctor of Philosophy Degree in Biochemistry in 1939. Dr. Zerfas was engaged in private medical practice in Merom and Camby, Indiana, having retired from practice in 1957. Active in various professional and community organizations, Dr. Zerfas is a member of Continued on page 4

Mystic Tie Lodge No. 396, Free and Accepted Masons, Indianapolis and was President of the Eugene Valet Class of the Indianapolis Scottish Rite. He is a life member of the American College of Physicians, a charter member of the Central Society of Clinical Research and is listed in Who’s Who in the Midwest.

A physician, educator, researcher, and world traveler, Dr. Zerfas is a member of the American Society of Clinical Investigation, American Association of Advancement for Science, Sigma Xi, Alpha Omega Alpha, and was the historian for the Indiana Medical Association. For two years, he authored the monthly article, “Indiana Medicine in Retrospect.” He has recently been elected to the Wisdom Hall of Fame and is the author of more than 75 publications. Extensive travels include all the continents and many nations of the world.

A native of Frankfort, Indiana the donor has been keenly interested in the science program of Indiana Central College and especially in its rapidly growing nursing program. Previously a lecturer to nurses in hospital training programs, Dr. Zerfas has been strongly interested in raising the level of academic proficiency as well as professional training in the health careers.

His appreciation of Indiana Central has grown from his observation of modern methods of education being used and their emphasis on the diversity of programs for adults as well as youth. Dr. Zerfas said: “The more I observe the activities of Indiana Central, the more I am impressed by what they are doing. The college is small enough to be personally interested in their students, yet large enough to have a variety of programs. What is being done there is so relevant to today’s needs. The fact that many Indiana Central students are employed and are trying to work their way through college is also significant.”

The philanthropist went on: “I am putting my money into Indiana Central, because I believe it is a strong investment in the future. Indiana Central has a promising future with an impressive faculty and a young, vigorous administration. Near neighbors and business affiliates with whom I have discussed the college all endorse the way it is moving forward.”

The science building addition, currently under construction, will be completed in mid-December to be ready for use in early January. The plaque to be placed in the building will read: “Zerfas Wing: In grateful recognition of his interest in this institution and because of his generous gift in tribute to his mother, Bertha Elizabeth Zerfas, this wing is named in honor of LEON G. ZERFAS, M.D., Ph.D., physician-researcher-educator.”

International Flavor In Evening Division

Indiana Central College’s commitment to making education a truly international experience is strongly felt in the continuing adult education programs of the Graduate and Evening Divisions. GraduaDeA n, Leonard Grant, is a good example of the college’s interest in international affairs. During the past two summers, Dean Grant taught East Central European history at the University of Graz, Graz Austria. During the same period, Drs. William Bishop, James Jones and David Rushing engaged in faculty research projects in Yugoslavia and India. The evening faculty include full- and part-time instructors who were born and raised abroad, or who have traveled extensively overseas. A number of these have led international student tours to Canada, Mexico and Europe.

The results of a recent survey conducted among I.C.C.’s evening students, responded to by over 800, demonstrates student interest in an internationally oriented program. Dea n Grant reports, “that despite the fact that 67 percent of the students see no correlation between having an international educational background and securing a job, 73 percent of them consider it important to have an international dimension to their education.” The survey further reveals that 45 percent of the students would welcome being required to engage in international study, travel or research, and 51 percent would recommend that their children attend a college that required some educational experience abroad. Finally, Dean Grant revealed, 41 percent of I.C.C.’s adult students consider a college having an international emphasis to be more deserving of funding than one which does not.
Indiana Central's "Telethon"

For the first time in the history of the college, Indiana Central student volunteers made telephone calls to alumni to solicit participation in the annual Roll Call campaign for 1972.

Beginning on October 30, the students made calls from seven phones installed in the Alumni Lounge to alumni for increased financial aid to students, library improvement, and better faculty salaries. President Sease "kicked off" the "Telethon" with a call to Roger '68 and Kathy (Clark '69) Walter who became the first contributors to the telephone campaign.

The announced goal of the telethon is $20,000, but the central purpose of the effort is increased participation among the some 8,500 alumni of the school. If the $20,000 goal is reached, alumni contributions to operations of the college should go well over $50,000 for the first time.

