Students Construct Scenery to Be Used in Homecoming Play

President's Message

At the meeting of the Board of Trustees of the college last week were the most emphatic expressions of confidence on the part of all those present. This confidence is due to the fact that the college needs, and especially the requirement for the expenditure. During the past several years the college has had an excellent growth in statistics, in which the results of the college is now facing the real world and must take the responsibility of providing for the education of the student body.

It has been decided to raise over $200,000 before next commencement time to be used by the boys.

Ramsay Named New Senior Yell Leader

Saw and Hendrick's Are Appointed Assistant Dep. Directors

Glen Ramsay, sophomore, was elected new senior yell leader by the student body on Monday, September 25, and he was appointed to that position by the board of trustees.

The position affords an opportunity to win a letter "C." Only two men have been successful in winning a letter. They are Oscar Valen-

Local Church Shows Gratifying Increase

Rev. Stine Submits Plan for Outlines of Year's Work

According to a report from the pastor of the church, the number for the year for the University Heights U. C. Church shows gratifying promise. A great number of new members, both in the Sunday School and church are attending the services.

During the last part of November, active solicitation will be begun for the "Sewing and Prayer" first of the year, and the co-operation of churches that all bills for the first month were paid in full.

A great number of new members have been made to be included in the co-operative board of trustees requiring the payment of all bills at the end of each month.

LINES 'O CHAFF

By Joe Shevmon

Success at last. At least one person reads our column. For instance:

Editor, Lines 'O Chaff: Who could it have been? I feel quite sure no one would ever think Rev. Cecil R. Smith of our church, for he is so religious. Perhaps Dr. P. Norran Smith is guilty of wiping his fingers on the table cloth as described in your issue of October 4. Accordingly, I haste to state that I have not been in Indiana for a long time. It could not have been me. Apparently, it was either a preacher or a professor. I am surprised.

WE RISE IN WRATH

In the last issue of the Reflector, in our opinion, there appeared a very costly and unwarranted attack on the type of automobiles owned and driven by our young men. The author of that article, although talented, is exceedingly young, and as a natural consequence, does not view life and its problems with the sagacious calm of an adult and mature mind. Such expressions as "the atrocious endanger- ing of our lives, "broken down dirt" and "vapid and stupid Sleezehacker," are clearly without reason, and certainly only the rantings of youthful hysterics.

The serious consequences of such a cowardly attack can be most readily seen by the following example. Bill Gilten, upon reading the dustily assault, felt the humiliation so keenly, that he drove his Chevrolet upon the Indiana state tracks in front of a speeding interurban and completely demolished it. Incidentally, Bill was injured. We can not but feel that the author of the abusive article is morally responsible for that ghastly tragedy.

Perhaps we have taken too seriously an exposure of juvenile exuberance. But the purpose of this column is primarily to inform and direct. An immature mind guided into the wrong channels can prove itself to be a very annoying menace to those imbued with the desire to see truth prevail.

THOSE LIGHTS AGAIN

It would seem that night football is here to stay. When we were out in the crowd last Saturday, our eye became misty and a deep longing for the good old days asserts itself. From the standpoint of crowds and gate receipts, the change has been a decided improvement. With the entire area within five blocks illuminated what chance has a football game of making that vast nation a blot that will take years to remove from her name.

One year ago last Sunday, the government of Russia started on what is termed the five-year plan. They well realized the extensive wealth of underdeveloped peoples and resources of their country, but yet they were just as well aware of the fact that foreign capital was needed to put this raw material on the international market. Accordingly, they set a band of experts in which they would ship their "good" of wheat to the outside nations, in exchange for "buckles" to be directed to their treasury. This method also pertained to other raw materials. Another factor of the plan was to invite foreign capitals to start industries and left charges and pensions for the people. A correspondent for a leading American newspaper in reporting the first anniversary of the plan treated the subject in a sympathetic manner, although he had to admit the plan was on the move. It's attitude is one that is generally with the disease will get all the necessities of life, and the government is anxious to bring about this condition. Russia, on the other hand, is not very annoying in fact, the politicians seem to enjoy life quite as well as the rest of the world. Students Construct Scenery Play

