NEW MEN’S RESIDENCE IS MODEL BUILDING

Parents and Friends of Students Are Invited to Dedication Exercises.

For the last two years and a half there has been such a succession of new buildings at Indiana Central College that we have hardly had time to let the dedication of the one pass from our minds before another dedication was on hand. Two years ago Residence Hall was dedicated in the presence of many visitors. Last year, again there was a Homecoming, and Bailey Memorial was dedicated. Now on Thursday, October 25th, will be another memorable day in the history of our college because on that day the Men’s Hall will be dedicated with many friends of the college, in attendance.

The Men’s Hall is the largest of the three and affords an nearly ideal conditions for college men as can be found in the Central States. It is a brick veneer building 146 feet by 45 feet with rooms for 115 men. It has also a reading room and ample toilet facilities on each of the three floors; an office on the first floor, a shower room in the basement, besides four large rooms for student organizations. It has hardwood floors, steam heat and is well lighted. Each room has one or two close rooms for the use of its occupants.

In spite of the fact that the picture of the building made by the architect does not show any trees, the building itself is surrounded by some magnificent oaks and other trees. It faces both north toward the main campus and south on Russell avenue, standing lengthwise east and west. Grading of the ground and graveling of the walks and drives are on the program for immediate accomplishment. The heat line extending from the boilers to the gymnasium has been enlarged and extended to the new Hall.

The members of the United Brethren church in Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin can justly Join with us here in being proud of this new building at Indiana Central College. On Thursday, October 25th, at 1:30.

Our Advertisers.

The people who advertise in our columns can have only two motives in view: one to help the Reflector and another to get personal gain by advertising their business in this paper. If a man in business is willing to help us then we can help him. In return, patronizing his place of business, whenever possible. The staff of this paper wishes to call the students’ attention to our advertisers. Let’s show our appreciation.

Organized Class Scrap.

Whenever any unorganized body of students tries to break up an organized body, there is nothing but condemnation for such action. However, every true, red-blooded “he” man likes a contest, a scrap, if you please. However, every true, red-blooded “he” man likes to get the proper rules and regulations we can see no objections. May we here present some ways in which such a spirit of wholesome rivalry may have an opportunity to man.

PHILOMUSIAN NEWS.

Fall term, third session. Philomusians believing that “breath is the soul of wit,” made this a very witty session. C. E. Leichly gave a timely production on “The Requirements of the 1923 Teachers’ License Law,” by H. B. Williams, now the author of the famous “Academy Log.” It was accepted and the relationship of the order. We are glad to welcome him and we are sure he will make a good Philomusian.

If the old saying be true that the first impressions are always lasting, O. F. Armament and C. C. Parks made a lasting good impression. The former discussed the subject, “Why I joined Philomusian” the latter reviewed a timely masculine article.

Fall term, fourth session: A critique on “The Social Status” was presented in a forceful way by H. G. Fisher. An able discussion on dancing and card playing was embodied in the paper. Classpranks on the same order were recommended. This may have given rise to the stunt last Wednesday night.

W. H. Ush had very effectively the biography of our late President.

Our distinguished sophomore student, Ross Harper Bishop, was elected as the next President of Philomusian.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Painter of Detroit, Mich., were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Marshall and family Sunday evening.

Mrs. L. H. Crandell, Mrs. Dorothy Hanus and sons, Gordon of Louisville, Ky., visited Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Karstet Saturday.

Watch for the Fall Carnival.

DEDICATION OF DORMITORY

p.m., the new hall will be dedicated and we are all hoping that parents and friends of the students, besides many pastors who can come with representative members from the churches, will be here to see the best. The program in the afternoon will include some great speakers. In the evening students and the conference superintendents and others of the co-operating conferences will be it. It will be a great occasion. Let it be a regular and general home-coming for friends of I. C. C.

TIB-RICKERS

When Doctor Long looks to the collection basket on Sunday morning, he is constrained to say with the apostle, “Alexander, the Copper Smith did me a much evil.”

“I said, big brother Hershel Leichly, ‘consider Xenophons Anabasis the most enthrancing novel I have ever— ‘Sure,’ broke in Aregost, (not wishing to be thought boasting), ‘I have never stayed there myself, but I have heard that the meals, they serve were heart-breaking.”

Scoutmaster Hunt was reviewing Karl K. Parson on the Friendship Merit badge. “Now Karl,” he said, “suppose the crowd had congregated in front of a burning building; how would you go about dispersing them?” “I’d pass a hat,” sir,” replied Karl.