The first three days of the telethon was completed November 1. Of the 583 alumni reached, 348 or approximately 60% either specified an amount to give or made an unspecified pledge to Roll Call. Total dollars raised for the first three days' calls was $3,002.

The telethon continued for eight additional days during the weeks of November 6-16.

Boyce Exhibit
At Ball State

An exhibit featuring the work of Gerald G. Boyce, Professor of Art at ICC, opened at the Ball State University Art Gallery on Sunday, November 5.

Professor Boyce, a native of Wisconsin, completed his graduate degree at the University of Iowa, studying with Lasansky and Lechay and has taught at Indiana Central since 1950. His works have been exhibited in major museums across the country including the Museum of Modern Art in New York City, the Chicago Art Institute, the Corcoran Gallery in Washington, D.C., the San Francisco Art Museum, and the Los Angeles County Museum. Many of the works in the show were loaned for this one-man exhibition.

Silverpoint drawing was the major emphasis in the exhibition. The drawing instrument itself was developed from the ancient stylus and employs a drawing point of sterling silver. Gold leaf, silver leaf, casein, and gouache were the basic media used by the artist for this show.

Reminder to Hoosier Contributors

Any contribution to higher education by a resident of Indiana has a unique tax advantage which many people are as yet unaware!

A gift of from $1 to $100 by an individual living in Indiana will cost that person only half of the total gift.

By example, the individual giving $50 to Indiana Central will receive a TAX CREDIT toward his Indiana State Taxes of $25. If this person would normally owe $30 in State taxes, without the tax credit, he will pay only $5 after completing the CC-40 form for gifts to higher education. The CC-40 form is mailed in December to all alumni contributors by the Alumni Office.

Likewise, the married couple filing jointly can contribute $200 and get a $100 tax credit toward the adjusted gross income taxes simply by filing the CC-40 form with the Department of Internal Revenue.

In addition, one can receive the regular federal tax deduction on this gift.

Indianapolis Mayor Richard Lugar, a member of ICC trustees, is congratulated by Dr. Gene Sease on Alumni Consultant Day for his part in the program. Others are: Alumni Association President Gene Lausch, James Brunner, Alumni Director and Henry Potter, a consultant from Franklin Life Insurance Co.
Nursing Students "See It Like It Is"

The Nursing Department, known for its innovative and strong academic program, added a new dimension during the 1972 fleximester period. ICC's nursing students spent a full 40 hour week at the hospitals for the entire 4 weeks.

According to Miss Virginia Sims, Director of Nursing Education, this is the first program of its kind for our nursing department and perhaps the first in the country.

Previously freshmen students were at the hospitals 6 hours a week. The 40 hour week gave them an understanding and appreciation of an entire shift. These students were stationed in one clinical area.

Freshmen were involved in giving medications to a large group of patients instead of two or three persons. This often involved an entire wing and teaching the organization and accuracy demanded of an R.N. Many of the students received experience in the observance and care of patients receiving special treatments.

Sophomores were enrolled in "graduate transition," educational methods which prepare them to function as graduate nurses. They were at the hospital 40 hours a week, but received experience in the evenings on the 3:00 to 11:00 p.m. shift. They gained an appreciation of a patient's entire day and the total shift. One of the most trying times for a patient is the bedtime hour, and these student nurses develop an understanding and insight into psychological as well as physical problems.

Sophomores also made rounds with the doctors, assisting them, and talking to the patients. These students were not in the specialty areas, but worked in all regular areas.

All ICC Nursing faculty members worked 40 hours with the students at the hospitals to supervise. One member circulated; others were stationed in one clinical area.

Student nurses completed evaluation sheets and their comments helped to make the decision that the program would be followed in the next fleximester.

They liked the one to one patient-nurse relationship, and the "doctor contact." Some of the doctors took personal interest in the students and took time to teach them about patients and special medical problems.

This fleximester benefited both the students and program. The nursing personnel at the hospitals have a greater understanding of our program and our goals. The hospital personnel was given a chance to evaluate us, too.

On May 12 sophomore student nurses attended a workshop on Community Nursing. Miss Linda Shinn, representing the Indiana and American Nurse's Association, Mrs. Nell Watts, from the Indiana and National League for Nursing and Mr. Robert Cohen, an attorney for Community Hospital spoke on various aspects of the nursing profession.

