Day Student Enrollment Up

The day enrollment of full-time students at Indiana Central College increased this year but there was a drop in part-time students. This drop is attributed to a tuition increase, caused by the $5.00 increase in full enrollment from $2.80 last year to $3.50 this year.

This Christmas, why not give some of your time to help maintain our community service? The Volunteer Bureau of the Community Service Center has set aside plans for the New Year to give time regularly to an interesting volunteer assignment. Literally hundreds of opportunities for service are available in the area of your particular interest or training.

W.U.S. Promotes Equal Education For All Students

All colleges and universities are interested in making the world a better place in which to live. One of the ways unifying efforts to help bring this about is through the "World University Service."

The World University Service is composed of an international body of students and professors who es- sentially to promote equal education for all students through a mutual assistance program. The organization has several goals, including that of help-ship, which is the only real help available to the W.U.S. is the only student-aid organization in the world.

Through this program a country such as Chile is able to train professors and students to work in underdeveloped programs in their country. In 1959, the W.U.S. there, cooperated with the Andes-Tibet Association and helped to establish a health center. Also, in the Philippines a school was promoted to help students learn, despite the high cost of textbooks.

Seniors Begin Supervised Teaching

Sixty-seven Indiana Central College seniors began their supervised teaching duties in Indianapolis schools early this month. Twenty-five of them are majoring in elementary education and 42 in secondary education.

Indiana Central Receives Freedom Shrine Documents

The Freedom Shrine — duplicates of 34 historic documents, all of which have formed the foundation of freedom and liberties — was presented to Indiana Central College by a downtown exchange club at a student convocation in Ransburg Auditorium on Wednesday, Dec. 2.

The presentation was made by the Reverend William S. Creasman, the young Indiana- ola attorney who is president of the club. The documents are to be housed in the university's new administrative building.

The documents are to be housed in the university's new administrative building.

"The documents of the Freedom Shrine exemplify the great principles upon which this nation was founded and the enduring struggle to make them prevail against opposing ideologies," Capehart stated.

This year, the project grows, more and more people will find in the documents a reminder that American citizenship imposes duties and responsibilities as well as con- taining rights and privileges.

"It is hoped they will gain a bet- ter understanding of the sacrifices and hardships necessary to win freedom, to preserve it, and to respect the democratic govern- ment of liberty and justice under the law, which makes our Republic the hope of freedom-loving people over the world."

The documents in the shrine in- clude the Mayflower Compact, the Magna Carta, the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution, all 13 treaties of Paris, Northwest Territo- rial, U.S. Constitution and Bill of Rights, Washington's First Inaug- ural and Farewell addresses, the Emancipation Procla- mation, the Lincoln's Gettysburg and Second Inaugural Addresses, the Bill of Rights, Amendment, abolishing slavery, and 13th Amendment, establishing the Freedmen's Bureau and the Freedman and Japanese instruments of surrender ending World War II.

COUNCIL KEYHOLE

MERRY CHRISTMAS • HAPPY NEW YEAR

I want to recognize the efforts of Barb Huttsell, Bonnie MiShler, and their committees in achieving the change in Girls' Health which is now in process. I hope you will come and visit them on Friday and Saturday this week. This group approached the problem in a mature, positive, logical manner and, although they did not achieve all of the changes which they sought, they at least made a good start. Again, the thanks and congratulations to this committee.

I have noticed recently that the number of parking tickets which are being issued has increased. The reason for the parking rules which we have is to better control the flow of traffic on campus, for everyone's benefit. And, although the rules concerning parking are given in the Student Handbook, I am listing them below:

Automobile Use

- Permits must be granted for any student to operate an automobile on campus. A new permit sticker must be attached to the windshield. Any automobile operated on the campus by a student is required to have such a sticker.
- If your auto is not so identified, please have this done immediately or you will be subject to a fine. Note that the fine is double if you are on campus during registration time; if you have misplaced that polese, stop by the General Office and ask the switchboard operator for another.
- A new sticker must be obtained each year. Anyone bringing a car to campus for a short time must notify the Housemother and then register the automobile before it is parked on campus.
- There are certain restrictions which have been adopted as regulations:
  1. No person whose auto is properly identified will pay a fine of $1 for the first parking or operating violation.
  2. Students are allowed to park on campus for a period of a second ticket, and will be liable to suspension from classes in such a case.

The Influence of an Athlete or Coach Among America's Youth is IMMENSE

I have just read this statement by reading the article, "A Tribute To Bill" which appeared in the November 1969 edition of the Reflector. A movement in this country known as the Fellowship of Christian Athletes can also testify to this statement. By the purchase of this fellowship has fought to strengthen the moral fabric of the youth and their peers in the coaching profession in countless numbers of schools across this nation.

The Fellowship of Christian Athletics (F.C.A.) is a movement. As stated in its By-Laws, the primary purpose is "to encourage and foster the development through them the youth of the nation's more effective and meaningful service of our Lord Jesus Christ". The Fellowship of Christian Athletes (F.C.A.) members has been simple, yet effective. They find that it is not necessary to be a "boiler-plate" type of individual in order to bestow the moral and spiritual convictions. Instead they use a few basic principles to guide them such as: be more God-conscious; rather than self-conscious; communicate: be more honest in your convolutions; cook for your body; then YOU can do what you have personally experienced.

As I feel that the purpose and methods of the F.C.A. help them to confront this world and through them the youth of the nation, I want to thank you and to submit the following your letter: "A Tribute To Bill"

Submitted by an I.C.C. student

Dear Editor,

Since the partitions were first taken down in the concourses only a few have been put back up Why? Many students would like for both to be removed. As you have already seen in the center a little more privacy that is the way the students study. The music that comes from the "juke box" at times can be very annoying and quite loud. The partitions would help tremendously in keeping the sound down from this.

