Student Visitors

We are always happy to see the boys in uniform return to the campus. Those we have seen since the last issue of The Reflector are: John Moore, Ed Ward, Paul Brennan, Al Hibbs, Carroll, Vertrees, Paul Haskell, Harcell Fick, John Ridge and Francis Greiner.

Lester Gillan Reported Missing in Austria

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gillan of near Thornwood have received word from the War Department that their son, First Lietenant, Lester Gillan, aged 22, has been missing over Austria since November 2.

Lietenant Gillan was graduated from Thorton High School in 1939 and attended Indiana Central College in Indianapolis. A brother, Ernest Robert Les Gillan, completed training as flight instructor in the Naval Air Corps recently.

Miss Becker Honored

Miss Ethel Becker, graduate of Chicago Musical College, for the past five years a teacher of voice at Indiana Central, and now on leave for study in New York, has been elected as a member of the New York Gatorian Society. This society is one of the leading choral societies of the country. It offers the best of opportunities not only for instruction, but also for practical experience in singing of capable musicians. Miss Becker is finding this a wonderfully rich and refreshing experience.

(Continued on page 3)

WHO KILLED AUNT CAROLINE?

Reading left to right: Wilma Horner (Aunt Caroline), William Brett, Martha Hughes, Helen Culp, Charlotte DeLashmit (sitting), John Wells, Jane Mast (the murderer), Richard Smith, Phyllis Smith. John Wells was not present at the scene of the crime. Della Dean was the head of the drama committee, and did a fine job in getting the scenery for the play, all of which adds greatly to the production. Gerald Brown was the electrician and John Wells was at the head of the publicity. All those who were on the various committees cooperated to make this play one of the best.

In the future the cast has made plans to give the play at The St. Joseph Home at Franklin, and also as one of the churches in Indianapolis.

Miss Becker Honored

Miss Ethel Becker, graduate of Chicago Musical College, for the past five years a teacher of voice at Indiana Central, and now on leave for study in New York, has been elected as a member of the New York Gatorian Society. This society is one of the leading choral societies of the country. It offers the best of opportunities not only for instruction, but also for practical experience in singing of capable musicians. Miss Becker is finding this a wonderfully rich and refreshing experience.

(Continued on page 3)

Spiritual Retreat

"I Am the Way" was the theme of the fourth annual spiritual retreat, which was held November 28 and 29 at the University Heights church. Dr. Brevsha, widely known evangelist, lecturer and pastor of Dayton, Ohio, was the principal speaker.

Rev. F. A. Reed, pastor of the Industry U. B. Church of Montic, Ind., led the discussion group. "I Am the Way to More Abundant Personal Life" was the subject. Rev. Montgomerie, pastor of the Mt. Pleasant and Betheneh Church of Indianapolis, led the discussion on "I Am the Way to Peace."

The retreat opened Friday evening with Morgan Goodell, president of the Student Christian Association, welcoming Dr. Brevsha, who spoke on the topic, "YouthQuesting for Reality—The Way to God." Lorena Wiles furnished a violin solo for special music.

Dr. Brevsha spoke on "Prayer, The Way to Achievement" at the 8:30 o'clock session Saturday morning. Jean Colbeck sang "Beautiful Garden of Prayer." The discussion groups met in the Administration Building of the college.

"The Way to Complete Living" was the topic on which Dr. Brevsha spoke at the 12:30 o'clock session Saturday afternoon. Helen Whaley and Glenn Gates gave a vocal duet as special music. The discussion groups again met in the Administration Building after the service.

At 4 p.m. the visitors and students entered a slate in the college gymnasium.

The theme for the retreat was "The Way to Self-Mastery." The male quartet sang two special numbers.

The discussion groups met for the final time on Sunday morning at 10 a.m.

