Three students accepted at University of Graz

Three Indiana Central students have been accepted for seven weeks of study this summer at the University of Graz in Austria. Beverly Richardson, a junior elementary education major from Shelbyville, Indiana, will be taking 10 weeks of courses in “The Marxist Christian Dialogue” and “Post-War Eastern European Literature and Society.” Beverly is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Richardson, a research engineer. Janet Shriver, a junior history major, plans to take “The Modernization of Russia in the Soviet Period” and “Introduction to International Law.” Joe is from Rockaway Beach, New York, and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harr O’Connor. Also participating in the Russian studies will be Rhonda Kirkham, a junior human relations major from Corydon, Indiana. Rhonda plans to study “The Modernization of Russia in the Soviet Period” and “Russian and Soviet Art.” She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norma Wineman. As a part of the Russian studies Rhonda and Joe will take a two week field trip to Russia visiting Leningrad and Moscow.

The three will depart from Washington, D.C. on July 1 along with other United States students, and fly to Vienna for two days of orientation. Studies at the University of Graz will begin July 4. According to Lynn Youngblood, Director of Development at ICC, this year’s three students will make a total of nine Central students who have attended the Graz program within the five years. Four ICC students attended the sessions last summer.

The Kolitschev Scholarship Fund was established in 1970 in memory of Dr. Konstantine Kolitschev, a physics and mathematics professor at Central between 1955 and 1967. The purpose of this scholarship fund is to encourage ICC students to become more involved in international studies. The awarded scholarships, determined by a faculty committee, will be given to students Financial needs, those who are interested in international studies, and those who are involved in national projects.

Three students accepted at University of Graz

Three Indiana Central students have been accepted for seven weeks of study this summer at the University of Graz in Austria. Beverly Richardson, a junior elementary education major from Shelbyville, Indiana, will be taking 10 weeks of courses in “The Marxist Christian Dialogue” and “Post-War Eastern European Literature and Society.”

Special day for moms, a crown for a queen

The 1973 Spring Festival promises to be a special day for Indiana Central mothers. This annual celebration which will climax in the crowning of this year’s campus queen, is scheduled for Saturday, April 9. “We would like to emphasize that this is a special occasion to bring our mothers on campus just as Dad’s Day is a special day for ICC fathers,” said Marilyn Gerbert, Chairwoman of Spring Festival Activities.

Activities begin with a Mother’s Tea between 2:30 and 3:30 p.m. in the dining hall. The tea, to be attended by mothers and daughters, will be high-lighted by a J.C. Penny fashion show modeled by ICC students.

After the tea all dorms will be open for visitation between 3:30 and 5:30. At 6 p.m. the dining hall will serve a smorgasboard dinner. “There will be a baseball game here that day, “so the dads can go to that while the mothers attend the Tea,” said Marilyn.

The most exciting event of the day, according to Marilyn, will be the Spring Festival Show at 8 p.m. in Hangleber Auditorium. “This will be a variety show for entertainment,” she said. “Near the end of the suspenseful part of the show one may guess who is crowned.”

Editors appointed for student publications

Editors and associate editors have been appointed for next year’s student publications of the Reflecter, the school newspaper, and the Oracle, Indiana Central’s yearbook.

Rhonda Kirkham, this year’s associate editor for the Reflecter, the school newspaper, and the Oracle, Indiana Central’s yearbook.

Sophomore, Rick Swengel, will serve as the staff’s associate editor and business manager. Rick, a sports writer, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Swengel of Acton, Indiana.

Beverly Richardson and Chris Brown have been appointed editor-in-chief and associate editor of the Oracle.

Beverly, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Richardson, is an elementary education major from Shelbyville, Indiana. She served as the 1972 Oracle section editor of activities.

Chris Brown, the Oracle’s faculty and administration editor this year, is a pre-medical student. He is the son of Mrs. and Mr. Charles Brown of Kingston, Indiana.

Special day for moms, a crown for a queen

The 1973 Spring Festival promises to be a special day for Indiana Central mothers. This annual celebration which will climax in the crowning of this year’s campus queen, is scheduled for Saturday, April 9.

Activities begin with a Mother’s Tea between 2:30 and 3:30 p.m. in the dining hall. The tea, to be attended by mothers and daughters, will be high-lighted by a J.C. Penny fashion show modeled by ICC students.

After the tea all dorms will be open for visitation between 3:30 and 5:30. At 6 p.m. the dining hall will serve a smorgasboard dinner. “There will be a baseball game here that day, “so the dads can go to that while the mothers attend the Tea,” said Marilyn.

The most exciting event of the day, according to Marilyn, will be the Spring Festival Show at 8 p.m. in Hangleber Auditorium. “This will be a variety show for entertainment,” she said. “Near the end of the suspenseful part of the show one may guess who is crowned.”

Editors appointed for student publications

Editors and associate editors have been appointed for next year’s student publications of the Reflecter, the school newspaper, and the Oracle, Indiana Central’s yearbook.

Rhonda Kirkham, this year’s associate editor for the Reflecter, the school newspaper, and the Oracle, Indiana Central’s yearbook.

