“Home of the Brave” opens theater season

by: Tom Hill

If you were a soldier in a combat zone, how would war affect you psychologically? How would you interact with the other soldiers in your company if you were separated from your home and from your loved ones? What if you felt responsible for another soldier’s death in combat—what would this guilt do to you? Or, what if you were in the same company as this guilt-ridden soldier, what kind of an effort (if any) would you make to comfort him or to help him work out his emotional stress? Think about these questions for a moment, and then make up your mind to see Arthur Laurents’ Home of the Brave, in which all these questions and many more are posed and explored.

Home of the Brave opens this year’s ICU Theatre season Friday, October 5, at 8 p.m. Other performances will be Saturday, October 6, and Friday, October 12, at 8 p.m., and Sunday October 14 at 3 p.m.

Derek Weber has the lead role of Peter Coen, nicknamed Coney by his fellow soldiers. Coney is a Jew and has been very conscious of anti-Semitism since his childhood. Coney is taunted hatefully by Corporal T. J. Everitt (Kevin Ryan), a successful businessman in civilian life who is convinced that he can run the company better than Major Robinson (Brian Cummings). The Major is twenty-six years old and is unsure of his ability to lead others. Other members of the company include Finch (Carl Boss), a self-proclaimed “Arizona hayseed” and also Coney’s friend, and Sergeant Mingo (Dan Scarborough), a understanding enlisted man.

These five men volunteer for a dangerous mission to a Japanese-held island during World War II. A traumatic incident on the island so fills Coney with guilt that he develops a psychosomatic paralysis and is sent to the base hospital after the mission. There, Doctor Harold Bittergner (John Pess) attempts to rid Coney of his guilt and his paralysis.

Home of the Brave is ICU’s entry in American College Theatre Festival at Akron, Ohio in January, and will be judged by a selection committee from the Festival at one of the performances. Dr. Richard Williams, chairman of the Speech and Theatre department, chose Home of the Brave as the ACTF entry because of its emotion-packed messages about war, death, guilt, tolerance, and friendship. It is a play he has longed to direct for many years, and this year, with the help of his assistant director, Kathy Richmond, he gets his long-awaited chance.

Tickets for the show are available from the ICU box office, which opens Monday, September 24, for two weeks, Monday through Friday from 1 to 5. ICU students admitted free to one performance when they present their student ID.

Central Council’s Schwab discusses Social Activities planning

by: Samuel Juett

"This is a big job, and I’m going to need quite a bit of help with it.” So says Steve Schwab, Vice President of Central Council, in charge of Social Activities. "When I came to Indiana Central, I had every intention of becoming involved in the social activities on campus, I believe my former experience with the Studio is going to help me in my endeavors to provide campus activities.”

At this time, the Social Activities section of Central Council is in the planning stage. With the instigation of four committees to cover the different facets of social activities, it is hoped that this year will see a new life in the activities on campus.

The committees, Studio Committee, Film Committee, Dance Committee, and Publicity Committee, all have power delegated to them, even though they must report back to Schwab. The committees are now waiting on results of the student survey that was handed out in the registration line. When the results of this survey are tabulated, committees like the Studio Committee will have an idea of what events should be planned, how often to have these events, and what type of programs to have at the studio.

“We really need as much help on these committees as we can get,” says Steve, “but it is imperative that we get the student surveys in, so we can start planning what the students want.”
At the Friday, September 14th convocation, two panels met to debate gay rights for homosexuals. Opposing the stand for homosexual civil rights were Rev. Gregory Dixon, pastor for the Baptist Temple, and Phil Stringer, President for the Indiana Baptist College. Speaking in favor of gay rights were Rev. George McDermott, pastor for the Metropolitan Community Church, and Carol Hodges, representative for the Organization of Gay Episcopal Forum.

ICU celebrates Diamond Jubilee

Celebrating its Diamond Jubilee year, Indiana Central University welcomed over 3,200 day and evening division students this month back to campus for another academic year.

Seventy-five years of progress in education through Christian living and service has highlighted the plans for reviewing the three-quarters of a century at ICU.

While many private colleges and universities find their enrollment on the decline, ICU enrollment figures reflect an increase of 2% for the 1979-80 academic year.