Sincerely, I.C.C. student

What’s Happening On The Pop Scene
by Jeff Vauple

Bob Dylan has a new LP on the music scene but it’s having its problems. It seems that Columbia Records is taking legal action against the unsanctioned sale of bootleg copies
(bootleg copy) of the Dylan album
(legal copy).
The white-velour-covered album has sold $200,000 worth and the price has ranged from $3.98 to $20.00 a copy. Someone predictably thinks the album is good.
For more news of Dylan vs. "The

the next issue of the Relextor.
Diana Ross of the Supremes is putting the group to do her own thing. Singer Jean Terrell, whom you might remember being the lead singer at the last Supremes LP (yrs

the Motown group. "Diana Supremes," as they will be called will unveil themselves early in 1970. Could be an interesting group coming from Motown.

Travel While Studying In Graz

Indiana Central students will have an opportunity to combine European travel with study by enrolling in the Graz Center, an accredited institute of international studies at the University of Graz, in Austria, this summer.

The Graz Study Center is one of the projects of the Association of Colleges and Universities for International Intercollegiate Studies (ACUIS), a consortium of 20 American colleges and universities of which Indiana Central College is a member.

"The Graz Idea" will come to fruition from July 1 to August 24, 1970 at the University of Graz, located in the second largest city of Austria, the capital of the province of Styria, this city, of the beaten track. It is the coldest river."

Local A.P.O. Chapter Hosts Regional Workshop

On November 15, 1969, Theta Pi Chapter of Alpha Phi Omega, the National Service Fraternity, hosted members from Ohio, Mich- igan State, and Purdue as a working for sectional and chapter represen- tatives.

It was one of six such workshops in the nation. Their basic purpose was to orient the chapters with sectional commit- tees and help insure the develop- ment of good sectional commit- tees. Discussions were held on- formations, pledging and leadership development.

Leaders of the conference were Mr. Joseph Scanlon, National A.P.O. Executive Director; Mr. William S. Wood, Executive Vice-President; and sectional leaders Mr. Richard Farno of Ohio, Mr. Charles E. Miller of Indiana. Attending the sessions from Lafayette was our committee chairman, Mr. Michael Wolf, secretary, and Mrs. Kathy Johnson, advisory committee chairman.

Alpha Phi Omega, the largest and most representative organization of college men, graduate college organization in the United States, has over 250 chapters and 40,000 members since its beginning in 1905. The USIP is in its fullness, it is said to be the first of such organizations since 1925. It is non-profit, wholesome, a service which is costly. "It is the job of Theta Pi Chapter at Indiana Central College was chartered in 1925.

The 1969 Hoosier College Conference football season is all wrapped up, and on a second college campus in Anderson they could care less about Ohio State or Michigan.

The Anderson College Terrifics have recently become the 1969 ICC champions; their coach, Dick Young, has been named the ICC coach of the year; they have 9 men on the All-ICC squad; and, according to the last NAIA report they are the No. 1 small college team in the nation in passing offense.

The ICC matches met recently and named Young, the Anderson Head mentor, 1969 ICC coach of the year. Coach Young's Bravos ended the 1969 season 7-0 in league play and 8-1 overall. They displayed a devastating passing attack for the entire season. This year's ICC race was an unusual one in that every team in the league but one would have to be classified as a passing team. To add to the excitement, there was no team in the league that considered an exceptionally strong pass defense team.

The selections made in the ICC All-Conference team offers many interesting sidelights. One such example is the fact that Anderson, but had more men on the defensive team than on the offensive side, than all other teams, except one, which was not a highly rated in passing or defensive team. Another interesting note is that for the first time, the coaches selected the All-ICC team because they felt there were other boys deserving mention. One other noteworthy point is the fact that two quarterbacks were named to the first offensive unit. It was agreed that you have two great quarterbacks like Anderson's Terry Murawski and Hanover's Phil Winning neither could be omitted from the All-Conference Team.

The second units were not as full as men because the coaches wanted to include only those that they felt had enough votes.

Every year the caliber of football played in the Hoosier College Conference grows better and the selecting of the All-Conference team illustrates this very well. Only one freshman was named to the second unit and one qualified for the first unit. Although six sophomores made the second unit, only two made the first unit.

The number of underclassmen on the two units, however, do indicate that there are many good players returning to the league next year. It will be hard for any of the Mids quarters to be named as ICC winning; but this year's display shows there are candidates around. Some of the players to look for next year are: Anderson's Terry Klysz, Hanover's Phil Winning, Earlham's Dave Whittling, and Indiana Central's Dave Verbonick.

Quarterback is a position that gets much public interest, but there are definitely many other fine football players that will be heard from next year.

Very soon there will be a release giving the ICC All-Sports standings as the winter sports season begins.

ATHLETE'S FEATS

The '69-70 basketball season is well underway and from the Greyhounds first five ballgames we have a bustling and exciting winter season ahead of us. This year's squad, minus the classy Al Williams, plus Bob Smith, Dave McKenzie, and a very polished John Beebe, have compiled an impressive 5-0 record. In our first 5 contests the magic number to win was "one"; a 61-40 overtime victory at Northwood, a 72-70 last-second basket victory over Tri-State, and a 75-74 come from behind win over Eastern Illinois. Our one loss in this span of one-point squeakers came at the hands of the excellent shooting Trojans of Taylor University 92-88. Our only big win thus far this season was over Mil- likin on a second half scoring spree by Junior forward Ed Zeigler, 57-78.