“Men,” says the coach, “our big game comes tomorrow. Every man must be fit, hard as nails.” “Coach,” yells the swaggering full- back, “that’s me all over. I eat nails every day—for dinner.”

The coach cast him a depressing glance, then asked politely, “The catch variety?”

We note with pride that our student pastors use modern up-to-date methods in their churches. One of the most aggressive of these progressive ministers is Chas. W. Leeder. Among other things, Charles tries to emphasize the social side of church work. In accordance with this policy, our Leader was one time taking a Sunday school class of young boys on a picnic to the creek, when he was accosted by a garrulous farmer.

“Quit a hahin’, son?” asked the friendly old lady.

“Sir,” replied Leader, drawing himself to the full height of his ministerial dignity, “I am a Baptist of men.”

The farmer surveyed the bony of country basies; “Boy, he chuckled, “you sure got the right bait.”

A certain American tourist in Quebec had imbued too much Canadian medicine. He was staggering down the street one night when he passed a burning house and in the close proximity of a church. His raving eyes focused on the statue of the twelve apostles in the church. Waving his hat, he rushed into the street, and shouted: “Don’t jump, boys, they’re be here with the nets in a second.”

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Litteral were the guests of Mildred Washburn Sunday.

Stop, look! listen! Sophomore collegian White and White. Now, Freshy, freshy, dont e'er you, y’ll be a Sophomore by and by.

The Sophomores have pledged their loyalty to their class, so watch them step.

BASKET BALL LOOKS GOOD

Basket Ball Looks Good

Schedule of Games Is Announced for Coming Season.

With six members of last year’s squad in school and much good material among the freshmen, prospects for a basketball team are the best ever. Light, bright, Armetrou, Penne, Roberts and Cummins, all of whom played last year, will be out again. If we may judge from the style they showed in practices games, we may conclude that there will be several freshmen on the squad. They seem to have both guards and forwards of first class quality among them. Wonder what a freshman Sophomore game would look like?

The following schedule of games has been announced:

Dec. 5, Oakland City, here, pending.
Jan. 12, School for Deaf, here; Jan. 19, Manchester, here.
Jan. 25, Central Normal, there; Feb. 1, Oakland City, here, pending.
Feb. 5, School for Deaf, here; Feb. 10, Manchester, there; Feb. 16, Huntington, there; Feb. 23, N. A. U. G., there.

The above schedule contains the names of several of our traditional enemies, upon some of whom we have vowed to wreak vengeance, and some of whom toward us with the evil eye. We have given in schedule, a fast team, and a peppy coach. Let’s get together and make every game a victory for T. C. C.

COMMUNITY NEWS

For Week Ending October 12th.

The Ladles’ Aid Society of the Christian church gave a fried chicken supper last Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Fred Specker returned home Tuesday morning from Mackinaw, Michigan.

Mrs. George Rogers of Richmond, Ind., is visiting Mrs. Homer Zwazley this week.

Mrs. Lottie Gohlhaur, of Corydon, Ind., and her niece, Mrs. Harriet Pauly of Hillsboro, Ind., are visiting her granddaughter, Victor Gohlhaur and family.

Mrs. John B. Ritchie, of Dayton, O., is visiting her daughter Mrs. A. H. M. Stonephrit.

Mrs. E. Price, Sr., spent Tuesday at Valley Mills with Mrs. Ellen Haverstock.

Mrs. E. and Mrs. William Kern of Chicago, Ill., visited Mrs. Agnes Hilly on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Zwazley moved to their home Tuesday.

The Misses Lena Smock, Lyndal Hill, Ruth King, Frances McLaren, Lula Clippett, Georgia Snyder, Amanda Fadley, Mrs. Georgia Dornhart, Mrs. Dale Nation, Mrs. Merle Black and Russell H. White attended the Township Institute at Southport Saturday.
THE REFLECTOR

ACADEMY LOG.

The Academy Crew was called into a joint session recently and organized their forces under one head. Raymond E. Green selected president, C. E. Guthrie, vice-president, and Miss Delaney, secretary. With these officers we expect to have the best equipped and fastest vessel on the ocean before the spring.

C. E. Guthrie, our Chaplain, has been very busy the last few days taking care of the sick calls which seem to be dominating among the Prexies and Sophomores. The temperatures have been very high as the officers have just completed their first month’s examinations. Mr. Guthrie is ready to take care of any emergency, as he has several funeral services prepared.

