Office Plans

Area Clubs

The Alumni Office has planned several area club meetings from April through June. New director Jim Brunner and other college personnel will be visiting with ICC alumni throughout Indiana as well as some cities in Ohio and Illinois.

In April meetings will be held in New Albany, Evansville, Columbus, Kokomo, and Chicago, Ill. In May there will be alumni gatherings in Anderson, Casey, Ill.; Decatur, Ill.; Cincinnati; Columbus, Oh.; and Morgan County, Ind.

In June alums will meet in Detroit, Mich.; South Bend; Lafayette; and Dayton, Oh.

Alumni are hosting the groups in each area in their home or in a local church.
ALEXANDERS ADOPT TAIWAN AS HOME

On a Saturday afternoon in March I visited the modest, unassuming home of some very special people—Dr. and Mrs. Paul S. Alexander and family—and left with a rich knowledge and deeper appreciation of their "adopted home," Taiwan. As we sipped spiced tea and viewed slides, they shared many things about Taiwan where they have served several years under the auspices of the Presbyterian Church's mission program.

Paul '49 and Lucille (Brown '49); Dottie, 12; and Emily, 4, are temporarily residing in Indianapolis until they return to Taiwan in June. Oldest daughter Anne, 19, is a freshman at Florida Christian College. The Alexanders are also in the process of adopting Gordon, a 10-year-old Chinese boy, who is attending school in Taiwan while they are here.

Lucille and Paul each received a call to mission work in their early teens. The call remained strong through college, but was followed by some years of uncertainty. Then in 1958 Paul wrote to the church mission board asking for placement. The board needed someone at Tunghai University, Taichung, Taiwan, to teach physiology and the Alexanders accepted the assignment. Lucille is a nurse and has used her medical training in a limited way. She also has taught English in some of the local schools there.

Tunghai University

Tunghai University has a present enrollment of 1300. It is primarily a liberal arts school plus science and engineering. Tunghai has earned a high academic reputation and its library is considered one of the best in the country.

Taiwanese students who desire a college education take the National Qualifying Test, a government examination. Approximately 80,000 persons take the exam each year and only 27,000 pass. According to their scores on the test, students are assigned to one of the 31 colleges or universities on the island. Because of Tunghai's academic standing, it receives about 300 of the top 10% of the qualified students.

Tunghai was established in 1955. Its industrial engineering department was the first of its kind in the country.

The campus covers 345 acres, the lower half of which is farmed. The design of the facilities reflects the Tang dynasty, a combination of Chinese and Japanese flavors. The school chapel, built in 1963, was contributed by the Luce family in memory of Henry Winters Luce who gave so much to Christian education on mainland China. One-half of the interdenominational school's support comes from the United Board for Christian Higher Education in Asia.

In 1964 the U.S. Armed Forces Institute of Pathology established a study of the relation of bird migration to disease transmission among Asian countries. Six countries were involved and Tunghai University accepted the responsibility for Taiwan's part of the project.

Dr. Alexander, who teaches physiology and embryology, became deeply involved in the bird migration study; he and his colleagues have continued the study since the completion of the original project. Over the years they have banded 150,000 birds. The results of their study were published by The China Post in a bilingual (Chinese and English) book, A Guide to the Birds of Taiwan. Contributors were Sheldon R. Severinghaus, a young American faculty member; Kuo-wei Kang, a research assistant; and Dr. Alexander.

During two years of this last tour of service at Tunghai, Dr. Alexander was dean of the science college. Since 1969 he has been coordinating the work of five research centers: Center for the Humanities, Social Science Research Center, Life Science Research Center, Housing and Urban Research Center, and Center for Industrial Engineering and Management Development. When Paul returns to the school in June, he will help develop an institute for environmental studies which will integrate all five research centers.

General Education in Taiwan

In Taiwan there is great emphasis on education, which is fairly advanced. The school system is very similar to the American system, including kindergartens. School is required through the ninth grade. There is constant improvement in all schools and technical schools. The country's literacy level is at 80%.

Formosa Means "Beautiful"

The Chinese name Taiwan means "terraced bay"; the Portuguese name of Formosa means "beautiful." And beautiful it is!

Taiwan is very mountainous; the mountains go up to 13,000 feet. Taiwan is 100 miles from the mainland.

The Alexanders lived on a hill west of Taichung. Lucille mentioned that poinsettias bloom from November to May on the island.

In the large cities some shopping areas and department stores are very modern and are much like American stores in products offered. In contrast there are still many street shops and family shops also. There are many open food markets because most families do not have refrigeration.

Food is in abundance in Taiwan and there is a great variety of fruits and vegetables. Rice and noodles are diet staples. Fruit is a major export. Taiwan is the world's largest exporter of mushrooms. Sugar and tea are also major exports.

Fish culture, synthetic fibers and fabrics are all big businesses in Taiwan. Many electronics plants are located at Kaohsiung Harbor, which is tax exempt.

Players Present
‘Blithe Spirit’

A madcap medium, a zany ghost, and an infuriated wife make a successful novelist’s life anything but serene when Indiana Central presented Noel Coward’s most successful farce-comedy Blithe Spirit on March 23-25.

In Blithe Spirit Coward has turned his celebrated lightness of touch to the supernatural. It is not a scary, ghost story, however, but a bright comedy about Charles Condomine, a successful novelist, when he calls in an eccentric medium, Madame Arcati, to conduct a seance. The comic complications begin when she brings back the “ghost” of Condomine’s first wife, Elvira. By mistake Elvira “does away” with Ruth, Condomine’s second wife and he is left with two ghosts and a distraught medium on his hands.

The three-act comedy was produced and directed by Richard A. Williams, chairman of the Speech and Drama Department. Theresa Davis was assistant director and Nathan W. Everett, technical director.

Students taking part were Philip Haas, Susan Peterson, Gretchen Peterson, Kathy Geible, Greg Whaley, Jacqueline Lee and Pamela Abbey.

Notice to Parents

If you are receiving the ALUMNI NEWS for your son or daughter who is no longer living at home, please report the correct address to the Alumni Office, Indiana Central College, Indianapolis, IN 46227.

In contrast, mud-brick houses are still common in the countryside. Farms are very small and rice planting is still done by hand. Plowing is still done with water buffalo, though tractors are beginning to come into the country. In the country one may frequently see a mixture of t.v.’s and radios, sun-dried bricks and dirt floors.

Cities suffer from crowding and pollution problems the same as the world over. Traffic is miserable. Pedestrians walk on the right-hand side; when a person is driving, he is responsible for watching what is in front of him.

Religion on the Island

The people of Taiwan are predominantly Buddhists, especially in connection with marriage and death ceremonies. Many of the island’s temples are a mixture of Buddhist and Taoist.

