Spirits High in Greyhound Grid Camp as Franklin Opener Nears

Freshmen, Sophomores Meet In tug Today

At afternoon kick off this Friday, the Freshmen and Sophomore classes will meet in their annual tug of war. The Freshman and Sophomore tug has become an annual event of the college and is eagerly anticipated by the students. The Freshmen have been dominant in recent years, but the Sophomores are determined to break the streak this year and bring home the victory.

Conference Season Opens Next Friday

Franklin and Depauw Are Favourites Over Junior and Prospects

Central will play off the 1st of the football seasons next Friday when they meet with the Hackett School of Hackett.

Most of the teams of the Indiana conference will be in action the first week in October. Little is known of some in the league.

Muncie, Indianapolis, Terre Haute, and the like have been keeping their enthusiasm high by prospects for another good season. Three polls will probably look out later.

Franklin, our opponent, has adopted the freshman rules allowing them to play within the class. The upperclassmen have been defeated four out of six times which is quite a contrast to last year seven Freshmen start against the Sophomores. Franklin also has a new coach and has adopted a new style of play. This will be interesting to note the progress of the freshmen under a new coach and the freshmen rule.

Our opinion is that Central should win by at least fourteen points.

The Depauw fans are returning as "Broadway Bandit" fans, which has returned to Hackettigue and are probably the most ardent fans. The Freshmen are expected to meet the class which will be divided by the graduation.

Depauw faces a tough schedule today, and it is not expected that they will be successful against the Army game of which they are due to play this year. They are led by Drayton, a force back and good passer.

The Quakers seem to have a good team. Several strong teams fall before them this week. A tough last year against Central.

The score will get a glimpse of these teams in a real test.

Quartette Leadership Activities are OUTLINED

James W. Weber, Director, Plans New Leadership Project

A greater program of service has been planned by the quartette for the Gospel teams this year. The project is planned to have a social and worship organizations which will be the part of the quartette.

The Center's goal is to have as many students as possible attend services. The task of the quartette is to attend services. The task of the quartette is to organize and promote these services. The quartette will also be responsible for organizing the various social events and activities.

Three Students In

Auto Accidents

Word was recently received that Miss Myrtle Sheets, who enrolled in the freshman class registration day, was injured in an automobile accident near her home, Blanchard, Ind., late Saturday night.

The car in which Miss Sheets was riding ran into a ditch-lighted truck while attempting to pass the truck. The woman sustained internal injuries, and as yet no further reports have been received. It is not known if she will be able to return to her studies.

Two other students were also involved in the accident. One student, who was riding in the same vehicle as Miss Sheets, was also injured and has been transported to the hospital.

Huddleston New President

At a house meeting Wednesday evening, Cliver Huddleston was elected president of the Men's Dormitory for this year.

His presence at the meet was the center of attention. The meeting was well attended, and the new president was congratulated on his election. The meeting was adjourned after the election.
At the post office at Indianapolis, Ind., I have heard of and overheard about the personal habits and long-continued, unneighborly, unkindly stories that are sometimes spread about people, who may have done wrong or who are doing wrong. It seems to me that often enough, when a particular person is not liked by one section of the community, that section will go to work to make matters worse, and sometimes this spite is so intense that it spreads to other sections of the community, and thus a whole town or city is made to suffer from the actions of one or two individuals.

When such stories are spread, it is of the utmost importance to secure the facts and to examine the story critically. It is well to remember that there is often much truth in the stories that are told, but that there is also much error in them. It is necessary to make a careful investigation of the facts, and to seek for the truth, and not for the falsehood. It is better to err on the side of truth than on the side of falsehood. It is better to go to the source of the story and to seek for the truth, than to believe the story as it is given by the persons who are doing the mischief.

It is also well to remember that there is often much pain and suffering caused by these stories. It is well to try to secure the facts, and to seek for the truth, and not for the falsehood. It is better to err on the side of truth than on the side of falsehood. It is better to go to the source of the story and to seek for the truth, than to believe the story as it is given by the persons who are doing the mischief.

Ultra Violet Rays Are Valuable As A Therapeutic Agent

HARM IN OVERTREATMENT

From time immemorial the therapeutic value of sunlight has been recognized. In more modern times, the ultra violet rays of both natural and artificial sunlight have been utilized and not only as a prophylactic agent but also in the treatment of disease. The American Medical Association committee on health in 1922 recommended the over treatment of children to be treated in close cooperation with the physicians who treat them and the artificial sunlight which has been used extensively in recent years has been found to be very beneficial.

Coach Turner is up on his old tree stump. He seems to have no difficulty in penetrating the defenses of the opposition.

Good is well supplied with backs, three of whom were in the starting line and pass. Rise seems to be the best printer.

Jack Turner, who was a tower of strength in the line, is back and will fill the leadership role that he occupied last year. He is a tower of strength in the line.

STATE EDUCATION HEAD SPEAKS

R. M. Wheeler, head of the state department of education, said the important thing is to provide a workable base for the varsity in the line and speed in the backfield.

Taking as his subject, "Good Citizenship," he gave five very necessary characteristics of a good citizen. First, he said, every one should exercise the privilege of the ballot, and, second, he said that those who are familiar with the qualifications of the various candidates. Second, all should exercise a reasonable living, and fifth, engage in some sort of altruistic services to the community.

He urged the importance of men attaining a working knowledge, while they should find their place in the home.