Both Community and St. Francis Hospitals' personnel spoke highly of the program and desire it to be continued. Our students and faculty stressed the value of this experience and the great cooperation given by the staff at Community and St. Francis.

Only one complaint came from ICC students—"Oh, my poor, tired feet!"

Gift Annuities—A Good Investment In More Ways Than One

By Lynn R. Youngblood
Director of Development

It has been a year or so since we last treated the subject of gift annuities in this column, and since they seem to be our most popular type of deferred gift we feel we are justified in referring to them again.

Perhaps it is best to illustrate the concept of a gift annuity by using an example. Suppose Mr. I. C. Alumnus invested in a gift annuity for $5,000. Mr. Alumnus is 65 years old and on the basis of the table of uniform gift annuity rates as adopted by the Conference on Gift Annuities, of which Indiana Central is a member, he is allowed a return of 7.2% annually, or $360.

It is important to realize that the story does not stop here. Perhaps there are those individuals who have been able to find investment which have been providing as high a return as this or even higher. However, do these investments offer these three additional qualities?

1. The greatest part of the return is tax free. In this example Mr. Alumnus had to report as taxable income only $88 of his $360 annual return.

2. A charitable deduction is allowed for the gift annuity. Mr. Alumnus was allowed to take a charitable deduction of $2,582 for his gift in the year of the transfer with carryover for five years if he needed it.

3. The future of Indiana Central College was made more secure. Mr. Alumnus was able not only to guarantee himself a high return income for the remainder of his life, but he also aided the cause of private, church-related higher education at his alma mater.

If this type of plan has interest for you, or if you have questions about your particular situation, please contact the Development Office at the College and we will be happy to discuss the consequences of a possible gift annuity for you.

Enrollments On The Increase For The Women Aware Series

"Milady's Day On Campus," offered by the Center for Continuing Education of Indiana Central College, has enjoyed its most successful term under a new name—THE WOMEN AWARE SERIES. Now entering its fourth year, the program of credit-free informative classes, planned especially for women, has realized maximum enrollment in the four courses offered in the fall term. The Series is attracting participants, not only from the immediate community, but also from surrounding areas.

Series III of the daytime classes will begin at 10:15 a.m. on Tuesday, January 16, 1973, with "American Elections: Rhyme or Reason?" with Dr. James Riggs; and at 12:45 p.m. with "East/West Germany—A New Study," with Dr. Margare Meier.

Series IV, starting February 27, 1973, will offer "Criminal Justice Today" with Mr. Kenneth Hale, for the morning course; and "The Affect of Women's Liberation On The Family Structure" with Dr. Donald Zimmerman for the afternoon classes.

For registration and further information on the Series, please contact the Center for Continuing Education, 787-6301, Ext. 260.

HOMECOMING DAY 1972
By DR. GENE E. SEASE

Homecoming ’72 was a howling success! An unusually large number of alumni attended the activities of the weekend. In the event that you were one of those who was prevented by distance, we are pleased to report to you on the day’s activities.

Our first Alumni-Student Career Seminar was held Friday, the day preceding Homecoming—with tremendous success. Mayor Richard G. Lugar, an honorary alumnus and college Trustee, keynoted the convocation program challenging students to prepare for careers which held particular interest for them. Fourteen alumni, from all parts of the country, representing different professional fields, were introduced and presented by Mr. Richard Emery who greeted the students on behalf of the visiting alumni. Each of them joined representative faculty and were available throughout the day for conversations with students who were interested in their particular vocational fields. The rapport between students and alumni was superb, and students were greatly helped in understanding various career opportunities by meeting alumni of the college.

Students enthusiastically participated in preparing displays, electing a Homecoming Queen in the person of Debby Baron, and in greeting alumni who arrived Saturday morning. An Alumni Board meeting, a Queen’s Breakfast and a Fellows Luncheon were all part of the mornings activities.

At the noon luncheon, Dr. Leon G. Zerfas was introduced and an announcement made of his gift to Indiana Central College of $1 million dollars in honor of his 95-year old mother, Mrs. Bertha Elizabeth Zerfas. An announcement was then made that the new science building addition would be known as the Zerfas Wing of Lilly Hall. Additional gifts to the college totaling over $225,000 were also publicly announced at the luncheon. Attention was called to new curriculum programs which have been introduced and to the new facilities in the basement of Good Hall now being used by the Art Department for ceramics.

