Presenting Queen Marydee West

Program Honors Royal Court

The crowning of 1965-66 campus queen Marydee West by President Esh was the highlight of the May Festival program this evening in Ransburg Auditorium.

Presented by the physical education department, the Festival program was topped by the dual beauty of Clair and Miss Mary Huey. Master of ceremonies for the evening was sophomore Leigh Major. Flora Leisler played the organ music. Stan Lopp was in charge of staging and set design. The programs were designed by Mr. Earl Stullenberger.

The Centralaires opened the evening with three musical numbers. They were followed by a modern dance by sophomore Les Johnson to “Days of Wine and Roses.” Lynn Soughan, senior, performed a number on his vibraphone.

A routine on the parallel bars was skillfully performed by senior Ginni McAdams and sophomore Bruce Quinn. Next on the program was a group in a tumbling routine led by senior Dina Theobald. Vivian Smith did a routine on the balance beam.

A skit entitled “Lila and Rose” was presented by Ginni and Barbara Bean, junior. Nancy Cokahn was coordinator and choreographer for the group who next presented a folk dance medley.

Cheryl Hodges, freshman, offered a poem as a tribute to the honored mothers. The queens’ tributes were sung by sophomore Don Stolten and junior Joe Chambers.

Last year she served as vice-president of social activities of Central Council. After graduation she plans to teach mathematics in secondary school.

The program of the day began at 1:30 p.m. with a tea on the lawn of the Leach Mansion Fine Arts Center. Following the tea, the mothers were invited to view a style show given in front of the Fine Arts Center. The fashions for the show were modeled by seniors Sondra McNamara, Mary Kay Coon, Judy Hottell and Trudy Hickman, members of the 1964 campus court.

Other seilers modeling included Martha Cains, Barbara Tuttie, Nancy Colin, Sue Blatt and Margaret Walker. Mrs. Judy Buchman, mother of senior Ann Buchman, and Mrs. June Spurgeon, mother of Judy McWilliams and sophomore Dave Spurgeon, also modeled fashions in the style show. All the clothing was modeled on June 10 at the Hoot's Rialto Theater. All proceeds from the entertainment for the mothers, the fathers viewed a film of the "500 Mile Race." The evening meal was a smorgasbord served at 6 p.m. in the college dining hall.
