Students collect food for needy
The emergency calls that have been sounded by food collection agencies in Indianapolis have been heard by ICU’s students. Coeds have collected over 400 cans of food to be distributed to the needy by Fletcher Place Community Center, a south side neighbor of the campus. Each ICU residence hall gathered canned food, and money was collected by the Christian Life Committee and ICU’s Midweek Chapel. A check from the student government was also given to Fletcher Place.

And now, the weather
In December, ICU students of the earth-space sciences department started broadcasting over the fourth transmitter of the National Weather Service. This transmitter is located at Bloomington, Indiana, and joins three transmitters operating from Brazil, Monticello and Indianapolis. The ICU students now provide weather information and disaster warnings for central, northwestern, western and southwestern Indiana. Addition of the Bloomington transmitter now permits most of the populated areas of Indiana to be covered by this service.

Church names ICU scholarship
First United Methodist Church of New Castle has funded a scholarship at ICU to assist Methodist youth attending Central. The first to take advantage of ICU’s Church-Named Scholarship Program, First United Methodist has chosen to honor their minister of visitation, Dr. Heedle M. Cobb, by naming the scholarship after him. Dr. Cobb is a minister of 54 years’ experience in the EUB and United Methodist churches.

The promise will be kept!
When Schwitzer Center was built in 1966, serious consideration was given to building a swimming facility on the north end. Funds were not sufficient to allow it to be built, but connections were “stubbed” on the ground floor, to the north of the mailboxes, and it was hoped that one day shortly thereafter, this dream could be realized. Students recruited for Indiana Central from that day to now, for a period of about 17 years, have been promised that a pool would be built. The promise will be kept!

Instead of a small recreation-type pool, two are under construction as a part of the new Physical Fitness complex — one regulation-size pool for competitions, and another for diving — both equipped with the capability of underwater observation.

When the FITNESS FOR THE FUTURE campaign was launched, as we told the story of the need for ten million dollars, alumni were promised that since nearly a score of classes had come and gone since a pool was promised, they would be invited back to take the first swim.

The promise will be kept! Keith VanDeman and the alumni office are inviting all alumni, and their families, to join us for the first use of the facilities.

Construction is moving along marvelously! It was a good winter in Indiana for building. We anticipate that the new building will be completed in late May or early June. The contractors will then move next door to Nicoson Hall for a new roof, new floor, and a general refurbishing and renovation of that facility to tie the two buildings together into one. The total complex should be completed by the end of July, along with decorating, furnishings, etc.

When the building officially opens August 1, alumni will be invited to join in ten days of celebration. We hope you will plan to come. This is the fulfillment of a dream for many persons across many years. We are keeping the promise to have alumni among the first in the facility. We hope you will plan now to come from near and far, north and south, east and west, to tour the new facility — and to be among the first to enjoy it.

Each year, on both Alumni Day and Homecoming Day, there are several alums who tell me it is their first visit back since graduation. If you haven’t been back or if it has been a while, early August will be a perfect time to visit. If it has been a while, take time to see the Krannert Memorial Library, the Communications Center (remodeled Buxton Hall), North Hall, and all the other steps forward which have been taken since you were last here.

Welcome back!

Alumni Directors announce student essay contest
The Alumni Board of Directors have created an annual essay award, possibly beginning next year, to honor the best essay written in English Composition 101. The Directors want to impress on students the necessity for good writing skills, regardless of their majors. To contribute to a fund that will provide a small stipend to the winner, send your check to the Alumni Office, marking your contribution for the "Alumni Essay Award."

Fund established for exceptional children
A fund has been established in the name of Professor Sylvia Kottler at the Miriam Bender Diagnostic Center at Indiana Central University. Professor Kottler, associate professor of special education at Purdue University, was honored for outstanding service to exceptional children. The fund bearing her name will provide services for children unable to afford diagnostic and remedial programs at the Center.

Vatican art collection trip available
ICU alumni are invited to visit "The Vatican Collections: The Papacy and Art" in Chicago, October 14-16. The Alumni Association is sponsoring a three-day tour that includes transportation via Amtrak, two nights’ accommodations at the Palmer House Hotel, a visit to the Art Institute, a three-hour bus tour of the city, two meals, insurance, taxes, and baggage handling. Cost is just $189 per person, based on double occupancy, or $249, single occupancy. For a free travel brochure, contact the Alumni Office.