Immediately after lunch, we moved to Key Stadium where our team, the Greyhounds, were defeated by St. Joseph’s College—but only on the score board. Our team presented a strong defense against the Pumas and played an admirable game. Despite chilly and damp weather, the crowd was large and enthusiastic.

After a quick evening meal, the gymnasium became the scene for an evening program with the Lettermen. The day ended with an alumni dinner-dance in the basement of Schwitzer Center with Dr. Charles Dill presiding.

It was an all together good day! Homecoming brings together appreciative graduates of former days and current students now engaged in the process of building a stronger college. It is one of those very important days in the year’s calendar of activities. If you were among those who missed Homecoming Day 1972, may I suggest that you now mark your calendar for October 13—HOMECOMING DAY 1973.
In Memoriam

Lois (Cherry ‘25) Armour died Oct. 1 in Methodist Hospital, Indianapolis. She was a retired teacher and had taught elementary classes for 43 years in the Indianapolis schools.

Leolah Lucille (Cummins ‘16) Eaton died Oct. 5 in DeKalb, Ill. Interested friends may contribute to a memorial fund in the names of both Dr. and Mrs. Durwood Eaton through Prof. Minor, a faculty member at Northern Illinois University. Dr. Eaton formerly taught at ICC, then was on the science department faculty at N.I.U. for several years prior to his death.

Edna (Willhite) Hildebrand ‘31 died July 3, 1972. Her home was in Brookville, Ind.

Word has been received of the death of Michael C. McGarvey ’66. He drowned while attempting to save a friend’s life.

Mail for Perry S. Miller ’39 has been returned and marked “deceased.”

Kenneth D. Ostermeyer ’36 died June 13, 1971, at his home in El Cajon, Calif., of heart failure. Survivors include his wife, Mary Ida; his mother; one daughter; two sons; one granddaughter; and one brother.

Ora C. Pemberton ’37, died Sept. 24 in Methodist Hospital in Indianapolis. He was a native of Jonesboro and had lived in Indianapolis 47 years, during which time he was pastor at various churches including those at Markleville, Waynetown, Terhune, Kingman, Lynn, Wabash, Cloverland, Salem, Mt. Zion, Fortville, Riley, Brazil and Indianapolis.

Rev. Pemberton had been associate pastor at the Baptist Temple since 1961. He was also a speaker for the Indiana Temperance League from 1946 to 1961. For 30 years he also worked as a machinist with Diamond Chain Co. before retiring in 1962.

Survivors include his wife Emma; daughter Mrs. Betty Hoover; and sons Keith Jene, Robert, Ora Jr.

The office received word that Mary Ellen Reed ’56 is deceased.

Leo B. Venatta ’21 is deceased. A minister, he resided in Verna, Ill.

Frances (Bush ’22) Whiting died in the spring, 1972, as was reported to the Alumni Office.

May In Europe

The French and German Departments of Indiana Central are combining students, faculty and talents to study in Europe this coming fleximester. The subject of their study will be the emerging European culture. Today’s politics and economics in Europe have produced a movement toward unification of states, economics and cultures. To study this trend, students will travel in Germany, Austria, Luxembourg, Belgium and France, interviewing government officials, leaders of industry and students, comparing the French German cultures of the past with those of the present.

The fleximester course will begin April 19, 1973 and end May 11. However the course is being planned with an open-end for participants so that they may stay in Europe after the fleximester course in order to study, work, or do some more traveling and return home when they wish. This then will be a very flexible fleximester for ICC students. Moreover the course has been designed for students other than language majors and minors. (Alumni—take note!) There is no foreign language prerequisite for those wishing to participate since there will be students and professors who will be able to interpret. In fact the venture is open to anyone who would like to participate. The fleximester is under the direction of Dr. Marga Meier, a native of Germany and professor of German, and Mr. Floyd Satterlee, professor of French, both of whom have directed American students in Europe. For further details, contact Dr. Meier or Mr. Satterlee at Indiana Central College.