Sophomore, Rick Swengel, will serve as the staff’s associate editor and business manager. Rick, a sports writer, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Swengel of Acton, Indiana.

Beverly Richardson and Chris Brown have been appointed editor-in-chief and associate editor of the Oracle.

Beverly, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Richardson, is an elementary education major from Shelbyville, Indiana. She served as the 1972 Oracle section editor of activities.

Chris Brown, the Oracle’s faculty and administration editor this year, is a pre-medical student. He is the son of Mrs. and Mr. Charles Brown of Kingston, Indiana.
Taylor to present paper to Indiana Philosophical Association

Reflector editor Terry A. Taylor will deliver a paper to the Indiana Philosophical Association on April 7. The paper done under the direction of Dr. Robert C. Calhoun is entitled “Knowing: Knowing that or Knowing how.” The paper will be presented at the annual spring meeting of the association which will be held here on Central's first floor Saturday in April. The paper is one of four that will be presented by students from all over the state who have submitted papers in competition. The papers will be read and discussed by association members, faculty and students from all the colleges and universities in the state.

Frankly Speaking

by Phil Frank

Freshman class to sponsor Road Rally and Donkey basketball game

Sophomore Class Elections will be held this Thursday, April 5, outside the Dining Hall. A special convocation will be held to announce the slate and give them a chance to give a short speech on Monday, May 4. The convocation will be outside Ransburg Auditorium.

This Sunday, April 11, is the Freshman Sponsored Road Rally. It will start at 9 a.m. at the Civic Center, and the rally will end at 3 p.m. at Ransburg Auditorium. The entry fee is $1.00 and the entry is payable in the information office.

Many people expect change. As I see it, change for the sake of change is worthless, change for improvement, however, is of utmost importance. A combined effort on the part of the students, the Central Council officers, and the administration is needed to make Indiana Central academically and socially what we want it to be. I am prepared to do my part and I hope you are too.

Alan Prerczowski
Vice-President-Treasurer
Central Council

Uncle Louie says: Nowadays kids are too sophisticated to believe that the truck brought them. The best bet is to tell them it was a Boeing 747.

REFLECTOR

Published weekly by Indiana Central College, Indianapolis, Indiana. Second class postage at Indianapolis Indiana.

March 30, 1973

Taylor to present paper to Indiana Philosophical Association

Reflector editor Terry A. Taylor will deliver a paper to the Indiana Philosophical Association on April 7. The paper done under the direction of Dr. Robert C. Calhoun is entitled “Knowing: Knowing that or Knowing how.” The paper will be presented at the annual spring meeting of the association which will be held here on Central's first floor Saturday in April. The paper is one of four that will be presented by students from all over the state who have submitted papers in competition. The papers will be read and discussed by association members, faculty and students from all the colleges and universities in the state.

Frankly Speaking

by Phil Frank

Freshman class to sponsor Road Rally and Donkey basketball game

Sophomore Class Elections will be held this Thursday, April 5, outside the Dining Hall. A special convocation will be held to announce the slate and give them a chance to give a short speech on Monday, May 4. The convocation will be outside Ransburg Auditorium.

This Sunday, April 11, is the Freshman Sponsored Road Rally. It will start at 9 a.m. at the Civic Center, and the rally will end at 3 p.m. at Ransburg Auditorium. The entry fee is $1.00 and the entry is payable in the information office.

Many people expect change. As I see it, change for the sake of change is worthless, change for improvement, however, is of utmost importance. A combined effort on the part of the students, the Central Council officers, and the administration is needed to make Indiana Central academically and socially what we want it to be. I am prepared to do my part and I hope you are too.

Alan Prerczowski
Vice-President-Treasurer
Central Council

Uncle Louie says: Nowadays kids are too sophisticated to believe that the truck brought them. The best bet is to tell them it was a Boeing 747.

REFLECTOR

Published weekly by Indiana Central College, Indianapolis, Indiana. Second class postage at Indianapolis Indiana.

March 30, 1973
March 30, 1973

Science awards honor students

The annual Science Division Awards Banquet was held Monday night, March 26. The banquet was held in honor of students who have contributed through service and academic quality to the division.

The recipient of the 1973 Achievement in Science Award was given by Dr. Brooker, head of the Science Division. Later, awards will be presented to student assistants in the departments of chemistry, physics, biology and geology.

Individual awards began when Dr. Delin, head of the biology department, presented an award to John Porter for outstanding academic record by a biology major.

The Chemistry and Physics awards were presented to sophomore Reta Huffman by Chemistry professor Ken-...
Hounds split season open with Grizzlies

By JOHN SARNO

Indiana Central came away from its season-opening doubleheader with Franklin with a split last Saturday: taking the opener, 6-1, and dropping the second game, 4-1.

Senior righthander Jeff McGuire and Gary Judy combined to stymie the Grizzlies so two hits and one run in the first game—with McGuire going most of the route and Judy coming in the fifth inning to pick up the save.