The people worship in temples as individuals or as family groups. Worship is not a social occasion; they do not worship as congregations.

There are annual rites on Confucius’ birthday but the Chinese do not consider Confucianism as a religion. Traditional festivals, such as the Chinese New Year, The Dragon Boat Festival, and the Mid-Autumn Festival, are community religious affairs. At other festivals there is much feasting, puppet shows, parades, and the priests take part.

In the 1600’s the Dutch established the Christian church on Taiwan but it was later destroyed. Then in 1865 the Presbyterian Church re-established Christianity on the island through missionaries. The Presbyterian Church is the oldest denomination in Taiwan. Presbyterian and United Methodist churches work closely together.

There are hundreds of Protestant churches in the mountains and the people living there are over three-fourths Christian. The city churches have many of the same problems as city churches in the States. The Christian churches have been and are strong in medical and educational development in Taiwan.

The Alexanders look forward to their return to Taiwan and their service there. I am certain all of their fellow alumni join in extending them best wishes and God’s blessings.

Association Sponsors Tour to Hawaii

The ICC Alumni Association is pleased to offer its first alumni tour from Indianapolis to Hawaii Saturday, July 22 through Saturday, July 29, 1972, in conjunction with the Alumni Association of Marian College.

The eight-day deluxe tour will begin from Indianapolis on July 22 where the group will board a plane for St. Louis. At St. Louis they will board an American Airlines non-stop flight to Honolulu, where each traveler will be met with the traditional lei greeting and will be transferred to the Hilton Hawaiian Village on Waikiki beach.

Arrangements for the joint tour are being made through Grueninger Travel Service, Inc. of Indianapolis. Grueninger's agency arranged Dr. Esch's recent round-the-world trip and has arranged the college's European study tour with Mr. Boyce for several years.

The first day on the island is a free day for relaxation and some individual exploration or beachcombing. There will be a get-acquainted and informational gathering in the late afternoon. Then an optional luau party in the evening will be available for those who wish to attend.

The next day includes some sightseeing on the beautiful island. The motor coach will pass through downtown Honolulu and the King Kamehameha Statue, then continue to Nuuanu Pali for breathtaking views. You will see the coastal papaya and banana plantations, ancient fishponds, sugar and pineapple fields, and view the historic Pearl Harbor and Battleship Row. The evening is free of scheduled activities.

The fourth day of the tour includes a drive up tropical Mount Tantalus for a majestic panorama of Honolulu from Pearl Harbor to the regal Diamond Head. The day also will include Punch Bowl National Cemetery and the University of Hawaii. The afternoon is free for swimming, sunning, surfing or shopping, and the evening for each person's choice of events.

The next day the sightseeing covers the island's most scenic sights. There will be stops at Diamond Head lookout, Kahala residential district, Hawaii Kai area, and lovely Hanauma Bay, Blow Hole and Makapuu Bay. At Sea Life Park there will be the opportunity to walk three fathoms beneath the ocean to see spinning and leaping porpoises. The day will also include visits to the whaling ship "Essex" replica, Waimanalo, Kaneohe, Waikiki, and the Wilson Tunnel. Again the evening is free for individual activities.

The sixth day centers on the memorable Pearl Harbor Cruise. Alumni and friends will see Battleship Row, the sunken USS Arizona, Hickam Field, Naval Air Station, Ford Island, unsurpassed views of Honolulu Harbor, Diamond Head and Oahu. The tour includes an authentic description of the Dec. 7, 1941, attack on Pearl Harbor. The afternoon is free for shopping or last-minute swimming or surfing.

The next day the group will board the jetliner for St. Louis, then on to Indianapolis. Arrival will be next morning.

The tour price is $359 per person based on double occupancy in rooms for the eight days. The tour price includes the round trip flight, economy class, special group fare. (Ordinarily, the air fare alone is just slightly under our total tour price.) The tour includes deluxe accommodations at the Hilton Hawaiian Village in twin bedded rooms with private bath; transfer of passengers and two medium size pieces of luggage from arrival to departure; all sightseeing indicated in the itinerary, with experienced local guides. Gratuities are included on the accommodations and meals provided, based on the current percentage system in effect in the hotels and restaurants. Meals on board the flights are included. A guide will be with the tour on the Honolulu portion.

The tour price does not include excess baggage charges; tips for individual activities.

and personal services; laundry, wines and beverages; baggage insurance; meals, except as specified above; and all other items of a purely personal nature.

A deposit of $50 per person is necessary to guarantee a reservation. Final payment is due to Grueninger Travel Service, Inc., six weeks prior to departure (approximately June 10). Deposits are refunded in full whenever cancellation is made four or more weeks prior to departure. After that time a cancellation fee is deducted.

Marian and Indiana Central colleges are combining in this tour in an effort to offer a more economic tour. The tour offers all the ingredients of the perfect vacation—friends, fun, sun, surf, and sightseeing. Get your reservation in today!

Wedding Bells
Charles V. Cummings '71 and Joan Harvey were married Feb. 26 in the Garfield Park Baptist Church, Indianapolis. He works as an insurance adjuster and they live in Rochester, Ind.

After serving a year with the AF in Vietnam, he is now stationed at Forbes. His home is Lebanon, Pa. Jane will be teaching piano this summer at the youth center on the base.

ESTATE PLANNING CORNER
Fellows Memberships Near 300!
By LYNN R. YOUNGBLOOD
Director of Development

As of this writing we are pleased to report that there are 289 separate Fellows memberships now in effect at Indiana Central. As most everyone knows, members of the Fellows Program are committed to contributing a minimum of $100 annually to ICC in unrestricted funds. It seems likely that nearly $35,000 will be received during the current fiscal year as a result of contributions to this program. Many of the memberships include both husband and wife, so there are well over 400 individuals participating in the program.

Of the 289 memberships, 199 are held by alumni. It is also interesting to note that 67 memberships are held by members of the faculty and staff at ICC. It is hoped that by Alumni Day we will be able to report that we have set a new "high water mark" of at least 300 memberships.

It is true, of course, that all contributions to Indiana Central are tax deductible and Indiana residents are especially fortunate in being able to take both a 50% credit against their Indiana State Income Tax, as well as filing a deduction on the Federal Income Tax Return. This means that the actual "out-of-pocket" expense for an Indiana Resident who contributes $100 to the Fellows program is probably no more than $40.

If you would like to help us reach the 300 mark by Alumni Day either by joining Fellows or by suggesting names of individuals who might be interested, please contact the Development Office. Remember—Fellows is not exclusively an alumni group (although we’re proud to say that more than two-thirds are alumni) so names of non-alumni as prospective Fellows would be welcome.

