WELCOME FRESHMEN

OUR NEW DORM

Through the perseverance of President Good our college has added four new buildings to our campus in the last three years. The one which was built this summer accommodates boys, because the girls have Residence Hall and Daily Hall in which to live.

The new building is a three story structure made of venedic brick and on the same plan as the other two. The grouping of the buildings make the peculiar part of a good plan has been laid out and in the future many will see why such is the case now.

The interior of the building has been planned and the work well executed. The rough work was done in an excellent manner which was followed by a finish very agreeable to all. The hardwood floors are an attraction to the ones who inhabit the place and the ones who clean it. Each door is large enough to house two or three boys. The furniture may not be mahogany or any other expensive material but when it is made of good solid material the place is safer for boys. I do not mean that boys are intentionally worse than the other sex but they have more latent energy which must come out in some fashion. Thus President Good has deemed it necessary to buy the hardest wood possible for the furniture. The spacious halls on each floor are made so that self-transportation may be more easily accomplished. Often I have heard that water fights and other battles of different types have occurred in the halls of the other buildings. Such activity is fine sport and good exercise, but it is rather destructive. The author is not guilty but show him the man who would refrain on all occasions that we can have fun and yet remain within the limits of reason.

This new dorm is a very valuable asset to our college and to us. We must never forget that this building as well as the rest was built by the sacrifices of our United Brethren people and by the work of our president and board of directors. We can never appreciate the structure too much in accordance with the work which has been done by all.

LARGER STAFF IS IN KEEPING WITH POLICY OF EXPANSION.

In accordance with its program of expansion, Indiana Central has added several to its faculty for this year. The faculty can be considered as one of the best college faculties in the state.

Professor Hemley who takes charge of the French department has the unique distinction of having been born of French parents in Jerusalem and living there for twelve years, then residing in France until his college days. When he went to English College, where he graduated in 1919 and became assistant professor in French, and for one year had full charge of the French instruction. For two years he has again been back in Europe and the Near East, where he has been doing research work and writing for the Associated Press. We are assured of his unusual ability as a French teacher and believe his department will grow rapidly. His ability to use Russian, Arabic and the Aramaic languages fluently is calculated to encourage us to think that we can master the four languages which is to be taught.

Professor Marie Kellogg graduated at Baylor College and has pursued the study and teaching of music in several conservatories and colleges for a number of her years. Her experience in other college positions in which her work has won the highest commendation is sufficient to guarantee that her work in voice instruction and piano will be thorough and satisfactory. The chorus will still continue its splendid work as before and why not have a quartet or glee club, or both?

Professor Lois Brown Dossert is a graduate of DePauw University and has unusually high recommendations from that institution. Her experience in the public schools of Greencastle as music teacher and as assistant in DePauw and instructor in Northwestern University is sufficient to show that the piano instruction will be of the highest quality and that she will do her part to build up the music department. The orchestra and bands will still prosper and grow.

Great things are to be expected from the music department now that a start has been made on separate quarters for that department and since there are two strong teachers to give the instruction, the one in voice equally strong in piano and the one teaching percussion. (Continued on Page 4)

Record Attendance Expected as New Term Opens.

With more than three hundred already enrolled this year promises to be the greatest in the history of the college. We welcome the Freshmen, whose presence makes this remarkable increase in attendance possible. We have looked over closely and have come to the conclusion that in most respects they are typical.

After deciding that our Freshmen were of the ordinary variety we followed along a line of deductive reasoning which led us to the following predictions:

All will ask many and diverse questions concerning many and diverse things.

Some will persist in getting into the wrong classroom.

Some will forget to go to class.

Some will be able to point out the proper method of doing everything.

Some of us even accomplish their purpose in coming to college by falling in love.

Some will have a few more things to learn.

As time goes on we will like them more and more and be gladder and gladder they are here.

Welcome Freshmen.

Coach George is Victim of Cupid

Disaster in its worst form overtook one of the most highly esteemed members of the faculty at the end of the spring term. Our beloved coach, J. W. George, was afflicted in a very peculiar way and his actions caused some anxiety among his friends. It was never supposed that he would fall a victim to a descendant of Eve. They were, however, too optimistic concerning the state of his mental health, and before they could learn about and take steps to prevent his impending doom, it was too late. He had fallen a martyr to the wiles of a woman.