The Greyhounds put it away in the bottom of the first, for all intents and purposes, when they got to Franklin starter John Kaminski for three hits and two runs. Rightfielder Bob Tremain started it off with a single and then stole second. Third baseman Steve Montgomery moved him along with another single and the Ken Brooks plated both with a long trice.

In the third inning, Gary Rowe walked, Montgomery singled, and Brooks moved the runners up with a ground-out. The Grizzlies then bobbled Dave Wood's infield grounder and both runners scored in.

The Hounds scored a solo run in both the fourth and fifth innings to put the issue out of doubt. In the fourth McGuire singled, and Tremain reached first on an infielder's choice. Tremain then made his second theft of the day and moments later scored on Rowe's double. Brooks led off the fifth with his second extra-base hit of the afternoon, a double, and pinch-hitter Mark Sitarra pushed him in with a single.

Franklin tallied three times in the second stanza of the second game and then withstood a late Central rally to record their slim margin of victory.

I.C. scored in the first game on a double by Bob MacMillan and Glenn Heaton's pinch single, and in the fifth on singles by Rowe, Craig DeMyer, Montgomery's ground-out and Brooks' single.

Don Hecklinski started for Central and Skip Kaucher, Greg Bohmer, and Mark Thacker also put in some relief work.

Central journeyed to Eastern Illinois Wednesday and will host Earlham in another twin bill Saturday. McGuire will be the starter in one game and either Judy or Bohmer will be on the hill in the other.

---

Hurrin' Hoosiers almost pull off "coup de tat"

By RICK SWENGEI

Indiana University's Hurrin' Hoosiers almost pulled off basketball's coup de tat last Saturday afternoon when UCLA's Bruins nearly met their match.

When the dust cleared after the first 9 minutes of play, the nearly 19,000 fans in the St. Louis Arena were wondering what was so great about the UCLAers as Indiana led 18-13. The last 11 minutes, particularly the final 8½ minutes of the half showed what was great. The Bruins outscored the Hoosiers 23-2 in that 8½ minutes for an 18-point, 40-22 half time lead.

Indiana met its demise in the last 8 minutes of the first stanza and in the person of Tommy Curtis, Curtis, who entered the contest replacing Larry Hollifield, dropped in five long jumpers and a free throw to lead UCLA to that half time.

Playing inoppneets John Wooden's methodical style of action, the Hoosiers climbed out of a point hole to come within a pair of minutes of play with Downing. Indiana gave UCLA a dose of its own medicine.

Indiana's leading scorers were forward John Shumate, center Pete Crotty and guards Dwight Clay and Gary Evans. All three tallied 13 points in the contest. The Hoosiers, however, did not have a scorer with a total of 19 points.

Indiana's late rally came so close to taking the game away from the Bruins that UCLA's John Wooden merely says "Hell yes, the Uclans have a coup de tat!"

Saturday afternoon when UCLA's Todd White, a former Illinois player, scored in the fifth inning to pick up three of UCLA's 20 points, Indiana met its demise in the last 8 minutes of play, the nearly 19,000 fans in the St. Louis Arena were wondering what was so great about the UCLAers as Indiana led 18-13. The last 11 minutes, particularly the final 8½ minutes of the half showed what was great. The Bruins outscored the Hoosiers 23-2 in that 8½ minutes for an 18-point, 40-22 half time lead.

Indiana met its demise in the last 8 minutes of play, the nearly 19,000 fans in the St. Louis Arena were wondering what was so great about the UCLAers as Indiana led 18-13. The last 11 minutes, particularly the final 8½ minutes of the half showed what was great. The Bruins outscored the Hoosiers 23-2 in that 8½ minutes for an 18-point, 40-22 half time lead.

Indiana met its demise in the last 8 minutes of play, the nearly 19,000 fans in the St. Louis Arena were wondering what was so great about the UCLAers as Indiana led 18-13. The last 11 minutes, particularly the final 8½ minutes of the half showed what was great. The Bruins outscored the Hoosiers 23-2 in that 8½ minutes for an 18-point, 40-22 half time lead.

Indiana met its demise in the last 8 minutes of play, the nearly 19,000 fans in the St. Louis Arena were wondering what was so great about the UCLAers as Indiana led 18-13. The last 11 minutes, particularly the final 8½ minutes of the half showed what was great. The Bruins outscored the Hoosiers 23-2 in that 8½ minutes for an 18-point, 40-22 half time lead.

Indiana met its demise in the last 8 minutes of play, the nearly 19,000 fans in the St. Louis Arena were wondering what was so great about the UCLAers as Indiana led 18-13. The last 11 minutes, particularly the final 8½ minutes of the half showed what was great. The Bruins outscored the Hoosiers 23-2 in that 8½ minutes for an 18-point, 40-22 half time lead.

Indiana met its demise in the last 8 minutes of play, the nearly 19,000 fans in the St. Louis Arena were wondering what was so great about the UCLAers as Indiana led 18-13. The last 11 minutes, particularly the final 8½ minutes of the half showed what was great. The Bruins outscored the Hoosiers 23-2 in that 8½ minutes for an 18-point, 40-22 half time lead.