(Continued on page 3)
THE LATEST
BY PENNINGTON

Here's hoping that some of these short quotations will help bring out a few serious thoughts. After all, it doesn't matter how trivial a thing it is, it always has a few serious meanings if you look at angles from the right angle, they all have a little meaning. So here goes:

Sound Logic

It's best not to tell all you know, but to know all you tell.

Push or Pull

Some men are like wheelbarrows, they get some places only when they are pushed.

Just Talk

There's nothing so husky as an idle tongue.

Don't Put It Off

Few of us ever do as much today as we plan to do tomorrow.

Just a Little Push

You may hitch your wagon to a star, but don't hesitate to pull out once in a while and put your shoulder to the wheel.

Before and After

If a man wants to get married, he should make a little money first.

Yes, definitely, because he'll have to make a little money last.

Johnny Wals: "A dog fills an empty place in one's life."

Garden ("Dehly") Wales: "You're right—if it is a hot dog!"

Making a Play

It is unfortunate that undergraduates did not live long enough to see how smart we really are.

Time Does Fly

By the time one learns how to make the most of life, most of it is gone.

Right

It's hard to make a hole too the mark.

Run, Ron, Run

Corresponding is a fellow's running after a girl until she catches him.

Why Not?

An optimist is wrong as often as a pessimist, but he continues to be careful.

THE ANVIL CHORUS

For years I've wished to know
Why God put knuckers, here below
Just why He lets this tribe increase
And many our happiness and peace.
In lodge and club in town, too,
You'll find the knucker and his crew
You'll listen to the hammer ring
And hear the anvil chorus sing.
But then I know Jehovah makes Mosquitoes, lizards, toads and snakes.
So there's a reason, you know—
Just what it is, God only knows.
—The Campus.

Attention, Alumni and Former Students

Work is now in progress on the 1944 Oracle. Fill out the subscription blank below and mail to Richard Smith, Business Manager, 19 North College, Indianapolis, Indiana. Do not delay in placing your order.

A Word From Our President

Letters from I. C. C. service men and women from campus schools, and fighting fronts keep coming, telling in some cases of valuable training that is being received, in others of impatient waiting, and in still others of hospital experience and active service. We greatly appreciate these letters and our hearts are with our service men and women. Our prayer is that each may not only do his duty, but may be a real Christian influence among his buddies, wherever he is. It may seem that so much of politics, politicians, diplomacy, economic expediency, and various other active forces will make it impossible to lay the foundations for a lasting peace, but those strong forces working for the laying of such foundations and they should have the cooperation of all Christian forces.

It doesn't require a long memory to recall the days when college men thought of aloveness pants and jackets covered over with names and dates in ink, and in some cases, smoking a college audiograph cigarette.

The same college boys could display the same traits in their disregard for neatness and the proper use of English in test papers handed to their teachers. Unfortunately, teachers in other departments than English patiently went about to decipher the compositions and grades the papers entirely on what it was presumed the students intended to say. How the propriety of such procedure is being successfully assailed.

In a recent meeting of the faculty, Professor Weaver led in a discussion on the importance of laying before members requiring the use of good English in both oral and written expression in all college work. It was unanimously agreed that written work is not acceptable if it lacks neatness and is characterized by misspelled words, run-on sentences, and grammatical errors.

By the same token, the United Brethren have an obligation to their students to be correspondingly strong in the laying of such foundations.

The members of the faculty and the Executive Committee hope to join in appreciation of the alumni and former students who are making payments on their obligations.

Payment of these debts to the college will not only help the college immeasurably, but will bring relief and satisfaction to those who owe.

There is no better plan than to begin sending monthly payments to the college if the whole amount cannot be paid at once.

At the meeting of the General Board of Education at Dayton, Ohio, on November 11 and 12, the presidents of the United Brethren Colleges were all present and agreed to prepare mastery advertisements for the next quarter 1945-49. The advertisements are to be brief and their purpose is to keep the cause of higher Christian education constantly before the church and to encourage the attendance of the young people of the church at the United Brethren colleges.

