Seminar on how to get a job

At the request of the Science Advisory Board, Central Council is sponsoring a series of seminars on locating and securing a job in our increasing competitive world. Speakers from business and industry have been invited to address ICC students on four occasions to present several aspects of the many-faceted problem.

On Tuesday, October 21, Don Pergal of Dunhill Employment Agency will discuss how to locate a job opening. On the following Tuesday, Nov. 4, Lloyd Smith, Vice-President in charge of Personnel of Indiana National Bank will talk about how an applicant should present himself for an interview. Also he will discuss how to write a resume, and what it should contain for best effect.

Dick Wiley, who is the College Relations Officer of the Civil Service Commission will be here on Monday the 13 of November to speak about the trends in Federal job opportunities, both for today and the outlook for the future. Tuesday, Nov. 11 bow Chemical's Jim Cooper will talk about the industrial hiring outlook.

All these meetings are free to all ICC students and faculty. All are scheduled for 9:15 a.m. in the chapel, in Rooms C-10, 11 in Schuetz Center. Central Council urges everyone concerned about finding a good, well-paying job upon graduating to attend.

APO annual blood drive to be held October 30

Alpha Phi Omega will be sponsoring the second annual Indiana Central Blood Drive in the concourse of the Schuetz Center. Door prizes will be given out from 11 to 6.

There was a large turnout last March and an even larger turnout is expected this year.

The Community Blood Bank will have more beds, more staff and more hours drawing time this year. This will eliminate any long waiting or the necessity of turning away donors.

Brown County Day

of colorful success

"Cold!!" was one student’s impression of Brown County Day, but, despite the cold, it was a success. On Tuesday, October 11, more than one-third of Indiana Central College, students and faculty alike, drove down through the beautiful foliage of fall to Brown County State Park. By 9:20 a.m., everyone arrived and immediately there were shouts of "First Down!" and "Touchdown!" in the air.

While the lunch crew was setting up for the picnic, several other activities were taking place. There was first of all the sack race, which Jena Jones and Dr. Sease won. Also there were piggy-back races, in which Mr. and Mrs. Snellenger and Mom Bruce were contestants.

Water balloon tosses, and leap frog races resulted in wet bodies and several bruises. All this was in fun of course, so nobody really minded. Lunch was soon ready and we all sat down to a delicious meal of roast beef and barbecue ribs. By 12:45 everyone was finished. The annual tug-of-war took place. The fresh gals and the girls won and, but not least, more football games. Soon it was getting time to leave, and many kids stopped off in Nashville to look through the many shops there. Eventually we all arrived back at Central, tired but happy, ready to start another day of work, wishing that we could have Brown County Day every day!!

Othello Opens

November 3

The Indiana Central Players will open their production of Shakespeare’s Othello on Friday evening, November 3, at 8:00 p.m. in Hamburg Auditorium on the college campus. The production will star Mr. Herb Davis, the New York stage and television star. Appearing in leading roles with Mr. Davis will be Steven M. Miller as Iago, Susan Maloney as Desdemona, Joel Callis as Cassio, Roberta Biggs as Ioderoigo, and David Gebel as Brabantio.

Costumes for the production have been designed by Nancy Sundell, and set design and construction have been under the supervision of Mr. James Heim, I.C.T. technical director.

Following the opening night performance a semi-formal dinner-dance will be held in the auditorium in honor of Mr. Davis. This affair will be open to the public, but advanced reservations are necessary; reservations will close on November 1.

Additional performances of the play will be given on November 4, 5, 6, 8, and 11 at 8 p.m. For ticket information call 787-4334.

Buffet dinner to follow "Othello"

Schuetz Center, located on the Indiana Central College campus, will be the scene for a buffet dinner-dance November 3 following the opening performance of Othello. The event will be held to honor Mr. Herb Davis, who is playing the leading role in the Shakespearean play.

The semi-formal buffet dinner-dance is open to the public. Tickets are $3.50 per person, reservations can be made by calling 787-4334.

Othello is to be staged by the Indiana Central Players on November 4, 5, 6, 8, and 11.
Absentee Balloting

Near 80 percent of all college students are now registered to vote—the highest rate for any group in the nation. Yet over four million of those students are registered away from campus. They can vote only by absentee ballot. Many votes will be lost if students do not apply for absentee ballots by October 31, the deadline by which they must receive their ballots.

This ballot must be requested from your home County Board of Elections or your County or Town Clerk. Have your request notarized by an authorized school official or a notary. You will receive the absentee ballot application and the ballot itself, fill it out immediately and have it notarized. Mail to the office that sent them. If you need assistance, phone the Student National Education Association.

On October 31, 1972, another Halloween celebration will begin. Children will eat their trick or treat candy. You may stay at home, and give out candy, or go to a Halloween party. Independence is taking place, one should stop and think about how Halloween originated—see the note it was celebrated.

The Druids believed that on this day, the ghosts of the dead came to earth. They also believed that on this day the witches were in full control, with witches sachets, etc. The Druids went so far as to burn black cats, who they believed were witches.

The first Jack o’lantern was made by an Irishman named Jack. Jack made this because, after being too drunk to pay his rent and being expelled from hell for playing tricks on the devil, he was condemned to walk the earth with a lantern forever.

Although Jack did not have a pumpkin, he carved out a huge head and placed a candle within it. Halloween today is synonymous with a Jack o’ lantern on almost every doorstep.

Jobs Tight, But Not Hopeless!

