Plan to make ‘Memories’ at Alumni Weekend 1991

“Memories” will be our theme for this year’s Alumni Weekend, May 31, June 1 and 2, 1991. Mark your calendar now, because you won’t get your registration form until April.

Lots of activities are being planned. On Friday, May 31, we will again have a golf outing. A trip to Conner Prairie Farms on the bus is also being planned for Friday. The reunion class dinners will be Friday evening.

For all those people who loved the 50’s and 60’s we are offering a dance featuring the band Five Easy Pieces (see page 5). This group will play all your old favorites and some new ones too. Invite your classmates or friends and get your own table together. Drag out your ’50’s and ’60’s attire and come dressed and prepared to have fun. Even our soda shop, the Streets Corner, will be open.

On Saturday, we will have a picnic in the park with entertainment for children and all age groups. The Honors and Recognition Banquet will pay tribute to many of our alumni and provide the chance for you to renew acquaintances. The dinner is to be Saturday evening, June 1. Remember, we will offer activities for all ages!

Prepare to muster your cluster

We’re experimenting with a new concept for a “cluster” reunion for the 20-year reunion class of 1971. We are planning to invite the class members of 1969, 1970, 1972 and 1973. By inviting class members from a 5 year span, we hope to include your former teammates, friends and associates whom you spent time with here while a student. Spread the word to your friends!!

The following are the reunion classes for Alumni Weekend:

Attention Phoenix Area sun lovers

Mark your calendar for Tuesday, March 26, 1991. President and Mrs. Lantz will be hosting a dinner in Phoenix that Arizona alums will be hearing more about early in 1991.

Polar Bear Run right around the corner

Mark your calendar now for February 9, when the 1991 Polar Bear Run will bring approximately 2,000 runners and walkers from surrounding counties and states to the U of I campus. Volunteers from the U of I community, including family members of staff, will be needed for this annual special event. Volunteer sign-up information will be available in January.

University dedicates law library of Sherwood and Janet Blue

The University of Indianapolis recently dedicated the private law collection of longtime attorney Sherwood Blue and his wife, Janet Roberts Blue, who have chosen Krannert Memorial Library as the new home of their valuable professional library.

The ceremony was attended by trustees, faculty, students, staff, alumni, interested members of the community, and friends of the Blues. President G. Benjamin Lantz Jr. praised the Blues—partners in law as well as in marriage—for their "living testimony" in helping young people advance their educations.

Sherwood Blue was Marion County prosecutor from 1941-47 and later served as private counsel for such distinguished families as the Ransburgs and the Krannerts. Janet Roberts Blue is commissioner for the Indiana Court of Appeals and is listed in Who’s Who of American Women.

Two major bequests leave nearly half-million dollars to university

The University of Indianapolis in just one week became the residual beneficiary of two separate major bequests totaling over $440,000. The first is an unrestricted gift of approximately $218,000 from the estates of Rollo and Mary C. Hester of Indianapolis.

The second bequest comes from the estates of Paul F. and Jean Hirst of Rockford, Illinois, and exceeds $220,000. The gift is restricted for use as scholarships for deserving students who need financial assistance.

In announcing the bequests, university president G. Benjamin Lantz Jr. expressed gratitude for the “loyalty and affection held by generous friends who have long recognized the integrity of our institution.”

Both of the couples who left these bequests were longtime friends of the University of Indianapolis. Mr. and Mrs. Hirst, in addition, were former students at the university, Paul having attended in 1932, and Jean, his wife, having earned her bachelor of arts degree in music in 1931.
Parents Day '90—what happened; Parents Day '91—what's happening

A Halloween theme prevailed as over 300 parents participated in our fall Parents Day program. Indianapolis Student Government and the Office of Alumni and Parent Relations sponsored the Parents Day on Saturday, October 27, 1990. The Parents Council met early that day and gained insight into various campus areas and departments. The program consisted of a brief information session, remarks by Dr. Lantz, a panel with student representatives and Deans. The entertainment was by Crimson Express.