On opening day upperclassmen found old landmarks either gone or drastically renovated. Wilmore Hall, a landmark on campus for 53 years, was razed to make way for a new sports complex. The new dorm, North Hall on the northwest quadrant of the grounds, is open for occupancy this year. Living accommodations for over 200 students include every modern convenience plus a totally equipped facility for handicapped persons. This dorm is one of the only ones in the state that is equipped with devices that will greatly improve the quality of dorm living for physically handicapped students.

Renovation of Esch and Good Hall have been completed, and classroom areas expanded and up-dated.

The Diamond Jubilee year will be celebrated in many ways this year on campus and in the city. Going through the seventy-five years of history at the university will be "a review of the history of the southside of Indiana polls and central Indiana."

Happy 75 years young Indiana Central!!

KALEIDOSCOPE

by: Karla Springer

I heard recently about a photography contest offered by the art department, the first show in the Ransburg Art Gallery during the second semester. It seems like a long time from now, but I've notice quite a few students clicking their shutters around campus, and thought that now would be a good time to announce the contest.

This is an opportunity for Indiana Central photographers to exhibit their works in the University's Leah Ransburg Fine Arts Gallery Works will be judged and selected for exhibition by a competent professional photographer.

Mr. Snellenberger stressed that by setting the entry deadline at January 8, entrants will have vacation time to prepare their prints for the contest.

The National Science Foundation offers minority grants

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The National Research Council will again advise the National Science Foundation in the selection of candidates for the Foundation’s Program of Minority Graduate Fellowships. Panels of eminent scientists and engineers appointed by the National Research Council will evaluate qualifications of applicants. Final selection of Fellows will be made by the Foundation, with awards to be announced in March 1980.

The NSF Minority Graduate Fellowship Program is open only to persons who are citizens or nationals of the United States as of the time of application, and who are members of an ethnic minority group underrepresented in the advanced levels of the Nation’s science talent pool — i.e., American Indian, Eskimo, Alaskan Native, Black, Mexican-American/Chicano, or Puerto Rican.

Eligibility is limited to those individuals who, as of the time of application, have not completed post-baccalaureate study in excess of 30 semester hours or 45 quarter hours, or equivalent, in any field of science, engineering, social science, or mathematics. Subject to the availability of funds, new fellowships awarded in the spring of 1980 will be for periods of three years, the second and third years contingent on certification to the Foundation by the fellow’s institution of the student’s satisfactory progress toward an advanced degree in science.

These fellowships will be awarded for study or work leading to master’s or doctoral degrees in the mathematical, physical, medical, biological, engineering, and social sciences, and in the history and philosophy of science. Awards will not be made in clinical, law, education, or business fields, in history or social work, for work leading to medical, dental, or public health degrees, or for study in joint professional degree programs. Applicants will be judged on the basis of ability to take the Graduate Record Examinations designed to test aptitude and scientific achievement. The examinations, administered by the Educational Testing Service, will be given on December 8, 1979 at designated centers throughout the United States and in certain foreign countries.

The deadline date for the submission of applications for NSF Minority Graduate Fellowships is November 29, 1979.

Further information and application materials may be obtained from the Fellowship Office, National Research Council, 2101 Constitution Avenue, Washington, D.C. 20418.

Big Brothers On Campus Needs Helpers

by Byron Ross

Do you have an extra few (25) hours per week? If so, Big Brothers of greater Indianapolis is looking for you.

This fall at ICU, Big Brothers is starting a program recruiting college male volunteers to spend time with a fatherless boy as a friend, to help him cope with the problems of growing up.

In the next Reflector, there will be more details about this worthwhile program. Please consider giving your time and effort to help a boy as your father or older brother helped you. If you would like to be a part of this program or just want to know more about how, please contact Byron Ross in Buxton 214 or call 787-1702. Maybe you will become a BBOC Big Brother On Campus.

Six new faces

Indiana Central sees a New director in each hall

There are six new faces around Indiana Central this year, all in Residence Hall Director offices. There are new directors in each hall. Here are brief introductions to each one.

Lou Ann Byfield, Director of Kranner Hall, is currently working toward her Masters Degree in College Student Personnel Administration at Indiana University. She is a native of Indianapolis and has taught social studies and Spanish at two high schools for three years. She is looking forward to her new responsibilities.

Amy Marguerite Moman, Director of Buxton Hall, is the mother of two children, a set of twins. She has been active in Cub Scouts, Indiana Homemakers Clubs, United Methodist Church, and in the church choir. She has been taking part-time classes at Indiana Central College. She plans to resume her studies here.

