King Lear to be Presented

The Indiana Central Players have begun preparations for the first production of their 1971-72 season, which is to be King Lear, considered to be Shakespeare's greatest play. This dramatic effort, under the direction of Professor Richard A. Williams, Chairman of the Speech and Drama Department, will be presented to the public at 8:00 p.m. on November 5, 6, 11, 12, 13, in Indiana Central Auditorium.

Casting for the play took place during the initial days of tryouts on September 15 through the 15th, and those playing the principal roles are: Aldo Bertorelli as King Lear; Nate Everhart as the Duke of Albany; Phil Haas as the Earl of Kent; Jim Beam, a CTS student taking courses at Indiana Central this fall, as the Earl of Gloucester; Morris Todd as Edgar; Wayne Tucker as Edmund; David Geible, a graduate of Indiana Central who is taking further courses here, as the Fool; and the three daughters of Lear — Cordelia, Regan, and Goneril by Linda Potter, Pam Abbey and Gayle Stahlhut, respectively.

All members of the play are students at Indiana Central College with the exception of Aldo Bertorelli. Mr. Bertorelli is a veteran of almost thirty years of stage experience, both in New York and Indiana. Just a partial list of his credits would include his work in Civic Theatre's productions of Macbeth, Born Yesterday, A Shot in the Dark, for Footlight Musicals in People Your Way, Killers, and The Uninsurable Molly Brown; and for Theatre-in-the-Woods in Come Blow Your Horn, Come Back Little Sheba, and, this summer, in Awake and Sing.

Tickets for King Lear will go on sale October 1st, and reservations can be made by contacting the box office at 277-6004.

HOUSE PARENTS (?)

In the past few years Indiana Central College has come up with some extra sheltering ideas on how to improve the atmosphere here. But recently they have come up with an idea that has surpassed the rest. They are people who live in the New Dorm have already met the new house parents, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Tinsley. They have taken over the job of Mom Earl, who has now retired.

Last week I had the opportunity to sit and talk with them and found out that they are two of the nicest people I have yet run into. They are very friendly and very helpful. They have taken over the job of Mom Earl, who has now retired.

AWARDED SCHOLARSHIP

On September 15, in the formal opening convocation of the school year, President Sease announced the recipient of the first annual I. Lynd Esch scholarship. Joyce Parker, sophomore, was presented the award for her outstanding academic performance.

The scholarship program was established to honor Dr. Esch, who for 25 years served as President of Indiana Central College.
New Business Instructor

The appointment of Mrs. Julia Jean Tinsley as an instructor in the Department of Business Administration at Indiana Central College was announced this summer by President Gene E. Scase. Mrs. Tinsley, who graduated magna cum laude, received both her bachelor of science and master of arts degrees from Eastern Kentucky University. Following graduation she remained for a year to teach in the University's Department of Business Administration.

For several years she has been employed in the Computer Center of the Indianapolis Public Schools as a Systems-Programmer.

She holds memberships in the National Business Education Association, the North Central Business Education Association and the Association for Educational Data Systems.

In addition to her teaching duties at Indiana Central College, Mrs. Tinsley and her husband will act as head residents for the men's section of the college's new dormitory.

HOO*KED ON BOOKS

Scratch away the dignity of the traditional image of The Library, and you will find that it is run by—books, publishers, librarians, borrowers. It's more books and reading, and hoping that you, the students of I.C.C., will become hooked on books, too. With luck, they can keep you well-supplied; there are 60,000 books in the library, ready to use. And the good part is, it's legal. As long as you have the book, you don't have to pay any fines, and you're not even supposed to pay for the books when you finish them. The library is equipped with a microfilm reader, a microcard reader, a microfiche reader, and a microfiche reader. There are also numerous sets of microcards in the library, ready for your convenience. The library is open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily except for holidays.

Cooperative Program Saves Students Trouble...And Money

When a student, who recently moved into the Grandville Cooperative, was asked why he chose to live here instead of in a dormitory, he said, "The apartments are more comfortable. They are larger and more spacious than dormitories. They are also more convenient, because the apartments have kitchens and bathrooms, which are not available in dormitories."

