QUAKERS DROP CENTRAL IN HARD GAME, 13-0

Central holds the Earlham team harmless for the first half.

Coach George's pixels knives in the Central defense last Saturday at Earlham. The game was hotly contested from the beginning, and Earlham was on the score of the second half. Earlham was able to penetrate the Central defense and score two goals in the second half.

The game began with a flurry of action, as both teams tried to find an opening. However, neither team was able to take full advantage of their opportunities. The game remained scoreless until the last minute, when Earlham finally broke through.

The game was played on a hot and sunny day, with the crowd cheering on both sides. The game ended with a final score of 13-0 in favor of Central.
THE REFLECTOR

THE REFLECTOR is a college paper at Indiana Central College, founded in 1922, and is published weekly during the academic year.

EXCEPTED STAFF

Editor-in-Chief—C. E. Lischke, Sales Manager—H. F. Peters, Business Manager—Maurice Parsons, Business Manager—Dean Kranz, Circulation Manager—John Blackmore.

OUR CONTRIBUTORS

Verda Argov, Valene Sardis, Margarette Broekschmidt, Adolph Talbot, Martha Young, Mary Davis, Harry Davids, Vern Duenh, Stuart Pye, Russell Hatt, Frances Mounce, Mildred Long, William Cline, Karl Parsons and Tid Rahn.

EDITORIAL STAFF

Editor-in-Chief—C. E. Lischke, Sales Manager—Maurice Parsons, Business Manager—Dean Kranz, Circulation Manager—John Blackmore.

BUSINESS STAFF

Circulation Manager—Maurice Parsons, Business Manager—Maurice Parsons, Advertising Manager—William T. Blackmore.

ADVERTISING

THE CLASS OF '29

The freshmen of Indiana Central College were held in a much wider classroom than usual on Tuesday last for a number of reasons: first, because it is the freshmen's first time in the new building, and second, because they have been warned that the building is very noisy and that they should try to keep quiet. The freshmen were assembled in the new auditorium, where the administration had arranged for a special program. The program included speeches by the freshmen, as well as music and other entertainment. The freshmen were very happy with the new building, and they were looking forward to the future.

THE REFLECTOR

THE FOLLY

A Scholar of Eminence

Hon. Robert W. Barbour has just finished a delightful recital on the piano. He played with great facility, and the audience was thoroughly delighted. The recital was held in the new auditorium, which was filled to capacity. The audience was seated in the new chairs, which were very comfortable. The recital was a great success, and the audience was very pleased.

The freshman of Indiana Central College were held in a much wider classroom than usual on Tuesday last for a number of reasons: first, because it is the freshmen's first time in the new building, and second, because they have been warned that the building is very noisy and that they should try to keep quiet. The freshmen were assembled in the new auditorium, where the administration had arranged for a special program. The program included speeches by the freshmen, as well as music and other entertainment. The freshmen were very happy with the new building, and they were looking forward to the future.

THE REFLECTOR

THE FOLLY

A Scholar of Eminence

Hon. Robert W. Barbour has just finished a delightful recital on the piano. He played with great facility, and the audience was thoroughly delighted. The recital was held in the new auditorium, which was filled to capacity. The audience was seated in the new chairs, which were very comfortable. The recital was a great success, and the audience was very pleased.

The freshman of Indiana Central College were held in a much wider classroom than usual on Tuesday last for a number of reasons: first, because it is the freshmen's first time in the new building, and second, because they have been warned that the building is very noisy and that they should try to keep quiet. The freshmen were assembled in the new auditorium, where the administration had arranged for a special program. The program included speeches by the freshmen, as well as music and other entertainment. The freshmen were very happy with the new building, and they were looking forward to the future.

THE REFLECTOR

THE FOLLY

A Scholar of Eminence

Hon. Robert W. Barbour has just finished a delightful recital on the piano. He played with great facility, and the audience was thoroughly delighted. The recital was held in the new auditorium, which was filled to capacity. The audience was seated in the new chairs, which were very comfortable. The recital was a great success, and the audience was very pleased.