The college placement bureau which uses the month of October to finish the old year and begin the new submits the following concerning teacher placement of the 1972 class.

The light job market may be the main reason why more students utilized the assistance of the placement bureau. This past year, then in any previous year, according to Mr. Paul Plein, director, Between January and September, over 400 sets of placement credentials were sent to numerous school systems in Indiana, as well as to several other states and even a few foreign countries.

Nationally, 1972 like 1971, was a period of job shortages compared to the number of available teaching candidates. However, from the ICC statistics, it seems to be more than candidates in at least two areas, mathematics and men teachers.

Generally the employment situation was also satisfactory for physical education candidates who also possess a second teaching area. Other majors in which the opportunities were good included science, music, and English and social studies (in combination). Elementary candidates, except for a few, found themselves with teaching positions. Some positions included as librarian, social case worker, hospital secretary, music store salesperson, shipping foreman, bank clerk, public health agency employee, and government positions, etc. The college, through its placement bureau, feels that most of our teaching candidates who did not obtain a school position, do have employment. Such positions as librarian, social case worker, hospital secretary, music store salesperson, shipping foreman, bank clerk, public health agency employee, and government positions, etc.

Human Affairs on Women’s week

Can’t say we had a large attendance, it was more like an informal get together. Apparently some people just plain didn’t know where the coffee house was located. Others either plain forgot, had something more important to do or unfortunately for the most, just didn’t care. That’s that. This program was for you, the women. The purpose was to bring the future professional, future mother, future ‘Just plain housewife.’ Hurrah for the ‘Just plain housewife’—the Wonder woman of the millennium! But you don’t care. More men came on the whole than women flat, and it is said that liberal women don’t forget. They need to be liberated from the ‘little women’ who live vicariously through their lives. No wonder men die before women. They’re drugged, living the lives of two humans.

Meanwhile, back here on campus, as the girls pointed their way to their “M.I.S.” degrees and the boys strive on in their perpetual search for the girls. It is commonly believed, a few people are getting their heads together.

Hopeless! We still get enough advice to give you another chance at your opinions. From again maybe we just won’t bother. Would you care?

High School Day Happening

Saturday, October 14 was High School Day at ICC and once again the school was playing host to some 700 high school students. As usual, students flooded the campus from morning till late afternoon. Though most of the students from the neighboring school districts, who are directly affected by computers to learn about their capabilities, limitations, and possible solutions to some of the problems that greater understanding and utilization of computers at a non-technical level is being offered by the Center beginning October 19, 1972. The Thursday evening course will be taught by Larry A. Creagh, Associate Professor of Computer Science and Technology at Indiana Central College. The college's IBM 1130 computer will be used as a demonstration tool and to provide a hands-on learning experience for students. The course is intended for students of all ages and backgrounds who are interested in learning more about computers and their applications.

YOU AND THE COMPUTER

A credit free eight-week course designed to create understanding and appreciation of computers at a non-technical level is being offered by the Center beginning October 19, 1972. The Thursday evening course will be taught by Larry A. Creagh, Associate Professor of Computer Science and Technology at Indiana Central College. The college's IBM 1130 computer will be used as a demonstration tool and to provide a hands-on learning experience for students. The course is intended for students of all ages and backgrounds who are interested in learning more about computers and their applications.
The Whippets, I.C.'s women's field hockey team, hustled out behind Key Stadium Saturday morning for a game of hockey against Indiana State University. The day was damp and gray, but not the Whippets enthusiasm. Spirits were high as the gals rolled along on a winning streak.

The game started with the usual center bally and the gals were off. For several minutes both teams seemed evenly matched. Neither team was able to effectively move the ball against their opponent. Then, I.S.U. seemed to gain momentum, with the more experienced team taking its toll. The Whippet defense did a superb job of feeding off many excellent shots at the goal. However, constant pounding by the opponents offense racked up four goals in the first half. The Whippet offense, although moving the ball well, was held scoreless in first half action.

Second half action opened with a center bally. Play seemed to pick up where it had left off in the first half. The I.S.U. gals poured into the Whippet defense, who, in turn, pounded the ball back at them. The I.C. offensive line did a fine job of taking the ball toward the cage. Several times shots missed the cage by only inches. The Whippets pounded away but the goals seemed to be just a step out of reach. Second half action saw State score 2 more goals, Central 0. The game ended with I.S.U. winning 6-4. Even though our gals didn't win the game, there was a lot of hustle out there. Nice try team!

Indiana Central's football squad found the victory trail again after several weeks of wandering, and last Saturday rolled over Earlham, 14-0. Rod Pavlik, freshman quarterback, was at the helm all the way for the Hounds and pulled off the act without a hitch. Pavlik completed 6 of 14 passes and showed good leadership, mixing pass plays and the ground game effectively. Bob Stanley was the big offensive standout, however, running thru for both TD's and accumulating 59 yards rushing altogether. Steve Montgomery contributed another 99 yards on the ground.

The defense was routinely superb in bottling up the Quaker attack and Coach Bill Bless had praise for both his units. The Greyhounds, now 2 and 4, hopefully now have the ball rolling (spinning) and will see their way clear to further triumphs in the immediate future. Its a biggie tomorrow with visiting St. Joseph's, and a win on this homecoming Saturday could turn the season around.

PULL BOYS PULL! Sophomores John Liles, Rick Stover, (Dr. Arthur Chun), Wayne Tucker and Marty McClanahan brave the rope in the traditional tug-of-war with the freshman team on Brown County Day. But alas, they were on the losing end of the rope.