The fall of our beloved coach was complete. Only two days after his return he was seen going to the city carrying a market basket. Thus do the careers of great men end. For every Napoleon there is a Waterloo.

Additions to Our Faculty Announced

Blackburn-McCon Wedding Is Solemnized

The marriage of Miss Edith McCoy, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. D. P. McCoy, to Prof. Glenn Arthur Blackburn, the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Blackburn, took place on the morning of August 16th at Cammin Hall, the home of the bride, with the bride's father officiating. The living room was decorated with garden flowers. Before the ceremony Miss Edith Jones sang "O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly." Mr. E. M. Blackburn played Lohengrin Wedding March for the entrance of the bridal party and Mendelssohn Wedding March after the ceremony. Miss Ruth McCoy was maid of honor and wore a blue georgette dress and a corsage of pink roses.

The bride was beautiful in a gown of white silk crepe and tulle veil, arranged in a cap shape. She carried an arm bouquet of cream roses. Mr. R. H. Blackburn was the groom's best man. Following the ceremony breakfast was served on the porch which was screened with greenery and decorated with flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Blackburn left immediately for a trip through Wisconsin. They will be at home after Oct. 1st at their new home on Castle avenue, University Heights.

EDITORIALS

OUR PAPER.

At the opening of the new school year the members of the editorial staff wish to extend the most hearty welcome to the new and returning students and faculty.

We earnestly solicit your co-operation and support for our school paper and hope we will be able to make it of interest to you. We are striving to make our paper clean and helpful as well as interesting. We will be unable to do so without the wholehearted cooperation of our readers. If you have helpful suggestions let us hear them and should we not be able to hold to our standards and have each paper of equal interest do not knock, but boast.

We bring our best wishes to all for a successful school year and trust that you will grasp every opportunity to help as well as be helped.

ORGANIZATIONS.

Do you know that we have at I. C. C., one of the best Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. in the state of Indiana and that you will do well to associate yourself with one of these organizations very early in your school year. There is no time in the life of a young man or woman when they need Christian association as much as when they are away from home for the first time. Listen for the first announcements and be ready to take part in one of the organizations.

Y. M. C. A.

The Young Men's Christian Association invites all men students to attend its weekly meetings in the association room on Wednesday at 6:15 p. m. This is the student organization which seeks to relate the student activities to the Christian principles of living. The programs are varied; short talks by prominent men from all professions are given at different times, and topics of vital interest to college men are discussed. The Y. M. C. A. needs you and you need the Y. M. C. A.

HERCHEL LIECHTLY.

The first meeting of the Y. M. C. A. will be Wednesday evening at 6:15.

A get-acquainted meeting will be the nature of the occasion, with lots of fun in store for all.

Every man and FRISHERMAN in school is welcomed and cordially invited to come and meet his fellow students.

A STAG SOCIAL WILL FOLLOW.

Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. are making plans whereby each new girl coming to I. C. C. will be given a big sister in the person of some girl in the Junior or Senior classes. It is the purpose of the big sisters to advise the new girls along whatever line that they may need assistance. Announcements will be made early in the week concerning the Y. W. C. A.

ALUMNI NEWS.

E. W. Emery will be in Indiana University, where he will work on his master's degree.

I. M. Blackburn will go to Indiana University, where he will take a course in Greek and Latin.

H. R. Mathias will teach at Tyner, Ind., where he is principal of the township high school.

Helen Roberts will assist H. R. Matlock in the high school at Tyner, Ind.

Julia McFarland will teach school near her home at Lafayette, Ind.

David Manly will attend the State University of Pennsylvania, where he will do work on a master's degree.

He left Indianapolis with Nellie Calhoun during the summer vacation. He reports a very good time.

From the number of F's given the last term the alumni ought to rejoice, as they have no more examinations to take.

E. T. Leyman will attend Indiana University, where he will work on a master's degree in education.

Ruth Karstedt Munaw will teach at Southport, Ind.

O. H. Rose will teach at Inwood. This will be Mr. Rose's second year at Inwood and speaks well of him as a teacher. It has been unofficially announced to us that a boy named Stanley Edward was born to Mr. and Mrs. Rose on August 29.

Alta Lena Smokey will be the principal of the University Heights public school this year.

CONDENSED, BUT CLEAR.

A message from the railroad section foreman to the roundmaster said: "No, 6 did not whistle. Send me a new hand car."