The freshman of Indiana Central College were held in a much wider classroom than usual on Tuesday last for a number of reasons: first, because it is the freshmen's first time in the new building, and second, because they have been warned that the building is very noisy and that they should try to keep quiet. The freshmen were assembled in the new auditorium, where the administration had arranged for a special program. The program included speeches by the freshmen, as well as music and other entertainment. The freshmen were very happy with the new building, and they were looking forward to the future.

THE REFLECTOR

THE FOLLY

A Scholar of Eminence

Hon. Robert W. Barbour has just finished a delightful recital on the piano. He played with great facility, and the audience was thoroughly delighted. The recital was held in the new auditorium, which was filled to capacity. The audience was seated in the new chairs, which were very comfortable. The recital was a great success, and the audience was very pleased.

The freshman of Indiana Central College were held in a much wider classroom than usual on Tuesday last for a number of reasons: first, because it is the freshmen's first time in the new building, and second, because they have been warned that the building is very noisy and that they should try to keep quiet. The freshmen were assembled in the new auditorium, where the administration had arranged for a special program. The program included speeches by the freshmen, as well as music and other entertainment. The freshmen were very happy with the new building, and they were looking forward to the future.

THE REFLECTOR

THE FOLLY

A Scholar of Eminence

Hon. Robert W. Barbour has just finished a delightful recital on the piano. He played with great facility, and the audience was thoroughly delighted. The recital was held in the new auditorium, which was filled to capacity. The audience was seated in the new chairs, which were very comfortable. The recital was a great success, and the audience was very pleased.

The freshman of Indiana Central College were held in a much wider classroom than usual on Tuesday last for a number of reasons: first, because it is the freshmen's first time in the new building, and second, because they have been warned that the building is very noisy and that they should try to keep quiet. The freshmen were assembled in the new auditorium, where the administration had arranged for a special program. The program included speeches by the freshmen, as well as music and other entertainment. The freshmen were very happy with the new building, and they were looking forward to the future.
LITERARY SOCIETIES

PHILEMOMEA

- Philemomea added two more names to its role of active membership in the season of October 5. C. D. Mar- shall and O. O. Cole being welcomed by the society. In the literary program, Professor George H. Priest gave a talk on "The Poet's Imagination". Dr. Stuart gave a book review and C. G. Lathbury entertained an audience with his hilarious recitation, "Bite of Fun." The election of president for the coming season had C. G. Lathbury elected.

- On October 13 an interesting and profitable session was held. W. M. Newberry, as chairman, had the privilege of making arrangements for the annual literary society business. Mrs. D. B. Watson, as secretary, and Mrs. E. L. Hines, as reader, read their autobiography.

THEACALINOS NEWS

- At seven o'clock of Monday, Octo- ber 6, Theacalinos met in session and entertained the group with a series of quaint and amusing stories told by Dr. D. W. Burroughs, librarian of the college. D. B. Watson, as chairman, was welcomed after the usual roll call of members. After O. O. Cole read an excerpt from "The Pit and the Pendulum," Mrs. D. B. Watson, as secretary, had the privilege of reading her report for the past week. The president, H. H. Hines, had the next privilege of reading his report for the past week. After the business meeting was called to order, Dr. D. W. Burroughs, as chairman, had the privilege of reading his report for the past week. After the business meeting was called to order, Dr. D. W. Burroughs, as chairman, had the privilege of reading his report for the past week. After the business meeting was called to order, Dr. D. W. Burroughs, as chairman, had the privilege of reading his report for the past week.
The day will be the first time that Central's old students and grade will have had the opportunity to see their Alma Mater represented on the gridiron. Let us show them that we are proud of the company they kept in their college days. This year Central will be facing some good teams, and we are sure to have a good season. We are looking forward to it.}

---

WHAT?

Pat Miller

University Heights Tailor Shop

Hair Cut: $1.00

Robbing: $1.50

Shave: $1.50

---

INTERSTATE-MOTOR COACHES

- Private Parties a Specialty
- Busses That Are Comfortable and Safe
- Service That Is Dependable

Main Office, 1107-F, Wild Bldg., Indianapolis

Interstate Public Service Company

QUICK SERVICE IN

- CLEANING, PRESSING, ALTERING GARMENTS

University Heights Tailor Shop

1003 Hanna Avenue

DREXEL 7810-23