Honor Students
Hear Guest Speakers

For three weeks in February the Biology Department presented a lecture series as part of "Man in Nature," the honors course. The lectures, which included topics such as bio-engineering, RNA, primate behavior, radiation biology, and practical microbiology, were presented by professors of the Science Division of the college.

Several qualified speakers were invited to participate and share from their field of specialization. Guest lecturers were Dr. Edward Hicks, director of the Sickle-Cell Anemia Laboratory of the Medical Center of Indianapolis; Mrs. Pat Hessel, secretary-treasurer of the Zero Population Growth Chapter, Indianapolis; Willis Roose, director of the Division of Drug Control of the Indiana State Board of Health; Mrs. Reba Koch, research assistant in Rabies Research Laboratories of the Indiana State Board of Health; Mrs. Helen McCulman, executive director of Planned Parenthood Association, Indianapolis; Mrs. Richard France, education director of the Zoological Society, Indianapolis.

Boyce's Works

Gerald G. Boyce, chairman of the Art Department, recently was invited to exhibit 37 of his more recent works in a one-man show at the de Andries Gallery of St. John's University, New York City.

The exhibit was from Feb. 7-Feb. 25. Most of the works combined silverpoint with mixed media and gold leaf. Mr. Boyce is currently preparing works for two invitational one-man exhibitions at Ball State University and Purdue University, scheduled for fall.

In early March IC's own Leah Ransburg Gallery displayed a series of 15 ink drawings by Ed Manetta, chairman of the department of fine arts and the division of music at St. John's, along with some fine acrylic drawings and woodcuts by Orfeo Vian, a St. John's art professor. Mr. Boyce invited the two men to display their work at Central.

The show was in the college gallery through March 9.

March 13-23 the works of Genevieve Golth Graf (1890-1962) and Carl Graf (1872-1947) were on exhibit at ICC.
IC RECEIVES TWO $5,000 GIFTS

Within a period of one week in mid-March, Indiana Central was the recipient of two separate gifts of $5,000 each, made possible by alumni. The first contribution came as a result of the bequest of Amanda A. Fadely '24, a retired schoolteacher from New Castle who passed away in June, 1971.

Miss Fadely taught fifth grade in the New Castle public schools until 1968, having taught nearly 40 years in that one school system. Just prior to her retirement Miss Fadely received a civic plaque as “Teacher of the Year” in the New Castle schools. After leaving Indiana Central in 1924 Miss Fadely went on to earn bachelor and master’s degrees from Ball State University. She was a member of the Christ United Methodist Church in New Castle.

An outright gift of $5,000 was received from A. E. Wake, Sr., one of two graduates of the class of 1917, the other being Allan B. Good. Mr. Wake is a retired Presbyterian minister who now makes his home in Seattle, Wash., where all of his descendants, three children, three grandchildren, and three great-grandchildren, now reside.

While at Indiana Central Mr. Wake “talked Irby Good into letting us have basketball and baseball teams.” Rev. Wake came to Indiana Central with $25 in his pockets and partially earned his way through college by working as postmaster in the campus office and repairing the roof of the Administration Building when it was damaged by a tornado. Mr. Wake credits that tornado with helping him complete school.

After graduating from Indiana Central, A. E. Wake served a pastorate at Rich Valley United Brethren Church before moving to San Bernardino, Calif., in the early 1920’s where he was secretary of boys work for the YMCA for a short time prior to serving a mission church in the area. He then became Associate Pastor of the Wilshire Prebyterian Church in Los Angeles under Dr. John Albert Eby. In 1929 he became minister of the Woodland Park Presbyterian Church in Seattle where he served until 1938. From 1938 until 1970 Rev. Wake was in educational work with Capitol Radio Engineering and Electronics, Washington, D.C.

Certainly ICC is grateful to both of these alumni for their generosity and exhibition of confidence in Indiana Central in this manner.

Parents Lend Financial Support

ICAPS, the newly formed Indiana Central Alumni Parents organization completed its first fund appeal at the end of the 1971 calendar year having collected more than $1600. The funds are to be used as unrestricted contributions which means that they will be used to meet the needs in the areas of student aid, library resources, and faculty salaries. Those parents of alumni who have helped with the fund and the graduating classes which they represent are:

- Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Young—1971
- Dr. and Mrs. Roy Maxson—1970
- Dr. and Mrs. Walter Rogers—1969
- Mr. and Mrs. Thurlow Axel—1968
- Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Dorville—1967
- Mrs. Marjorie Maple—1966
- Mrs. Judy Buchanan—1965

These individuals have thus far comprised the steering committee responsible for the activities of ICAPS. The next item on the agenda includes planning an ICAPS function in conjunction with Homecoming Day of 1972 which will be October 28. All alumni parents will be invited to return to the ICC campus (hopefully along with their alumni sons and daughters) to renew old acquaintances and enjoy the festivities of Homecoming 1972.

Dear Editor

I have been very happy looking over the Dec. 1971 issue of the Alumni News, which found its way to me after all these years since I graduated in the Class of 1920. My name was Nelson then, and my father was Rev. Thomas H. Nelson, traveling minister for the college for the combined United Brethren and Methodist churches working under the direction of Bishop Fout.

... I was born and brought up in Indianapolis, and our back yard ended at the alley, across which the back yard of James Whitcomb Riley ended.

Many things have changed since then. I have had over 45 years in the teaching profession, and loved every minute of it. Of course, I went on with my professional training and teaching, and now have several graduate degrees to my credit but more important, many happy memories ...

I have retired now, as I am 75 years old.

I now live in an interesting place ... in Lark Ellen Towers, there are two in a room ... (is a nursing home). We often gather in a center room for a Bible discussion or other group study. There are other groups, meetings, conferences, music concerts, etc. On our floor, everyone is, to some extent, physically handicapped. I walk with crutches and use a wheel chair, ... We are well taken care of by an M.D. and nurses ... and we may have visitors, and go and come as we wish. ...

Good luck to all alumni and former students.

Sincerely,
Dr. Esther Grace (Nelson)

We live on St. Croix because my husband was transferred here from Dow Chemical Company in Indianapolis. He is presently quality control manager of Generic Pharmaceuticals, located in Christiansted.

Life on any Caribbean isle is centered around the water. We swim, snorkel and scuba dive among the coral grottoes.

Because living on a small island is confining (23 miles long x 7 miles wide), we try to take long weekend trips. We’ve learned about many different peoples and races—Puerto Rico, Haiti, St. Thomas, St. Kitts, Antigua and Guadeloupe. We’d like to get all the way down to South America before leaving our St. Croix home.

