Copyright Restrictions

The Copyright Law of the United States (Title 17 U.S. Code) governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyrighted material. Under certain conditions specified in the law, archives are authorized to furnish a photocopy or other reproduction. One of the specified conditions is that the copy is not to be "used for any purpose other than the private study, scholarship, or research." If a user makes a request for, or later uses a photocopy or reproduction for purposes in excess of "fair use", that user may be liable for copyright infringement. This institution reserves the right to refuse to accept a copying order if, in its judgment, fulfillment of the order would involve violation of copyright law.

Duplication of items from the Frederick D. Hill Archives is governed by the policy stated above. Further reproduction of items from the Archives is permitted only after completion of this form. The completion of the form, however, does not imply clearance of any copyright restrictions other than those vesting in the Frederick D. Hill Archives. It is the responsibility of the party using items from the collections of the Archives to ascertain and clear copyright restrictions of the items provided.
