CO-ED RECEIVES BURNS WHILE DRYING HAIR BEFORE HEATER

When celluloid comb in her hair caught fire as she was drying her hair before an electric heater, Miss Evelyn Hauswald was severely burned about the face and neck. Girls in adjoining rooms, hearing her scream, rushed in and found her already smoking and dripping the flames with blankets. She received third degree burns of Drs. O. Ludwig and E. F. Higgins.

Reports from Miss Hauswald say that she is progressing well in spite of the fact that she now has the usual symptoms. Her burns, though painful, are not considered serious.

Miss Hauswald's mother, Mrs. William Hauswald, is with her until she is able to be moved to her home in Crawfordsville.

PROFESSOR Blackburn contributes article to leading magazines

Recently, Prof. G. A. Blackburn, head of the history department, has had several articles accepted by leading magazines. The "Education Mag" contains an account of his contributions for publication, an article on "Presidential Orientation." This is one of the few that have been published. Few honors have been made of two hundred and fifty dollars last summer, and contains a letter to the editor commenting on the conduct of the course.

Other articles, now in print, include: "What Remains for Our Future," on "The Better Home, and "Carolina as a Journal," which was contributed to Wallace's "Home." The latter article includes a historical study of the development of the modern plant with sketches of men who invented the plant system of plants.

STUDENT VOLUNTEERS TO MEET AT FRANKLIN

The 17th annual convention of the Student Volunteers of Indiana will meet at the Hotel Franklin, Franklin, Indiana, Feb. 24-25.

Miss Jenny Hauswald is the registration chairman, Miss Eva Bigbie, chairwoman of North Manchester College, is in charge of the registration in Crawfordsville. A very interesting three-day program is arranged with dinner on Friday evening at 5:30 p.m. and closing at 2:00 p.m. on Saturday.

The whole convention will be patterned after the recent one in Indianapolis. Thus far, outstanding speakers have been secured. The State President, Dr. C. A. Clark, is to make two addresses to the students, and others with whom he will be asked as yet on some of the programs. The program will be announced later.

HANGER AND RAGAINS

SOUTHERN HANG AND TOUGHER

Miss Jessie Hanger, who for several years was a professor in the English department of Indiana Central, and Miss Lucile Negen, who will graduate this year, both from Chicago and the University of Indiana, have been named on the thirty-five students who are being interviewed concerning the convention, and it is hoped that the university will be represented by one of its outstanding students at the next conclave.

The cost of the programs of the convention is $2.00, which will include admission to all conference sessions, lodging and breakfasts. Other meals will be eaten at the hotel.

REVIVAL BRINGS RELIGIOUS AWAKENING AMONG STUDENTS

Religious feeling has never been so strong and so wide-spread on the campus of Indiana Central than at the present time. In the past few months, the religious activities held for the past year have been attended by a large number of students. These activities have been held at the university, and the university, the student body of Indiana Central.

The various religious organizations on the campus are having a revival of religious interest among the students. Alumnae Builds $100,000 Church

In an address before the students and faculty of Indiana Central College, Friday morning, Jan. 12, A. E. Runyon, president of the First Methodist Episcopal Church of South Bend, spoke of the day of the church in relation to the state, using as his topic: "The Church in Politics.

In answering the question of whether the church should meddle in political affairs, he said the church is not a suppliant to the state, nor does the church with a union of church and one ear toward God and one ear toward the state be the means that it is the purpose of the church to shape the ideas and social standards of our country.

Outlining the influence of the church, he mentioned that the church is the voice of the state back to the church to the state. "This last was the leader in getting religious freedom incorporated in our government."

With regard to prohibition—"It is the social duty of the church to uphold this, and to fight for its continuance," said Mr. Mason.

SCIENCE DEPARTMENTS TO HAVE INFORMAL BANQUET

On Friday, February 19, at 7:30 o'clock in the evening, the faculty and majors of the science departments of Indiana Central College will give an informal banquet in the dining rooms of Dobly Hall. All faculty members and majors above the freshmen classification in the departments of Botany, Zoology, Chemistry, Physics and Mathematics are invited to this event. The officers will preside. The meeting will be the first time that these departments will have combined their interests efforts and causes in a evening of this kind.

The main purpose of the banquet is to give opportunity for discussion upon the project of forming a Science Club. The matter of forming a club is stimu-

MESSAGE FROM PRESIDENT GOOD
WFBM Radio Program—January 29
Indiana—Central College is located in Indianapolis on the east side of the Indiana state and is one of the standard colleges of Indiana giving the regular four-year college courses. Programs are arranged by Mrs. E. J. H., director of Music, and the department of Science and Bachelor of Music degrees. It has a well-organized music department with a four-year music course on the completion of which the student receives the Bachelor of Music degree. It has the teacher training courses offered by the State Depart- ment of Education for grade-school and high-school teachers. The professional work is also a part of the program. The college has the full equipment for the study of Music and the student has opportunities for first-hand experience in the department.

Next week the Greyhounds play Muncie, the winner of the tournament, which was recently held at Muncie. The Homerooms are strong this year and they have definitely dominated earlier in the season. They have not been going as well lately, as they have dropped games to Oakland City and Daviess. Daviess succeeded in stopping Palmer, their star player, and an stopped Muncie. Oakland City played the same trick. A hint to the wire is plentiful. The Muncie Homerooms will play here Saturday, February 11. Tuesday, February 14, Daviess comes here for a return game. The Greyhounds have never defeated the purple warriors on a basketball court, through such a thing is not impossible.