We enjoy the year-around summer climate (75 degrees is considered cold!), and really do not anticipate returning to Hoosier winters in another year or two.

... We moved from our Phoenix address on February 12, to Chandler—a small town 20 miles southeast of Phoenix. We like it here so well that we’re working on building a home here in Chandler. And this has kept us busy.

... My husband, Dennis, is employed by Empire Caterpillar Company in Mesa (just 5 miles north of us). I am an RN working as a team leader at Chandler’s Community Hospital.

Campus Adopts New Security Plan

The new security force consists of seven uniformed Indianapolis Police officers assisted by five ICC students security officers. Each officer is on the ICC payroll and has the same incentives as other loyal employees.

1) Protection for college property, records and personnel; 2) inspection services; 3) emergency services; 4) traffic regulation and supervision on college property; 5) enforcement of college regulations, appropriate state and municipal statutes and ordinances, as they apply to college protection; 6) coordination between college and local law enforcement agencies; 7) direction for the development of an overall security policy for the college.

The new security force is not here to police student behavior, although any student violating any civil laws or ordinances can expect to be treated in the same manner as any other violator.

Students, faculty and staff have voiced dissatisfaction with the night watchmen type of security. In November, President Sease directed that a review be made of the system, which produced a new philosophy of campus security with emphasis on prevention first, then protection.

The new officers are alert, aggressive and fully trained with a higher order of technical knowledge and skill. Each of these officers has or is working on a degree in criminal justice. They will be patrolling in and out of buildings and about the campus to prevent something from happening.

It is hoped that the team effort of this type of officer and the student security officer will result in a greater response to our security needs.

Right now we're enjoying 80° temperatures here in the Valley of the Sun. It's delightful to have this kind of weather instead of snow and cold winds like some northern states.

College Offers Criminal Justice Program

Kenneth B. Hale, recently retired from the U.S. Secret Service, has been appointed to head the new Criminal Justice Program at Indiana Central. In announcing the appointment Dr. Gene E. Sease emphasized that training law enforcement and corrections officers offered the school another opportunity to expand and strengthen its service to the Indianapolis community.

Hale, who has had a dedicated career of over 30 years with the secret service, had served as special agent in charge of the Indianapolis office since 1959. He received a bachelor of science degree in police administration from Michigan State University in 1941. Following graduation he was appointed to the secret service and assigned to the Detroit office. From 1942-1946 and 1947-49 he served with the U.S. Army Counter Intelligence Corps. During his career he has held assignments in offices in Toledo, Washington, D.C., and Chicago, and has served with the President Protection Division. In 1955 he was promoted to special agent in charge of the Omaha office, where he remained until 1959 when he came to Indianapolis.

Hale received a commendation from the Honorable Graham Martin, U.S. Ambassador to Thailand, for developing a program for the protection of the President in a manner satisfactory to the Thai Government and the royal household, prior to President Lyndon Johnson's visit in 1966. The officer also received commendation from the Attorney General of the United States for successful investigation of forged vouchers and schedules of payment prepared by inmates at the U.S. Penitentiary, Terre Haute, Ind. He was honored also by the Regional Disbursing Office, Chicago.

Mr. Hale's suggestion helped revise the maintenance and control of records for the secret service, earning him the organization's Suggestion Award in February, 1970.

The administrator's long and varied career, which has taken him to Europe and Asia, as well as all over the U.S., qualifies him well to direct and coordinate the Criminal Justice Program at ICC.

Developed as a college credit program, the criminal justice courses will be administered by the Evening Division. Graduates will receive an associate in science degree. Courses include Introduction to Criminal Justice, Criminal Evidence, and Investigative Procedures. In the field of correction, the program will offer Trends in Correction, Counseling, and Probation and Parole. In addition to technical courses in the field, the curriculum will include certain liberal arts subjects to round out the educational process. Students may also enroll in courses in their particular interest areas or for self-improvement purposes.

To finance his education, each in-service officer is eligible to apply for grants from the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration. The grants, which are to help defray the costs of tuition, books and supplies, may be applied for through Indiana Central. Loans also are available to eligible students who intend to pursue or resume full-time employment in the criminal justice field upon completion of their studies. Application for loan assistance also may be made through the college.

Alumnus Directs Teachers Association

Dr. Paul A. Mendenhall has been appointed associate executive director of the Indiana State Teachers Association. Mendenhall was appointed director of ISTA's research department in January, 1971. His appointment as ISTA's number two executive, effective immediately, was announced in early February by the association's executive director, Ronald G. Jensen.

Mendenhall will be responsible for internal operations of the ISTA central office in Indianapolis and for the eight regional offices in Highland, Mishawaka, Ft. Wayne, Kokomo, Muncie, Terre Haute, Seymour, and Evansville.

The total staff includes about 75 people serving some 50,000 teacher-members throughout the state.

Before joining the ISTA staff, Mendenhall was assistant superintendent of the Greencastle Community Schools from 1967-68. From 1963-67 he was director of research and information for schools in MSD Washington Township.

He received his B.S. from Indiana Central, his M.S. from Butler, and his Ph.D. from Purdue. He taught math and science in Boone, Hamilton, and Marion County schools.
Top Applicants Accepted 'With Distinction'

Applicants who have demonstrated outstanding achievement in academics, citizenship and leadership in their high schools are admitted "With Distinction" to Indiana Central. Several students have been admitted with such recognition for the fall of 1972-73. All of them rank in the upper 5% of their graduating class and have achieved excellent scores on the Scholastic Aptitude Test of the College Entrance Examination Board.

Students admitted "With Distinction" include Teresa G. Alexander, Tamara Anderson, Christopher Brown, Joleen Cain, Jill Carbiener, Susan E. Clark, Carolyn Davis, M. Christine Drake, Brenda Eads, Christy B. Edwards, Thomas Fairchild, Jane Faudree, and Elden Hartman. Also admitted because of achievement were Mary Hedges, Ronald E. Ketterer, Mark Koenig, Gregory Leis, Joyce E. Moore, Pamela A. Mowery, Eric Olson, Kenneth Padgett, Rebecca Rink, Adaline Schemel, Sally J. Shockey, J. Michael Sims, Sharon Snyder, and Barbara Spaugh.

Teresa Alexander, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Denver Alexander, is a senior at Northeastern High School in Fountain City, Ind. She plans to be a nurse. Tamara Anderson will major in Spanish. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Anderson of Indianapolis and attends St. Mary's Academy.

A senior at Knightstown (Ind.) High School, Christopher Brown is interested in biology. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brown. Joleen Cain, a senior at Oak Hill H.S., is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cain of Marion, Ind. Joleen will join the nursing program.