Amos Williams, the cook, while in a rush to feed the crew, fed the stove too much fuel and the result was an explosion, in October. A cauldron caught in the fire. He threw the burning stove out the port-hole. This heated the water for several miles around. There was an abundance supply of boiled fish and more fish in the water than we could eat.

The vessel pulled into port last week to give the hands a chance to get shaved and some of the girls took advantage of the opportunity and had their hair cut.

“We are traveling toward the northeast now and making good time. We expect to be in the Polar regions soon.”

JUNIOR REGULAR.

What class has such a Leader as we? And now have a Bank for their money. Then there is the Brine, too, with a jigger beside.

The junior class met October 4th. Aint that funny? Electing new officers and assistant for the Graceful staff. The election was as follows:

President—R. O. Hunt.
Vice-President—Leon D. Vass.
Secretary—Nesta G. Bonebrake.
Treasurer—Myrtle Banks.
Historian—Violet Miller.
Post—Paul G. Entwistle.

Charles Lodier lives in fear of an explosion of great ferocity when he deals with 112.

Did you know that we have three ministers in our good class—R. H. Davis, Charles Leader and Breden.

Speaking of the P. K. planks, someone said the bishop was singing in a chapel last week: “Aren’t you a preacher’s kid?” “No!” “Now, isn’t that a shame?” And we all agree that it was in the same case. (Scene I—Act I.)

Dining room of Dally Hall, thirty minutes before supper time. Thelma Preston rushing many, but attempting to set her table in record-breaking speed. A tray-full of tumblers; a tipping chair, a violent crash.

Act 2.

Thelma contesting pieces and the cost. (Curtain.)

Due to some unknown influence, Thelma Miller seems to be dealing in foreign trade and commerce, rather than American; namely Pence.

How we envy Geneva Taylor, especially these fireless days. Imagine sitting around the leaping flames in the open brazier, just at eventimes—“I’ve seen it before!”

“Where are you going, my pretty maid?”

“I’m going to market, sir,” said Ruth McCray.

FACULTY NEWS.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kinnison, of Anderson, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Easter, Sunday.

Mrs. J. George and son, Charles of Findlay, Ohio, spent the week end with Prof. John George and wife.

Action was taken by the faculty at their last meeting to permit those who have bought tickets to attend the State Teachers’ Association which is being held in the city this week.

Prof. Willaim Pitt Morgan had the pleasure of “tiding the Goat” at the Southport, Masonic Lodge Saturday night.

If “practice makes perfect” Prof. H. W. Marshall will soon become proficient as a public speaker. Last Saturday he made three speeches at Anderson and three at Noblesville, in behalf of the Institute Extension Work.

The Faculty Club met in the laboratory of the Physics Department on Friday night. Prof. D. L. Estes, who was in charge of the meeting, gave a lecture on color.

Prof. and Mrs. J. W. George, Prof. and Mrs. L. J. Michael and Miss Fern Coia, visited Prof. J. R. Halle, who is on his vacation at Westerville, Ohio, on the 20th to attend the homecoming at Otterbein University.

A daughter, Virginia Irene, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Stonecipher October 1st.

MEN’S DOMESTICS.

What would you do if you were deeply concentrating on a lesson when all of a sudden your door opens and your father unexpectedly stepped in? Ask Homer Roberts what he did. The servant Mr. Roberts met the sight with his son when on his way to Dayton. Homer accompanied the family on the visit.

Mr. Roberts looked very much surprised when his grandfather, Mr. Reznor, stepped into the Biology laboratory last Tuesday afternoon.

Col. Special. The city fire inspectors visited our hall Wednesday afternoon.

The Mesara, Bishop, Scholl, Loy Powers, Mendenhall and Vass were the guest of the Right Honorable P. G. Shively last Sunday at his house in Columbus, Ind. Several chickens, a young pig and a calf were nicely prepared by Mrs. Shively for Sunday dinner.

The Williams brothers, A. F., Ben, and Bill, spent the week end at their home in Brazil, Ind. We all wonder why Mr. Emerett and Bill Williams spent the night in Stiletteville when returning to the city last Sunday evening.

Can you guess what will happen to the fellow who pulls out the light switch during study hours if he is caught?

Isn’t it queer that every time the fellow in the room above you moves his bed, you think a thunder shower is coming up?

Ishibashy says that he is not a policeman, but he usually knows what is going on.

DALEY HALL NEWS.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Eash and Mr. and Mrs. Everett Brooks and family of Elkhart, Ind., visited the Misses Allethah Eash and Mabel A. Conover over the week end. Mr. Eash and Mr. Brooks spent the night in their newly erected Men’s Dormitory (a tent) just north of Dally Hall.

