Eighteen persons have joined the faculty and administrative staff with the opening of a new academic year. Eleven persons and five are staff members.

William E. Bishop, assistant professor of education, was educated at Simpson College, Indianola, Iowa. He received a B.A. from Westmar College, Le Mars, Iowa, an M.Ed. from the University of Missouri and soon will complete his Ph.D. at Kent State University in Ohio. Mr. Bishop taught in public schools in Idaho, Missouri and will complete his teaching career at the University of Indiana, Bloomington.

Ray C. Combs, assistant professor of speech and drama, was educated at the University of South Carolina, Columbia, and at the University of Denver. His work on the campus includes directing the United Brethren Church and presiding over the Coliseum, a student-owned and operated movie theater.

A new nursing instructor, Mrs. Karen Cravens holds an associate degree in Ohio. Mrs. Cravens taught in public schools in Idaho, Missouri and will complete her teaching career at the University of Indiana, Bloomington.

A new professor of mathematics, is a graduate of Tech High School, Indianapolis. Mr. Gemmel attended Purdue, University of North Carolina and holds a certificate in the U.S. Army in the pre-meteorology program, an A.B. and M.A. in meteorology from the University of California at Los Angeles. He took advanced study at UCLA and George Washington University, Washington, D.C. Mr. Gemmel is a retired lieutenant colonel in the Air Force with which he has served since 1941 at various bases in the United States and abroad in different phases of weather forecasting and meteorology. He was production engineering draftsman with Atwood Saw Division, Barg-Warner Corp., Indianapolis, before military service.

Associate professor of history Rev. Leonard Grant received his B.A. in social sciences from Rutgers University, his B.D. in church history from Princeton Theological Seminary, his S.T.M. in pastoral psychology from the Temple University School of Theology and his Ph.D. in history from the University of Edinburgh, Scotland. He coached baseball, basketball and tennis at Rutgers University College of South Jersey, Camden, N.J. Rev. Grant served as pastor of the Fourth Presbyterian Church, Wexomah, N.J.

William L. Jinks, associate professor of biology, has a B.S. in education, a B.S. in liberal arts and an M.A. from Bowling Green (Ohio) State University. He took further study in entomology at University of Illinois and zoology at the University of Kentucky. Mr. Jinks worked as a chemical and botanical assistant at Toledo (Ohio) Hospital, and left this position to take a position in the field of natural history at the University of Illinois.

The new homecoming weekend will begin Friday evening with a winning parade on a new route, the dormitory students will be the winners. The parade will return to campus before the football game. The new parade will include floats, decorations and a new route for the parade. The parade will return to campus and will include floats, decorations and a new route for the parade. The parade will return to campus and will include floats, decorations and a new route for the parade. The parade will return to campus and will include floats, decorations and a new route for the parade. The parade will return to campus and will include floats, decorations and a new route for the parade.
LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor,

We are not usually complainers but we feel the "time has come to be heard and to have our views about something very important matters concerning the on-campus students at ICC.

Our center of complaint is the condition in the student cafeteria. It is a situation where we feel very, very bad.

For some reason—and we have heard many reasons—such as a cut in the food budget, the meals seem to be less in quality and quantity than last year's meals.

There is no ice in the so-called drink fridges and the drink fridges are dried-out versions of thirst quenchers. The meals have been sad—cold stone building full of carpeted rooms and cutting to certain parties; how on earth can dent?

Perhaps this letter is worth a reply. We do not usually complainers, but we feel the "time has come to be heard and to have our views about something very important matters concerning the on-campus students at ICC."

Sincerely,

AStudent

The ever faithful Mr. Webster defines optimism as "an inclination to put the most favorable construction upon actions and happenings, or anticipate the best possible outcome."

So, you say, what of it? Just this: Often when students and faculty are confronted with the classes, assignments, and examinations of a new school year, we tend to become pessimistic about things. Forget that attitude. There is entirely too much here to be optimistic about. We are heading for a good season in football, we will soon be dedicating a new Fine Arts Center, a splendid Schwitter Student Center is being built, several new, challenging professors have been added to our faculty and many, many interesting faces have joined our student body.

Take pride in Indiana Central College! Support the athletic events, participate in social events, work on committees, give of your time and talent, study and learn. Each one of us is a part of ICC and she is or will become a part of us.