Planning to teach music is Jill Carbiener, a senior at John Glenn H.S. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Carbiener of Plymouth, Ind. Susan Clark will major in English and looks forward to a career in journalism. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Clark of Lafayette, Ind., and attends Jefferson H.S.

Carolyn Davis, a student at Southport H.S., wants to major in secretarial science. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Davis. Christine Drake is a senior at Beason (Ill.) Community H.S. She plans to be a nurse. Chris is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Drake.

Brenda Eads is a senior at Franklin Community H.S. and plans to teach mathematics. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Eads. A senior at North Montgomery H.S., Christy Edwards will major in elementary education. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest E. Edwards.

Drama, Music Combine in 'Boy Friend'

The Boy Friend, a close recreation of the flapper era set to music, was presented by the ICC Players, Feb. 10, 11 and 12.

Written by Sandy Wilson, the musical comedy enjoyed an enormous success in the British musical theater before its American presentation starring Julie Andrews. MGM recently has released Ken Russell's movie version of The Boy Friend starring Twiggy.

The play's setting is on the French Riviera and is notable for its spirited nits and humor combined with Mr. Wilson's genius for capturing the essence of the music of the twenties. The music for the show is even more arresting than the plot and the demands for professional choreography were met by Miss Barbara McKay. A recent graduate of Jordan College of Music, Miss McKay is a professional dancer and has choreographed musicals for college musicals, the Ft. Benjamin Harrison Players and Christian Theological seminary productions.

The Boy Friend was produced and directed by Richard A. Williams, chairman of the Speech and Drama Department, in association with Lowell Borch, chairman of the Music Department, who did the orchestration, and James Lamberson, music teacher, who was choral director.

ICC Players who carried leading roles were Karen Rogers, Michael Potter, Jena Jones, Mick Bridgewater, Gayle Stahlhut and Nathaniel Everett.

ICC Humanics Program Has a Birthday

By DR. GENE E. SEASE

On Friday, March 24, the campus observed the fifth anniversary of Our Humanics Foundation. It was quite a birthday celebration!

Dr. H. Roe Bartle, founder of the American Humanics Foundation, and former Mayor of Kansas City was our special guest. Affectionately known as “Chief” (after whom the Kansas City Chiefs are named), he spoke to our morning Convocation and again to a dinner of special guests at Schwitzer Center that evening. We had guests from Iowa, New Jersey, Kansas, Wisconsin, Michigan, Ohio, and other places near and far. Always a colorful and dynamic speaker, the “Chief” challenged us again to place service above self and prepare for a stronger nation and a more secure future by preparing good leaders for youth.

This is really what Indiana Central is all about—preparing persons to be leaders and servants in society. Our humanics program is engaged in preparing youth leaders for the YMCA, YWCA, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, Boys Club of America and for leadership roles in other youth organizations. Sixteen persons have graduated from the humanics program to date. We will graduate six more this year for employment in various youth organizations and community agencies. Forty-six students are presently enrolled in the program under Professor Ross Ludwig. We are proud to be one of the four colleges in America sponsored by the AHF in preparing such leadership.

Whether teacher preparation, pre-professional programs, nursing instruction, or preparation for business and industry, the college continues to plan for the future by building leaders whose primary motivation is service to humanity.

We salute every member of our alumni engaged in a service-oriented career!

Mullen Is Guest For Showers Lectures

Thomas J. Mullen, minister, teacher and writer, was guest lecturer for the Eleventh Annual Showers Lectures in the Christian Religion, March 15-17.

Mullen is associate dean of the Earlham School of Religion, Earlham College, Richmond, Ind. He received his A.B. from Earlham in 1956, and a B.D. from Yale University in 1959. While attending Yale he served as assistant pastor of the First Congregational Church in Madison, Conn.

He returned to Indiana in 1959 and served the Friends meeting in New Castle until 1966. In 1967 he went to Earlham as dean of students; in 1970 he was appointed associate dean of the School of Religion.

Mr. Mullen has written four books, The Renewal of the Ministry (1963); The Ghetto of Indifference (1966); The Dialogue Gap (1969); and Birthdays, Holidays and Other Disasters (1971). All were published by Abingdon Press.

He has also contributed articles to Religion in Life, The Pulpit, Quaker Life, Together Magazine, and others. Presently he writes a column called "Mullen It Over," which is published in Quaker Life.

Along with his numerous other duties, Mullen serves on the Human Relations Committee of the American Friends Service Committee, is a member of the Friends Committee on Legislation, and also serves on the National Board of Yokefellow Associates. In 1970 he became a member of the Board of Trustees of Earlham College.

The first lecture entitled “An Attitude of Gratitude” was presented March 15 during the convocation time in Ransburg Auditorium. The evening lecture the same day was entitled “What Is the Christian College Today?” On March 16 Mr. Mullen spoke to area ministers and his lecture was entitled “On Getting to Where We Want to Go by Being Who We Are.” The final lecture on March 17 was called “Moments of Truth” and again was presented in the convocation hour.

The lectures are possible through a gift from the late Dr. J. Balmer Showers, a bishop of the former Evangelical United Brethren Church. He made the gift to Indiana Central to endow an annual lectureship on the Christian religion.

The series commemorates the service of Bishop Showers as a minister of churches in Pennsylvania, Missouri and Ohio; as a professor of Bonebrake Seminary (now United Theological Seminary) for 15 years; as associate editor of the Telescope and publishing agent for 18 years; and as a bishop of the church for nine years.

Dr. Showers lived in Indianapolis while he was bishop of the West Central area. He was a life member of the college’s Board of Trustees. His death came in September, 1962.

Women’s Program Shows Increase

“Milady’s Day On Campus,” a program of informal, informative daytime classes for women ended its third year with a 17% increase in enrollment over the previous year. Offered through the Center for Continuing Education, the popular program is realizing its goal of fulfilling a community need by offering courses of continuing knowledge and enrichment for women.

Highly diversified courses—eight in all—are taught by Indiana Central faculty members and qualified resource persons and are scheduled each school year. The non-credit classes last six weeks and meet on Tuesday mornings and afternoons in the conference rooms of Schwitzer Center.

Starting in September last year, courses were offered on legal rights; interior decorating; the world beyond Europe; creative cooking; the historical background of Henry VIII; society’s changing attitudes; foreign travel tips and language; and a look at today’s economics. Plans are being formulated for next year’s classes which tentatively include a look at electing the president; communications; interior decorating; antiques and collectables; Indiana history; literature; and art.

Alums Gather In Tucson

Ghost Ranch Lodge, Tucson, Ariz., and its sunny beautiful skies was the scene for a gathering of happy alumni of Indiana Central College March 12. All present were winter visitors, but the beautiful weather did not overshadow the fact that there was much enthusiasm and conversation directed toward the growth of Indiana Central College.