The Grandville Cooperative is a housing cooperative that provides students with a place to live while they are attending college. The cooperative is managed by a group of students who work together to ensure that the apartments are maintained properly.

New English Professor

The appointment of Dr. Adolf Hansen as an Assistant Professor in the English Department at Indiana Central College was announced this summer by President Scase.

Dr. Hansen received his BA from Taylor University, SB and STB degrees from New York Theological Seminary, and earned his Ph.D from Northwestern University.

He holds memberships in the Society of Biblical Literature, American Academy of Religion, and American Schools of Oriental Research.

Dr. Hansen served as a graduate assistant while attending Northwestern University, and after graduation served as a visiting professor at both New York Theological Seminary and current Theological Seminary. During his college and seminary years he served as assistant pastor at several churches in New York and Indiana. Since June 1968 he has held the post of Associate Minister of the Meridian Street United Methodist Church in Indianapolis.

Dr. Hansen is married and has two children: Rebecca Dawn, 9, and Rebonna Dale, 7. The family resides at 5768 North New Jersey Street in Indianapolis.
REFLECTOR

Interview with Grayson Hall

By J. PAUL BURROUGHS

Talent often comes in twos and in the family of Sam and Grayson Hall this is most definitely the case. Both are accomplished actors, with Sam nominated for best supporting actress in the Tennessee Williams film classic, "Night of the Iguana." Both are currently appearing at the People's Light and Stage Company in West Chester, Pa. with Grayson Hall starring as the evil housekeeper, "Caretta Drake." The play is "The Time of the Cuckoo," by Peter Weiss. Grayson Hall takes the role of the evil housekeeper and caretaker for Sam Hall's character, "Julia." The play has been well received by critics and audiences alike, and has received rave reviews for its powerful performances and exceptional acting skills.

Grayson Hall: "I think it's a wonderful play. I think it's a very good part for an actor to play. It has great depth and it's very challenging." Sam Hall: "I think it's a great part for both of us. It's a wonderful part for Grayson to play. She's got a lot of range in her character." The play runs until January 26th at the People's Light and Stage Company. Be sure to catch this incredible performance before it's too late.
Two of the eleven games scheduled for ICC's gridiron play are now, and the team is still looking for a victory. Tomorrow the Hounds will tempt fate once again as they play host to the Taylor Trojans in the first home tilt of the season.

On September 11, Nyers and Company were "whipped" by the Indiana State Conference at Rensselaer, Indiana, as St. Joseph pounded out a 46-7 victory.

ICC, along with Wabash, is a relative newcomer to IC gridiron play this year. While both teams will be carried in the Indiana College standings as a novelty, games against IC teams will not count toward a league championship (*), since neither Indiana Central nor Wabash could schedule a round-robin of IC teams.

St. Joseph used all 61 men to punch across six touchdowns and one field goal to route Indiana Central. It was the first game of the season for both teams. The victors piled up over 80 total yards, including 18 first downs, while ICC could muster only 31 yards on the ground and 68 yards passing. Dave Gandolph led the scoring with a field goal and four extra points, as six St. Joseph players crossed the goal line. The only Indiana Central score came on a 3 yard pass play from quarterback Phil Eads to brother Mike.

On September 10 the team traveled south to make a strong showing before bowing to Evansville, 20-35. Evansville quarterback Randy Mattingly worked hard for this one, as he passed for two TD's and ran for one more himself. For ICC, Phil Eads tossed for two tallies, while fullback Rick Sidebottom trudged out 125 yards on the ground, including a first half TD.

Two 53 yard scoring shots, thrown by Mattingly with 19:45 to go in the first period and again at the 9:44 mark of the second quarter, combined with a successful field goal by Hawkins to put Evansville on top at the end of the first half. The Hounds were only down by three, 17-14, however, as Sidebottom carried one in from the twenty and Phil Eads connected in the end zone with Ricky Sisk for another tally.

Early in the third period ICC took its only lead of the game on a 59 yard pass play from Phil Eads to Mike Eads. It was soon erased, however, as Mattingly carried one over from the 1 yard line.

After Evansville scoring came on a fourth quarter safety when Sidebottom was caught in the ICC end zone. With only 2:50 left in the game, Evansville's Freeman scooped a 30 yard TD to make the final score 33-21.