I can't keep this up much longer, said the frail shoulder strap on the evening gown.

Ashes to ashes,
Dust to dust;
This poem doesn't say
What you thought it would.

TRUTHFULNESS

Truthfulness is one of the most cardinal of the cardinal virtues. Without it no one can assume to possess any real strength of character. Since this is true, it is highly desirable to disseminate the gospel of truth among the people of the nation. Such an end may be best accomplished by instilling its great principles into the hearts and minds of the nation's leaders; for if these people, who are to guide the masses, enter upon their service imbued with high ideals of integrity and honesty the public would not but benefit from their example. It is for the purpose of training the nation's future leaders in the ways of truthfulness that we initiate the second Truth Contest of Indiana Central College.

Even the most optimistic of persons could scarcely term the first annual Truth Contest a success. It is not to be denied that several stories did appear, but persons whose names were attached thereto had, in many cases, no connection whatever, with the essay. Had not the Truth Contest editor been such a one—truthful man the possibility of such a thing had been considered even by him, then the essay of the Rev. Roy V. Davis submitted an essay containing such obvious discrepancies that it must be said that some of the participants failed to grasp the real significance of the whole affair. It will be remembered, with pain, that in his mercenary desire to win a prize, the Rev. Roy V. Davis submitted an essay containing such obvious discrepancies that it was necessary to reject it as untrue. It will be remembered further, and with further pain, that of the three judges appointed to pick the winner, two, namely the Rev. Cleon Turner and the Rev. J. Henry Osborne, showed so little public spirit as to resign, leaving the decision to the judge, Miss Alice McAllister, to render the decision. It is hoped that this year's Contest will see a better spirit of co-operation among the future leaders of the nation.

Mr. Isaac Stewart was the winner of last year's Contest. We wish to say in defense of Mr. Stewart that he was winner on the merits of his production and not because the judges were biased. This statement is made to refute certain scandalous rumors that are afloat.

The Contest will last two months. The names of the judges will be announced later. The winner will receive a loving cup. Below will be found two stories that have already been submitted, and also last year's prize winner.

While driving my car along a road in Brown county last June I was suddenly struck by a man dropped into the middle of the road in front of my car. Apparently he came from the clouds. Instantly I put on the brakes and avoided running over the farmer who sat up and stared about in a dazed manner.

"For goodness sake, man," I cried, "where did you come from and how did you get here?"

"Wal," replied the farmer, shifting his tobacco, "I'll be durned if that ain't the third time I've fell out of that farm fence now."—W. E. STONEBURNER.

While I was on my honeymoon in the state of Wisconsin I had the rare privilege of taking part in a gazoo hunt. The gazoo is a very rare bird and is exceedingly hard to kill. It is a fierce fighter and is affected by explosive bullets only. Mine was the third gazoo ever killed. My method of attack was so unique that at last I have decided to yield to the urgent requests of my friends that I publish an authoritative statement describing it. My first care was to arm myself with a 12-gauge, a call of "Galloper," and a 20-pound weight. By means of the toothpick I dug a hole ninety miles deep and at an angle of forty-five degrees. Then I dug straight up for a distance of one hundred ten miles. This procedure always brings the hunter to a gazoo tree. Climbing the tree I found my gazoo on the third bough on the right side. Creeping up on the bird, who was locked in the arms of Morpheus, I tied the twenty pound weight on one end of the rope and made a slipknot in the other. By means of the slipknot I made the weight fast in the tail of the unsuspecting bird. The effect of the weight was to stretch the skin of the gazoo in such a manner as to hold his eyes permanently open. At last, being unable to get any sleep, he died from fatigue.―PROF. G. A. BLACKBURN.

Last Year's Prize Winner.
When I was in the army I was taken on a march which led through a country badly infested with snakes. As we were marching along we suddenly came upon two snakes which were fighting. Each had hold of the other's tail and was attempting to swallow his adversary. We halted and watched the fight. At the end of five minutes both snakes had disappeared.―KEY STEWART.

One botterking for publicity prefers to be misquoted. Then he can be misquoted again in explaining that he didn't say what he said.―Pittsburgh Gazette-Times.

WORK ON ADMINISTRATION BUILDING.

To relieve the crowded conditions of the class rooms it has been seen fit by the board of trustees to do extensive remodeling of the basement and attic of the administration building. To make room for classes and committees it has been necessary to move the book store and post office to the basement room provided and equipped for that purpose. The Hunt Bros. will work by the aid of electric lights.