Mr. and Mrs. James Boger (Fanny Varner Boger) had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. George Coldren of Brown County, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mendenhall of Mesa, Ariz. and Camino Island, Wash.; and Mrs. John Wachel (Kathy Boger Wachel), Iowa City, Ia. Mrs. Wachel is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Boger. After an afternoon of happy talk under the Ghost Ranch orange trees, Mr. and Mrs. Mendenhall returned to Mesa.

Mr. and Mrs. Coldren spent several days at Ghost Ranch before going on to California to visit their son and then back by way of Tucson and to Georgia to visit their daughter. Kathy Wachel spent two weeks at Ghost Ranch where she enjoyed interesting places in Tucson and particularly enjoyed the Ghost Ranch pool.

Center Offers Summer Series

The Center for Continuing Education of Indiana Central College will offer a three-course summer series designed to help beginning college students get a jump on the school year. The courses, although taught by Indiana Central faculty, are designed for any student regardless of which college he or she plans to attend. Any and all of the courses are open to the public as well.

Reading Improvement, Preparing for College, and Improving What You Write are offered at a time when most students may take advantage of them. Classes will be held in the evening, twice a week from 7:00 to 9:30 p.m.

Reading Improvement will begin Monday, June 12 and end on Wednesday, June 28, 1972. The course is designed to help improve reading speed, comprehension and vocabulary skills.

Preparing for College will begin Tuesday, July 11 and end Thursday, July 27, 1972. In this course students will receive tips by professors on taking notes, studying, effective time utilization, listening, taking exams, and etc.

Improving What You Write begins Tuesday, Aug. 8 and ends Thursday, Aug. 24, 1972. Studies of sentence and paragraph structure along with English grammar review will be included.

Services were held Feb. 28 in her church. Survivors, besides her husband, include three sons.

College Mourns Death of Dr. Krannert

Longtime friend, trustee since 1960, and a major college benefactor, Dr. Herman C. Krannert died Feb. 24 in Morton Plant Hospital, Clearwater, Fla., at the age of 84.

A major Hoosier industrialist and one of the nation's leading philanthropists, Dr. Krannert and his wife Elnor have made several notable contributions to Indiana Central, including the funds for Krannert Hall, a women's residence; a gift toward the remodeling of the lower level of the library, named the Krannert Room; and a recent gift toward the current construction of the addition to Lilly Science Hall. ICC awarded him an honorary doctor of laws degree in 1967.

Krannert was founder and chairman of the board of Inland Container Corp., one of the world's largest manufacturers of corrugated shipping containers. He built the business from a single rented box plant in Indianapolis into the present nationwide organization. Sales for the Inland firm approximated $200 million in 1971.

As Krannert's enterprise produced rewards, he became a well-known philanthropist, making major gifts in education, medicine, youth activities, and the arts. Among noteworthy Krannert centers of educational excellence elsewhere are the Krannert Building at IUPUI; Krannert Graduate Center at the Institute of Paper Chemistry, Appleton, Wis.; plus numerous contributions to his alma mater, the University of Illinois.

Gifts from the Krannerts provided the Krannert Tower at Methodist Hospital and the Krannert Pavilion in University Hospital at the Medical Center. The Krannert Institute of Cardiology at Marion County General Hospital is one of the nation's top research centers.

Krannert was chairman of the board of trustees of the Indianapolis Museum of Art. He and Mrs. Krannert were the major donors of the Krannert Pavilion at the museum's new complex which opened in 1970.

Dr. Krannert had been hospitalized since Jan. 23, when he was injured in a fall in his hotel room in Clearwater. His death was a result of complications from the injuries.

Memorial services were conducted on Feb. 28 in Indianapolis. Dr. Krannert is survived by his wife, Elnor.

On March 10 several junior girls vied for the title of Campus Queen. Five were elected by the student body to the traditional May Court and the one chosen as queen will be crowned at May Festival activities on Saturday, May 6.

Elected to the 1972-73 court were Nancy Catt, Indianapolis; Jessie Chan, Hong Kong; Lynn Hillsamer, Marion, Ind.; Karen Rogers, Arcanum, Oh.; and Cynthia Stith, New Albany, Ind.

Nancy, a graduate of Southport High School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard J. Catt. She has two younger sisters and a younger brother.

Majoring in organ and voice, Nancy hopes to teach music in secondary school after graduation. She is president of Mu Phi Epsilon music sorority and is a member of Centralairs. Her interest in music has been strong since fourth grade.

Jessie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hsien-Peng Chan of Hong Kong. She has one brother and two sisters, all younger. Jessie came to ICC through the recommendation of her guardian, Miss Margaret Lawrence of Indianapolis.

A chemistry major, Jessie plans to do graduate work in her field or attend medical school. She is a member of IAY, Student Court, Sigma Zeta, and is secretary of the International Relations Club. She was a member of the student-faculty international and intercultural committee, which studied possible exchange programs and courses for ICC students.

Lynn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Hillsamer, Marion, Ind. She has an older brother and sister, a younger brother, and two younger sisters.

Lynn is majoring in music education. She is secretary of the College Choir, is a member of Centralairs, a deputation team, MENC, and served as class treasurer her sophomore year.

Also a music major, Karen Rogers is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rogers of Arcanum, Oh. She has one older sister who is a graduate of ICC.

Karen is a member of Swing Choir, Centralairs, Choir, and MENC. She is recording secretary of Mu Phi Epsilon and secretary of the Junior Class. Karen was this year's Homecoming Queen.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Stith, Cynthia is from New Albany, Ind.

Cynthia is a physical education major and an English minor. She is a varsity cheerleader and a member of PEMM Club.

Faculty Present

The ICC faculty presented a talent show, "All in the Faculty," on March 10 directed by Richard Williams to help raise funds for World University Service.

Leo S. Miller, college treasurer and business manager, was master of ceremonies. The organ overture was provided by Nora Courrier, music instructor.

Earl Snellenberger, art professor, opened the show with his performing marionettes. He was followed by Helen Wooden and George Humburger singing "Climb Every Mountain," accompanied by Nate Wooden. Mr. Humburger is chairman of the business department and Mr. Wooden is dean of students.

A comedic monologue was given by Prof. Ken Borden, chemistry teacher. He was followed by a tap-dancing number by Academic Dean Robert Conner. Then Marshall Chambers, church relations director, and a friend presented a paraphrase of Bill Cosby's "Noah and the Ark" routine.