WICR takes to the air waves
WICR, the FM radio station at Indiana Central University, increased power and became a full-stereo station on January 26.

Ed Roehling, WICR station manager, announces that, "We are now broadcasting from a thousand-foot tower owned by WRTV at 79th Street and Township Line Road. The height of this tower allows WICR to broadcast from Kokomo to Columbus and from New Castle to Greencastle in full stereo."

Last June, Indiana Central started work on the new WICR-FM stereo facilities in Buxton Hall. When facilities are completed, they will include radio production studios, control room, offices, news room and television production studio, all part of an expanded communications department at ICU. WICR's expansion is due to a generous grant from the Lilly Endowment.

The Fine Arts Society, a group of individuals supporting classical music in central Indiana, have now located their programming and their vast classical musical library at WICR's studios. Broadcasting on WICR at 88.7 on the FM dial, the society is on the air from 6 a.m. to 9 a.m. with light classical works. The Second Programme will air from 5:30 p.m. to midnight Monday through Saturday.

David Anderson, assistant professor of history, is a contributor to the recently published guide to American and Foreign Policy Since 1700, prepared under the auspices of the Society for Historians of American Foreign Relations. This thoroughly annotated bibliography is the first comprehensive guide to the study of American diplomacy to be published since 1935.

Dr. Al Brinson, associate professor of business administration, has been informed that his original Christmas Cantata, “Christmas Gifts,” is being financed by Cresendo Music in Dallas. The lyrics are written by Dr. Brinson and the arrangements are by Rick Powell of St. Petersburg, Florida. The first presentation of the cantata is to be in mid-April by a California church choir before several hundred ministers of music. The sound track is currently being taped in Alexandria with a 30-piece orchestra. It is hoped that albums, cassettes, music tracks, and printed music will be available by May.

Dr. Eliseo Delfin of the biology department spoke to the science club, Sigma Zeta, on “An Ecological Study of Sandfly Island, Everglades National Park, Florida,” in March. Dr. Delfin spent his sabbatical last fall collecting and identifying most of the insect groups on the island.

Alice R. Friman, associate professor of English, who is on sabbatical leave, has had her third collection of poetry, Reporting From Corinth, accepted for publication by Barnwood Press, Indiana. In addition, she has been granted March residency at the Dorland Mountain Arts Colony in Southern California, after giving readings of her work in February at Tri-State University in Angola, Indiana, and at Cornell University, Ithaca, New York.

Sylvia Henricks, staff assistant in the Krannert Memorial Library, has had an article published in the March issue of Indianapolis Magazine, entitled, “Guardian of the Guppy.” (You’ll have to buy a copy to find out what that’s all about.)

Dr. Perry Kea will join ICU in the fall as assistant professor of philosophy and religion, replacing Dr. Adolf Hansen, who has moved to Garrett Evangelical Theological Seminary as a vice president. Dr. Kea has a B.A. in religious studies from the University of South Carolina, an M.A. in religious studies from Vanderbilt University, and a Ph.D. in New Testament and Early Christianity from the University of Virginia, where he’s been a Dupont Fellow. Dr. Kea has teaching competencies in New Testament, Old Testament, and Greek.

Dr. Marga Meier, professor of languages, spoke on “Why Study Second Languages” to the Foreign Language Club at Ben Davis High School on January 25.

Alumni with homes away from homes

To be sure of receiving ICU mailings while at a summer or winter home, please: (1) send the Alumni Office your new address several weeks prior to your move to the temporary residence, and then (2), a few weeks prior to your return notify us to change our mailing records back. Since we have many alumni in this situation, it’s nearly impossible to keep track of all your comings and goings during the year. Thanks.

Senior Sandy Zehr, a pre-medicine major and WICR’s operations manager, seems satisfied with the first day of broadcasting, January 26. Alumni participating in the Return-and-Learn program look on. Three Indiana Central employees were elected to positions with Girls Clubs of Greater Indianapolis, Inc. at the annual meeting, Thursday, January 27. Dan J. NICOSON, director of development, will serve on the Nominating Committee of the Board of Directors. Erling Peterson, professor of English, will serve as vice president of the Advisory Council of the Fountain Square Branch. Becky Wykes, Placement Office, will serve on the Fountain Square Advisory Council.