CIRCE Fall Activities And Spring Plans Examined

The Center for Industrial Relations and Continuing Education of Indiana Central has wrapped up one of its busiest fall schedules in its fourteen-year history. The on-campus programs have been well received with a total of sixty-six managers attending the five fall Management Development Programs. In addition, twenty-eight persons have participated in a course entitled Accounting For Construction Contracts. Four evenings of management films have attracted impressive enrollments and four programs in The Women Aware Series have a total enrollment of 112 persons. Programs offered in the area of continuing education have been Stocks and Other Investments, Interpretation of Mass Spectra—a scientific short course, Reading Improvement, Telescope Making, and You And The Computer. The monthly Supervisory Institute continues to meet the needs of first line supervisors with nine different organizations participating in the fall offerings.

This fall marks the most active season in the history of our off-campus programs. Twenty programs are currently being offered in-house at Citizens Gas & Coke Utility, Schwitzer Division Wallace-Murray Corporation, FMC Corporation, Link-Belt Chain Division, Firestone Industrial Products, Health and Hospital Corporation of Marion County and Public Service Company of Indiana. These programs have been attended by a total of 904 persons. In addition to these programs, more of the tailor-made courses are in the planning stages for spring.

Along with its normally scheduled programs, the Center plans to offer several relatively new programs in the coming months. A course entitled Accounting For Small Manufacturing Companies will be offered in January. Reading Improvement and You And The Computer will be offered again in the spring. A new course entitled Travel Tips And Language will begin in February taught by members of the College Language Department.

We are hopeful that local alumni will take advantage of programs of interest offered through the Center. We always welcome inquiries and are happy to answer questions that interested alums might have about the Center.
Dr. George J. Warheit, Honor Day Speaker

Dr. George J. Warheit '49, a distinguished alumnus of ICC, was guest speaker for the Honor Day program at ICC on October 13.

The Honors Day program is an annual convocation at which time those students who achieve the annual honor roll for the previous year are recognized. In order to qualify for the Annual Honor Roll the student must have completed at least 30 hours during the previous year (two regular semesters and a fleximester) with an academic index of at least 9.000.

Also honored were newly elected students to Phi Alpha Epsilon, the freshman honor society.

While at ICC, Dr. Warheit was voted the outstanding senior in 1949. He was graduated with honors from Indiana Central and has a Master of Divinity degree from United Theological Seminary, and a Ph.D. from Ohio State University. He is Assistant Professor of Sociology and Psychiatry at the University of Florida. He has written numerous articles for religious, sociological, and psychological journals and he has been a consultant for several health centers. Some of his professional memberships include the American Sociological Association, American Association for the Advancement of Science, and the Society for the Scientific Study of Religion.

Central Arts Chorale

The Central Arts Chorale, under the direction of Indiana Central choir director Mrs. Elise Marshall, presented their premiere concert Monday, Nov. 20 at 8:00 p.m. in Ransburg Auditorium on the Indiana Central College campus.

The Chorale is made up of present Indiana Central singers and professional singers. Music by Bach, Brahms, Reger, Poulenc, Barber, Luboff and Fine were included in the selections. Royce Thrush, a student at ICC was the pianist and Jeoffrey Lapin, a 1972 graduate of Indiana Central, was the cellist.

Alumni performing with the Chorale were Jennie Graham, John Williams, Sydney Stinson, Marsha Wallace, William Bemenderfer, Jr. and Stephen Hamilton.

Brown County Day Success

Over 800 students, faculty and staff members enjoyed one of the most pleasant of Indiana's autumn days on Oct. 17 when the campus community made its southern trek to Brown County State Park.

Jack Rogers, Food Service Manager, reported that Centralites consumed 300 pounds of ribs and 400 pounds of beef with baked beans, potato salad, relishes, ice cream and cider on the side.

The traditional tug-of-war between frosh and sophs became a contest involving two teams composed of anyone who wanted to "pull". The contest was declared a draw.

Games, touch football, hiking, cycling, horseback riding and a visit to the shops in Nashville completed the day.

Alums, does it bring back any memories?

Dr. Harold E. Fey
Sutphin Lecturer

Dr. Harold E. Fey, professor emeritus of Christian Theological Seminary, was the Samuel B. Sutphin guest lecturer at ICC on Nov. 8 and 10.

"The Post Modern Person," "The Post Modern Community," and "The Post Modern Commitment" were topics of his discussion and lectures which were open to the public.