Willie Martin, assistant dean of men, sang "Will You Still Love Me Tomorrow?" followed by Rosemary Peterson's interpretative dance to "La Traviata." Mrs. Peterson is dean of women. Professors Steve O'Malley, Ed Vondrak and development director Lynn Youngblood performed a trombone trio.

The title skit "Guess Who's Coming to Supper?" was written by David Pugh of the English Department. The takeoff of "All in the Family" starred Julia Tinsley, business teacher, as Gloria; Lois Fouts, English, as Edith; Robert Brooker, chemistry, as Archie; Richard Williams, speech and drama, as Michael; and Bill Bishop, education, as "Mr. Somebody."

The finale was two musical numbers by The Scottsmen, a faculty men's chorus, directed by Prof. Farrell Scott. They sang "Maria" and the spiritual "Amen."

The production staff included Jim Brumme, alumni director; Doug Dorland, Ken Hotell, business department; Floyd Satterlee, foreign language department; Roy Davis, geography department; and students James Adams, Chris Karimu, Wayne Tucker, Rick Winterrowd, and Chuck Schafer.

Centralites in Drama

Several Indiana Central people appeared in the Christian Theological Seminary's production of Man of La Mancha in March in Indianapolis.

Peter Leeds, IC dining hall manager, portrayed the lead role of Don Quixote. Mr. James Lamberger, music professor at the college, was music director for the production.

Applications to ICC Refute National Trend

Contrary to reports of the national trends among private colleges, Indiana Central expects an increase in its freshman class in the fall, reports Admissions Director Dave Huffman.

The projected total estimated by the Admissions Office is that over 400 freshmen will enroll. The number represents a 30% increase in freshmen since 1969.

As expected, the fastest growth has been in the nursing applications. But even excluding nursing, the college's enrollment will show substantial increases in all other academic areas as well. Applications from out-of-state students also has increased.

There has been some increase in the percentage of applicants who wish to live on campus. This does not indicate fewer commuting students, but does indicate that the over-all percentage is changing toward residential students.

By March 15, 621 applications had been received by the Admissions Office, compared to 481 at the same time last year. By the time this magazine is published, the 1972-73 nursing class will have been closed with 100-capacity students expected.

The admissions staff, which includes four counselors, has emphasized the efficiency of operation rather than expansion of travel during this year's recruiting. They do visit selected schools in Ohio, Illinois, Connecticut, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, and Missouri as well as the majority of Indiana schools.

When asked for reasons why Indiana Central is doing so well in number of new applicants, Mr. Huffman concluded that the school's excellent location, good physical plant and classroom facilities, and the new Indiana Central Plan (fleximester program) have all had their influence, but it is difficult to point to any one reason for the steady increase when most other private schools have lost in enrollment.

In the near future Mr. Huffman plans to involve some alumni persons as admissions office representatives, to act as liaisons for the college within their local communities. Each will be asked to contact the admissions office about any outstanding students they know and also will be asked to offer information about ICC to the community. Most of the representatives will be in Indiana but Mr. Huffman hopes eventually to have alumni admissions personnel in other states as well.

Bless Recruits Gridiron Athletes

Coach Bill Bless announced the intentions of four outstanding high school athletes to attend Indiana Central on athletic grants-in-aid in September 1972.

Steve Montgomery, an accomplished football and baseball star at Southport High School in Indianapolis, will enroll. Marion County's leading scorer with 134 points during his senior year, Montgomery was selected to the All-County and All-State football squads. He led his Cathedral teammates to the county football championship, while gaining over 1,000 yards rushing for the third straight year.

An outstanding scholar as well, Steve also was a member of the All-County baseball honor squad last year and has proven to be of interest to many pro scouts.

Another All-State gridder, Ken Brooks of Greenfield Central will attend Central next year. A solid 6'1", 235 pounds, Brooks played fullback and linebacker, earning most valuable honors for the Cougars in 1971. He also has earned four varsity letters in baseball and two in basketball.

A prominent recruit from Indianapolis Northwest High School will figure in the Greyhound gridiron plans next fall. Vance Straton, 6'2' and 235 pounds, played offensive guard and defensive tackle for the Pioneers, earning All-City honors for his performance. In addition to his gridiron feats, Vance is an excellent student and this year was awarded the Athletic Scholarship Award by the Kiwanis Club.

A young man from ICC's back yard whose enrollment will enhance the Hounds' athletic program is Richard Gardner of Beech Grove. An All-CSA conference and All-County selection, the 6'3", 235 pound Gardner played offensive center and defensive tackle for the Hornets. As a wrestler the Beech Grove senior was runner-up in the state tournament in the heavyweight division.

Wetherald Ends Second Season Of Successful Wrestling Meets

Coach Terry Wetherald and his defending Indiana Collegiate Conference and Little State champs of last year completed another highly successful wrestling season in 1971-72, even though losing several members of last year's squad by graduation or injury.

The IC grapplers finished with a dual meet record of 8-3, and won the Taylor and Indiana Central Invitational tournaments, while placing third in the Little State meet, and second in the Indiana Collegiate Conference tourney. Amazingly, the Greyhounds lost the three dual meets and the conference title by a grand total of seven points, including a hard-fought one-point decision to the ninth ranked wrestling squad in the NAIA, Whitewater State; and to Wabash by an 80-78 margin in the conference meet.

Wetherald was extremely proud of the performance of this year's team. "These men are a credit to themselves and to Indiana Central, both on and off the mat," said the coach, who now has a 14-6-1 dual record and first and second place conference finishes in two wrestling seasons at his alma mater. "They worked very hard and, with much youth on the squad, the veterans did an outstanding job of bringing the younger kids along."

The coach also related the fact that he had received many compliments from officials and opposing coaches about the gentlemanly way the IC wrestlers conducted themselves before, during, and after wrestling matches.

Four Central wrestlers who won conference championships were Vince Flecker (16-3-1 record for the season), 118-pounder from Indianapolis Cathedral; 134-pound Grant Hodges (20-4) of Ben Davis; Paul Young (20-2) of Franklin Central, who was also the outstanding wrestler in the Little State meet at 150 pounds; and co-captain Jack Ott (17-2) of Noblesville in the 142-pound class.

Young competed in the National Collegiate Athletic Association national meet and finished twelfth in the nation among wrestlers in his weight class. Ott, who also competed in the NCAA meet and finished eighth among those in the 142-pound class, completed a brilliant career as four-time conference champion (twice in the HCC and both times in the ICC) and compiled the best record of any individual in Indiana Central wrestling history with an 80-12 for his four years. 1970 graduate Marlowe Mullen previously held the distinction with a 58-14 record.

England Joins Coaching Staff

Gerald W. England has been appointed as the new member of the Physical Education Department. He will be head track coach, assistant football coach, and an instructor in physical education beginning in September.