Students and parents enjoyed lunch and then the varsity football game in Key Stadium. A pizza buffet in Schwitzer followed the game. The following officers were elected for the Parents Association Council:

- President: James Dunwell, Warsaw, IN
- Vice President: John Coldren, Portland, IN
- Secretary/Treasurer: Paula Shepherd, Rushville, IN

These individuals are your parent representatives.

Saturday, February 16, 1991, is the date to mark for our next Parents Day on campus. It will include a reception, association meeting, the play The Shadow Box, enrichment sessions, dinner, and varsity basketball games. A mailer outlining the days' events should have already reached you. If not, contact the Alumni/Parent Relations office to receive your copy or to make reservations.

Lugar Day brings top high school juniors to campus

Several hundred of Indiana's top high school juniors visited the U of I campus for the 14th annual leadership symposium in December. The event is sponsored by U.S. Senator Richard G. Lugar, a long-time trustee and former faculty member. Sen. Lugar addressed the assembly—in what is considered by associates to be his "most significant" speech each year—in Nicoson Hall, then posed for photos with each county's representatives. Students attended afternoon sessions on national topics of current interest and attended a U of I InfoFair.

Even men welcome as Women Aware Series takes look at Europe

The second set of classes will be on Tuesdays, February 26—April 2, 1991.

The first class is 10 a.m.—11:45 a.m.: Scandinavian Legends and Myths, taught by Dr. Erling Peterson, retired U of I English professor.

The second class is 12:30-2:15 p.m.: Europe: A Cultural Kaleidoscope with instructor Dr. Mary Beth Bagg, assistant professor of German.

To register by phone, call Kaye C. Auerbach in the Center for Continuing Education at (317) 788-3271. The fee is $35 for each course. If you would like to be included on the mailing list for other class offerings from Continuing Education, simply call 788-3271.

While on campus for the annual leadership symposium, Senator Richard Lugar answered questions for the media.

The senator also addressed the hundreds of high school juniors who were attending the symposium. The students gathered in Nicoson Hall to hear Sen. Lugar's comments. Photos: Greg Smith.

Art/Continuing Education plan fascinating summer excursion to emerging nations of Eastern Europe

Do you find travel both enjoyable and educational?

The University of Indianapolis is committed to the benefits of international travel as a significant aspect of lifelong learning. The Center for Continuing Education and the Art Department at the U of I are pleased to conduct a tour from Berlin to Munich through Czechoslovakia, Hungary, and Austria, with stops in Prague, Budapest, and Vienna, promising you 14 days of varied and vivid experiences.

Dee Schaad, professor of art, and Ken Partridge, director of Continuing Education, will be your hosts. Both are experienced world travelers and Dee has led a number of successful tours of Europe. This trip is packed with activities not normally included in economy tours, and you will receive great value for your dollar. This should prove to be a popular trip and facilities in Eastern block countries are limited; therefore, early enrollment is necessary.

For the low price of $2,270 (based on an air fare of $850), the following will be included:

- Air-conditioned motor coach and multi-lingual guide
- Berlin, the remains of the Berlin Wall, the Brandenburg Gate, the Reichstag, the Hansa Quarter, and the Olympic stadium
- Guided tours of Berlin, Prague, Budapest, Vienna, and Munich
- World-famous Pergamon Museum in East Berlin
- The Egyptian Museum
- Prague, Czechoslovakia, and its thousand years of history, spanning Gothic, Renaissance, Baroque, and Neo-Renaissance architectural periods, the old town, Prague Castle, and St. Vitus Cathedral
- Budapest and the beautiful Danube River, the National Gallery in Buda Castle, Matthias Church, and Castle Hill
- In Vienna, the State Chambers of magnificent Schoenbrunn Palace, the Opera House, the Hohermarkt and Emperor Franz Joseph’s Hofburg Palace
- The Munich Opera House, the Marienplatz, Nymphenburg Palace, and the Olympic grounds.

For example, you might want to:
- Take an optional tour to Dachau
- Take a boat excursion on the Danube
- Attend an Opera in Vienna
- Enjoy an evening of dining and entertainment at the Hofbrauhaus
- Tour a traditional German brewery

Payment Schedule: $250 with enrollment by February 15, 1991; $750 by April 1, 1991; balance due May 1, 1991. Later enrollments will be considered on a space-available basis subject to an additional fee.