Dr. Fey's concern for world peace resulted in his selection as a delegate from the Philippines to conferences of the Institute of Pacific Relations in Japan and China in 1929 and 1931. He served as executive secretary of the Fellowship of Reconciliation (1935-40) and started the magazine "Fellowship."

Concern for social justice and freedom led to Dr. Fey's becoming a member of the national board of directors of the American Civil Liberties Union (1936-40) and of the Illinois Branch of the ACLU later, which gave him an award for defense of civil liberties in 1964. In 1955 he visited Indian reservations and wrote a series of articles on "Indian Rights and American Justice," which was credited with helping persuade Congress to nullify its declared policy of termination of federal assistance to Indians. The National Congress of American Indians gave him a citation for service to the Indian people. His efforts to peace and justice through journalism brought citations from the National Christian Writers Conference (1964) and the International Convention of Christian Churches (1969).

Dr. Fey was editor of The Christian Century, "America's leading Protestant weekly" (Newsweek) from 1956 to 1964. He joined the Century staff in 1940 and served in various capacities, including managing editor, for the next 16 years. He is an honorary life member of the Associated Church Press, of which he was President in 1951-52.

The Sutphin Lectures in the Humanities have been made possible by the generosity of the late Mr. Samuel B. Sutphin, retired president and chairman of the board of the former Beveridge Paper Company. Mr. Sutphin died on Nov. 24, 1971 at the age of ninety-two.

ICC's Candidate For Miss Christmas Seal

Miss Paula Love, a sophomore nursing student, was ICC's candidate for Miss Christmas Seal. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Love of Indianapolis, the 5'4" blond is a busy girl on our campus. Besides carrying a full load of subjects and maintaining a B plus average, Paula is a co-captain of the Crimson Steppers (pom-pom corps on campus) and also works part-time at a local department store.

When questioned why she wanted to become a nurse, Paula said, "I enjoy working with people and helping them. I became interested because several of my friends and relatives were nurses, and they spoke highly of that career. Now I'm trying to convince my sisters to consider nursing."

In South Carolina, he is now director of curriculum services with the State Board of Technical and Comprehensive Education which supervises the work of 17 institutions offering a two-year program. The institutions have been authorized to become more comprehensive by the inclusion of college transfer programs and Kyre will have the responsibility of coordinating these programs.

Kyre graduated from ICC with a major in English, and graduated from United Theological Seminary with a degree of master of divinity. At the present time he is engaged in a doctoral program at the University of Virginia.

Dean Kyre and his wife Nancy have four children.

Letter From A 1950 Classmate

This is to acknowledge with thanks the receipt of . . . the medallion presented to me by the Alumni Board. This goes without saying that the honor has been appreciated. I do hope and pray that I will continue to live up to expectation. That which Indiana Central College shared with me, I am endeavoring to help those who need it most.

With every good wish to all.

Sincerely yours,
Moses M. Mahol, M.D. '50

Presenting The 1972 Indiana Collegiate Conference Cross-Country Champs

Coach Bill Bright is shown here with the Indiana Central harriers who won their first Indiana Collegiate Conference championship at DePauw, Saturday, Nov. 4. Bright’s harriers finished second last year in their first season in the ICC, but were not to be denied the title this time around.

Gary Romesser, senior, won the conference meet with a 26:03 clocking, 3 seconds over his DePauw course record set earlier in the year. Rick Stover finished third in the meet followed by Steve Davis (9th), Ed Kinnaman (12th), Barry Howard (14th), and Larry Musselman (27th). Team scores were IC 39, Valparaiso 50, Butler 63, DePauw 89, Wabash 105, and Evansville 170. In addition to winning all four of their dual meets, the ’72 squad won the Little State meet, the Wabash Hokum-Karum, and both the Earlham and Greenville Invitationals. The Greyhound runners only loss was in the Marion Invitational where they finished 3rd among twenty competing teams. Team members shown are: 1st row: Rick Stover, Ed Kinnaman, Gary Romesser, David Rodebaugh, Dale Webster; 2nd row: Jeff Whitman, Steve Davis, Gary Brendel, Barry Howard, Kent Graham, Kevin Hanni, Larry Musselman, and Coach Bill Bright.

