Hi! Make yourself at home! This is Indiana Central College, where everyone knows everyone else. That is the reason for this issue of the Reflector, to get you freshmen and transfer students acquainted with Central, its faculty and staff.

As you read the various items throughout this paper, we hope that you learn a little more about our school and its activities. Let us introduce you to the various phases of campus life so you can become a part of us.

Central's Columns

Get That New Look

The columns of the administration building, a years' distant landmark of Indiana Central College, have now taken on a fresh countenance. This summer, the columns and trim of the Front Building have been repainted, giving the campus a most impressive "new look."

Many other improvements have been made during the summer. Disatory rooms have been re-decorated where needed and some lecture rooms have been painted. A new roof has been added to Wilhite Building.

The outstanding remodeling job completed within the administration building has been in the Campus Cupboard. The office space has been made smaller giving more room for tables. The lunch counter and soda fountain have remained the same, but a new selection of student supplies and souvenirs has been installed. With the addition of new tables, more students and faculty members can be accommodated.

Mrs. J. F. Muselman
New Housemother Here

Mrs. J. F. Muselman, for forty years a missionary in Sierra Leone, West Africa, has come to Central to be housemother of Daley Hall and school nurse.

The former missionary, whose husband died last year, hails from Lebanon, Pennsylvania. It was at the Good Samaritan Hospital of that city that she received her nurse's training before going to the mission field.

Mrs. Muselman will have charge of the freshman girls as well as caring out the duties of campus nurse.

Picnic Highlights
All-Student Activities

S.C.A. activities this year culminated in an all-day picnic held at Brown County to which about three hundred summer students went.

The girls were transported by automobile to the park, stepping coruscate at a roadside table for Devotions led by Bradley Harper of the class of 46.

Following lunch, the group participated in the afternoon, playing and discussing coming S.C.A. activities.

Student Christian Association members formulated plans for the coming school year in a retreat meeting held at Richmond, near Shelbyville, May 8 and 9.

The camp, situated for both on the bluffs of Flat Rock River provided a pleasing atmosphere for work and play. A small lake provides facilities for swimming; although the chilly weather kept all cabinet members except Don Florner and W. Neznob, YMCA representative, out of the water.

The cabinet from last year met with new members in an open meeting with President each and other faculty members, discussing many points of interest and concern. On the afternoon, after cooking their own meat, the committee met separately to plan their work. Many plans were made for social and religious activities and for the betterment of I.C.C. as a whole.

STUDENT DIET
TO BE "PEACHIE"

Mrs. Eda Peschel, recently in charge of the student kitchen at the General Hospital in Indianapolis, is to be the local center in all parts of the country. Since many medical colleges begin selecting their freshman classes in the spring. The Peschel, from their entrance, the ETS says that candidates for admission to next year's classes will probably be selected to take the October test. Students interested in the nips of the prospective medical colleges whether they will be expected to take the test known as the Professional Aptitude Test (P.A.T.) required of candidates by a number of leading medical colleges throughout the county, will be divided in the coming year, according to the Educational Testing Service, which prepares and administers the test in cooperation with the Association of American Medical Colleges.

Candidates may take MCAT on Saturday, Oct. 30, on Monday, Feb. 15, 1948, at the test to be held in Washington, D.C., at the Missouri School of Medicine.

The Medical College Admission Test consists of several parts: a written examination, group sessions led by Charles Jennings, and some surprise entertainments. "Master of Ceremonies," Fred Du Baus, called on several freshmen for musical contributions to the program. Impromptu songs were sung by several freshmen and one upperclassman.

President each welcomed the freshmen to the campus in a short, brief chat.

Refirements were served after prayer by Professor Weber. After more group singing and much laughter, the group marched out of doors and enjoyed cooked in true Central spirit.

Following this the quartet and entire gang sang sentimental songs, after which the students departed in two's and three's.