They report their dormitory rules were stricter than those of the other dorms.

We hear that the girls of Dally Hall are very sorry that the heating plant is not in very good working condition, because the boys had to leave a quarter after nine on Sunday night. In order that the girls might get warm before retiring.

Hearken, Muses, to our old dining room question: “Shall we have apple butter or peanut butter today?”

Miss Lucile Peterson, while spending the week end at home, acted as bridesmaid for an old school mate. The guests of Helen Willourt and Edith Radebaugh spent Sunday with their daughters.

Davle and Donald Hildebran were guests of Berdie Davis on Sunday.

Girls who take history under Prof. Flickburn are wishing Moses to appear for building pyramids of Pharos would be play beside laying foundations for history assignments.

RESIDENCE HALL.

Our reception room has become very popular during the last few days. We have our heating stove up.

Aileen Collins and Biddle Walts spent Friday night with Dick Gilliat. The ladies made taffy out of syrup and vinegar and declared the evening and the taffy very good.

Mary Rushing spent last week end at her home in Syracuse, Ind. Helen Unkless spent that time also at her home in Waynetown, Ind.

The girls of Residence Hall are mourning over an accident to one of their three-floor members, Gertrude Houston, who has become left-handed.

Midnight house cleaning was a popular sport Monday night in several of the rooms on second floor. Perfection oil stores seem to give off more soot than heat at times.

Alma Camp, a former student, visited last week with friends at Residence Hall. Miss Camp is teaching near Noblesville, Ind.

The canned fruit donated by Mrs. Hall was heartily appreciated by the girls of Residence Hall.

Phyllis Austin received a box of chocolates which were appreciated by the girls of second floor.

For Halloween decorations, Miss Banks and Miss Miller.

Last week-end, Olive Gilliat and friends motored to the Gilliat home in Plainville, Ind. Chicken and cake and sandwiches made a welcome especially appreciated by all. The Misses Moller and Fadley are running a home for neglected children.

Edith Chalfant is ill at her home in Hartford City, Ind.

PHILAELETHA.

Edith Chalfant has been here long enough to become reminiscient.

Misses Brenton and Rickett debated last Monday evening on the subject: Resolved that every girl should bob her hair. The judges gave their decision unanimously in favor of the affirmative. The decision brought relief to a number of Philaelethans.

The Culex was the cause of discussion in parliamentary drill in a recent session.

Katherine Woerz and Mae McCoy were initiated October 8, making the number of Philaelethans thirty.

Y. W. MIRR.

Oct. 3. Bertha Hardy led a very interesting discussion on "Here Am I, Send Somebody Else." We fear that too many are taking this as their slogan. If you are, try next Wednesday: "Here Am I, Send Me to Y. W. C. A."

Oct. 10. "Not in the curriculum" was discussed in a very interesting way, by Ruth McCoy. Girls, you don't know what you are missing when you miss Y. W.

ALUMNI NEWS.

Last some have not yet heard the news; we make the following announcement: Walter Lewis Myers, class of '21, and Miss Anna Hady, class of '16, were married September 11th. They are now at home at New Amsterdam, Ind. We suggest that we all send our congratulations—if only a post card.

A. E. Wake, class of '17, is Assistant Minister of the Wilshire Presbyterian Church of Los Angeles, Calif.

Do you know where your classmates are? Below are the names and addresses of the members of the six classes of I. C. C.—Other names will follow in later issues.

Roscio P. Highmower, Butler College, Indianapolis.

Y. M. C. A.

On Wednesday evening, Oct. 2nd, the men of the school spent a few profitable minutes in the Y. meeting. R. H. Bishop, a member of the Senior class, and Editor of the 1924 "Oracle," led the men in a very helpful discussion on the subject, "My Roommate." The leader handled the subject in a very splendid manner and led the fellows to thinking on the matter. All men felt as if the meeting had been very beneficial.

Wednesday, Oct. 10, was spent night in the Y. and after a short period of devotions the men gathered in the assembly to be entertained for a short period. A pep session was the first thing on the program and Eddie with his ability to lead fellows to open their mouths and let out a whoop for their Alma Mater and their fellow students, influenced the boys that they could really make a noise and be in harmony at the same time. Students were pulled by various groups of fellows and all of them were enjoyed.

The two fellows from our brother denomination, the M. E., won the prize of the evening in the mind of the author. Several from Illinois and Indi-