The United Brethren Colleges also took action looking toward giving every possible cooperation with the colleges in their campaigns for larger funds during the next quadrennium from 1945-49. It is being planned that all of the college constituencies strengthen their colleges for the larger opportunities and possibilities for higher Christian education that are ahead for these institutions.

In a letter from Dr. A. J. Brumbaugh of the North Central Association of Colleges, he indicated that the United Brethren are not accepting any applications for accreditation for membership for the duration of the war. It is quite apparent that the Commission feels that the present conditions in all of the colleges are so serious that it is not only the laying of such foundations.

With the close of the war, it is to be expected that the United Brethren colleges will also be able to secure favorable action because of our strengthened positions financially and in academic work.

January 4—Second Semester

Beginning Classes for Freshmen and Upper Class Students

Students receiving financial assistance may obtain part-time defense work (24 hours per week) at the C. C. plant in Indianapolis to pay college expenses.

For Information, Write to;

PRESIDENT I. J. GOOD
Indiana Central College, Indianapolis.
churches: Emmanuel, Belwood, New Albany, University Heights, Redwood Memorial, Hartford City, and Brookville. Miss Weinberger has been conference director of Christian education for 15 years and has taught at various churches. Since 1942 she has been a trustee of Indiana Central College, by which she was graduated in 1929. Miss Weinbergreen is a Presbyterian. In 1937, Dr. Montgomery accepted al of Leaders of America, 1941-42.

The following has come from the U. S. Government to the college for

"Camp Carson, Colo. Laura Weinbarger is the only woman, who is also director of college theater and professor of Indiana Central College. (Colo.) WACS already helping to relieve the manpower load of the camp

becomes a member of the native branch, camp director, at Camp Carson.

..."

Miss Weinberger's rich background of

a college theater teacher, as director of

summer dramatic stock companies, and

professional and private training gave

her a valuable WAC. After a brief

recovery, she found that the war

was going to put her in the same

position that she had held in the war

period.

"Miss Weinberger's rich background of

a college theater teacher, as director of summer戏剧 stock companies, and

professional and private training gave

her a valuable WAC. After a brief

recovery, she found that the war

was going to put her in the same

position that she had held in the war

period.

"Miss Weinberger's rich background of

a college theater teacher, as director of

summer dramatic stock companies, and

professional and private training gave

her a valuable WAC. After a brief

recovery, she found that the war

was going to put her in the same

position that she had held in the war

period.

"Miss Weinberger's rich background of

a college theater teacher, as director of

summer dramatic stock companies, and

professional and private training gave

her a valuable WAC. After a brief

recovery, she found that the war

was going to put her in the same

position that she had held in the war

period.

"Miss Weinberger's rich background of

a college theater teacher, as director of

summer dramatic stock companies, and

professional and private training gave

her a valuable WAC. After a brief

recovery, she found that the war

was going to put her in the same

position that she had held in the war

period.

"Miss Weinberger's rich background of

a college theater teacher, as director of

summer dramatic stock companies, and

professional and private training gave

her a valuable WAC. After a brief

recovery, she found that the war

was going to put her in the same

position that she had held in the war

period.

"Miss Weinberger's rich background of

a college theater teacher, as director of

summer dramatic stock companies, and

professional and private training gave

her a valuable WAC. After a brief

recovery, she found that the war

was going to put her in the same

position that she had held in the war

period.

"Miss Weinberger's rich background of

a college theater teacher, as director of

summer dramatic stock companies, and

professional and private training gave

her a valuable WAC. After a brief

recovery, she found that the war

was going to put her in the same

position that she had held in the war

period.