DAF'S DAY, FOUNDER'S DAY,
HOMECOMING--OCTOBER 2

October 2, 1948, is a date to keep in mind. The annual HOME-COMING, David's Day and Founder's Day celebrations will be observed on this day with the high point of interest coming at 8 p.m. when the Greyhounds meet Manchester in the second game of the current football season

Mr. Rider, of the office of public relations announced that elaborate plans are under way for the gala event.

Homecoming will bring with it the usual parade, featuring floats and decorated automobiles representing all classes and organizations on campus. Floatwin-ing floats will be chosen by judges and the first, second, and third prize winners will appear at the evening game.

Again this year a homecoming queen will be elected by the football throng, will reign over the game from her throne on the 50 yard line, after being crowned by the president of the Central student body. The coronation will take place five minutes before game time.

"All Gals" will be escorted to the Campus Green to partake in the gala. As before the fathers of the football team will be honored at the game with special field side seats from which they can spy their sons on to victory.

Founder's Day will be observed with speakers and special programs planned to be held in the auditorium.

Three big social events are on the ICC calendar for September, as freshmen and "old-timers" program for the month of September.

Life begins for freshmen on September 23, when they will be introduced to the campus. This mixer will be a true "Big Band" affair, and will be open to the general public.

The program consists of songs by a male quartet, group singing led by Charles Jennings, and some surprise entertainments. "Master of Ceremonies," Fred Du Baus, called on several freshmen for musical contributions to the program. Impromptu songs were sung by several freshmen and one upperclassman.

We Introduce Ourselves
How-do-you-do.

We are pleased to meet all the freshmen and transfer students and naturally we are glad to welcome back the more than 200 returning students. We at the Reflect are the activities on the campus. Parties, dances, sports events, class work, and personal achievements are all of interest to people who have a love for the school. These are the individuals we serve.

We are beginning another year together. It is not correct to say that we are one big happy family. for so many different ideas and personalities come together on this campus that sometimes the spirit is anything but family-like but it is a part of the campus life. We all work together every day in everything we do. In this office, we are all students of life and must be of service to our fellow students. We wish to feel free to bring your problems and questions and suggest some solutions and answers. A satisfactory solution usually can be found, though it may not be the one we all want. We are looking forward to your contributions and your suggestions. We are all students of life and must be of service to our fellow students.

We wish you the best of the week. If any question or problem should arise, please feel free to write us. We are all here to help you in any way we can.

WELCOME TO CENTRAL

By John Rider

Here you are at last—Indiana Central College. All those months of planning, worrying, wondering, watching, pressing, and packing your clothes, etc., are over. You’re here, and even as you pick up this first issue of the Reflect you have to make sure it’s all true. Not that Central is the most beautiful place on the earth, but you’re here.

It is a sad thing to remember when beginning your college life here that Indiana Central College was founded in 1902 by the church of the United Brethren in Christ. It was founded in the name of John. In honoring the high Christian ideals from which it was born, we, as students of Indiana Central College, are a witness of the love of God. We must be of service to our fellow students and must always remember the example of the people we are surrounded by in this college.

The “Big Stings” around the campus, the big buddy and big sister without, the bug-out-war, green beans, the cheer, hello’s, and the campus tour, are all part of the campus life. The “Big Stings” is a great place to make this campus the friendliest and closest of all. Here we believe you will find real friendship, real devotion to a goal, real happiness. I’m sure if our Alma Mater could talk, you would hear these words coming whispering to you across the campus, “Hello, how are you doing? Welcome to my campus, I hope you’ll be happy here.”

Football Call September 7th

Angus Nicolson, better known as "Nick," made his initial call for the 1952-53 football candidates along with the returning lettermen on September 7th. It was then, after the summer absence, that the well-looked-upon Greysbourn emerged from its home in Galilee. C. C. Campus when some 50 boys responded to his call. This is "Nick"'s first year as a football coach. He garnered state-wide fame when piloted the Wabash gridiron to its first Hoosier College Conference Championship last year.