Gridiron Season Recapped

With important conference games against Valparaiso and Butler still to be played at this writing, the Indiana Central footballers had won three games against five losses.

Opening the season with three straight losses against Evansville (14-47), Alma (13-15) and Wabash (14-20), the ‘Hounds of coach Bill Bless then straightened themselves out to win three of the next five. Manchester (14-7), Earlham (14-6) and DePauw (14-6) fell, while Franklin, behind four touchdown passes by Phil Powell, raked Central 10-26 and St. Joseph’s won by a score of 6-35.

Leading rushers were offensive starters, including leading rusher Steve Montgomery (5.0 average) and quarterback Rod Pawlik (36 of 71 completions for 406 yards).

Leading receivers were sophomore flanker Gary Hall (16 catches for 257 yards and 2 TD’s), senior Joe Koenig (15 for 175) and junior Mike Eads (13 for 187).

Defensively, little All-American candidate Oscar Gardner continued to lead the charge. The junior linebacker had 77 solo tackles and 53 assists in seven games in addition to two fumble recoveries and two interceptions.

The familiar surroundings of Key Stadium seemed to be of little help to the Greyhounds as they had lost all four games played at home.

However, the ’Hounds had won three of four on their opponent’s turf.
The Indiana Collegiate Conference has taken all the wraps off its new baby brother and the Indiana Central Greyhounds will be handled with kid gloves no longer.

This is the first season that Central's ballgames will make a difference in the standings and 'they'll all be looking to knock us off," remarked head coach Angus N'icoson.

Nick, now in his 26th year at the helm, won't exactly be fielding a pushover squad, though; in fact this year's aggregation figures to be right in the thick of the conference wars.

72's graduation losses from an 18-10 contingent included top assist man Norman Steele, floor leader Dave Williams and guards Mike Phelps and Mike Dick,ey. They're gone but not forgotten —however it's the people who stayed that now have the command spotlight.

Senior Todd Whitten used his 6-6, 220 lb. frame to sweep off 400 rebounds last season—that was good for tops in the league. "T" also added 15 points per game and his strength in the middle pretty much holds up the team.

6-4 senior J. D. Layman popped in points-a-plenty a year ago and figures to do more of the same this time around. Layman wound up averaging an even 20 p.p.g.

The third sure starter is 6-2 sophomore Daryl Warren. Warren, a prolific high school scorer, was broken in slowly last year, seeing some action at both forward and guard. This season he figures to stay exclusively in the backcourt. Warren, an outstanding distance shooter as well as a strong driver, will be a vital cog in the offensive machine. "After that" according to Nick, "it's up for grabs."

The competition for the remaining spots is spirited but there are several ballplayers who'll see plenty of action no matter what the outcome. Ralph Hodgson, 6-4 senior, was a relief man at forward last season and could very well start in '72. Hodgson's forte is a smooth shooting touch from the outer reaches. Massive Darl Hall enters his 6-7, 225 lb. self into the fray when Whitten encounters foul problems; and last year made key contributions in several games. Hall's 52% shooting was the Hound's best. Junior Mike Van Emon, a swingman last year, will do more of the same and could nail down a starting spot. Seniors Rick Haas and Dave Carrington are small, quick guards who saw limited action last season but this year will be counted on for heavy duty. Both are excellent against the press. 6-7 soph Bill Davis is presently sidelined with shoulder problems, but should be ready to help when the campaign opener rolls around. Shooting forward Bill Wright and steady Paul Jansen round out the squad.

Jayvee candidates are showing bountiful talents along with size. The outstanding freshmen include George Fleetwood, Jim Gearries, Bob Wingerter, Jack Emly, Dave Newhouse, George Stillabower, and Bill McAdams. Upperclassmen looking for positions are Larry Davis, Ken Wertz and Ron Bruner.

Three who are still exploiting their talents on the football field are Dick Chew, Dave Wood, and Rod Pawlik. All should make the squad.

Summing up, Coach Nicoson remarked that he was "very pleased with his squad's progress on a timetable of respectability I set up last year."

He expects Evansville, St. Joseph's, and Valparaiso to be the loop's toughies and admits the going could be rough.

Can he get them through? The man has over 500 lifetime wins, is the ninth winningest college coach ever, and owns a niche in the Indiana Basketball Hall of Fame.

Decide for yourself.