You may earn up to 3 semester hours of graduate credit in either art or history. Additional costs are based on the per-credit-hour summer tuition rate, plus registration fee.

Some participants may wish to precede the group or extend their stay. Every effort will be made to assist tour members who require deviations in air and/or land arrangements for a $50-per-person service charge. This must be done by the April 1 deadline.

Group size is limited in order to serve individual interests, and due to possible circumstances beyond our control, this itinerary may be subject to change. Unexpected currency changes could affect the final cost.

This tour will be exciting for the general interest traveler as well as those specifically interested in art or history.

For more information, call the Center for Continuing Education at (317) 788-3353.
Basketball alumni return to the court for roundball reunion

A blossoming tradition continued with the third annual Women's Basketball Game on Saturday, December 8 in Nicoson Hall. With lots of fans present, the gray team won as the buzzer went off with a last-second shot by Lisa Hardin '88. The final score was 51-50. Alumnus Bob Tremain '73 served as announcer for the game. Following the game, our basketball alumnae enjoyed a pizza buffet with the current Lady Greyhound team.

Then on January 12 (after the Alumni News had gone to press, unfortunately), our men's alumni teams paired off under Joe Burnell '83, Kevin Merriweather '84, and Sports Information Director Joe Gentry's assistance. They followed their game up with a pizza buffet prior to the St. Joe game.

Greyhounds earn championships, academic honors

The men's golf team has won an unprecedented fourth straight Great Lakes Valley Conference championship. Coach Ken Partridge was selected GLVC Coach of the Year for the fourth straight time and fifth time overall! The Hounds compiled an impressive 80-17 fall record, earning them a #13 ranking in the NCAA Division II poll. The golfers will shoot for their third straight trip to the NCAA II Nationals this spring.

The women's tennis team won its second GLVC crown in three seasons with an outstanding team effort. All-conference performers for U of I were Cyndi Heaton, Amy Potts, Traci Griffith, and Kathy Redmond.

U of I is in second place of 10 teams in the GLVC All-Sports Trophy race after the fall sports season. Conference championships in men's golf and women's tennis and a school-best runner-up finish in women's cross country helped U of I to its lofty standing. The soccer team finished third in the conference regular season standings with an 8-4-2 mark, the second-best season in school history!

U of I placed a conference-high 21 student-athletes on the GLVC All-Academic Team for fall sports. These student-athletes must have a 3.0 cumulative GPA or a 3.2 average the past two semesters, and be a starter or important reserve. The men's golf team posted an outstanding 3.442 GPA!

U of I athletes on the academic honor squad are: Leah Ann Adams, Paige Balka, Kyle Brunnemer, Todd Clark, Michelle Faulkner, Jenny Field, Chellie Gardner, Bill Goble, Traci Griffith, Eric Hunsaker, Ismail lyisoziy, Chris Johnson, Joseph Joseph, Chris Lagoni, Kristy McDaniel, Mike Mozingo, Amy Potts, Scott Richardson, Ronda Smith, Sam Thompson, and Bill Uecker.

Hoffman was one of three Greyhound gridders to earn Midwest Intercollegiate Football Conference All-Academic Team honors. Senior Jeff Mitchell and junior Troy Smith joined Hoffman on the honor squad.

Senior free safety Kenny Helmuth finished ninth in NCAA II in interceptions this season. He finished his career with 17 Interceptions, #2 on the school all-time list behind NCAA leader Tom Collins (1982-85), who had 37. Helmuth and junior nose tackle Greg Mathies earned All-MIFC 1st-team honors.

The Greyhound men's basketball team is off to a quick 7-2 start this season. In early January, Coach Bill Green's hoopers earned U of I's 900th victory since basketball competition began in 1922-23. The Greyhounds are 10th in NCAA II in all-time victories with a 899-614 record (.594) in 65 seasons!

Jim Tonte, 27-year-old senior, made a triumphant return to U of I wrestling by winning his first two tournaments. Tonte, a 1985 graduate, returned to campus this year to earn his teaching certification.

Tonte was a standout wrestler for the Greyhounds in 1982-83, qualifying for the NCAA II Nationals. Knee injuries made his next two seasons short and painful, and surgery caused him to miss his senior season completely.