"Miss Weinberger's rich background of

a college theater teacher, as director of

summer dramatic stock companies, and

professional and private training gave

her a valuable WAC. After a brief

recovery, she found that the war

was going to put her in the same

position that she had held in the war

period.
Students Attend Youth Rallies in Indianapolis

"V Is For Victory" is the opening theme song of the "Youth For Christ" meeting which is held each Saturday night in the Robert Park Methodist Church. Many of Central's students attend these rallies which are directed by J. B. Mathes. Beautiful music and God-gifted sermons are the features of each Saturday's unique public worship for youth. Famous personalities, such as Dr. James A. Riddle, Rev. W. D. Pellott, and Dr. Ralph E. Habiger, bring stirring messages to these young people giving their lives to Christ.

These meetings have afforded many of the young people from Central to consolidate their lives anew.

Sigma Zeta Meeting Features Chemistry

The first of a series of science programs, sponsored by the local chapter of Sigma Xi, was given November 22, under general supervision of the department of science and education.

The program included a paper by Louis E. Baker on synthetic rubbers, a review of plastics by Gordon L. Hock, and a report of the newer drugs by Ralph A. Coddington.

Two invited papers were presented on recent developments in chemical products. Hadley P. Harper, assistant director of the department of science and education, was the author of the first paper on the subject, "An Outline of the progress of the world began last year on the crystallization of copper sulphate." A similar report was given by Warren S. Leitchy on the preparation of pure copper sulphate by the newest processes.

The paper of the program, by Mary Alice Moore, discussed the current literature of chemistry available in the college library. Miss Moore was chosen editor of the papers presented in the science program.

The next program meeting of the Sigma Xi will be held Monday night, December 12, at 7:30 p. m.

Taking Basic Training

Aviation Cadet Delbert G. Klatter, a former student of Indiana Central College, is receiving basic phase of his flight training at the Army Air Forces Pilot School at College Park, Ala. While attending Indiana Central, Cadet Klatter was a member of Zeta Galloway Literary Society. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Klatter of Edwardsport, Ind. Dr. Ralph E. Habiger, of the college, is the father. Delbert Klatter plans to fly as a fighter pilot in the Army Air Forces.

Pay Your Way: Working Part Time

There was never so great an opportunity to secure a college education as now. Students desiring to secure a position where they can work their way through college may do so through part-time employment with the many companies and industries in Indianapolis.

Many of these companies are carrying on a part-time employment program. A selection of such companies could be quite a number of new employers at the time. Visiting Panel J. F. Good for information.

The Indiana Central College mixed quartet won first prize in the annual Music and Art Society's "Music and Art" contest. The music section was sponsored by the Music Department of the college.

Music and Art Society Enjoy Lecture Exhibit

The Music and Art Society held its regular meeting of the season on November 15, in the banquet hall immediately after dinner.

Dr. Lawrence R. Diller, chair of Professor Mason of the art department, spoke on the history of art masters with modern art, and illustrated her points by striking and interesting examples. Those in attendance received a new concept of art and learned to appreciate it more.

J. C. Celebrates Book Week November 15-20

A very interesting review of the book "Angel Mo" by Willard Williams, was given by Mrs. McGraw, of the English Department.

The annual book week was observed in the college library, P. A. Reed, Missup, in chapel, Thursday of Book Week. Important points stressed in the life of the Negro singer were the influence of his musical and religious training on his spiritual and emotional, "Stir Away" and "Jesus Said He Would Give Us Something Beautiful music and God-gifted singing throughout the day.

A/C Robert E. Good, S/R 4755, s.o. 1st Co, 1st Av. Forces Field, Fort Wayne, Ind.

J. C. Celebrates Book Week November 15-20

A very interesting review of the book "Angel Mo" by Willard Williams, was given by Mrs. McGraw, of the English Department.

The annual book week was observed in the college library, P. A. Reed, Missup, in chapel, Thursday of Book Week. Important points stressed in the life of the Negro singer were the influence of his musical and religious training on his spiritual and emotional, "Stir Away" and "Jesus Said He Would Give Us Something Beautiful music and God-gifted singing throughout the day.

A/C Robert E. Good, S/R 4755, s.o. 1st Co, 1st Av. Forces Field, Fort Wayne, Ind.