Meet the challenge of the school year with "the most favorable construction upon our "actions and anticipate the best possible outcome." Make it the most optimistic year ever at Indiana Central!

Sincerely,

The Reflector staff welcomes and encourages your letters, comments of criticism and/or praise. We ask that you write your letter on a clean sheet of paper. Upon request, we will not print the names. If letters do not meet these requests, we reserve the right to refuse to print them.

WANTED: More good, able sports reporters for the Reflector staff. Contact the editor as soon as possible.

We Want A Victory

CENTRAL COUNCIL FORGES AHEAD

The Central Council forged ahead in its program of student development and campus improvement during the fall semester and the beginning of this school year. The Council initiates and carries out a number of projects all of which are aimed at improving the campus atmosphere and making this year the best one yet for the student body.

For example, the Central Council has sponsored a series of events and activities which have been well received by the student body. These events include the Homecoming celebration, which featured a parade and a football game, and the annual Fall Festival, which included a variety of activities such as a crafts fair, a food festival, and a talent show.

The Council has also worked on several long-term projects, such as the renovation of the student center and the construction of a new dormitory.

In addition, the Council has been working on several smaller projects, such as the installation of new lighting on the playing fields and the provision of additional seating in the student center.

The Central Council has also been actively involved in the selection of the new student council leaders and the organization of the Student Government Association.

The Council has been successful in its efforts to improve the campus atmosphere and provide a better educational environment for the students.

-Central Council

Apathy can be and is tolerated in other areas of campus life, beyond radio, television and newspaper coverage is very ap-
Herrington Collection To Be On Display In College Art Gallery

Sixteen paintings from the Herrington Art Collection will be on exhibit in the new art gallery at the college from Saturday, Oct. 2, to Sunday, Oct. 10. The display will be open to students and visitors, without charge, from 1 to 9 p.m.

Special arrangements were made by the college with Mr. and Mrs. A.W.S. Herrington for Gerald G. Boyce, chairman of the Art Department, to make a representative selection from the more extensive collection housed in the Herrington's home.

The exhibit is part of the program dedicating the new Leech Ransburg Fine Arts Center on the campus. The old Administration Building has been completely rebuilt on the inside, and half of it is devoted to art and music. A fine arts area is named for the widow of Indianapolis industrialist Leroy Herrington, who was a benefactor of the college and a member of its board of trustees.

Rembrandt and Remington are represented in the exhibit by two paintings, and one each is by Brueghel, El Greco, Boyen, Hals, Heem, Breuer, Van Dyck, Jore-Net, Gainsborough, Dali, Klee, and an unknown German.

The 16 paintings which will be exhibited for nine days are:

- "Master of the Dead of St. Nich-olas in Muenster," a triptych by an unknown late medieval German painter.
- "The Harvest," by Pieter Bruegel.
- "Head of a Girl," by Frans Hals (this painting probably is of the artist's daughter, Sara)." by Jan Davidsz de Heem.
- "Drunkards" (A Drunken Man), by Adriaen Brouwer.
- "Christ Driving the Money Changers from the Temple," by Jean Baptiste Jouvenet.
- "Problem," by Paul Klee.

Adorning the steps of the Administration Building are this year's Homecoming Queen candidates. Standing are Janice Cox, sophomore; Lana Jo Livingston, junior; and Becky Herrin, freshman.

Wearing the queen's crown Homecoming week-end will be one of five girls who were nominated by the "C" Club Sept. 21. The candidates are Janice Cox, Mary Jane Dennis, Lee Johnson, Lana Jo Livingston and Sue Schilling.

Janice Cox is a sophomore nursing student from Aetna who is plan-ning to pursue a career in pediatric nursing. A second-ssemester student at Indiana Central, Mary Jane Dennis comes from Shelbyville. She was last year's Crossroads queen and is an English major, planning to teach junior high English or possibly to go into teaching administration.

Committing to Indiana Central Leslie Johnson, a physical edu-ca tion major in the junior class. She has been a member of the student body 16 years, and this year as the homecoming queen she will represent Indiana Central in the "Miss Indianapolis" pageant.

Planning to teach typing and shorthand after graduation is Lana Jo Livingston. She is a junior in business education and is from Shelbyville.

Sue Ann Schilling from Wansamak is a sophomore and an elemen-tary education major. She hopes to teach the second or third grade.