Sally Risinger, Director of East Hall, will be enrolled in the Masters of Social Work program at IU, part-time this fall. She is a graduate of Franklin College, majoring in physical education, science, and interscholastic athletics. She has worked at Trimble Hall for six years and is looking forward to her new responsibilities.

Marjorie Mattern, Director of North Hall, is a native of Plymouth, Indiana. She has many years of education with the Plymouth Community Schools and is eager to get to know the students at Indiana Central. She is the mother of two daughters and has an interest in the events of today.

Mrs. Marvina Moman relaxes by latch-hooking. Gary Brockman in a typical situation. Mrs. Mattern poses with her plants.

Greyhounds descend to Valley

by Mike Davis

Bad luck struck hard and struck quickly when Indiana Central, hosted Saginaw Valley State.

The Greyhounds took the opening kickoff to their own 27 yard line. Tony Boyle gained five yards in the first two plays from scrimmage. On third down, starting quarterback Dave Kruse threw the first of five pass interceptions to be given up in the game by Greyhound quarterback backs. The Cardinals proceeded to drive 46 yards to their first touchdown of the first quarter. Carty's kickoff back for 20 yards and another TD was far wide of the goal. The conversion was拾起 when Gilvin's pass was picked off in the end zone. Thus, the Greyhounds trailed 26-0 with 08 remain in the game.

The Greyhounds did not take long for the Cardinals to again get the ball. However, for six points. The two point conversion attempt failed and the score was tied 16-0 in favor of Saginaw ahead 20-0 with 64 remaining in the first half.

After kicking off in the second half, the Hounds Defense held the Cards and forced them to turn the ball over. However, the offense, led by new quarterback Mark Gilvin was shut down and had to give possession of the ball once more to the visitors.

After a Greyhound punt, Saginaw drove 17 yards to the 30 yard line. After slipping two yards into Cardinal territory, a 15 yard penalty drove the Hounds offense back into their half of the field. But on 2nd and 18, Gilvin and Horvath paired up on a 35 yard pass play which spotted the ball at the Saginaw 21 yard line, and the clock ran out.

On first down, Gilvin ran for a pickup of 9 yards. Dan Williams picked up seven more yards before the sophomore Gilvin was far wide of the goal. The conversion attempt failed and the score was 26-6 in favor of Saginaw.

Endurance could also be a deciding factor in remaining meets. Although Central exhibited convincing stamina and mental persistence against ISUEI (they won five of six set matches and four tiebreakers as well) frequent road trips and a packed schedule may sap some of the Greyhounds' strength.

Nevertheless, the overall outlook still remains bright with Saginaw victorious 29-12.

Boley led all rushers in the game with 68 yards on 17 carries (4 yards per carry). Williams was good for 61 yards on 16 carries (3.8 yards per carry), and Gilvin was next with 59 yards on 15 tries (3.9 yards per carry). Dave Brauner had one reception for 43 yards and Horvath had one catch good for 35 yards to lead the Greyhound passing game.

Whippets net victories; Show great promise

by Cindy Clendenon

Indiana Central's women's tennis team recently posted two wins in three starts during their tri-meet season opener at the University of Evansville. Those matches not only displayed IC's potential and provided an early mental boost but also steered the Greyhounds toward what Coach Dawn Race feels will be a winning year.

Experience, depth, and mental aggressiveness are three major factors supporting this forecast. Of the eight team members, six are returning letter winners (four of whom shared the top three positions). The presence of well-seasoned veterans has facilitated strong starts in singles as well as in doubles at press time. 11 of 18 singles matches and 7 of 9 doubles matches had been won by ICU.

This is not to say the Greyhounds will saunter to easy victory. On the contrary, their schedule has not been cut. Among upcoming challengers are Depauw and St. Mary's, who placed second and third respectively in last year's small college state tourney. Numerous road trips create an added burden.

Gridders face Tough season

by: Kevin Miller

Supported by 30 returning lettermen and a strong freshmen class, Indiana Central's Greyhounds will continue to defend their 1978 Heartland Collegiate Conference title this Saturday when they visit St. Joseph's. The Greyhounds then start a three week home stand beginning on October 6 against conference foe Butler.