The former assistant coach at Tri-West and Ben Davis High Schools overcame the six-year layoff to win the Indiana Little State Meet and the MacMurray Invitational to open the season 8-0. The resilient Greyhound also received an invitation to the prestigious Midlands Invitational at Northwestern.

The U of I men's and women's swimming teams are off to another record-breaking season. After training in Fort Lauderdale, Florida, over Christmas break, both squads are hoping to qualify many swimmers for the NCAA II Nationals.

We have a sister in Tunghai University, Taiwan

U of I and Tunghai University have signed an agreement to promote "educational exchange and cooperation" between the two schools.

U of I President G. Benjamin Lantz Jr. attended the November 15 signing in Taiwan. President Ko-wang Mel signed for Tunghai University.

The exchange will be in the humanities, sciences, technology, the social sciences, communications, and management. The program will involve professors, visiting scholars, administrative staff, educational materials, and cooperative projects.

Four U of I alumni are teaching at Tunghai: Dr. and Mrs. Paul Alexander '49, Peter Chen '78, and Sung-Ling Lin '80. Also, U of I professor Phyllis Lan Lin is a 1966 graduate of Tunghai.

Me and my shadow: inner-city students visit campus

As part of U of I's Partners in Education project with Emma Donnan Junior High, 10 kids from the inner-city school visited last fall for "Shadow Day" activities. Each was assigned to shadow a U of I student all morning.

The day included visits to classes and dorms, lunch, free time on campus, and a session with Paul Washington-Lacey, director of Student Development and Retention, about preparing for acceptance into college.

SAA Helping Hands help to warm fingers and toes

The Student Alumni Association (SAA) sponsored a contest last semester between residence halls to collect new mittens, gloves, and socks for underprivileged children. A "helping hand" in each hall was used to collect the items, which were delivered (with the help of University Heights United Methodist Church) to underprivileged children in the Indianapolis Public School system. This group is working hard to assist our Alumni Association with events and to establish themselves on campus. Give them your support!

Alumni Association to consider U of I Professional Directory

You move to a new part of the country. You need a dentist, realtor, lawyer or tutor. Wouldn't it be nice to have a "familiar" face? Someone with Hoosier connections? Someone like a former classmate from the University of Indianapolis? The answer: the new University of Indianapolis Professional Directory.

The University of Indianapolis and the Alumni Association are considering the establishment of a Professional Directory for Alumni of the University of Indianapolis. The Directory would be distributed to 14,000 University of Indianapolis Alumni all over the country. The Directory would list individuals by profession and location.

This Professional Directory is in the early stages of consideration. Therefore, we need your input. Please take 60 seconds to complete this brief questionnaire, and return it to: Office of Alumni Relations, University of Indianapolis, 1400 East Hanna Avenue, Indianapolis, IN 46227-3697.

☐ Yes, I would be interested in advertising in a U/I Professional Directory.

☐ No, I would not be interested in a Professional Directory.

Association reflects on busy year, plans for new one

The University of Indianapolis Alumni Association had another busy and active year as more than 3,000 alumni participated in some 50 events in several states, according to Alumni/Parent Relations director Barbara Helfner Russell.

The association wants to do even better in '91, so encourage other alumni and friends to participate in as many activities as possible! Yes, we send invitations and information to all alumni, but a personal phone call really helps people get involved. Make the effort this year to let others know what a great time they will have at alumni and parent events.

The year's most popular events, Russell noted, were the annual Alumni Weekend, After-Tax Bash, Homecoming, and the first-ever Crimson-and Grey Day. If you had to miss any of these events, mark your calendar now for 1991. Record crowds turned out for the various reunions and events, but we want to be sure you are included in the new year!

Best wishes for a great 1991 from your alumni director and the University of Indianapolis Alumni Board!

By the way, your Alumni Office's records are only as good as the information you provide. Please check to make sure we have the most up-to-date information. Are your mailings going to your parents' house? Are you married to a U of I grad and receiving double mailings? Have we included your important events in the Alumni News? If it's time for an update, please fill out the form below (and while you're at it, fill out the form on page 11, too!), and attach any items for the Alumni News.