The name of the girl to preside over the Homecoming activities will not be divulged until the halftime ceremonies of the Homecoming football game on Saturday. The student body voted on the candidates after they were introduced in convolution Sept. 27.

O New Faculty

(Continued From Page One)

Mrs. Persell taught junior high school English at Indianapolis Public School 41 and botany and biology at Tech. She has been teaching in Indiana Central Evening Division five years and is now also joining day school faculty. Mrs. Nancy Tagge, part-time English instructor, has a B.S. in education and English from University of Wisconsin at Milwaukee, an M.A. in English from North- western University. Mrs. Tagge was a teaching assistant at Wisconsin-Milwaukee and a student at Wauwatosa (Wis.) High School.

History instructor David R. War-riner received his B.A. from bottom book. Following commissions, as of the M.A.from the University of Mich-igan, both in history. Mr. Warrin-er taught history at Brooklyn (Mich.) High School and geography and history at Lakeshore Junior High School, St. Clair Shores, Mich.

Music instructor Mrs. Marilyn L. Waterman studied at the Lub-eran Hospital School of Nursing, Fort Wayne, and Phoenix (Ariz.) State University. Mrs. Waterman was a nurse at Good Samar-itan Hospital, Phoenix, and South Side District Hospital, Mesa, Ariz. She taught nursing at Parkview Methodist Hospital, Fort Wayne.

Three new clerical workers also have been hired by the college. Mrs. Mary Hansen is secretary in the English Department. Miss Mary Morrel and Mrs. Sher-yl Trowbridge are working in the Accounting Office.

O Student Body Elects Cheerleaders For 1965-66 Year

During Chapel period on Sept. 22, cheerleaders were elected for the 1965-66 school year.

All students were handed a ballot as they entered the gymnasium, and each student voted for five of the twelve candidates after watching each one execute a cheerleading routine.

The twelve candidates were: Mary Lynn Grogg, Jackie Hall, Bon- nie Gates, Lee Johnson, Marty Clark, Debbie Myrick, Holly Parson, Hall, Becky Herrin, and Angela Rogers.

From this list the following girls were elected to represent Indiana Central at athletic events:

Central Shows

Movies A-go-go

Central movie-goers will be presented with a fine selection of award-winning movies this year in Ransburg Auditorium.

Chairmen for the movie programs, Barbara Parsons and Jeff Kellam, hope to have the following presented here next semester: "Brothers Karamazov," "Operation Petticoat," "The Robe," and for Leap Week, "Come September."

O Central Shows

Early Days Confusing For Eager Frosh

(Rey CAROL FULLER)

To thousands of college freshmen across the country, particularly those at Central, the orien-tation period can be trying and at the same time, fun. It is a program which is carefully planned to acquaint freshmen with college procedures as well as to introduce them to various social aspects of campus life. It can be one of the most confusing periods of a new student's life. For the benefit of those upperclassmen who may have forgotten the trials of orien-tation here is a record of the ex-periences of one newly-registered freshman.

Myron Segovick arrived on campus Saturday, Sept. 11, and moved, bag and baggage, into one of Wilmore's fabulous "penthouse apartments." He is many new freshmen. Myron knew no one at Central. After looking vainly for another graduate of Whasamatta High, he discovered that he was better acquainted with his room-mate, Wilbur Wartlow, who ate peanuts in bed. They attended their first family-style meal together and much to their embarrassment, discovered that they were not to leave before the host. Later on, they attended a movie and Myron

New Faculty (Continued From Page One)
Greyhounds Hit Otterbein With Monster Defense

Sept. 18, Indiana Central fought a long, hard battle with a non-conference team from Otterbein, Götterbein, Ohio, and came out victors 147-0.

ICG's win was due to a tight, hard-hacking, non-prestigious defense, which was under the direction of ICG's able new assistant coach Ed Dwyer. This defense sparked in the second half to bring ICG forging ahead of the Cardinals.

Thanks to Dick Amsung, a hard-hitting fullback and wide receiver, the extra point man, the score became 7-0 in favor of Otterbein at the end of the first half.

In the time to follow, ICG controlled the field. Central's builtin defense, led by senior Dick Elmore, returned a fumble which gave Central the chance to forge ahead and score.