There will be lettermen back from that championship squad of last year coupled with some outstanding players from the state, including the "hatched" Hordy twins from Galilee and the LaRussi bunch from Indiana. These will form the nucleus of the team for the current year. The "Iowa”-type of practice sessions on Monday and the Greysbourn open practice are the two most powerful practices in the University on September 23 at the Butler Bowl, with 18 days of practice to go.

Again this year the Central boys will be called from the "Iowa"-type of practice routine that was so successful last year. Most of the squad is well acquainted with this formation and they have proved to be hard working and willing to learn as much as they can possibly do to go, come the Butler game.

Greysbourn losses that Nick will have to replace quickly are the loss of Fenardenger, our all-state quarterback, now assistant, coach at Southport; Jenney, at tackle, now at Platteville, Wis.; Mclbre, and, now at Seminary; Big Jim, our center, guard, now, coaching; and Beuge who is also coaching at Carpenter, but will probably go to the head coach, but with some of the material that is showing up, it still should be a good five to go.

Left few of the boys are seniors, it looks as though there will be grist for the mill for another coaching and scheduling this year and next year's team will be the best to go.

Coach Nicolson will have the following boys forming the nucleus for his team: Paul Kish, quarterback; Chet LaRussi, Virg Hansen, Tom Knot, and Glen Stevens; guards; Vere Chandler, end at Eastport, and Harold Schultz, Stansk, Kiss, center; Ed Pellet and Ivan Moreson, tackles.

LETTERMEN RETURN TO BRIGHTEN HOPES

After losing seven of last year's conference championship football team, the Central team hopes to regain to normal heights when the other 11 lettermen return to the campus for the first practice on Sept. 3. All fans breathed easier to know that their all were really back after the summer vacation.

Coach Nicolson will have the following boys forming the nucleus for his team: Paul Kish, quarterback; Chet LaRussi, Virg Hansen, Tom Knot, and Glen Stevens; guards; Vere Chandler, end at Eastport, and Harold Schultz, Stansk, Kiss, center; Ed Pellet and Ivan Moreson, tackles.

FALL TRACK STARTS WITH CROSS-COUNTRY

Central Cross-country season will begin October 2 when the Greysbourn thighs take to the fields in front of the Manchester representative.

Surely missed by the Central boys this year will be Jim Langford, lanky six footer from Metzville, Illinois, who led the Greysbourn last year, and who top to the top honors of the first season running in the Hoosier College Conference Meet. Langford was the runner-up to the title.

Fenardenger, our all-state quarterback, last year, the Central boys took third place in the Hoosier Conference Meet.

The returning cross-country man will include Bob Hordy, George Gruesick, Lynn Jenkins, Grant Marshall, Eldon Wallum, and Don Sunwall.

Central's Gridiron men meet

Are the rumors they will come on the third and a quarter mile course, which begins at the football diamond on the campus and Bob Harvey, Marion Bulson, Chuck Pack, Bill Clark, Marion Kistler, and Don Fleenor, backs. Incidentally all these boys have been used to idea of playing on a championship ball team.

Again, as was the case last year, the Greysbourn will be top-heavy in backs and from this corner there seems to be a certain need for more tackle and end reserves. Strength.

Central, in her third year of football after a 15 year absence will again be a small team but will probably prove to be fast and sharp.

Central Indiana opens the season against Butler on Sept. 25, in the Bowl and the Fairfield battle is one of the schools and that is the one date that the Hoosiers are all anxious to keep as their very own.

Will Freshmen Set New Style?

Green beards will be the most popular freshman fashion until Thanksgiving, according to tradition, predict to appear. These experts are really the sophomore tug-of-war team who will be out to see that these ideas stay in vogue, too.

On October 3, the traditional annual Tag-of-War between the lower classes will be held at Lonsdale Creek. It is this annual struggle that will decide just how long those hated green beards must be worn.

Last year, the class of '59 proved its salt by pulling in the freshman in 3 minutes flat and these freshmen, now sophomores, are declaring that it won't happen this year. Now, it is up to this year's sophomore tag-of-war team to come up with the goods and make a clean sweep. However, the upperclassmen were the ones that kept them from getting wet.
