LEAP WEEK — FEB. 8-14

"The Late Christopher Bean" To Be Presented Feb. 12

"The Late Christopher Bean" by Sidney Howard, will be presented by the campus chapter of Alpha Psi Omega, dramatic fraternity, the evening of Feb. 12. Produced by a cast from the National Theatre Conference Touring Company, the play is dramatized by a professional cast of graduate students from the University of Illinois. The play is presented under the supervision of the Illinois Foundation. The basic philosophy underlying the touring company project is to provide practical and intensive training to a group of actors to enable them to continue their training on the graduate level, and to initiate a program of exchange which can be extended to community, and university theatres.

The play is produced by Dr. Leo E. Novella, who is head of the Speech department at Indiana University. Direction of the play is by Richard Moody. The talent cast includes Henry Bledinger, Nancy Seward, June Harre, Ruth Carage, Joyce A. Groves, John McCullum, Roger Cleary, Deino Vickers, John Shaw. All the performers have been active in college production and summer theatre. The play has been highly commended by many groups who have seen productions of it.

"The Late Christopher Bean" is a three act comedy which was recently played at the English Theatre by a company from New York, and it has achieved high acclaim. The prices of admission will be fifteen cents. Kent Harp Auditorium will be the showing place of this production.

This project is being undertaken by the Alpha Psi Omega, under the supervision of Mr. Lester L. Schillings, dramatics professor. Proceeds from the performance will be used in the dramatics department.

LEAP YEAR FASHIONS FOR SADIE HAWKINS RACE

By H. Uccapoh

—There may be an atomic cloud over Bugglitch, but Sadie Hawkins’ Day at Indiana Central will go on just the same as in past years when the coeds combine brains, beauty into one great atomic bomb ready to be aimed at the eligible men around campus come February 6th.

This year being Leap Year the annual Leap Week observance, February 8-14, should be a double success. The high point of the week will be the Sweetheart banquet which will be held Friday night, February 12th in the college dining hall.

There are definite rules of procedure which must be followed throughout Leap Week. They are:

1. Each girl must have dates with at least two men but may not have more than two dates with the same fellow.

2. All dates must be made in person, not by phone calls.

3. Throughout Leap Week all girls must show all courtesies recognized as fitting on the part of the escort.

4. Diamonds are ignored during Leap Week.

5. Girls’ dorm hours are kept as usual.

These rules, when followed, will give all girls the chance for which they have been waiting. Daley Mae now can blast her way to victory in the eternal battle of the sexes.

Fitzgerald Reports On North American Student Conference

(The following report was brought from the North American Student Conference by Miss Sylvia Fitzgerald, Indiana Central S. C. A. cabinet delegate.)

One of the biggest problems which faced the North American Youth Conference held Dec. 27-29 was lack of money. Mr. E. L. Hook, chairman of the United States delegation, said, "You must understand the minds of these people. They are bitter, disappointed and afraid — afraid of the United States just as much as they are afraid of the United States. They say, ‘What is our Christian responsibility in alleviating the tragic and crying need of the world?’ This need was vividly expressed by a Czechoslovakian girl who has been doing relief work in France since the war and is now working in Canada. She said, “You must understand the minds of these people. They are bitter, disappointed and afraid — afraid of the United States just as much as they are afraid of the United States. They say, ‘What is our Christian responsibility in alleviating the tragic and crying need of the world?’"

College Day To Be Observed February 15

Throughout the area which supports our school, College Day will be observed February 15.

The purpose of this special day is to bring emphasis to the college and its programs. The church public. On this day a special offering will be taken for the college. Each high school student will be sent out from the college to help present the college to the constituency.
Why Are You In College?

Why are you in college? At the beginning of the New Year we are often asked to look back on what we have done in the past and possibly make some resolutions for the future. New Year’s resolutions are not new. In 1908 and the thirty-fourth annual meeting of the Association of American Colleges, Professor Dwight Milo Lyman, president of the American Association of Colleges, made the following statement: “It is the duty of every college and university to be seriously concerned about the future of the students who are enrolled in it. The college must be concerned about the future of its students, not only in terms of their intellectual and spiritual development, but also in terms of their economic well-being.”

President Glancy, who is a veteran of World War I and special advisor on military matters to the Secretary of War, pointed out that there are several reasons why the college should take an active interest in student affairs at the beginning of the new semester. These reasons include:

1. It is the duty of the college to look after the welfare of its students.
2. The college has a vested interest in the success of its students.
3. The college has an obligation to its alumni.
4. The college has a responsibility to society.

In conclusion, President Glancy emphasized that the college must continue to be concerned about the future of its students, not only in terms of their intellectual and spiritual development, but also in terms of their economic well-being.
Poetry Corner

The following poem, "Secret," is one dealing with a subject as eternally fascinating and even more mysterious than a beautiful snowfall:

Death walks beside me,
No one knows.
For as quietly as goes,
Yet I know he's walking there,
I feel his breath upon my hair.

Death walks beside me,
No one hears.
His step is not for other ears.
Yet his march is in strict time,
I hear it always loud with noise.

Death walks beside me,
Some night he'll pass.
And leave my soul in friendly grace.
When the grace comes down as break of day,
My friends will say, "The wind went this way."

They won't know it's my soul passing through.
Once more on its journey to meet you.

We still need poems. Please don't be bashful. Turn them in.

Fitzgerald Reports

Christ. It is their only hope of salvation. The basic question the Europeans are asking is, "In the world which I am willing to do, can I be assured of enough to eat?" What is our answer? We may not be our brother's keepers, but we are at least our brother's friends.

The fact that real, applied Christianity can have and has had a great influence upon the lives and thoughts of people all over the world, is evidenced by the story told by Berkeley Pugh, a student from India. While he was waiting in the capital building to see an official of the government, a Hindu woman came out and greeted him. She seemed pleased and explained, "I have just acted in a very un-Christian manner," that from a Hindu woman. This is not the only evidence of the influence of Christian standards upon the minds of all people. In accepting our own personal responsibility in solving our world problems, we pledged ourselves, first, to live in keeping with the teachings of Christ; second, to do something about the immediate problems on our own campuses, such as preventing race discrimination, using social pressure to eliminate existing evils, and to aid student government of political corruption; and, third, to help ourselves informed about world problems and possible ways in which we can do something about them.

More Honors: Bob McFadie, high scoring end on our Booster Committee, received an honorable mention spot for offensive end in Sports Graphics Coed All-West Teams.

Hit No. 9: The Booster Club honored all the recipients of C awards during 1947 with a banquet at the Lake Shore Country Club. Among the three who deserve honor and we send along our own little orchid.

Speaking of the banquet brings to mind the question why the entire football team was not invited to the banquet. Now, is the release of public affairs? All cannot receive letters but those who did qualify for the major award, rate more than the words: Well Done.

Dear Games: They all lived up to expectations. Michigan kept alive the respect for midwestern football and Notre Dame is still on top.