Offensive standouts were Dudley Pugh and Dave Smith. Both have done an excellent job in filling in for the boys lost by last year's graduation.

Hoping of being an NAIA coming, two of Indiana Central's two touchdowns followed by Bob Gill's field goal.

Central's defense caused six fumbles and recovered four of them, sparking the team on to a well-earned victory.

FIE ARTS CENTER

All students are cordially invited to attend the dedication of the Leah Ransburg Fine Arts Center this coming Saturday, October 2, at 2 p.m. The dedication program will be in Ramsburg Auditorium of Academic Hall with Dr. Allen S. Weller, dean of the College of Fine and Applied Arts at the University of Illinois as the main speaker.

College To Offer Master of Arts

The board of trustees of Indiana Central College has voted unanimously this summer to authorize the administration to proceed with a proposal to offer a master of arts degree.

Dr. J. Lynd Exch explained to the board that the plan drawn up by a faculty committee, was a result of a proposal by the faculty itself was subject to approval by the Indiana Department of Education. The plan has been approved by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

The master's degree program would be offered in liberal arts and would not duplicate the offerings of teachers' colleges and state universities, the special faculty committee's report stated, although it would meet the needs of those professional teachers seeking a master's degree to complement state regulations.

The master's degree program would begin in the fall of 1966, with students in their second year of college. The program would be offered during the summer session, and would be open to a minimum of four semesters to the degree, spread over three full school years.

The proposed master's curriculum outlined by the committee totaled 32 semester hours, with a 12-hour core consisting of the basic core of liberal arts studies and 4 hours of electives chosen by the student from a core of three full school years.

The proposed master's curriculum outlined by the committee totaled 32 semester hours, with a 12-hour core consisting of the basic core of liberal arts studies and 4 hours of electives chosen by the student from a core of three full school years.

The proposed master's curriculum outlined by the committee totaled 32 semester hours, with a 12-hour core consisting of the basic core of liberal arts studies and 4 hours of electives chosen by the student from a core of three full school years.

Dates To Remember

Friday, Oct. 1 - Miniature Golf party
Saturday, Oct. 2 - Dedication of Leah Ransburg Fine Arts Center at 2 p.m., Ramsburg Auditorium
"Seven Brides for Seven Broth-er's movie at 7:30 p.m.
Football at Hanover.
Cross-Country at Hanover. Tennis at Hanover.
Monday, Oct. 4 - PFM Club at 8 p.m., Philadelphia at 7:15 p.m.
Tuesday, Oct. 5 - German Club at 9:15 p.m.
Wednesday, Oct. 6 - Homecoming Street Dance.
Saturday, Oct. 9 - HOMECOM-ING DAY: Football against Chi- cago Iliinois at 2 p.m.; Cross-Country with DePauw-Butler (II); Ten-match; New Christy Ministries in gym at 7:30 p.m. (A.S.)
Wednesday, Oct. 10 - Thracelodis at 9 p.m.
Tuesday, Oct. 12 - Cross Country at Earith.

FALL COTILLION OPENS SEASON

The annual Fall Cotillion was held Sept. 21, in the school cafeteria from 9 until 12 a.m. The program was presented through the use of natural decorations consisting of a floral and animal figurines.

The event was opened with a reception line consisting of all Central Cen- tral's officers, the class president, Campus Queen Marymede West, President Exch, Deana Cramer, Husky, Wooden and House, and Miss University of Indiana, and Mary Lee and Elainee Engbert from Jasper.

Four girls are competing for the office of president: Margaret Meyer, from Croydon; Karen Hie-

WINNERS

Dr. Esch said.

Dr. Esch said.

Dr. Esch said.

Dr. Esch said.

Dr. Esch said.

Dr. Esch said.

Dr. Esch said.

Dr. Esch said.

Dr. Esch said.

Dr. Esch said.

Dr. Esch said.

Dr. Esch said.

Dr. Esch said.

Dr. Esch said.

Dr. Esch said.

Dr. Esch said.

Dr. Esch said.

Dr. Esch said.

Dr. Esch said.

Dr. Esch said.

Dr. Esch said.

Dr. Esch said.

Dr. Esch said.

Dr. Esch said.

Dr. Esch said.

Dr. Esch said.

Dr. Esch said.

Dr. Esch said.

Dr. Esch said.

Dr. Esch said.