Richard Ratliff, assistant professor of music, recently returned from a brief residency at the State University
Greyhound signs pact with Jets

Senior Bob Brewer ended almost two weeks of negotiations in February when he signed a professional football contract as a free agent with the New York Jets. He reports to the Jets' mini-camp for orientation in May. Brewer was the Greyhounds' Most Valuable Offensive Player in 1982. He had 73 receptions in four years as a starter for 1,078 yards and 12 touchdowns. He also earned All-Heartland Collegiate Conference recognition three times, and was All-HCC First Team in '82 as a tight end.

of New York at Plattsburgh. In addition to presenting a solo recital featuring works of Mozart, Kodaly, Ravel, Rochberg and Liszt, Dr. Ratliff provided private coaching and class instruction for area students and teachers.

Dr. Carl Stockton, academic dean, was elected to a three-year term on the Christ Church Cathedral vestry at the annual parish meeting in January. On March 22, Dr. Stockton spoke on the topic, "West Germany and the U.S.: What's Wrong with the Alliance?" as part of the Great Decisions Lecture Series at the International Center of Indianapolis.

Assistant director of admissions Terry L. Taylor met with Congressman Phil Sharp, Senator Richard Lugar, and Jim Wolfe, legislative director for Senator Dan Quayle, while at a national leadership conference of the National Association of College Admissions Counselors. Taylor is president of the NACAC.

Academic Dean Carl Stockton reports that Dr. Charlotte Templin's proposal, submitted under the guidelines of the Lilly Endowment's new program of Summer Stipends for the Preparation of New Courses, is among the 12 that will be funded by the Lilly Endowment. In all, 31 proposals were submitted by the community of Indiana four-year independent colleges and universities. ICU may expect to receive a formal contract and a check for $5,000 in May.

Illinois alumni to meet

Two meetings are scheduled in the next month for ICU alumni in Illinois. On Saturday, April 24, there will be a meeting of northwestern Illinois alumni at 1:15 p.m. in Polo, Ill. On Sunday, May 1, Chicago alumni will meet at 4 p.m. in the Second Presbyterian Church. If you inhabit Illinois, make it to one of these meetings!

Julia Tinsley, associate professor of business administration, has been elected chairperson of the Business Advisory Council of the Crossroads Rehabilitation Center's Computer Programmer Trainee project. She will assume her responsibilities in September. The project's goal is to recruit, train, and place severely disabled individuals in competitive positions within business and industry as entry level programmers. The Business Advisory Council (BAC) is comprised of volunteer business representatives, management executives and rehabilitation specialists dedicated to this goal.

Dave Wantz, assistant director of the Center for Continuing Education, has published an article in the current issue of Law and Order magazine. The article is entitled "Investigating Child Deaths: Sudden Infant Death Syndrome." In the article, he describes procedures to use that properly execute the duties of the police, and aid grieving parents in understanding their tragic loss. Dave served with the State Board of Health's Community Council on S.I.D.S.

Mrs. Florabelle Wilson, librarian, was a guest on two talk shows on February 13. Black Focus, Channel 8 at 8:30 a.m. and Views and Visions, Channel 4 at 8:30 p.m. The co-hosts of Views and Visions are Wilma Rudolph and Gilbert Taylor. Mrs. Wilson was also the program moderator of the Indiana Historical Society's National Women's History Week at the Indiana State Library on March 5 at 7:30 p.m.

Vice President Lynn Youngblood has been appointed to the Community Desegregation Advisory Council as the representative of Warren Township.

Gerald Zimmerman, assistant professor of biology, has accepted a request from Dr. Richard Blankenbaker, director of the Department of Public Safety, to serve on the Marion County Hazardous Materials Council. The purpose of the Council is to make recommendations for the purpose of preventing and responding to hazardous materials emergencies, such as the sulfuric acid spill on the east side of Indianapolis recently.

Indiana Central Receives Shell Assists Grants

ICU President Gene E. Sease has announced that Indiana Central has been selected by the Shell Companies Foundation to participate in the Shell Assists program. Shell Assists provide $2,000 donations to certain privately controlled colleges with well-established four-year undergraduate programs.

The purpose is to provide support for general institutional needs, to strengthen the faculty, and to help maintain a representative distribution of the student body.