England received his B.S. degree from Indiana Central in 1961 and his M.S. in health and physical education from Indiana State University in 1966. He taught and coached in Indianapolis Washington High School from 1962-69, then joined the faculty and coaching staff at Lawrence Central High School. In track coaching, he guided two students to the State Championship in the shot put.

At Indiana Central he was All-Conference in football in 1960. He was also co-captain of the track and football teams in 1959, 1960 and 1961.

IC Alums In Final Four

Of the final four high school teams represented in the annual Hoosier Basketball Tournament, Indiana Central alums are prominently known in three. Robert E. Collier '36 is principal at Madison Heights High School in Anderson, Ind.

At Jeffersonville (Ind.) High School, the entire basketball staff are members of the ICC Alumni Association. George Marshall '59 is head varsity coach and Don Poole '61 is his assistant coach as well as head baseball coach. Freshman basketball coach is Bob Howe '71.

Though not part of the athletic staff, Rudy Finnell '69 was most likely boosting the Gary (Ind.) West High School team. He teaches music at the school.

At present Indiana Central has no known connections at Connersville High, the fourth basketball contender. However, the former principal of the school was Max R. Moore, '32, now employed by the Columbus, Ind., schools.
Spring Sports Round-Up

Coaches Hopeful as Schedules Open

Baseball

Coming off the greatest year ever in terms of victories for an Indiana Central baseball team, prospects for another successful season are—in Coach Bill Bright's words—"a big question mark."

The 1971 squad compiled a 31-5 record, won a share of the Indiana Collegiate Conference championship in their first campaign as members of the I.C.C. (with Valparaiso, 9-3) and won the NAIA District 21 Championship before being eliminated by Lewis College in the area championship playoffs.

As the 1972 season started Coach Bright was trying to find replacements for the crucial positions of second base, shortstop, and center field, where three of the four top hitters from last year were lost by graduation. Other losses included two pitchers, one of whom was leading hurler Bill Smock.

On the plus side the veteran manager welcomes back three All-Conference selections in outfielder Craig DeMyer (.323 batting average), Walkerton; third baseman Randy Watson (.307), New Castle; and catcher Dave Verhonik (.296), team captain, Ben Davis.

Other returning lettermen are pitchers Don Hecklinski (South Bend St. Joseph), Gary Judy (New Palestine), also a first baseman; Skip Kaucher (New Castle); and Jeff McGuire (Indianapolis Manual). Also in the outfield are Ray Slagle (Ben Davis) and Bob Treman (Indianapolis Marshall). Veteran infielders returning are John Mitney (Indianapolis Arlington) and Joe Tutterow (Manual).

Golf

Coach Ken Partridge and the golf team will shoot for their sixth consecutive winning season this spring.

Seniors John Davis (Salem) and Al Hess (Corydon) were both named to the All-Conference team in the I.C.C. last season and will be the mainstays on this year's squad. Joining them in key positions will be Bruce Bottom (Indianapolis Howe), a talented sophomore who should greatly benefit from last season's experience, and freshman Dave Sanderson, Southport's number one golfer last season.

The battle for fifth and sixth man appears to be wide open among lettermen Ron Sprunger (South Adams) and Glenn Weaver (Lawrence Central), seniors Mike Dickey (Markleville) and Rick Gregory (Northwest), Ron Garner (Knightstown) who played in a few matches last season, and newcomers Jim Males (Beech Grove), Dave Ramsey (Snider), Andy Findley (Franklin Community), Mike Cline (Lawrence Central), and Andy Westerman (Indiana College).

This season's schedule includes four tournaments in addition to dual and triangular matches. The golfing Greyhounds hope to improve on last year's fourth place finish in the conference which followed a winning season. Much of the success this year will depend upon whether two or three golfers emerge to score well and give the first four players the help they must have to be winners.

History would indicate that a winning season is ahead, since none of Central's golf teams over the past five years have had a losing record.

Tennis

"Youthful" is the key word to this year's edition of the Greyhound netters. Without a senior on the squad, Coach Wetherald will be looking to underclassmen to do the work.

"Desire" and "enthusiasm" are the words to describe the character of the team. What they lack in years they will more than make up with their spirit. "They know what will have to be done and have already started to pay the price—hard work," added the coach.

With this attitude, the guidance of oldtimers John Adams, junior; and Mike Will, sophomore; and the drive of such players as Lloyd Baugues (West Vigo), Fred Boger (Southport), Dean Felker (Lanesville), Mark Friend (Indianapolis Pike), D. J. Hines (New Albany), Richard Kittel (Hammond), Doug Land (Center Grove), and Bill Wright (Glenbard North, Chicago), this team will make its presence felt.

Nick Adds

Another Good Season

For the twenty-second time in his 25-year coaching career at Indiana Central, the incomparable Angus Nicoson led the Greyhounds to a winning season on the hardwood.

Among the top ten college basketball coaches in the nation in games won, Nick and his cagers finished the current campaign with 18 wins and 10 losses, giving the veteran Greyhound mentor 423 victories in 654 games while at Central, a .646 winning percentage.

This season was especially satisfying for many voiced questions concerning Indiana Central's ability to compete in the tough Indiana Collegiate Conference. Playing a partial schedule in the conference (all sports at the school will have a full conference slate in 1972-73), IC finished fourth behind Evansville, St. Joseph, and Valparaiso with a 4-5 record, defeating Butler, DePauw, Wabash and Valpo along the way.

"No coach could have asked for a more cooperative and dedicated, or harder working bunch than this team," commented Coach Nicoson. "A large measure of the success they achieved can be attributed to their unselfishness and the fact that they were very competitive."

Nick paid tribute to his three seniors—Mike Dickey of Markleville, Dave Williams of Indianapolis Attucks, and Norm Steele of Bainbridge—as he said, "The ballclub was given a great deal of stability through the leadership of these fine seniors."

Steele, brother of the NBA Portland Trail Blazers' Larry Steele, scored 14 points per game and was IC's second-leading rebounder and leading assist man (second in conference assists). The Greyhounds' leading scorer was J.D. Layman, a junior from Logansport who hit at a 19.9 per game average. Another junior, 6'6" Todd Whitten, averaged over 15 rebounds per game to lead in that category.

Leading Greyhound scorer J. D. Layman, junior from Logansport, makes a layup against Oakland City. Layman averaged 19.9 points a game this season.

Coach Nicoson also voiced a word of thanks to the many alumni who recruit student athletes for Indiana Central, not just in basketball, but in all sports. He added further, "The success of next season and seasons following will depend a great deal upon continued recruiting support of our alumni."