The analytical laboratory has been enlarged so as to accommodate a large number of students. All practice plans will be removed from the first and second floors and taken to the third floor. The roofs of the south and north wings of the building have been raised and large sliding windows placed in such a manner as to provide twelve fine practice rooms.

Water! Water! Yes, we will have water on the third floor. Three huge supply tanks have been installed with sufficient pressure to supply water in abundance to the biggest rooms. These tanks are in a separate building east of the administration building.

Then, too, we are going to keep warm for the old boiler that was installed when the school was first organized will be removed and a new boiler of sufficient capacity is to be installed.

"Eat! Yes, that has been changed. From now on we will eat in Dally Memorial, where new stoves of the latest model have been installed. They are of sufficient size to do all the cooking necessary. Besides the stoves there is a new electric dish washer. Plenty to eat, ten place to sleep, plenty of water to share, and all the heat you want. What more is to be desired?"

Charlotte Borkert is teaching in Tampa, Fla., this winter. George Flaherty is thinking of moving to a southern climate.―R. H. Bishop, official court fool, will arrive one week late as usual.

Claus Terley underwent an operation for appendicitis in July.

Howard Ulsh has been working as a section hand and a hello girl this summer. He reports great financial gain.

SEVERAL BASKET BALL GAMES SCHEDULED.

Basket ball fans will be pleased to hear of the excellent schedule arranged by the coach. Games have already been arranged for with North Manchester, Central Normal, Indiana Deaf School, Evansville, Huntington, College of Pharmacy, and Galion, a public school. Several of these schools before and now to what we expect. We have a count to even with both Huntington and North Manchester. We are not peaceable, but we expect not to lose any games. In spite of the heavier schedule he hopes to win a greater percentage of games than last year.

It takes more than a coach and a squad of players to make a basketball team, or any kind of team. We can not hope for the slightest degree of success without the support of every student. Every one should be at every game. This exception is made. If you want to root for the home team through the entire game or if you expect to give them 'the razz when they seem to be about to emerge from the end of the floor, your room is more desirable than your presence. Let's all support basketball. If you can play, play; if you can yell, yell.

NEW EQUIPMENT IN BIOLOGY LAB.

Recent purchases of equipment have brought about a great improvement in the biology laboratory. Its capacity has been increased from 24 to 40 students. This has involved the purchase of several new microscopes and four specially constructed tables. In addition to this there have been purchased several models for use by the biology and the Embryology classes and an opaque projection lantern. Indiana Central is recognized as having a Biology laboratory second to none.

FOOTBALL TEAM TO BE ORGANIZED.

Indiana Central is to have its first football team this fall. After having showed his mettle as a basket ball coach, Johnny George has decided to show his further ability in getting together a rattle ting good football team. We see no reason why the size of the Freshmen combined with the brains of the upper classmen should not make a most formidable aggregation. Building up a football team is not a matter of a few weeks' practice but rather is a matter of several seasons. We may not draw 300 points this year, but we are willing to bet that we have some scalps nailed to the door post before the season is over.

Those expecting to go out for football will meet at the gym at 4 o'clock Friday. They should be at least 150 pounds. If you don't weigh 150 pounds you may have some brains, and they always come in handy on a football team.

ADDITIONS TO OUR FACULTY

Immediately for the organization of two more which should rival the two existing societies in high standards and conduct.

Students who were in dormitories previously know that the conduct there depends on those who live there. There should be such rules and such adhering to rules of conduct in the halls that the halls may be home-like and conducive to the best student life and it will be as if the students were in several halls determined to have it so. This same thing may be said of the whole college life. The students will determine by their conduct whether this shall be the best year. The constituency is interested and the management is doing its best to make conditions most favorable for the students. The new dormitory, the additions to the water system, the additions to the music rooms for the music department, the new boilers and other equipment that has just been added is an indication of the desire to provide the best facilities possible. Other things are to be done, such as building of other buildings, the beautifying of the grounds by planting trees and shrubs, putting down drives and walks and extension of certain facilities as rapidly as may be done.

Indiana Central has splendid traditions. She has excellent possibilities for the future and everything to inspire us. For making the year 1923-24 the best in the history of the college we can also prove that the student body and the teaching force are at least as good as the best of all the years. Let's hope and try.