Eighth year coach Bill Bless remembers last year's close conference race where five teams had chance at the crown going into the final week. Bless expects another tough race this year. "Our goal this year is to win the Conference," stated the coach, but he pointed out that it wouldn't be easy. "There are no easy games on our schedule, it will be a battle every Saturday" continued Bless. "We'll have to fight for everything that we're worth."

Several key players are returning from last year's squad which posted a 7-5 record. "We've got a lot of experience back this year," said Bless. "We're also bringing in three new freshmen who should help us out."

Quarterback Mark Gilvin (10) leads the way on the option with fullback Dan Williams (30) against Saginaw Valley.

Returning seniors lead Harriers

Last year's veterans are back and running better than ever. Coach England's Harriers are led by the senior trio of Erhard Bell, Herman Bueno, and Keith Puckett. Bell, one of the team's co-captains, enters his final season after a fine summer road race schedule and looks toward regaining his Little State title. Bueno, finally healthy after last spring's bout with mono, looks primed for a title defense in the Conference. Fellow co-captain Puckett, recently married, appears ready to improve on his 8th place in last year's State meet. These seniors will be counted on to provide leadership both on and off the field.

The juniors are led by a revitalized Marc Adams. Adams should fulfill the promise of his Freshman year providing he can avoid injury and illness. Jon Lilly enters in the best shape of his college career and will undoubtedly help the Hounds' cause. The final junior on the squad is Brent Jones, who is back after missing last year.

This year's sophomores, down in numbers, are strong in talent. Bob Albright is in fine shape even though an early season knee injury is currently hampering him. Roy Wasson, a top-notch half-miler in track, is developing the confidence necessary for Cross Country and will be greatly improved.

With the mixture of veterans and rookies, this year's edition of the Harriers shapes up to be a formidable squad. If they can remain healthy and continue to develop team unity, they may once again be at the top. A trip to California for the Division II Nationals is the prime goal this year.

As a final note, the team competed in the 18th Annual Wabash Hukum Kareem on September 8th. Injuries hampered the team as they could only manage a tie for fourth place. Bell and Bueno teamed up to win the individual title for their fourth consecutive time, a feat never before accomplished. Their tie of 28:38 just missed their record of 28:32. The two freshmen, Esopenko and Rich, also ran well along with junior Adams. More results in next issue.

ICU organizes Judicial Board

by: Tom Hinkle

A new aspect to Indiana Central is the Student-Faculty Judicial Board system. Born a year ago in the ideas of a discussion, the rough guidelines to the Judicial Board were never set up until last summer.

The Judicial Board, according to the Judicial Board Guidelines, is designed to provide a clearly identifiable decision and appellant process regarding student disciplinary problems. In addition, at the discretion of the Academic Dean, the Judicial Board may be utilized as a hearing and recommending body in the mediation of student grievances.

Members of the board are students and faculty who are full-time members of Indiana Central, and are appointed by the selection committee. The board consists of four students and four faculty members, one faculty member being a chairperson. These members include: Ralph Hill, junior, Marty Johnson, senior, Joan Sachs, junior, Cathy Wicker, senior, Prof. Alice Friman, Prof. Nuel Wooden, Prof. Julia Tinsley, and the chairperson for the Judicial Board, Dr. Ken Borden. Students of the Judicial Board are required to have completed 12 semester hours of credit at Indiana Central with an accumulative grade point average of 6.5 or higher.

The function of the Judicial Board is a teaching process, to get to the truth, and make the best decision concerning punishment. Meeting when necessary, the board hears cases on social behavior, conduct, and/or academic dishonesty. The punishment, depending on the type of case, can vary from a written reprimand to expulsion from the University.

Anyone interested in being a member of the Judicial Board should contact Dr. Ken Borden. Also, anyone interested in a set of guidelines of the Judicial Board may pick up a free copy at the Campus Life Office.

Course offered
To ICU nurses

Nurses wishing to increase their knowledge regarding the care of monitored cardiac patients may enroll in a course offered at Indiana Central for the fifth time. This popular course is a prerequisite to the Critical Care Nursing Course to be offered in March of 1980.

The $70 fee includes all printed material. The class runs from September 5 through November 7 on Wednesday nights in Lilly Hall, ICU campus.

For more information on this and other Nursing programs, call the Center for Continuing Education and Management Development at 788-3260.