Evelyn Carter, Estelle Hall, Ruth Carter, Lucy Frey, Kay Evans, Eun Truex, Webster, and Hay, coming from the Glee Club, chose the subject, "The American Master Musician," and decided to rely upon the cooperation of the various departments concerned, including the Dramatic Club. The story centers around the lives of various musical artists who contributed to the development of the American music. The play was put on at night and was well received. The cast included many of the students and faculty members, who were well prepared and gave a fine performance. The play was directed by Professor E. O. Smith and was a great success. The students and faculty were very pleased with the results, and the play was well received by the audience. The evening was a great success, and the students and faculty were very pleased with the results. The play was a great success, and the students and faculty were very pleased with the results. BIG BUDGET DRIVE LAUNCHED

BY LOCAL ASSOCIATION

(According to reports from Fort Wayne, Brandenburg's committee had not yet reported to the association.

Developments yesterday afternoon and last night indicated that the bud- get drive will be closing up and addi- tional efforts are being made to pass the mark set two years ago when $22,000 was subscribed. This attainment of the Y. M. C. A. should be realized because of the greater membership it now has over any former year.

The Y. M. C. A. budget is as follows: total amount, $200; national dues, $40; state dues, $200; General fund, $150; scholarships, $200; conventions, $25; socials, $200; speaking fees, $50; incidenals, $50; and publicity, $20.

PLANTS TO BE ADDED

TO BOTANY HERBARIUM

Miss Margaret Izenhour, former student at Indiana Central College, has been doing extension work at the Chicago University under the supervision of Dr. Coeles. Miss Izen- hour has specialized in the study of botany and last summer made a large collection of various species of plant life in the state of Illinois.

Arrangements have been made with Miss Izenhour through the Chicago University to collect one hundred specimens of Illinois plants which will then be added to the herbarium of Indiana Central College under Dr. Hight. All these plants will be officially verified by the botany de- partment of Chicago University.

The herbarium was started almost a year ago and now contains about fifty identified plants. Plans are be- ing made to increase this collection from time to time. The herbarium is housed in a metal dustproof cabinet.

GREENWOOD, INDIANA
Breneman, star quarter back and the player who was responsible for the lone touchdown scored against Miami last week, is out of football for the rest of the season with a broken leg, sustained in practice last Thursday afternoon.

This was the first practice session of the season held in the evening, as the lighting apparatus was installed the same day.

The squad was engaged in scrimmages when the accident occurred. He was rushed to the doctor and it was found that the ankle was dislocated, the smaller bone of the leg was broken just above the ankle.

This is a severe blow to the Greyhound eleven. The loss of more than a member of other men out with injuries and there is no experienced quarter back to take Breneman's place.

Coach Good is working the men hard to make replacements for the coming games with Evansville October 19. Several new men are out to make the squad and their faces may appear in the next lineup.

FORMER CENTRAL GIAD HEAD COACH FOOTBALL PATCHOQUE, NEW YORK

The success of the Central graduates in the coaching field is becoming more and more evident every year. For this season several Central alumni coaches had basketball teams that were among the best in the state. Recent reports give the rapid rise of Edgar A. Bright, '26, who has been coaching in New York since graduation.

"Edie," as he was known during his undergraduate days, spent three years at Williams, N. Y., where he was manager of the baseball, football and also taught biology. His work was of such a good caliber that the Patch- ouchee's base coach and the head football coach. He is enjoying great success at the Long Island school, as a recent letter stated that he had a squad of about thirty five out of forty. He is the head coach of the first game of the season 19-0.

"Ah!" said Bradley, with a view of making Minnie Wine jealous. "I was alone last night... walking with someone I admire very much.

"Ah!" echoed the bright girl, "alone, were you?"

"What a charming little fellow John is?"

"Come on! Why look at him-he's a real darky." "Yes, but that gives him such an arch look, you know."
